How to Get Technical Updates?

Volunteer Standards of Conduct

VITA/TCE Programs

The mission of the VITA/TCE return preparation programs is to assist eligible taxpayers in satisfying their tax responsibilities by providing free tax return preparation. To establish the greatest degree of public trust, volunteers are required to maintain the highest standards of ethical conduct and provide quality service.

All VITA/TCE volunteers (whether paid or unpaid workers) must complete the Volunteer Standards of Conduct Training, and sign Form 13615, Volunteer Standards of Conduct Agreement, prior to working at a VITA/TCE site. In addition, return preparers, quality reviewers, and VITA/TCE tax law instructors must certify in tax law prior to signing this form. This form is not valid until the site coordinator, sponsoring partner, instructor, or IRS contact confirms the volunteer's identity and signs and dates the form.

As a volunteer in the VITA/TCE Programs, you must:

- 1. Follow the Quality Site Requirements (QSR).
- 2. Not accept payment, solicit donations, or accept refund payments for federal or state tax return preparation.
- 3. Not solicit business from taxpayers you assist or use the knowledge you gained (their information) about them for any direct or indirect personal benefit for you or any other specific individual.
- 4. Not knowingly prepare false returns.
- 5. Not engage in criminal, infamous, dishonest, notoriously disgraceful conduct, or any other conduct deemed to have a negative effect on the VITA/TCE Programs.
- 6. Treat all taxpayers in a professional, courteous, and respectful manner.

Failure to comply with these standards could result in, but is not limited to, the following:

- Your removal from all VITA/TCE Programs;
- Inclusion in the IRS Volunteer Registry to bar future VITA/TCE activity indefinitely;
- Deactivation of your sponsoring partner's site VITA/TCE EFIN (electronic filing ID number);
- Removal of all IRS products, supplies, loaned equipment, and taxpayer information from your site;
- Termination of your sponsoring organization's partnership with the IRS;
- Termination of grant funds from the IRS to your sponsoring partner; and
- Referral of your conduct for potential TIGTA and criminal investigations.

New Legislation

The Trade Preferences Extension Act of 2015 includes the following provisions that are in-scope for the VITA/TCE program:

- Congress passed a law in June 2015 that affects Form 1098-T and the American opportunity and lifetime learning credits beginning in tax year 2016. There are no changes for claiming an education credit for tax year 2015.
- Child tax credit not refundable for taxpayers electing to exclude foreign earned income from tax:
 - Applies to taxable years beginning after December 31, 2014

The Stephen Beck, Jr. Achieving a Better Life Experience Act of 2014 (ABLE Act) was enacted on December 19, 2014, as part of the Tax Increase Prevention Act of 2014.

Generally, the ABLE Act permits a state to establish and maintain a new type of tax-advantaged savings program (under Section 529A of the Internal Revenue Code). Contributions may be made to a 529A account that is established for purposes of meeting the qualified disability expenses of the designated beneficiary of the account who is a resident of that state or of a contracting state.

- Contributions in a total amount up to the annual gift tax exclusion amount, currently $14,000, can be made to an ABLE account on an annual basis, and distributions are tax-free if used to pay qualified disability expenses.
- Two new forms will be used by ABLE account programs to report relevant account information annually to designated beneficiaries and the IRS. Form 1099-QA is used for distributions and Form 5498-QA is used for contributions.

Expired Provisions

These provisions were expired at the time this publication went to print. A new Legislative Extenders lesson is being provided in the event that they are extended for the current tax year. Publication 4491-X, released in mid-January, will notify volunteers if they should consult this lesson, and will contain any legislative changes to the following provisions:

- Discharge of indebtedness on principal residence excluded from gross income of individuals
- Qualified Charitable Distribution-QCD
- Adjustments for up to $250 for educator classroom expenses
- Deduction for qualified tuition and related expenses
- · Deduction for state and local general sales taxes
- Deduction for mortgage insurance premiums
- · Nonbusiness energy property credit

Congress may enact additional legislation that will affect taxpayers after this publication goes to print. Any changes will be reflected in Publication 4491-X, VITA/TCE Training Supplement, available in midJanuary on www.irs.gov.

Course Introduction

Welcome

We're glad you decided to take advantage of this challenging, yet rewarding experience as an important player in the tax administration process. This training material will introduce you to the major components of the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance and Tax Counseling for the Elderly (VITA/TCE) return preparation process.

Your course instructor will provide all the available technical publications and forms required for this course. If any of the suggested forms and publications are not available in the classroom or at the site, they can be viewed or downloaded at www.irs.gov.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson you will be able to describe:

- · The various course levels and certification process
- The responsibilities of a VITA/TCE volunteer, including due diligence
- The critical components involved in the return preparation process
- · The resources available to assist you
- · The procedures for helping a taxpayer with identity theft

What will I learn?

To successfully assist taxpayers in satisfying their tax responsibilities, you must understand tax law and the tools available to assist you in preparing and filing accurate tax returns – Forms 1040EZ, 1040A, and 1040. A tax return is accurate when tax law is applied correctly and it is free from error based on the taxpayer's interview and supporting documentation, and a completed Form 13614-C, Intake/Interview & Quality Review Sheet.

The VITA/TCE return preparation process consists of several critical components that will be taught in your training class or taken through Link & Learn Taxes:

- VITA/TCE Volunteer Standards of Conduct Ethics Training
- Tax law training understanding and applying tax law
- Research skills using references, resources, and tools including return preparation software
- Intake/Interview and Quality Review Training
- Tax return preparation (screening and interviewing taxpayers)

Volunteer Standards of Conduct training and test are located in Publication 4961, VITA/TCE Volunteer Standards of Conduct – Ethics Training, and on Link & Learn Taxes. The Intake/Interview and Quality Review Training (Publication 5101) can be found on VITA/TCE Central. Form 6744, VITA/TCE Volunteer Assistor's Test/Retest, contains both the Volunteer Standards of Conduct and Intake/Interview and Quality Review tests.

Unlike most classes, there is no need to memorize a lot of information. You can use information from irs. gov, your course materials, and other print and electronic sources to gain the knowledge and insights you need to serve the taxpayers you assist.

At the completion of your course of study, you will fully understand how to apply critical aspects of each component of the process and complete an accurate return for each taxpayer you assist.

Thank you for your interest in helping the IRS achieve its mission of providing America's taxpayers with top quality service by helping them understand their tax responsibilities and by applying the tax law with integrity and fairness to all.

Let's get started!

How is the course structured?

Due to the production schedule for this training guide, draft forms may be used in illustrations. The draft forms should never be used for actual tax preparation. Final forms are available on www.irs.gov, in the tax preparation software, in the instruction booklet (e.g., Form 1040 Instructions), or in other publications.

There are two tax law certification paths and two optional specialty courses presented in this publication, each representing a level of certification. The first six lessons apply to all levels of certification. Beginning with the Income lessons, the course levels for the subject being covered will be indicated by the following icons:

Basic covers the completion of wage earner type returns.

Advanced covers the completion of the full scope of VITA/TCE returns.

Military covers topics applicable to members of the Armed Forces, Reserve, and National Guard.

International covers topics applicable to military and nonmilitary taxpayers living outside the United States.

Volunteers wishing to certify in Military or International must follow the Advanced certification path and should also review the applicable specialty course.

Health Savings Accounts (HSA) is an optional specialty course available electronically. Volunteers wishing to certify can follow the Basic or higher certification path.

The Affordable Care Act (ACA), or health care law, contains health insurance coverage and financial assistance options for individuals and families. The IRS administers the tax provisions included in the law. Refer to the Affordable Care Act (ACA) lesson presented in this publication for information on the advanced premium tax credit, the premium tax credit, and the individual shared responsibility payment.

At the beginning of each lesson, icons are displayed after the lesson title. If a section of a lesson is associated with only one certification level, the corresponding icon is displayed at the beginning of that section. If no icons are displayed in a section, all icons displayed after the lesson title apply.

What is the training approach?

Each course uses the process based training (PBT) approach. PBT is a structured fact-gathering process that combines tax software and tax law training to help you prepare an accurate return. To complete the process, you will use:

- The questions from Form 13614-C to interview the taxpayer for filing status, dependency, credits, deductions, eligibility, validate the information provided, and prepare the return.
- Reference materials, such as Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide; Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax for Individuals; and tax software help features, as well as other resources available at your site, to prepare the return. These materials will provide you with standardized questions to ask taxpayers during your interview, to help you prepare a 100% accurate tax return.
- Form 13614-C, Quality Review section to conduct a quality review of all returns. Adhering to a quality review process helps ensure accurate returns are prepared at all VITA/TCE sites.

In most cases, when you have completed the return, it will be filed electronically. There should only be rare instances when the taxpayer may need to mail the tax return to the IRS.

What do I need to get started?

In addition to this publication, VITA/TCE training materials include the following items:

- Publication 4491-W, Comprehensive Problems and Practice Exercises Workbook (electronic only)
- · Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- Form 6744, Volunteer Assistor's Test/Retest
- Publication 4961, VITA/TCE Volunteer Standards of Conduct Ethics Training
- Publication 5101, Intake/Interview & Quality Review Training

What other resources are available to help me learn?

Finalized blank forms can be accessed at www.irs.gov/Forms-&-Pubs.

Publication 4491-W, a companion book to this course, provides many opportunities to practice tax return preparation using the information taught in this guide.

Directions at the end of many lessons suggest using Publication 4491-W to practice the lesson material. Although it might not be possible to work each exercise with the knowledge you have at that point, at the end of the course, you will have the opportunity to complete all of the comprehensive problems and exercises in Publication 4491-W.

You may use the Practice Lab integrated with the online course, Link & Learn Taxes, to complete exercises, practice returns, and test scenarios using tax software.

CAUTION

Keep in mind that the Practice Lab contains current tax year calculations, but is not updated with late tax law changes.

What happens after I complete this course?

After completing this course, you will have an understanding of tax law and the guidelines and tools needed to prepare an accurate return. After you have been certified, and have completed and signed Form 13615, you will be ready to volunteer at a VITA/TCE site.

How does this certification work?

To participate in the VITA/TCE programs, all volunteers must take the Volunteer Standards of Conduct Training and pass the certification test. In addition, all tax preparers, Quality Reviewers, instructors, and Site Coordinators must pass the Intake/Interview and Quality Review test. To prepare tax returns in the VITA/TCE programs, you must then pass at least the Basic certification test. Alternatively, you may certify at the Advanced level. You are not required to certify in Basic before taking the Advanced test. A minimum score of 80% is required to pass any certification test. You may take online tests that are available in Link & Learn Taxes on www.irs.gov. Online testing is fast and efficient; you will know immediately if you passed, and can print out the certification for your Site Coordinator. Volunteers who do not pass the test the first time may review the course material and try again. A paper test option (Form 6744) may also be available. Talk with your instructor or Site Coordinator for more information on these options.

You must pass the Volunteer Standards of Conduct and Intake/Interview and Quality Review tests prior to accessing the Basic or Advanced certification test.

All designated reviewers and peer-to-peer reviewers are required to have Basic certification at a minimum, or higher certification based on the complexity of the return. It is strongly encouraged for volunteers to certify at the Advanced level. SPEC encourages the Quality Reviewers to be the most experienced volunteers in tax law application. Volunteer instructors must certify at Advanced or higher depending on the tax topics instructed.

If a volunteer does not achieve the minimum required score on the test or the retest, the volunteer is encouraged to participate in the program in another capacity such as greeter, client facilitator, communication specialist, or technical support.

When you achieve the certification(s) and present your signed Form 13615, your Site Coordinator or instructor may provide you with a VITA/TCE programs Form 14509, Volunteer ID Insert. The insert was created to acknowledge the accomplishment of certified volunteers, as well as to assist internal and external stakeholders in identifying certified volunteers, but is not intended to be used as proof of certification. You should bring your Form 13615 (and Form 14509 if you have one) and photo ID to the tax preparation site.

What types of returns can I prepare?

It is important that you assist only with returns, supporting schedules, and forms for which you have been trained and certified. You are protected by the federal Volunteer Protection Act of 1997 as long as you are only preparing returns within the scope of the VITA/TCE programs. Refer taxpayers with tax situations outside your scope of training and certification to your Site Coordinator and/or a professional tax return preparer. The training resources and tools discussed in this guide only support the completion of a basic Form 1040 and associated tax forms. A complete list of what is within the scope of the VITA/TCE programs can be found in the front of the Volunteer Resource Guide. Do not prepare returns that fall outside the scope of the VITA/TCE programs. Applicable lessons list some out of scope tax law topics for the VITA/TCE programs.

Am I legally liable for returns I prepare?

VITA/TCE program volunteers are not considered paid preparers; therefore, you are not legally liable under federal law for the return you prepare. This means you cannot accept payment of any kind from the taxpayer for preparing a federal tax return or for providing any other tax-related assistance. You are protected by the federal Volunteer Protection Act of 1997, as long as all of the following conditions are true:

- You are acting within the scope of your volunteer responsibilities.
- You completed the level of training and certification required for preparing tax returns at your site.
- The harm was not caused by willful, criminal, reckless, grossly negligent, or conscious, flagrantly indifferent acts.

How does the IRS identify volunteer-prepared returns?

Each return should be identified with the appropriate site identification number (SIDN) to ensure it is readily identifiable by the IRS. Your site's SIDN is an 8-digit number preceded by the letter "S" that must appear in the Paid Preparer Use Only section on all returns you prepare, both paper and electronic. Your Site Coordinator provides this number along with other necessary guidelines for completing the return.

Identity Protection PIN (IP PIN) Program

Nationwide, identity theft continues to grow at an alarming rate. In 2004, the IRS developed a strategy to address the problem of identity theft-related tax administration issues. The IRS strategy continues to evolve, but is focused on three priorities that are fundamental to addressing this challenge: victim assistance, outreach, and prevention.

- Victim assistance: The IRS is working to speed up case resolution and provide more training for employees who assist victims of identity theft.
- Outreach: The IRS is educating taxpayers so they can prevent and resolve tax-related identity theft issues quickly.
- Prevention: The IRS is implementing new processes for handling returns, new filters to detect fraud, new initiatives to partner with stakeholders, and a continued commitment to investigate the criminals who perpetrate these crimes.

Refer to the IRS Identity Protection Home Page at http://www.irs.gov/uac/Identity-Protection to stay current on IRS efforts to combat this growing problem. A wide range of information on identity theft is presented, ranging from how to contact the IRS with a case of identity theft to tips for keeping taxpayer records safe.

How to assist taxpayers who may be victims of identity theft at VITA/TCE sites

Being sensitive towards victims of identity theft is critical to assisting taxpayers through a confusing and frustrating situation. Remember victims of identity theft are:

- · Victimized by identity thieves mostly through no fault of their own and
- Trying to comply with tax laws file tax return and pay their fair share of taxes

Use the following table when assisting taxpayers who are victims or may be victims of identity theft at a VITA/TCE site.

Replacing a Lost or Missing IP PIN

If a taxpayer did not receive a new IP PIN or the taxpayer misplaced it, the taxpayer has two options:

- 1. Register and create a user profile to get a current IP PIN at http://irs.gov/uac/Get-An-Identity-Protection-PIN. The registration process will require the taxpayer to provide specific personal information and answer a series of questions to validate his/her identity.
- 2. Contact IPSU at 1-800-908-4490 to receive a replacement IP PIN if the taxpayer is unable or unwilling to create an account on IRS.gov.

Using a replacement IP PIN will cause a delay in processing the tax return and the issuance of any refund the taxpayer may be entitled to.

If a replacement IP PIN letter is issued, the mailing date of the replacement IP PIN is generally 4-5 business days after the transaction completion date.

Identity Protection PIN on Form 1040 Series Returns

The Form 1040 series (1040EZ, 1040A, and 1040) includes a series of six boxes just to the right of the spouse's occupation. These boxes are clearly marked as "Identity Protection PIN." Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide or go to www.irs.gov to view Form 1040.

If taxpayers choose to file the return on paper, the letter issued by the IRS will instruct them to write the six-digit IP PIN in the area just to the right of the spouse's occupation.

For the IP PIN to be accepted, all six digits must be input on Form 1040. The IP PIN may begin with a zero.

Effect of the IP PIN on Tax Administration

The IP PIN acts as an identity validation tool only. The IP PIN indicates that taxpayers previously provided IRS with information that validates their identity and that IRS is satisfied that the taxpayers are the valid owners of the SSNs.

Returns that are filed on accounts with an IP PIN indicator present are processed as valid returns using standard processing procedures.

Returns that are filed on accounts with an IP PIN indicator present that do not have an IP PIN, or the IP PIN was not input correctly, will experience delays while IRS validates the identity of the taxpayer against IRS records.

What are my responsibilities as a VITA/TCE programs volunteer?

As a VITA/TCE programs volunteer, you have a responsibility to provide quality service and to uphold the ethical standards of the program. When you begin as a volunteer, you will be asked to sign Form 13615, which states that you will adhere to these standards:

- Follow the Quality Site Requirements (QSR)
- Never accept payment or solicit donations for tax return preparation
- Never solicit business from taxpayers you assist or use the knowledge gained about a taxpayer for any direct or indirect personal benefit
- Never knowingly prepare false returns
- Never engage in criminal, infamous, dishonest, notoriously disgraceful conduct, or any other conduct deemed to have a negative effect on the IRS
- Treat all taxpayers in a professional, courteous, and respectful manner

As a volunteer, follow these standards for return preparation: become certified, use the intake/interview and quality review process, use reference materials, complete the steps to electronically file tax returns, and adhere to the privacy and confidentiality guidelines.

What is due diligence?

Due diligence means doing your part to ensure tax returns are correct. As an IRS-certified volunteer, you ensure the information on the return you are preparing or reviewing is correct and complete.

Doing your part includes:

- Confirming a taxpayer's (and spouse if applicable) identity
- Providing top-quality service by helping taxpayers understand and meet their tax responsibilities
- · Making sure the facts presented by the taxpayer paint a reasonable picture

Generally you can rely on good faith for taxpayer information without requiring documentation as verification. However, exercise caution when taxpayers want to claim a refundable credit such as EIC or education credits, especially if these credits are maximized.

Top 4 Things to Remember about Due Diligence

- 1. Do your part to ensure a tax return is correct.
- 2. Question any unusual, inconsistent, or incomplete items.
- 3. If you are unsure about a deduction or credit, make an effort to research the answer, or ask another certified volunteer for assistance.
- 4. Remind taxpayers that when they sign their tax returns, they are stating under penalty of perjury that the return is accurate to the best of their knowledge.

The following examples illustrate unusual or questionable situations that call for more information from the taxpayer.

example

Larry goes to a VITA/TCE site to have his taxes prepared. Larry tells the tax preparer:

- · His filing status is Head of Household
- · He wants to claim his 2-year-old nephew for EIC
- He has no child care expenses
- · He earned $19,000 in wages
- · He is 26 years old

Larry's information regarding his qualifying child and filing status is questionable. Further inquiries are needed to determine:

- Why the uncle is claiming the child and not the parents?
- Why isn't there child care expense and who cares for the child while the taxpayer works?
- Is there anyone else living in the household that contributes?
- Is there anyone else eligible to claim the child?
- Do the tie-breaker rules apply?
- If asked, can the taxpayer provide proof that the qualifying child lived with him for more than half of the year?

example

Steven goes to a VITA/TCE site to have his taxes prepared. Steven tells the tax preparer:

- · He is 22 years old
- · He has two sons, ages 10 and 11
- He has Social Security cards for both boys and himself
- His W-2 wage indicates earnings of $20,000

Steven's age and the age of the qualifying children appear to be inconsistent. Further inquiries are needed to determine:

- Are the boys his sons by birth, foster sons, adopted sons, step-sons?
- · Is there anyone else eligible to claim the children as qualifying children?
- Do the tie-breaker rules apply?
- If asked, can the taxpayer provide proof that the qualifying children lived with him for more than half of the year?

As a certified volunteer, remember due diligence and take reasonable steps to ensure the tax return is correct:

- Ask enough questions to determine if allowable expenses were incurred and that income reported is correct.
- Add all taxable income to the tax return, even if the taxpayer does not agree with you.
- If the item is questionable and/or unallowable, do not claim the deduction or credit on the tax return.
- If you are uncomfortable with the information and/or documentation provided by a taxpayer, do not prepare the tax return.
- If the taxpayer does not agree with your advice, you should not prepare the return.

Tax return integrity means volunteers must take reasonable steps to ensure the tax return is correct, which includes:

- Verifying that all Social Security numbers presented by the taxpayer match the Social Security numbers listed on the tax return.
- Not preparing out of scope returns.
- Not preparing returns for which you have not been certified.
- Explaining to the taxpayer why the deduction or credit can or cannot be included on their return. Use IRS reference materials to support your statements.
- Having a second certified volunteer review the completed return with the taxpayer.
- Not making changes or corrections to the tax return after the taxpayer leaves the site without notifying the taxpayer.

In conclusion, as an IRS-certified volunteer preparer, you have the responsibility to perform adequate due diligence on EVERY return. The goal is not to prepare as many tax returns as possible, but to accurately report taxpayer income and deductions.

How do I maintain the taxpayer's trust?

You are the key to the integrity of the VITA/TCE programs. Taxpayers will trust that all information you receive from them is protected from disclosure. To maintain this trust:

- · Do not disclose any personal tax information gained as a result of the service provided.
- Do not openly discuss taxpayers by name in the presence of other volunteers or taxpayers. You may discuss tax situations with other volunteers. For example, a volunteer may refer to a situation (not a taxpayer) and ask or give advice about the appropriate tax treatment for that specific situation.
- Do not retain taxpayers' documents for a follow-up visit. If you cannot fully complete the taxpayer's return at the time of service, return all documents to the taxpayer.
- Do not take taxpayers' information for preparation of the return outside the presence of the taxpayer.
- Do not prepare a tax return when you suspect an individual is not providing truthful information.
- Do not exclude any of the taxpayer's relevant income or expenses, regardless of whether they increase or decrease the amount of tax due or refund.

Having the taxpayer present in the tax preparer's site is not always possible. In these cases, Virtual VITA/ TCE processes can be used to prepare returns without taxpayer face-to-face contact. Certified volunteers may interview taxpayers over the phone while preparing their return. The alternative process used to prepare returns must be approved by the responsible IRS Territory Manager to ensure all procedures are in place as described in the QSR. Most importantly, the taxpayer's and government's interests must be properly protected. In some cases, the taxpayer information must be left at the site to be prepared and mailed to the taxpayer. Adequate security and privacy is expected to ensure taxpayer records are properly safeguarded.

Some individuals may attempt to defraud the government by filing false tax returns. If you have any question about the validity of information provided by a taxpayer, or are uncomfortable with a taxpayer situation, discuss your concern with your Site Coordinator.

If you or a taxpayer should have a concern or issue regarding unethical behavior at a site, e-mail WI.Voltax@irs.gov. Also, see Publications 730, 4454, or 4053 for reporting Civil Rights (Title VI) and EEO concerns.

Taxpayer Civil Rights

The Department of the Treasury – Internal Revenue Service will not tolerate discrimination based on race, color, national origin (including limited English proficiency), disability, reprisal, sex (in education programs or activities) or age in programs or activities receiving federal financial assistance from the Internal Revenue Service.

If a taxpayer believes that he or she has been discriminated against, a written complaint should be sent to:

Operations Director, Civil Rights Division Internal Revenue Service, Room 2413 1111 Constitution Avenue, NW Washington, DC 20224

For all questions about taxpayer civil rights, contact us at the above address, or by e-mail at edi.civil.rights.division@irs.gov

Do not send tax returns, payments, or other non-civil rights information to this address.

Low Income Tax Clinics

Low Income Taxpayer Clinics (LITCs) represent low income individuals in disputes with the Internal Revenue Service, including audits, appeals, collection matters, and federal tax litigation. LITCs can also help taxpayers respond to IRS notices and correct account problems. Some LITCs provide education for low income taxpayers and taxpayers who speak English as a second language (ESL) about their taxpayer rights and responsibilities.

LITC services are free or low cost for eligible taxpayers. LITCs are independent from the IRS but receive some of their funding from the IRS through the LITC grant program. Each clinic determines whether prospective clients meet income guidelines and other criteria before agreeing to represent them.

Find a clinic near you on the LITC Map or IRS Publication 4134, Low Income Taxpayer Clinic List. This publication is also available by calling 1-800-829-3676 or at your local IRS office.

Are there other materials available to assist me?

When you arrive at the tax preparation site, your Site Coordinator will assist you with your resource needs. Your site may even have a technical research library from which you can access various forms, publications, and worksheets. These materials can also be downloaded from www.irs.gov.

You should not use this guide at your tax preparation site; it is designed for training purposes only. The Volunteer Resource Guide and Publication 17 will be available for use in printed or electronic format. Your Site Coordinator should be able to provide access to the following key resources as well:

- Instruction booklets, schedules, and worksheets for Form 1040
- Frequently used tax publications (e.g., Publication 596, Earned Income Credit; Publication 972, Child Tax Credit; and Publication 3, Armed Forces' Tax Guide)
- Equipment and supplies along with security requirements and use restrictions

You may reinforce your knowledge of tax law by viewing online training courses such as Link & Learn Taxes and Understanding Taxes on www.irs.gov.

Recipients of government property and equipment must certify that the equipment will be used for volunteer tax return preparation purposes. Commercial and certain personal uses of the property may terminate the agreement. This applies to hardware and software, as well as supplies.

A toll-free tax information hotline is available for volunteer use only. If you have a tax law question and cannot get the answer from your Site Coordinator or your reference material, call 1-800-829-8482 (1-800-TAX-VITA). Do not give this phone number to taxpayers. The volunteer hotline is generally available from February 1 until the filing deadline.

For inquiries about refund offsets, taxpayers can call the Treasury Offset Program toll-free at 1-800-304-3107. Other helpful contact information can be found near the back of the Volunteer Resource Guide.

How do I get started using the tax software?

The majority of VITA/TCE sites use IRS-sponsored tax preparation software. The tax software is used to prepare returns and includes a help feature to assist in understanding the application of tax law; it is available in both desktop and online (Internet-based) versions.

Your instructor or Site Coordinator will provide you with the information, user names, and passwords required for logging into the program for training and tax preparation purposes.

Where do I find information about the tax software?

The Volunteer Resource Guide contains step-by-step procedures for electronic return preparation and help-ful hints for using the tax software within each applicable tax law topic. Information about completing the return is listed in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Preparing the Return tab.

Summary

Welcome to the VITA/TCE programs. Remember:

- Make sure you have the resources and support you need to provide each taxpayer with high-quality service and an accurate return.
- A return is accurate when tax law is applied correctly and the return is free from error based on the taxpayer's interview and supporting documentation, and a completed Form 13614-C.
- Know your roles and responsibilities, adhere to the Volunteer Standards of Conduct, and follow due diligence.
- Prepare returns that are:
 - within the scope of the VITA/TCE programs
 - within your certification level
- Use VITA/TCE equipment and supplies (including hardware and software) for their intended purposes.
- The procedures for helping a taxpayer with identity theft

Legislative Extenders

Introduction

Certain tax law provisions were expired at the time this publication went to print. This content is being provided in the event that they are extended for the current tax year. Publication 4491-X, released in mid-January, will notify volunteers if they should consult this lesson, and will contain any legislative changes to the following provisions.

Helpful tables and tips are contained in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Legislative Extenders tab.

This provision, if extended, is added to the lesson, Income – Retirement Income; Form 1040, Lines 15-16.

Retirement Income

What if the distribution is used for charitable purposes?

A qualified charitable distribution (QCD) is generally a nontaxable distribution made directly by the trustee of the IRA to an organization eligible to receive tax-deductible contributions. The taxpayer must be at least age 70 1/2 when the distribution was made. Also, the taxpayer must have the same type of acknowledgement of the contribution that is needed to claim a deduction for a charitable contribution. A QCD counts towards the taxpayer's required minimum distribution.

The maximum annual exclusion for QCDs is $100,000. Any QCD in excess of the $100,000 exclusion limit is included in income as any other distribution. On a joint return, the spouse can also have a QCD and exclude up to $100,000.

How do I handle educator expenses?

Who is eligible?

Eligible educators can deduct up to $250 of qualified expenses paid during the tax year. If the taxpayer and spouse are both eligible educators, they can deduct up to $500, but neither can deduct more than their own expenses up to $250. Any expenses exceeding $250 for either spouse may be treated as an itemized employment-related deduction on Schedule A.

Other adjustments to income are discussed in a later lesson.

If the taxpayer and/or spouse are educators, probe a little deeper to see if they qualify for this adjustment. Ask questions such as:

- Are you or your spouse a teacher, instructor, counselor, principal, or aide in a school? (Cannot be a home school)
- What grade or grades do you teach? (Must be K-12)
- Were you employed for at least 900 hours during the school year? (Required minimum)

What expenses qualify?

If the taxpayer or spouse is an eligible educator, ask about their qualified expenses. Advise taxpayers that they must have receipts for verification if they get audited.

Expenses that qualify include books, supplies, equipment (including computer equipment, software, and services), and other materials used in the classroom. Expenses that do not qualify are home schooling, nonathletic supplies for physical education, or health courses.

example

Gloria is a 5th and 6th grade teacher who works full-time in a year-round school. She had 1800 hours of employment during the tax year. She spent $262 on supplies for her students. Of that amount, $212 was for educational software. The other $50 was for supplies for a unit she teaches sixth graders on health. Only the $212 is a qualified expense. She can deduct $212.

example

Debbie is a part-time art teacher at an elementary school. She spent $185 on qualified expenses for her students. Because she has only 440 hours of documented employment as an educator during the tax year, she cannot deduct her educator expenses.

What other rules apply?

Probe to learn if the taxpayer or spouse received reimbursement that would reduce the amount of their educator expenses. For example, ask:

- Did you receive reimbursement that is not listed as income on Form W-2?
- Did you redeem U.S. Series EE and I Savings Bonds where the interest would be tax-free, such as redeeming savings bonds to pay educational expenses?
- Did you receive a nontaxable distribution from a qualified tuition program (QTP) or a distribution of nontaxable earnings from a Coverdell education savings account (ESA)?

Educator expenses are reduced by any of these applicable reimbursements.

How do I report this?

Educator expenses are reported in the adjustment section of Form 1040. Don't forget to reduce the total educator expenses by any reimbursements, nontaxable savings bond interest, nontaxable distribution from a QTP, or nontaxable earnings from an ESA.

Taxpayer Example

Bob teaches elementary school. His wife Janet teaches high school chemistry. Here is how a volunteer helped them determine if they can take the deduction for educator expenses.

SAMPLE INTER	/IEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	JANET & BOB RESPOND
You've already mentioned that you both work full-time as	[Janet] Yes, all teachers keep careful teachers, so you may be able to deduct some of the money	records of their expenses. Here are my you spent on qualified educator expenses. Can you tell me	receipts and here are Bob's.
how much you spent, or did you bring your receipts?

VOLUNTEER SAYS	JANET & BOB RESPOND
Can you tell me what you purchased? Janet, maybe you could go first.	[Janet] Sure. Three receipts are for quick reference cards for my chemistry students. And two are for special reagents the department doesn't stock.
Your receipts add up to $382. Now, we can count only the first $250 of educator expenses, but because you are married and filing jointly, we can count up to $250 for Bob. Bob, tell me about your expenses. Yours total $263. Now, did either of you receive any reimbursement that is not listed on Form W-2?	[Bob] These four receipts are for art supplies – paint and brushes, as you can see – and these two are for special papers and sculpting clay. [Janet] No, we paid these expenses out of our own pockets.
That would bring your total down to $213.	[Bob] Wait, now that I think about it, I got reimbursed $50 for the clay. [Janet] Can't we apply some of my excess expense to Bob and bring his total up to $250?
No, I'm sorry, each person's expenses have to stand alone. However, the amount over $250 can be claimed on Schedule A and is subject to 2% of AGI. Did either of you receive any reimbursement that is not listed on a Form W-2, from any other source?	[Janet] No.
Did you redeem U.S. series EE and I Savings Bonds during the tax year?	[Janet] No, we didn't. What if we had?
We would complete a form to see what percentage of the tax-free interest should be applied as a reimbursement. One more thing: did you receive distributions from a qualified tuition program or a Coverdell education savings account?	[Bob] No, neither of those.
Okay, we can claim $213 for Bob and the maximum $250 for Janet. That gives you a total of $463 on your joint return as a deduction for educator expenses. Any questions before we go on?	[Janet] No, I think we understand.

How do I handle tuition and fees?

What is the deduction?

Taxpayers can deduct up to $4,000 in qualified tuition and related expenses paid during the tax year. The amount of the deduction is determined by the taxpayer's filing status, modified adjusted gross income (MAGI), and other factors. For the amount of the allowable deduction see the Tuition and Fees Deduction chart in the Legislative Extenders tab of the Volunteer Resource Guide.

example

Leonard, a single taxpayer who had a total income of $24,000, meets all the requirements to take the deduction. He paid $4,427 in tuition and fees. Because his gross income is well below the MAGI limit, he would be able to deduct the maximum amount ($4,000) for his tuition and fees payments.

Who is eligible for this deduction?

The deduction can be claimed for the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse (if filing a joint return), and any dependent (for whom the taxpayer claims a dependency exemption) who attended an eligible educational institution during the tax year.

The tuition and fees deduction cannot be claimed by married taxpayers who file as Married Filing Separately or by an individual who is a dependent of another taxpayer.

example

Juanita is married but uses the Married Filing Separately status. She cannot deduct tuition and fees.

In order to claim a deduction for expenses paid for a dependent who is the eligible student, the taxpayer must have paid the qualified expenses and claim an exemption for the dependent. If the student is eligible to be claimed as a dependent (even if not actually claimed) and paid his or her own expenses, no one can take the adjustment. However, if the student would not qualify as a dependent, he or she can claim the deduction even if tuition and fees were paid by another person. In that case, the student can treat the amounts paid for tuition and fees as a gift.

Taxpayers who are not eligible for the tuition and fees adjustment because of the dependency issue may be eligible for an education tax credit, covered in the Education Credits lesson.

example

Joseph is 30. Although he lives at home and goes to school full time, he earns about $5,000 each year, so his parents cannot claim him as a dependent. Only Joseph can take the tuition and fees adjustment, even if his parents pay his education expenses.

example

Carly is 18 and claimed by her parents as a dependent. She took out student loans and paid all of her own tuition and fees. Carly cannot take the deduction because she is a dependent. Carly's parents can't claim the deduction either because they did not pay the education expenses. Carly's parents should look into the education credits.

What are qualified tuition and fees expenses?

Generally, qualified education expenses are amounts paid for tuition and fees required for the student's enrollment or attendance at an eligible educational institution. It does not matter whether the expenses were paid in cash, by check, credit card, or with borrowed funds.

Qualified education expenses do not include payments for:

- Insurance, room and board, medical expenses (including health fees), transportation, or similar personal, living, or family expenses.
- Course-related books, supplies, nonacademic activities and equipment unless it is paid as a condition of enrollment or attendance
- Any course or other education involving sports, games, hobbies, and noncredit courses unless the course or other education is part of the student's degree program

Ask the taxpayer if the qualified tuition and expenses were offset by distributions from qualified state tuition programs, Coverdell ESAs, or interest from savings bonds used for higher education expenses. Subtract these from the total payments for tuition and fees.

To help you figure the tuition and fees deduction, the taxpayer should have received Form 1098-T, Tuition Statement. Generally, an eligible education institution must send Form 1098-T or a substitute to each enrolled student by January 31. However, the form only reports "amount billed" or "payments received."

Beginning in tax year 2016, the deduction for qualified tuition and related expenses will not be allowed unless the taxpayer receives a statement (Form 1098-T) from the educational institution. The receipt of the statement by a dependent is treated as received by the taxpayer.

Form 1098-T may have incomplete information. You must question the taxpayer to determine the amount of qualified expenses actually paid and adjust this amount by any non-taxable items, such as scholarships or tuition program distributions.

What is an eligible educational institution?

An eligible educational institution is generally any accredited public, nonprofit, or private post-secondary institution eligible to participate in the student aid programs administered by the Department of Education. It includes virtually all accredited public, nonprofit, and privately owned profit-making post-secondary institutions. Taxpayers who do not know if an educational institution is an eligible institution should contact the school or the U.S. Department of Education website.

How do I determine the amount of the deduction?

Use Form 8917, Tuition and Fees Deduction, to figure the MAGI and the resulting deduction amount.

Tax Software Hint: Form 8917, Tuition and Fees Deduction, is automatically completed from data input to the Student Loan Interest, Coverdell ESA and QTP, Tuition and Fees worksheet (1040-Wkt2).

How do I determine the best education benefit for the taxpayer?

If taxpayers claim the tuition and fees adjustment to income, they cannot claim an education tax credit. The education credits include the American Opportunity and Lifetime Learning Credits, discussed in more detail in the Education Credits lesson or Publication 970, Education Benefits.

For most taxpayers, the tax credit is more beneficial than the adjustment. However, it is important to calculate and compare the education benefits to determine which one is better for the taxpayer.

Complete the entire tax return separately using first the tuition and fees deduction, then the education credit. Compare the returns and choose the best one for the taxpayer.

To compare the benefits see the Highlights of Education Tax Benefits chart in the Education Benefits tab of the Volunteer Resource Guide.

The tuition and fees deduction may affect state income tax returns. Consider the overall income -- both federal and state -- before choosing the best option.

Taxpayer Scenario

Here is how a volunteer helped Glenda deduct the tuition and fees she paid for a class.

SAMPLE INTERVIE	W
VOLUNTEER SAYS	GLENDA RESPONDS
Let's talk about your education-related expenses. Were you or someone else in your family going to school?	I took one class in the fall.
You're filing as Head of Household and your income is below the limit for taking the full deduction. Do you know how much you paid for tuition?	Yes, I have a copy of my account statement. Will that work?

I see $450 for tuition and $80 for books. Were you required to purchase the books through City College or could you have bought them elsewhere?	Those books were written specifically for the course; I had to purchase them through the school when I registered and they were an enrollment requirement in the course.
OK, then we can include the books. That totals $530. I just need to ask a few more questions. Did you receive any funds from an educational assistance program from your employer?	Yes, the Educational Assistance Program provided $100.
Did you make any tax-free withdrawals from a Coverdell educational savings account or another qualified tuition program, or from U.S. savings bonds?	No.
Did you get any other nontaxable payments, not counting gifts, bequests, or inheritances, that were specifically for educational expenses?	Well, my mom gave me $100 to help with tuition.
The $100 was a gift, so we don't count it. Your total payments were $530 and then we must subtract the $100 employer benefit. You can deduct $430 for tuition and fees. Do you have any questions about all this?	No, I'm really glad I can deduct that.
There is also a credit for people who are paying for college expenses. You can take one or the other, but not both. When we get to the end of the return, I will ask you some more questions to figure out if the credit would be better for you than this deduction.	Okay, I'd appreciate that.
ackslash [Note on the intake and interview sheet that you have addressed this a	djustment.]

Itemized Deductions

What taxes may be deductible?

It may be possible to deduct sales taxes in lieu of state and local income taxes (from the optional sales tax tables or actual sales tax paid). Taxpayers who use the tables may be able to add the state and local general sales taxes paid on certain specified items to the tax table amounts.

Other itemized deductions are discussed in a later lesson.

What about qualified mortgage insurance premiums?

Taxpayers can deduct private mortgage insurance premiums paid or accrued during the current tax year on Schedule A. The insurance must have been in connection with home acquisition debt, and the insurance contract must have been issued after 2006. Volunteers need to be aware that this potential deduction may not be reported on Form 1098. Ask homeowners with a mortgage if they paid mortgage insurance premiums during the tax year. Failure to ask could result in a substantial deduction loss for taxpayers filing Schedule A.

Taxpayers may deduct either sales tax or state and local income tax but not both.

What are residential energy credits?

Individuals who make purchases for qualified energy efficient improvements for their main home may be allowed nonrefundable tax credits. There are two types of residential energy credits:

- Residential energy efficient property credit (Form 5695, Residential Energy Credits, Part I, which is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs)
- Nonbusiness energy property credit (Form 5695, Part II)

Other credits are discussed in the Miscellaneous Credits lesson.

The IRS provides guidance on what property qualifies for the energy credits, and homeowners generally can rely on manufacturers' certifications. See the Volunteer Resource Guide, Legislative Extenders tab, www.irs.gov, or www.energystar.gov for more information.

Tax Software Hint: Tax software will do all the calculations and enter the total on the appropriate line of Form 1040.

What is the residential energy efficient property credit?

This residential energy credit is claimed on Form 5695, Part I, and is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs. For awareness only, taxpayers may claim an energy credit for qualified solar electric, solar water heating, small wind energy, and geothermal heat pump property costs. Check for qualifying energy property purchases to determine if the taxpayer should see a professional tax preparer to claim the credit.

What is the nonbusiness energy property credit?

The nonbusiness energy property credit is available for certain qualifying energy efficiency improvements or residential energy property costs. The qualifying items are:

- Biomass stoves
- Heating, ventilating, air-conditioning (HVAC)
- Insulation
- · Roofs (metal and asphalt)
- · Water heaters (non-solar)
- Windows and doors

The nonbusiness energy property credit is subject to the following limitations:

- The total combined credit limit for all tax years after 2005 is $500, and the combined credit limit for windows is $200.
- The maximum credit for residential energy property costs is $50 for any advanced main air circulating fan; $150 for any qualified natural gas, propane, or oil furnace, or hot water boiler; and $300 for any item of energy efficient building property.

It is important to note that:

- The credit is only available for existing homes that are the taxpayer's main home – new construction and rentals do not qualify. The taxpayer must own the home to qualify.
- Amounts provided by subsidized federal, state, or local energy financing do not qualify for the credit.

Costs for on-site preparation and installation depend on the type of qualified property. Review the Form 5695 Instructions for more information.

Cancellation of Debt (COD)

This lesson will help you recognize when you can help taxpayers who have a canceled debt and when you must refer them elsewhere for help with their tax returns.

Cancellation of Debt - Basics

A debt includes any indebtedness for which a taxpayer is liable or which attaches to the taxpayer's property. Cancellation of indebtedness can involve auto loans, credit card debt, medical care, professional services, installment purchases of furniture or other personal property, mortgages, and home equity loans. Generally, if a debt for which a taxpayer is personally liable is canceled or forgiven, the taxpayer must include the canceled amount in income. There is no income from canceled debt if the cancellation or forgiveness of debt is a gift or bequest.

Use Form 13614-C, Intake/Interview & Quality Review Sheet, to determine if the taxpayer received one or both of Forms 1099-C, Cancellation of Debt, or 1099-A, Acquisition or Abandonment of Secured Property.

In Scope for VITA/TCE Programs

Refer to Publication 4731-A, Screening Sheet for Foreclosures/Abandonments and Cancellation of Debt, to ensure that the tax return being prepared is within scope of the VITA/TCE programs. This screening sheet is contained in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Legislative Extenders tab.

- Use Publication 4731-A, Part I for taxpayers with Form 1099-A for a foreclosure or abandonment of their principal residence
- Use Publication 4731-A, Part II for taxpayers with Form 1099-C, or Forms 1099-A and 1099-C resulting from cancellation of debt on a home mortgage loan

Cancellation of credit card debt is included in the Other Income lesson of Publication 4491 for Advanced certification.

Taxability of Canceled Debt

Taxpayers often question the taxability of canceled debt because they did not receive money in hand. In situations where property is surrendered, such as a foreclosure, taxpayers feel that by giving up the property they are relieved from any further obligation. Explain that the benefit to the taxpayer is the relief from personal liability to pay the debt. Information in Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax for Individuals, can assist with the explanation.

Additional resources include:

- · Publication 523, Selling Your Home
- · Publication 525, Taxable and Nontaxable Income
- Publication 544, Sales and Other Dispositions of Assets
- Publication 4681, Canceled Debts, Foreclosures, Repossessions, and Abandonments

Generally, when debt is canceled, the lender will issue Form 1099-C, Cancellation of Debt, which is then reported as income by the recipients on their tax return. There are exceptions and exclusions to the general rule that determines whether a canceled debt is included as income. This is covered in greater detail later in this lesson.

Recourse vs. Nonrecourse Debt

There are two types of debts: recourse and nonrecourse. A recourse debt holds the borrower personally liable. All other debt is considered nonrecourse.

In general, recourse debt (loans) allows lenders to collect what is owed for the debt even after they've taken collateral (home, credit cards). Lenders have the right to garnish wages or levy accounts in order to collect what is owed.

A nonrecourse debt (loan) does not allow the lender to pursue anything other than the collateral. For example, if a borrower defaults on a nonrecourse home loan, the bank can only foreclose on the home. The bank generally cannot take further legal action to collect the money owed on the debt. Whether a debt is recourse or nonrecourse may vary from state to state, depending on state law.

If a lender cancels a debt and issues Form 1099-C, the lender will indicate on the form if the borrower was personally liable (recourse) for repayment of the debt. Go to www.irs.gov to view Form 1099-C.

If property securing the debt was foreclosed on or abandoned, the taxpayer may need to report the disposition (sale) on Form 8949 and Schedule D. This is covered in more detail later in this course.

Generally, if taxpayers abandon property that secures debt for which they are personally liable, they do not have a gain or loss until the foreclosure is completed.

If taxpayers abandon property that secures debt for which they are not personally liable, the abandonment is treated as a sale or exchange.

For more information on abandonments see Publication 4681.

Recourse debt holds the borrower personally liable for any amount not satisfied by the surrender of secured property.

- If a lender forecloses on property subject to a recourse debt and cancels the portion of the debt in excess of the fair market value (FMV) of the property, the canceled portion of the debt is treated as ordinary income from cancellation of indebtedness. This amount must be included in gross income unless it qualifies for an exception or exclusion.
- In addition to this cancellation of indebtedness income, the taxpayer may realize a gain or loss on the disposition of the property; this amount is generally the difference between the FMV of the property at the time of the foreclosure and the taxpayer's basis in the property.

Nonrecourse debt is satisfied by the surrender of the secured property regardless of the FMV at the time of surrender, and the borrower is not personally liable for the debt.

- If property that is subject to nonrecourse debt is abandoned, foreclosed upon, subject of a short sale, or repossessed by the lender, the circumstances are treated as a sale of the property by the taxpayer.
- In determining the gain or loss on the disposition of the property, the balance of the nonrecourse debt at the time of the disposition of the property is included in the amount realized (generally the selling price). Since the borrower is not personally liable for the debt, the difference between the FMV of the property and the balance of the loan is not included in gross income.

	Recourse Debt	Nonrecourse Debt

Gain or loss on disposition of the property	Generally determined by the difference between the FMV of the property and the adjusted basis	The amount realized includes the balance of the nonrecourse debt at the time of the disposition of the property. This is true even if the FMV of the property is less than the outstanding debt.

example

Jason lost his home to foreclosure because he could no longer make his mortgage payments. At the time of foreclosure, he owed a balance of $170,000 to the lender and the FMV of the property was $140,000.

If Jason is personally liable for the debt (recourse loan), the selling price would be $140,000.

If Jason is not personally liable for the debt (nonrecourse loan), the selling price would be $170,000.

Exceptions and Exclusions

Some canceled or forgiven debts may be eliminated from income by applying exceptions, or reduced by applying exclusions to the general rule. Exceptions are applied before exclusions.

Exceptions

Exceptions may allow the taxpayer to eliminate the following types of canceled debt from income:

- Amounts otherwise excluded from income (e.g., gifts and bequests)
- Certain student loans (e.g., doctors, nurses, and teachers serving in rural or low-income areas)
- Deductible debt (e.g., home mortgage interest that would have been deductible on Schedule A)
- Price reduced after purchase (e.g., debt on solvent taxpayer's property is reduced by the seller; basis of property must be reduced)

For more information on exceptions, refer to Publication 4681, Canceled Debts, Foreclosures, Repossessions, and Abandonments.

Exclusions

There are several exclusions from the general rule for reporting canceled debt as income.

Form 982, Reduction of Tax Attributes Due to Discharge of Indebtedness, must be filed with the taxpayer's return to show the amount of the canceled debt excluded.

The exclusions are:

- Discharge of debt through bankruptcy
- Discharge of debt of insolvent taxpayer
- Discharge of qualified farm indebtedness
- Discharge of qualified real property business indebtedness
- Discharge of qualified principal residence indebtedness

The issues involved in exclusions can be complex. Only cancellation of qualified principal residence indebtedness is within the scope of VITA/TCE.

Cancellation of Debt (COD) - Principal Residence

Mortgage Forgiveness Debt Relief Act 2007

Under the Mortgage Forgiveness Debt Relief Act of 2007, taxpayers may exclude from income certain debt forgiven or canceled on their principal residence. This exclusion is applicable to the discharge of "qualified principal residence indebtedness." If the canceled debt qualifies for exclusion from gross income, the debtor may be required to reduce tax attributes (certain credits, losses, and basis of assets) by the amount excluded.

If a property was taken by the lender (foreclosure) or given up by the borrower (abandonment), the lender usually sends the taxpayer Form 1099-A, Acquisition or Abandonment of Secured Property. Form 1099-A will have information needed to determine the gain or loss due to the foreclosure or abandonment.

If the debt is canceled, the taxpayer will receive Form 1099-C, Cancellation of Debt. If foreclosure/abandonment and debt cancellation occur in the same calendar year, the lender may issue only Form 1099-C, including the information that would be reported on Form 1099-A.

The Mortgage Forgiveness Debt Relief Act of 2007 allows for the exclusion of discharged qualified principal residence indebtedness canceled in 2007, 2008, and 2009.

The Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008 extended the exclusion for tax years 2010 through 2012. The American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012 extended the exclusion to 12/31/2013.

The Tax Increase Prevention Act of 2014 extended the exclusion to 12/31/2014.

Qualified Principal Residence Indebtedness

Qualified principal residence indebtedness includes:

- Any debt incurred in acquiring, constructing, or substantially improving a principal residence that is secured by the principal residence
- Any debt secured by the principal residence resulting from the refinancing of debt incurred to acquire, construct, or substantially improve a principal residence, but only to the extent that the amount of debt does not exceed the amount of the refinanced indebtedness

Consult Publication 4491-X to see if this provision is in effect for the current tax year.

A principal residence is generally the home where the taxpayer lives most of the time. A taxpayer can have only one principal residence at a time.

Exclusion Limit

The maximum amount that can be treated as qualified principal residence indebtedness is $2 million ($1 million if Married Filing Separately).

Canceled qualified principal residence indebtedness cannot be excluded from income if the cancellation was for services performed for the lender or on account of any factor not directly related to a decline in the value of the residence or the taxpayer's financial condition.

Criteria for Canceled Principal Residence Debt

Volunteers may assist taxpayers who meet the following requirements:

- The home was never used in a business or as rental property
- The debt was not canceled because the taxpayer filed bankruptcy
- The taxpayer is not in bankruptcy when he/she comes to the site for assistance
- Form 1099-C does not include an amount for interest

- The debt must be a mortgage used only to buy, build, or substantially improve the taxpayer's primary residence, i.e., this money was not used to pay off credit cards, medical/dental expenses, vacations, etc.
- The mortgage was secured by the taxpayer's primary residence
- The mortgage was not more than $2 million ($1 million if Married Filing Separately)

example

Bob refinanced his personal residence and used the loan proceeds from the equity in his home to build a new master bedroom suite on the main level of his house. This debt is qualified principal residence indebtedness.

example

Tom refinanced his personal residence and used the loan proceeds from the equity in his home to pay off credit cards and buy a car. This debt is not qualified principal residence indebtedness.

EXERCISES

Use Publication 4731-A, Part II, to answer the following questions. The answers appear at the end of the lesson.

Question 1: A volunteer with Cancellation of Debt certification is working with Angie. Angie confirmed that she had to give up her principal residence and produced Form 1099-C for the cancellation of the mortgage loan. Angie explains that she did not file for bankruptcy, even though she experienced hardship due to the loss of income from no longer being able to rent out an upstairs bedroom and bath. Angie also verified that the mortgage loan was used entirely to purchase the home and was secured by the home. Her Form 1099-C lists the amount of debt canceled as $60,000.

Question 2: Fred went to his local VITA site to have his tax return prepared. The volunteer went through Fred's records and noticed Form 1099-C reflecting a canceled debt of $50,000.

Using Publication 4731-A, Part II, as a guide, the volunteer learned Fred lost his job and could no longer make his mortgage payments. The bank foreclosed on Fred's home. Due to the housing market slump, the value of Fred's home had declined, and his mortgage balance was more than the fair market value of the home. The bank sold Fred's home and canceled the remaining debt ($50,000) not covered by the sale price.

Upon further questioning, the volunteer learned Fred had refinanced his home two years ago and used the equity in the home to pay off some credit cards and take a trip to Las Vegas.

Should the volunteer assist Fred with the preparation of his return at the VITA site? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Foreclosures and Capital Gain or Loss

If a taxpayer does not make payments owed on a loan secured by property, the lender may foreclose on the loan or repossess the property. The foreclosure or repossession is treated as a sale from which the taxpayer may realize a gain or loss. This is true even if the taxpayer voluntarily returns the property to the lender.

Figure the gain or loss from a foreclosure or repossession the same way as the gain or loss from a sale. The gain is the difference between the amount realized and the adjusted basis of the transferred property (amount realized minus adjusted basis). The loss is the difference between the adjusted basis in the transferred property and the amount realized (adjusted basis minus amount realized).

When a residence that is security for a mortgage is abandoned or foreclosed upon, the gain or loss must be reported on the return and is subject to the rules for a Sale of Residence.

Generally, the amount realized on a foreclosure is considered to be the selling price. But this selling price depends, in part, on whether the debt was recourse debt or nonrecourse debt. In addition, the taxpayer may also have ordinary income from the cancellation of debt.

Use the Worksheet for Foreclosures and Repossessions in Publication 4681 to figure the ordinary income from the cancellation of debt and the gain or loss from a foreclosure or repossession.

A loss on the sale or disposition of a personal residence is not deductible. A gain may qualify for the Section 121 exclusion ($250,000 or $500,000 for Married Filing Jointly taxpayers) for a gain on the sale of a personal residence.

Generally, the taxpayer's gain or loss from a foreclosure or abandonment is reported on Form 8949 and Schedule D.

If the taxpayer is personally liable for the debt (recourse debt), and the amount of outstanding debt (mortgage) is more than the home's FMV, the difference is treated as cancellation of debt income.

- If the canceled debt qualifies as excludable from gross income, the exclusion is reported on Form 982, Reduction of Tax Attributes Due to Discharge of Indebtedness (And Section 1082 Basis Adjustment)
- Otherwise, the canceled debt is reportable as ordinary income on Form 1040, line 21 and is beyond the scope of VITA/TCE

If the canceled debt is reportable on Form 1040, line 21 or the canceled debt is not fully excludable from gross income, the issue is beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE programs.

Form 1099-A, Acquisition or Abandonment of Secured Property

When a personal residence is foreclosed upon, and the lender cancels a portion of the debt, the taxpayer will generally receive Form 1099-A and Form 1099-C. If, in the same calendar year, the debt is canceled in connection with a foreclosure of secured property, the lender has the option of issuing Form 1099-C only.

The filing requirements of Form 1099-A are met by the lender completing the following on Form 1099-C:

- · Debt description
- The debtor was personally liable for the repayment of the debt
- · Fair market value of property

Verify with the taxpayer that the information on Form 1099-A and Form 1099-C is correct. Pay particular attention to the amount of debt forgiven and the fair market value reported. Advise the taxpayer to contact the lender immediately if any of the information is not correct.

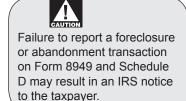

For more information on determining the basis for sale of residence see the lesson on Income - Capital Gain or Loss, or Publication 17.

Form 1099-A, issued by the lender, reports the outstanding debt and the fair market value of the property. This form provides information needed to determine the amount of any gain or loss due to foreclosure or abandonment. Report the gain or loss from Form 1099-A on Form 8949 and Schedule D.

The sale price (amount realized) is based on whether the taxpayer is personally liable (recourse loan) or not personally liable (nonrecourse loan) for the debt.

- If the taxpayer is personally liable, the sale price is the lesser of the balance of the principal mortgage debt outstanding or the fair market value
- If the taxpayer is not personally liable, then the sale price is the full amount of the outstanding debt, as reflected on Form 1099-A
- For both recourse and nonrecourse loans, add any proceeds the taxpayer received from the foreclosure sale to the amount realized

Generally, if there is a loss on the sale of a principal residence or the entire gain is excluded under the Section 121 exclusion ($250,000 or $500,000 for Married Filing Jointly), the sale does not have to be reported. However, taxpayers who receive Form 1099-A should report the sale to account for the basis in the property.

Form 1099-C, Cancellation of Debt

Lenders or creditors are required to issue Form 1099-C if they cancel a debt owed to them of $600 or more. Generally, an individual taxpayer must include all canceled amounts (even if less than $600) on the "Other Income" line of Form 1040.

However, under certain circumstances, a taxpayer may not have to include canceled debt in income. For example, if the canceled debt is related to the taxpayer's principal residence, the taxpayer may be able to exclude all or a portion of canceled debt if it is "qualified principal residence indebtedness." The amount excluded due to the "discharge of qualified principal residence indebtedness" is reported on Form 982.

In addition to debtor information, Form 1099-C reports the amount of debt canceled and the date canceled. If the form has event code "A" indicating bankruptcy, or if an amount is included for interest, refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer.

Form 982 must be filed with the taxpayer's return to report the excluded amount of discharged indebtedness and the reduction of certain tax attributes. Taxpayers excluding discharged debt from "qualified principal residence indebtedness" must complete only a few lines on Form 982; check the discharge of qualified principal residence indebtedness box and include the amount of debt discharged from Form 1099-C to Form 982. If the taxpayer kept ownership of the home, the basis adjustment to the principal residence for the excluded canceled debt must be reflected on the form.

Coordination with Form 1099-A

As mentioned earlier, if a personal residence is foreclosed upon, and the debt is canceled in the same year, the taxpayer may receive Form 1099-C only. The required filing information from Form 1099-A will be shown on Form 1099-C.

Generally, the gross foreclosure bid price is considered to be the FMV. For an abandonment or voluntary conveyance in lieu of foreclosure, the FMV is generally the appraised value of the property.

For a recourse loan, the sale price is the lesser of the balance of the principal debt (mortgage) outstanding or fair market value.

Mortgage Workouts and Form 1099-C

Homeowners whose mortgage debt is partly forgiven through a loan modification, or "workout," which allows them to continue owning their residence, will receive Form 1099-C reporting the amount of debt discharged. Because the taxpayer kept ownership of the home, there is no gain or loss to be reported.

However, if the canceled debt meets the requirements of "qualified principal residence indebtedness," Form 982 must be completed to report the amount excluded from gross income and the reduction of tax attributes. See Publication 4012, Income tab, Capital Loss on Foreclosure, on how to complete Form 982.

Taxpayers who are not personally liable for the debt (nonrecourse debt) do not have ordinary income from the cancellation of the debt unless the lender:

- · Offered a discount for the early payment of the debt or
- · Agreed to a loan modification that resulted in the reduction of the principal balance of the debt

If a lender offers to discount (reduce) the principal balance of a loan that is paid off early, or agrees to a loan modification ("workout") that includes a reduction in the principal balance of a loan, the amount of the discount or the amount of the principal reduction is canceled debt whether or not the taxpayer is personally liable for the debt. The amount of the canceled debt must be included in income unless the exceptions or exclusions discussed earlier apply.

Gain or Loss Reported on Form 8949 and Schedule D

Form 8949, Sales and Other Dispositions of Capital Assets, includes all capital gain and loss transactions. The subtotals from Form 8949 are carried over to Schedule D, Capital Gains and Losses, where gain or loss is calculated in aggregate.

Losses on a personal residence are never deductible. Gains (all or part) may be excluded under the rules regarding the sale of a personal residence (Section 121 exclusion).

For more information on how to report the gain or losses, see the instructions for Form 8949.

See Publication 4012, Legislative Extenders tab, Capital Loss on Foreclosure that shows how a foreclosure was reported on the Capital Gain or Loss Transaction Worksheet based on the information provided on Form 1099-A.

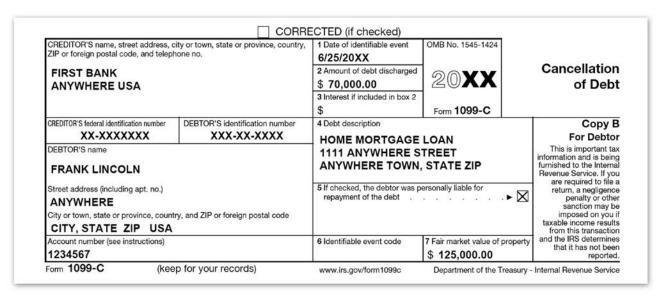

The following case studies are only examples of how the mentioned issues and forms can look and be reported. The dates and years of the forms are not relevant for these case studies.

Case Study - Reporting a Foreclosure and Canceled Debt

Frank bought his home on May 14, 2003. His basis in the home was $200,000. After he lost his job last year, he was not able to make the payments. The bank foreclosed in June of the current tax year, and Frank moved out. At the time of the foreclosure, the fair market value of the home was $125,000 and the principal balance of the mortgage was $195,000. All of the debt was incurred to purchase the home. Frank received Form 1099-C for the amount of debt canceled by his bank.

Frank has qualified principal residence indebtedness. His tax return should include Form 8949 and Schedule D to show the basis of the home disposed of through foreclosure, and Form 982 to exclude the debt cancellation from income.

Case Study Alternative – Mortgage Workout

If Frank had been able to negotiate a workout with his mortgage lender (reducing the amount he owed on the mortgage and staying in the home), he would not have completed Form 8949 and Schedule D because he had not disposed of the asset.

Assume Frank's lender agreed to reduce his mortgage debt from $195,000 to $175,000. The lender issued Frank a Form 1099-C showing $20,000 of canceled debt. Frank's Form 982 would be completed, but the amount of debt forgiven (or his basis in the home, whichever was smaller) would need to be entered on the form, and his basis in the home would be decreased by that amount.

Question 3: A volunteer with Cancellation of Debt certification is working with Robert. The volunteer asks Robert if he underwent foreclosure or had to give up his home during the tax year. Robert confirmed that he did, and produced Form 1099-A. The volunteer asked Robert if he had received Form 1099-C, and Robert replied that he did not. Examining the form, the volunteer noted the balance of principal outstanding was $234,000. What should the volunteer do next?

- A. Ask the questions on Publication 4731-A, Screening Sheet for Foreclosures/Abandonments and Cancellation of Debt
- B. Ask enough probing questions to determine if Robert had a gain or loss on the foreclosure
- C. Refer Robert to a professional tax preparer
- D. Complete Form 982

Question 4: Mary purchased her main home in June 2004 for $175,000. She lost her job and was no longer able to make her mortgage payments during the current year. In July of the current tax year, Mary moved out of the home to live with relatives. On July 15, the bank foreclosed on the home. On November 15, the bank discontinued its collection activity and canceled the remaining debt. The fair market value at the time of foreclosure was $100,000 because of the poor housing market, but Mary still owed $150,000 on the mortgage. None of the loan proceeds were used for any purpose other than to buy, build, or substantially improve the principal residence. Mary never used the home for business or rental purposes and has not filed for bankruptcy. Based on this information, what should the volunteer do?

- A. Refer Mary to another source for tax return preparation
- B. Report a loss of $50,000 on Schedule D
- C. Report $50,000 debt canceled on Form 982
- D. Include the debt cancellation amount in income

Question 5: After Tom became ill and could not work full time, he and his wife, Grace, were having difficulty making their mortgage payments. Rather than go through the expense of a foreclosure, the lender agreed to reduce the principal on their loan and refinance it with a better interest rate and lower payments. The principal balance before November 1 of the current tax year workout was $130,000, and the lender reduced the loan to $110,000. None of the loan proceeds were used for any purpose other than to buy, build, or substantially improve the principal residence. The home has never been used for business or as rental property, and the taxpayers have not filed for bankruptcy.

Based on this information, what should the volunteer do?

- A. Refer Tom and Grace to another source for tax return preparation
- B. Report the reduction in the basis of the home on line 10b of Form 982
- C. Report the $20,000 as a loss on Schedule D
- D. Include the debt cancellation amount in income

Question 6: Gene bought his home in 2003. His basis in the home was $210,000. He lost his job in January of the current tax year and was not able to make the mortgage payments. The bank foreclosed in August and Gene moved out. At the time of the foreclosure, the fair market value was $145,000 and the principal balance of the mortgage was $185,000. All of the debt was incurred to purchase the home, it was never used for business or as a rental property, and Gene has not filed for bankruptcy. Gene has a Form 1099-C. Gene is personally liable for repayment of the debt.

How should the foreclosure and loss be reported?

- A. Report the $40,000 debt cancellation on Form 982, line 10b
- B. Report the $40,000 debt cancellation on Form 982, line 2, only
- C. Report the $40,000 debt cancellation on Form 982, line 2, and the foreclosure on Form 8949 and Schedule D
- D. Report the $40,000 debt cancellation on Form 1040, line 21

Summary

Legislative extenders are provisions that were expired at the time this publication went to print. This content is being provided in the event that they are extended for the current tax year.

Educator Expenses

Eligible educators can deduct up to $250 of qualified expenses paid during the tax year as an adjustment to income.

Tuition and Fees

Taxpayers can deduct up to $4,000 in qualified tuition and related expenses paid during the tax year as an adjustment to income.

Itemized Deductions

Taxpayers may be able to deduct:

- · State and local general sales taxes paid on certain specified items
- · Qualified mortgage insurance premiums

Nonbusiness Energy Property Credit

Taxpayers who make certain energy-efficient improvements to their main home may be eligible for this credit (Form 5695, Part II). The limit for this credit is $500 for all tax years.

Cancellation of Debt (COD)

A debt includes any indebtedness for which a taxpayer is liable or which attaches to the taxpayer's property. Cancellation of indebtedness can involve auto loans, credit card debt, medical care, professional services, installment purchases of furniture or other personal property, mortgages, and home equity loans.

Cancellation of debt can be complex. VITA/TCE volunteers may assist a taxpayer with issues related to cancellation of debt as long as the taxpayer meets all the criteria for discharge of qualified principal residence indebtedness or if all debt canceled and reported on Form 1099-C was nonbusiness credit card debt.

Taxpayers who go through a foreclosure or abandonment of their principal residence receive Form 1099-A, Acquisition or Abandonment of Secured Property. Form 1099-A will have information needed to determine the gain or loss due to the foreclosure or abandonment.

If the debt on the principal residence is canceled, the taxpayer will receive Form 1099-C, Cancellation of Debt. If foreclosure/abandonment and debt cancellation occur in the same calendar year, the lender may issue only Form 1099-C, including the information that would be reported on Form 1099-A.

Use Publication 4731-A, Screening Sheet for Foreclosures/Abandonments and Cancellation of Debt, which provides questions and step-by-step guidance to determine whether the cancellation of debt issue is within scope for the VITA/TCE programs.

- Use Publication 4731-A, Part I for taxpayers with Form 1099-A for a foreclosure or abandonment of their principal residence.
- Use Publication 4731-A, Part II for taxpayers with Form 1099-C, and/or Forms 1099-A and 1099-C resulting from cancellation of debt on a home mortgage loan.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following are out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

- Residential energy-efficient property credit (Form 5695, Part I)
- Cancellation of debt for issues other than "qualified principal residence indebtedness" or nonbusiness credit card debt
- Cancellation of debt for a principal residence that was used in a business or as rental property
- · Cancellation of debt when Form 1099-C includes an amount for interest
- Cancellation of debt was because the taxpayer filed bankruptcy or was insolvent immediately before the debt was canceled

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: No. Because Angie used part of the home as rental property, all the canceled debt may not qualify to be excluded from income. The rules involving mortgage debt exclusions are complex. Angie should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

Answer 2: No. Fred's situation is outside the scope of the volunteer program since a portion of his refinanced debt was used for purposes other than to buy, build, or substantially improve his principal residence. Fred should be referred to a professional tax preparer, per the guidance on Publication 4731-A.

Answer 3: A. The volunteer should use Publication 4731-A, Part I to determine if Robert had a gain or loss on the foreclosure. If the taxpayer receives a Form 1099-C, the volunteer would use the screening sheet to determine if the related tax issues are within scope.

Answer 4: C. The volunteer would need to complete Form 8949, Schedule D, and Form 982. Although there is a loss, it cannot be deducted. The mortgage debt cancellation is not included in income on the tax return because it is covered by the qualified principal residence indebtedness exclusion on Form 982.

Answer 5: B. The volunteer would complete Form 982 and report the reduction in the basis of the home. The $20,000 in debt cancellation can be excluded as qualified principal residence indebtedness on Form 982 and is not counted as income on the tax return. Form 8949 and Schedule D are not required because Tom and Grace did not dispose of the home.

Answer 6: C. Form 982, Form 8949, and Schedule D should be completed. When a residence that is security for a mortgage is abandoned or foreclosed upon, it is treated as having been sold. This results in the foreclosure being reported on Form 8949 and Schedule D as sale of home. Failure to file Form 8949 and Schedule D may result in an IRS notice to the taxpayer.

Affordable Care Act

Introduction

This lesson covers some of the tax provisions of the Affordable Care Act (ACA). You will learn how to determine if taxpayers satisfy the individual shared responsibility provision by enrolling in minimum essential coverage, qualifying for an exemption, or making a shared responsibility payment. You will also learn how to determine if taxpayers are eligible to receive the premium tax credit. A glossary is included at the end of the lesson to help you understand new terms related to ACA.

Objectives

At the end of this course, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Determine what is minimum essential coverage (MEC)
- Determine if taxpayers qualify for a health care coverage exemption
- Calculate the shared responsibility payment (SRP), if applicable
- Determine eligibility for the premium tax credit (PTC)
- Calculate the premium tax credit, if applicable
- Report taxpayers' health insurance coverage, premium tax credit, exemption from coverage, or shared responsibility payment on the tax return

What is the Affordable Care Act?

Under the Affordable Care Act (ACA), the federal government, state governments, insurers, employers, and individuals share responsibility for improving the quality and availability of health insurance coverage in the United States. The ACA reforms the existing health insurance market by prohibiting insurers from denying coverage or charging higher premiums because of an individual's preexisting conditions. The ACA also creates the Health Insurance Marketplace. For more information about the Marketplace, see www. healthcare.gov.

The Marketplace is where taxpayers find information about health insurance options, purchase health insurance, and, if eligible, obtain help paying premiums and out-of-pocket costs. The premium tax credit (PTC) is available through the Marketplace and helps eligible taxpayers pay for coverage.

The ACA requires individuals to have qualifying health care coverage (called minimum essential coverage, or MEC) for each month of the year, qualify for a coverage exemption, or make a shared responsibility payment (SRP) when filing their federal income tax returns.

Some taxpayers may qualify for a coverage exemption, which means they are not required to have MEC or make an SRP when filing their federal income tax return.

Who must have health care coverage?

For each month of the tax year, individuals must:

- · Have MEC, or
- · Qualify for a coverage exemption, or
- · Make an SRP when filing their federal income tax return

Individuals are treated as having MEC for a month as long as they are enrolled in and entitled to receive benefits under a plan or program identified as MEC for at least one day during that month.

A taxpayer is subject to an SRP for the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse (if filing a joint return), and any individual claimed as a dependent on the tax return if they don't have MEC or a coverage exemption. A taxpayer is liable for each person the taxpayer can, but does not, claim as a dependent.

All U.S. citizens are subject to the individual shared responsibility provision, as are all non-U.S. citizens who are in the U.S. long enough during a calendar year to qualify as resident aliens for federal income tax purposes (see the Determining Residency Status Decision Tree in the Volunteer Resource Guide, ITIN Returns tab). Foreign nationals who are present in the U.S. for a short enough period that they do not become resident aliens for tax purposes are exempt from the individual shared responsibility provision even though they may have to file U.S. income tax returns.

All bona fide residents of U.S. territories are treated as having MEC and are not required to take any action to comply with the individual shared responsibility provision other than to indicate their status on their federal income tax returns if they are required to file.

An individual is included in a taxpayer's tax household in a month only if he or she is alive for the full month. For example, Tommy was born July 5th. He is included in the tax household beginning in August. Also, if the taxpayer adopts a child during the year, the child is included in the taxpayer's tax household only for the full months that follow the month of adoption.

Tax Software Hint: See the Volunteer Resource Guide, ACA tab, for software entries related to an individual who was born or died during the year.

What is minimum essential coverage (MEC)?

Under the ACA, minimum essential coverage (MEC) is a health care plan or arrangement specifically identified in the law as MEC, including:

- Specified government-sponsored programs (e.g., Medicare Part A, Medicare Advantage, most Medicaid programs, CHIP, most TRICARE programs, and comprehensive health care coverage of veterans)
- Employer-sponsored coverage under a group health plan (including self-insured plans)
- Individual health coverage (e.g., health insurance purchased through the Marketplace or directly from an insurance company)
- Grandfathered health plans (in general, certain plans that existed before the ACA and have not changed since the ACA was passed)
- Other plans or programs that the Department of Health and Human Services, in coordination with the Treasury, recognizes as MEC for the purposes of the ACA

The chart in The Volunteer Resource Guide, ACA tab, shows these and other types of coverage that qualify as MEC and some that do not. Family members are not required to have the same type of coverage. Each individual may be covered by a different plan.

Tax Software Hint: Check the "Full" box on the ACA worksheet for each member of the tax household that had MEC all year. The software will check the box on Form 1040, page 2 if all members of the household had coverage all year. See the Volunteer Resource Guide, ACA Tab for software entries.

How do I know if taxpayers have MEC?

While conducting an interview with taxpayers using Form 13614-C, Intake/Interview & Quality Review Sheet, you will determine whether taxpayers, their spouse (if filing a joint return), and their dependents had MEC for the entire year, part of the year, or not at all. Taxpayers may have insurance cards or receive Forms 1095-A, 1095-B, or 1095-C from the Marketplace, their insurance provider, or employer. While taxpayers may provide these forms, they are not required to verify MEC. These forms may indicate the taxpayer or a member of the tax household had MEC for some or all months during the year, but volunteers should rely primarily on their interview with the taxpayer.

What are the health coverage exemptions?

Members of the tax household may be eligible to claim an exemption from the requirement to have MEC. Some exemptions apply to the entire tax household for the tax year:

- Household income below the return filing threshold The taxpayer's household income is below the taxpayer's minimum threshold for filing a tax return. Include the Modified Adjusted Gross Income (as defined in the glossary) of any dependent who has a filing requirement.
- Gross income below the filing threshold Gross income of taxpayer (and spouse if Married Filing Jointly) is below the filing threshold (do not include income of dependents).

The following exemptions apply to each member of the tax household individually and generally apply on a monthly basis:

- Short coverage gap The individual went without coverage for less than three consecutive months during the year.
- Citizens living abroad and certain noncitizens The individual was:
 - A U.S. citizen or resident who spent at least 330 full days outside of the U.S. during a 12-month period;
 - A U.S. citizen who was a bona fide resident of a foreign country or U.S. territory;
 - A resident alien who was a citizen of a foreign country with which the U.S. has an income tax treaty with a nondiscrimination clause, and was a bona fide resident of a foreign country for the tax year;
 - A nonresident alien; or
 - Not a U.S. citizen, not a U.S. national, and not an individual lawfully present in the U.S. For more information about who is treated as lawfully present for purposes of this coverage exemption, visit healthcare.gov.
- Incarceration The individual was in a jail, prison, or similar penal institution or correctional facility after the disposition of charges. Does not include time in jail pending disposition of charges (being held but not convicted of a crime), time in probation, parole, or home confinement.
- Ineligible for Medicaid in a state that did not expand Medicaid Taxpayer was determined ineligible for Medicaid solely because the state in which the taxpayer resides did not participate in Medicaid expansion under the ACA.
- Members of federally recognized Indian tribes The individual was a member of a federally recognized Indian tribe, including an Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (ANCSA) Corporation Shareholder (regional or village), or was otherwise eligible for services through an Indian health care provider or the Indian Health Service.
- Members of certain religious sects The individual was a member of a religious sect in existence since December 31, 1950, that is recognized by the Social Security Administration (SSA) as conscientiously opposed to accepting any insurance benefits, including Medicare and Social Security.
- Unaffordable coverage The amount the individual would have paid for the lowest cost employersponsored coverage available, or for self-only coverage through the Marketplace, is more than 8.05% of the taxpayer's household income for 2015.
- Aggregate self-only coverage considered unaffordable Two or more family members' aggregate cost of self-only employer-sponsored coverage was more than 8.05% of household income, as was the cost of any available employer-sponsored coverage for the entire family.

There are other coverage exemptions granted by the Marketplace:

- General hardship Taxpayers experienced hardships that prevented them from obtaining coverage under a qualified health plan.
- Coverage considered unaffordable based on projected income Taxpayer did not have access to coverage that is considered affordable based on the taxpayer's projected household income.

If taxpayers think they qualify for a coverage exemption, how do they obtain it?

How taxpayers can receive a coverage exemption depends upon the type of exemption for which they are eligible. Some exemptions are granted only by the Marketplace, others are claimed only on a tax return, and some exemptions may be obtained from the Marketplace or claimed on the tax return.

Taxpayers whose gross income is below their applicable minimum threshold for filing a federal income tax return are exempt from the individual shared responsibility provision and are not required to file a federal income tax return to claim the coverage exemption. However, if the taxpayer files a return anyway (for example, to claim a refund), he or she can claim a coverage exemption with his or her tax return.

Some Marketplace exemptions based on hardship may be retroactive.

Coverage exemptions are claimed on Form 8965, Health Care Coverage Exemptions.

How are health care coverage exemptions reported?

Taxpayers who are granted a coverage exemption from the Marketplace will receive exemption certificate numbers (ECNs) from the Marketplace. Enter their ECNs in Part I (Marketplace-Granted Coverage Exemptions for Individuals) of Form 8965, column c. Taxpayers will use Part II (Coverage Exemptions for Your Household Claimed on Your Return) of Form 8965 to claim a coverage exemption based on household or gross income below the filing threshold. All other coverage exemptions may be claimed in Part III (Coverage Exemptions for Individuals Claimed on Your Return) of Form 8965. Use a separate line for each individual and exemption type claimed on the return.

If the Marketplace has not processed an individual application for a coverage exemption before the tax return is filed, complete Form 8965, Part I and enter "pending" in column c for each applicable individual.

Question 8: Randy was covered by Medicaid until February 23rd. He started a new job and his employer-sponsored health coverage started on May 1st. Does an exemption apply? ☐ Yes ☐ No

What is the shared responsibility payment (SRP)?

If a taxpayer (or anyone the taxpayer can claim as a dependent) doesn't have MEC and doesn't qualify for a coverage exemption, they will need to make an SRP when filing their tax return.

The annual SRP amount is the lesser of the sum of the monthly penalty amounts or the sum of monthly national average bronze plan premiums.

The monthly penalty amount is 1/12 of the greater of the flat dollar amount or the excess income amount.

The "flat dollar amount" is the sum of the applicable dollar amounts for all nonexempt individuals without MEC in a given month. The applicable dollar amount for one adult is $95 for 2014, increasing to $325 for 2015 and $695 for 2016. After 2016, the applicable dollar amount increases for a cost-of-living adjustment. The applicable dollar amount for an individual under the age of 18 is one half of the regular applicable dollar amount. The total "flat dollar amount" for a family cannot exceed 300% of the "applicable dollar amount."

The "excess income amount" is the excess portion of household income over the federal income tax filing threshold for the primary tax filer (or joint filers) in the family, multiplied by the income percentage. The income percentage is 1 percent for 2014, 2 percent for 2015, and 2.5 percent for years after 2015.

The annual SRP amount cannot be greater than the sum of monthly national average bronze plan premiums for coverage appropriate for nonexempt family members without MEC in a given month. The IRS publishes guidance setting forth the monthly national average bronze plan premium and the maximum monthly national average bronze plan premium for each year.

For 2015, the monthly penalty amount is:

- 1/12 of the greater of:
 - 2 percent of the household income that is above the tax return filing threshold for the taxpayer's filing status, or
 - The family's flat dollar amount, which is based on the applicable dollar amount of $325 per adult and $162.50 per child (under age 18 as of the first day of the month), limited to a family maximum of $975.
- The annual SRP amount for 2015 is the lesser of the sum of the monthly penalty amounts or the sum of the monthly national average bronze plan premium for coverage through the Marketplace in 2015 that would cover everyone in the tax household who doesn't have coverage and doesn't qualify for a coverage exemption. For 2015, the monthly national average bronze plan premium is $207 per individual, with the maximum premium set at $1,035 for a family of five or more people.

For 2016 and subsequent years, the excess income amount will be 2.5 percent of household income. For 2016, the applicable dollar amount will be $695 per adult. After 2016, the applicable dollar amounts may increase with cost-of-living adjustment.

Taxpayers must know their household income and their applicable income tax return filing thresholds to calculate the SRP amount owed. See the Filing Requirement threshold in Publication 4012, ACA tab. Taxpayers should use the worksheets located in the Instructions to Form 8965 to figure the SRP amount due.

example

Single individual with $40,000 income:

In the examples below, determine the SRP due for 2015.

Jim, an unmarried 30-year-old with no dependents, did not have MEC for any month during 2015 and does not qualify for a coverage exemption. For 2015, Jim's household income was $40,000 and his filing threshold is $10,300. The monthly national average bronze plan premium for an individual is $207.

- To determine his monthly payment amount using the income formula, subtract $10,300 (filing threshold) from $40,000 (2015 household income). The result is $29,700. Two percent of $29,700 equals $594.
- Jim's flat dollar amount is $325.

Because $594 is greater than $325, Jim's monthly penalty amount for each month is $49.50, or 1/12 of the $594 amount. For Jim, the sum of all monthly penalty amounts is $594.

The sum of the monthly national average bronze plan premiums for Jim is $2,484 (or $207 multiplied by 12).

Jim's SRP for 2015 is $594, the lesser of the sum of the monthly penalty amounts or the sum of the monthly national average bronze plan premiums. Jim will make his SRP for the months he was uninsured when he files his 2015 income tax return.

example

Married couple under age 65 with two children and $70,000 income:

Eduardo and Julia are married and have two children under 18. They file a joint return for 2015. They did not have MEC for any family member for any month during 2015 and no one in the family qualifies for a coverage exemption. For 2015, their household income was $70,000 and their filing threshold is $20,600.

To determine their excess income amount, subtract $20,600 (filing threshold for married filing jointly) from $70,000 (2015 household income) and multiply the result ($49,400) by 2 percent. The excess income amount is $988.

Eduardo and Julia's flat dollar amount is $975, the applicable dollar amount of $325 per adult and $162.50 per child, not to exceed 300 percent of the $325 amount.

Because $988 is greater than $975, which is 300% of the applicable dollar amount of $325 (and is less than the national average premium for bronze level coverage for 2015), Eduardo and Julia's monthly penalty amount is $82.33 for each month the family was uninsured (1/12 of $988 equals $82.33).

The sum of the monthly penalty amounts for Eduardo and Julia for 2015 is $988.

The monthly national average bronze plan premium for Eduardo and Julia's family is $828, or $207 multiplied by four. The sum of the monthly national average bronze plan premiums for Eduardo and Julia is $9,936.

Eduardo and Julia's SRP for 2015 is $988, or the lesser of the two sums. Eduardo and Julia will make their SRP for the months they and their children were uninsured when they file their 2015 income tax return.

Question 9: Jared and Alice have a child. Jared's employer offered him family coverage. The cost of the policy would have been 7.5% of Jared's modified adjusted gross income. If Jared did not enroll in the coverage and does not qualify for an exemption, will he owe an SRP? □ Yes □ No

What about U.S. citizens living abroad?

U.S. citizens living abroad are subject to the individual shared responsibility provision. However, U.S. citizens who are not physically present in the United States for at least 330 full days within a 12-month period are treated as having MEC for that 12-month period regardless of whether they enroll in any health care coverage.

In addition, U.S. citizens who are bona fide residents of a foreign country (or countries) for an entire taxable year are treated as having MEC for that year. In general, these individuals qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion under section 911.

Individuals may qualify for this rule even if they cannot use the section 911 exclusion for all of their foreign earned income because, for example, they are employees of the United States. Individuals that qualify for this rule need take no further action to comply with the individual shared responsibility provision during the months when they qualify. They will report their status with their federal income tax return on Form 8965.

U.S. citizens who meet neither the physical presence nor residency requirements need to have MEC, qualify for a coverage exemption, or make an SRP when they file their federal income tax returns. Note that MEC may include a group health plan provided by an overseas employer.

for U.S. Citizens and Resident Aliens Abroad, for further information on the foreign earned income exclusion.

Who is allowed a premium tax credit (PTC)?

The premium tax credit (PTC) helps eligible taxpayers pay for health insurance. When enrolling in health coverage through the Marketplace, eligible taxpayers choose to have advance payments of the premium tax credit (APTC) made on their behalf to their insurance company, or to forego APTC and get all of the benefit of the PTC when they claim the credit on their federal tax return. Those who choose to get the benefit of APTC must file a federal tax return for the year the payments are made even if they have gross income for the year that is below the income tax filing threshold.

In general, taxpayers are allowed a PTC if they meet all of the following:

- The taxpayer, spouse (if filing a joint return), or dependents were enrolled at some time during the year in one or more qualified health plans offered through the Marketplace.
- One or more of the individuals listed above were not eligible for MEC, other than coverage in the individual market, during one or more months they were enrolled in the qualified plan through the Marketplace. The portion of the premiums for the plan or plans in which the taxpayer and his or her family members enroll is paid by the due date of the taxpayer's return (not including extensions).
- The taxpayer is an applicable taxpayer. A taxpayer is an applicable taxpayer if he or she meets the following three requirements:
 - The taxpayer's income is at least 100% but not more than 400% of the federal poverty line for the taxpayer's family size. The following exceptions allow a taxpayer with household income below 100% of the federal poverty line to be an applicable taxpayer:
 - The taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse, or a dependent who enrolled in a qualified health plan is not a U.S. citizen, but is lawfully present in the U.S. and not eligible for Medicaid because of immigration status.
 - A person who applied for the PTC, was determined eligible by the Marketplace, and received an advance payment when they were enrolled in a Marketplace plan, may claim the credit even if his or her income at the end of the year is below the poverty line.
 - If married, the taxpayer files a joint return with his or her spouse (unless the taxpayer is considered unmarried for Head of Household filing status, or meets the criteria which allows certain victims of domestic abuse or spousal abandonment to claim the PTC using the Married Filing Separately filing status). See the instructions for Form 8962, Premium Tax Credit, for more details about these exceptions.
 - The taxpayer cannot be claimed as a dependent by another person.

Federal Poverty Line (FPL)

The federal poverty line (FPL) is an income amount adjusted for family size considered poverty level for the year. The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) determines the FPL amounts annually and publishes a table reflecting these amounts at the beginning of each calendar year. You can also find this information on the HHS website at www.hhs.gov.

HHS provides three sets of federal poverty guidelines:

- · one for residents of the 48 contiguous states and D.C.,
- · one for Alaska residents, and
- · one for Hawaii residents.

For purposes of the PTC, eligibility for a certain year is based on the most recently published set of poverty guidelines as of the first day of the annual open enrollment period. As a result, the PTC for the current tax year is based on the prior year guidelines (for example, the guidelines used for 2015 are the guidelines for 2014, the most recently published guidelines at the time of the open season for 2015 enrollments). The FPL tables are in the Volunteer Resource Guide, ACA tab.

What is household income and what are its limits?

A taxpayer's household income is the total of the modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) of the taxpayer (and spouse, if married) and the MAGI of all dependents required to file a federal income tax return.

example

David and Melinda are Married Filing Jointly taxpayers. They have one child, Philip, age 17, whom they claim as a dependent. Philip works part time and has a filing requirement. David and Melinda's household income calculation would include their MAGI, as well as Philip's MAGI.

MAGI, for the purpose of the PTC, is the adjusted gross income on the federal income tax return plus any excluded foreign income, nontaxable Social Security benefits (including tier 1 railroad retirement benefits), and tax-exempt interest. It does not include Supplemental Security Income (SSI).

Question 10: Jocelyn and Larry file jointly and claim their child, Hank. Hank has a part-time job and earns $5,000. Hank will file a return to get a refund of the tax that was withheld from his paychecks.
Will Jocelyn and Larry include Hank's $5,000 as part of their Household Income for ACA purposes? ☐ Yes ☐ No
Question 11: (Continuing from Question 10) If Hank earned $7,000, would Jocelyn and Larry include Hank's income as part of their Household Income for ACA purposes? ☐ Yes ☐ No	/

In general, only taxpayers and families whose household income for the year is between 100 percent and 400 percent of the FPL for their family size may be eligible for the PTC. A taxpayer who meets these income requirements must also meet the other eligibility criteria to claim PTC.

Please see the Volunteer Resource Guide, ACA tab, for the current year Poverty Guidelines.

TIP

Are taxpayers allowed a PTC for all enrolled family members?

A taxpayer is allowed a PTC only for months that a member of the taxpayer's tax family is (1) enrolled in a policy offered through the Marketplace and (2) not eligible for minimum essential health coverage (other than individual market coverage) for one or more months of enrollment. Also, the taxpayer is not allowed a PTC for a month unless the portion of the enrollment premiums for which the taxpayer is responsible has been paid by the unextended due date of the taxpayer's return. The taxpayer's tax family consists of the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse if filing jointly, and all other individuals for whom the taxpayer claims a personal exemption deduction. The tax family members who meet the above two requirements (enrolled in coverage through the Marketplace and not eligible for other MEC) are the taxpayer's "coverage family." The importance of the tax family and coverage family in computing the PTC is explained later.

Are taxpayers allowed a PTC if offered coverage from an employer?

Generally, a person who is eligible for employer-sponsored coverage is not eligible for a PTC for coverage purchased in the Marketplace for those months, even if he or she turns down the employer's coverage. This includes the employee or a family member of the employee who is eligible to enroll in the employer coverage as a result of a relationship to the employee. A person may be eligible for a PTC despite an offer of employer coverage if the employer's coverage is unaffordable or fails to meet a minimum value standard (employers will provide employees with information concerning whether the minimum value standard is met).

In general, the determination of whether employer coverage is affordable is made by comparing the employee's cost of the employer coverage for self-only coverage to household income. If for 2015, the employee's cost for the employer coverage is more than 9.56 percent of household income (9.5 percent for 2014), the employer coverage is unaffordable. The affordability test for family members is the same as the test for the employee (compare the cost of the employee's self-only coverage to household income). However, if during the Marketplace application process, the Marketplace determines that, based on projected household income, the employer coverage would be unaffordable, the employer coverage is considered unaffordable for the employer's plan year even if it would have been affordable based on the household income reported on the tax return.

If a household member actually enrolls in the employer plan, he or she is ineligible for a PTC for the months of enrollment, regardless of the affordability or minimum value of the plan. That means that a PTC is not allowed for this individual's coverage for the months the individual is enrolled in employer coverage.

Cedric is single and has no dependents. When enrolling through the Marketplace during open enrollment, Cedric was not eligible for employer-sponsored coverage.

In August of the tax year, Cedric began a new job and became eligible for employer-sponsored coverage on September 1st. Since Cedric became eligible for employer-sponsored coverage on September 1st, he may be able to claim a PTC only for the months January through August.

Are taxpayers allowed the PTC if they are eligible for coverage through a government sponsored program?

An individual eligible for coverage through a government-sponsored program such as Medicaid, Medicare, CHIP or TRICARE, is not a member of the coverage family for the months in which the individual is eligible for government-sponsored coverage. Therefore, a PTC is not allowed for this individual's coverage for the months the individual is eligible for the government-sponsored coverage. However, an individual is treated as not eligible for Medicaid, CHIP, or a similar program for a period of coverage under a qualified health plan if, when the individual enrolls in the qualified health plan, the Marketplace determines or considers the individual to be not eligible for Medicaid or CHIP.

A person is considered eligible for other MEC and not eligible for a PTC for a month only if the person is eligible for MEC for every day of that month. For example, if a person becomes eligible for employer- or government-sponsored coverage on the 5th day of a month, he or she continues to be eligible for a PTC for that month. The person will not be eligible for PTC for the following month. Thus, the person should alert the Marketplace to the change and discontinue any APTC being paid for the Marketplace coverage.

Adele is single with no dependents. She works part-time and has no offer of employer-sponsored health coverage. She projects her income to be $17,500 for the year (roughly 150% of FPL), based on her earnings at the same job in the prior year. She enrolls in a qualified health plan in the Marketplace and is determined eligible for APTC.

Adele's place of employment was closed for two weeks, unexpectedly lowering the number of hours she worked. Her employer also didn't pay an end-of-year bonus that she anticipated. Adele's actual household income for the year was $16,000. This income would make her eligible for Medicaid under her state's eligibility rules. However, based on Adele's projection of income when she enrolled in Marketplace coverage the Marketplace determined that she was not eligible for Medicaid. Therefore, Adele is treated as not eligible for Medicaid for the year and may be eligible for the PTC.

How does the taxpayer get the APTC?

During enrollment, the taxpayer projects household income and family composition. The Marketplace verifies this information through various data sources, including prior year tax information, Social Security Administration data, and state-level wage data. Using all of this information, the Marketplace estimates the amount of PTC a taxpayer will be able to claim.

Taxpayers may choose to:

- Have some or all of the estimated credit paid in advance to the insurance company to lower what is paid for monthly premiums; or
- · Pay all the premiums and get all the benefit of the credit when they file their tax return

The amount of advance credit payments will appear on Form 1095-A, Health Insurance Marketplace Statement.

How is the amount of PTC determined?

The law bases the size of the PTC on a sliding scale. A taxpayer with household income at 200 percent of the FPL for the taxpayer's family size may get a larger credit to help cover the cost of insurance than a taxpayer with the same family size who has household income at 300 percent of the FPL. In other words, the higher the household income, the lower the amount of the credit. As explained earlier, FPL is based on household income and tax family size.

The PTC is the sum of the credit amount for each month. The credit amount for a month is the lesser of two amounts: (1) the monthly premium for the plan or plans in which the taxpayer's family enrolled (enrollment premiums) and (2) the monthly premium for the taxpayer's applicable second lowest cost silver plan (SLCSP) minus the taxpayer's monthly contribution amount. This calculation is done on Form 8962. The applicable SLCSP premium is the premium for the second lowest cost silver plan that applies to the coverage family discussed earlier (the members of the taxpayer's tax family enrolled and not eligible for other minimum essential coverage). It will generally be determined by the Marketplace and included on Form 1095-A. If it does not appear on Form 1095-A, the taxpayer has to do a shared policy allocation (out of scope), or the SLCSP amount reported on Form 1095-A is incorrect because of a change in circumstances the Marketplace did not know about, the taxpayer must find the correct applicable SLCSP premium on either www.healthcare.gov (for taxpayers who enroll in coverage through a federally facilitated Marketplace), the website for the taxpayer's state-based Marketplace, or by calling the Marketplace customer service.

A taxpayer's contribution amount is a percentage of the taxpayer's household income determined by multiplying the taxpayer's household income by the applicable figure (from the table in the instructions for Form 8962). The applicable figure is based on FPL; the higher the FPL, the higher the percentage of household income that constitutes the contribution amount. The contribution amount is an annual amount because it is a percentage of household income, which is an annual amount.

The monthly contribution amount is the contribution amount divided by 12. Taxpayers enrolled in the same qualified health plan for all 12 months of the year and who have the same applicable SLCSP premium for all 12 months can do a single, annual calculation to compute their PTC. See the Volunteer Resource Guide, ACA tab, for instructions on completing Form 8962.

Taxpayers who have a Form 1095-A showing changes in monthly amounts must do a monthly calculation to determine their PTC in Part II of Form 8962. Taxpayers who have changes in monthly amounts not shown on Form 1095-A must also do a monthly calculation to determine their PTC (for example, a taxpayer enrolled in a qualified health plan became eligible for employer coverage during the year, but did not notify the Marketplace).

If taxpayers received the benefit of advance credit payments, they will reconcile the APTC with the amount of the actual PTC that is calculated on the tax return (more information on reconciliation is provided under How is the PTC claimed on the return, later).

The PTC is a refundable tax credit. If the amount of a taxpayer's net PTC (the excess of PTC over APTC) is more than the amount of a taxpayer's tax liability on the return, the taxpayer will receive the difference as a refund. If a taxpayer has no tax liability, all of the net PTC is paid to the taxpayer as a refund.

What happens if income or family size changed during the year?

Part of the PTC calculation is the contribution amount, which will be higher at a higher FPL (and lowers the amount of the credit). FPL is based on household income and family size. Therefore, a taxpayer's PTC for the year will differ from the APTC payment amount estimated by the Marketplace if the taxpayer's family size or household income as estimated at the time of enrollment is different from the family size or household income reported on the return. The more the family size or household income differs from the initial projections used to compute the APTC payments, the more significant the difference will be between the advance credit payments and the actual credit.

Taxpayers should notify the Marketplace about changes in circumstances when they happen, which allows the Marketplace to update the information used to determine the expected amount of the PTC and adjust the APTC payment amount. This adjustment decreases the likelihood of a significant difference between the advance credit payments and the actual PTC. Changes in circumstances that can affect the amount of the actual PTC include:

- · Increases or decreases in household income
- Marriage
- Divorce
- · Birth or adoption of a child

- Other changes in household composition
- · Gaining or losing eligibility for government-sponsored or employer-sponsored health care coverage
- · Change of address

What documentation will taxpayers receive?

By January 31 of the year following the year of coverage, the Marketplace will send Form 1095-A to taxpayers who purchased insurance through the Marketplace. The information statement includes the monthly premium for the applicable SLCSP used to compute the credit, the total monthly enrollment premiums (the premiums for the plan or plans the taxpayer and his or her family members enrolled in), the amount of the APTC payments, the SSN and names for all covered individuals, and all other required information. The Marketplace also reports this information to the IRS.

Use the information on Form 1095-A to compute taxpayers' PTC on their tax returns and to reconcile the advance credit payments made on their behalf with the amount of the actual PTC on Form 8962. If Form 1095-A was lost or never received, the taxpayer must contact the Marketplace. These forms can be downloaded by taxpayers through their Marketplace account. Volunteers cannot prepare a return without this information.

How is the PTC claimed on the tax return?

Taxpayers claim the PTC on the tax return. Taxpayers who received the benefit of APTC payments must file a tax return even if they otherwise are not required to file. Remember, the PTC is only available to taxpayers who purchased health coverage through the Marketplace.

A taxpayer computes the amount of PTC on Form 8962 and reconciles it with the APTC payments for the year. If the PTC computed on the return is more than the APTC payments made on the taxpayer's behalf during the year, the difference will increase the refund or lower the amount of tax owed. This will be reported in the Payments section of Form 1040, 1040A, or 1040NR. If the APTC payments are more than the PTC (excess APTC), some or all of the difference will increase the amount owed and result in either a smaller refund or a balance due. This will be entered in the Tax and Credits section of the return. There may be a limitation on the amount of tax liability a taxpayer with household income below 400 percent of the FPL owes as a result of excess APTC. The limitation is based on the taxpayer's household income as provided in the repayment limitation table, below.

Repayment Limitation Table

Household Income Percentage of Federal Poverty Line	Limitation Amount for Single	Limitation Amount for all other filing statuses
Less than 200%	$300	$600
At least 200%, but less than 300%	$750	$1,500
At least 300%, but less than 400%	$1,250	$2,500
400% or more	No limit	No limit

For taxpayers who use the Married Filing Separately filing status, the repayment limitation above applies to the spouses separately based on the household income reported on each return.

Taxpayers who chose not to get advance credit payments will get all of the benefit of their PTC on their tax return. This will either increase their refund or lower the balance due.

example

Brandon Talbot is single with no dependents. When he enrolled through the Marketplace, Brandon was approved for advance credit payments based on his projected household income. Brandon's Form 1095-A shows advance credit payments of $1,486. Brandon's actual modified AGI is more than 400% of the FPL for a family of 1 (see the Volunteer Resource Guide, ACA tab). Since Brandon's household income is above 400% of the FPL, he may not claim any PTC. In addition, Brandon is not allowed a repayment limitation. Brandon must increase his tax liability by the amount of his advance credit payments. He will complete Form 8962 and enter $1,486 on the excess advance premium tax credit repayment line on his tax return.

Question 13: You are completing the return for Antonio, who purchased health coverage on the exchange and received APTC. In completing Form 8962, you note that Antonio's MAGI is 401% of the FPL and the calculation shows that he has to repay the entire APTC. Assuming that Antonio would be entitled to an IRA deduction if he made an IRA contribution, can Antonio reduce his 2015 MAGI for the PTC calculation even though it is now 2016 and his 2015 tax year has ended? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Question 14: Piper's income is 300% of the FPL for her family size. She purchased health insurance through her employer. Is Piper eligible to take the PTC for her coverage? ☐ Yes ☐ No Question 16: Roger's APTC payments are $2,500. He is single with no dependents, and lives in Mississippi. On Form 8962, he calculates an actual PTC of $1,000. His household income is over 300% of the FPL but under 400% of the FPL for a family size of one. How much of the excess APTC will be included as an additional income tax liability on his tax return?

For what period is Judy able to claim a PTC (if she meets all of the eligibility criteria)?

- A. The entire tax year
- B. January through June
- C. January through July
- D. Judy is not eligible for the PTC

What about unusual situations?

This lesson does not cover all the situations you may encounter. For situations listed below, consult the instructions for Form 8962 and Publication 974.

What if taxpayers have a shared policy purchased through the Marketplace?

If a taxpayer is enrolled, or has a family member who is enrolled, in a policy with a person not in the taxpayer's tax family (a shared policy), the taxpayer may have to allocate the items on Form 1095-A (the enrollment premiums, the premium for the applicable SLCSP, and the advance credit payments) with another taxpayer (a shared policy allocation). The following taxpayers may have to do a shared policy allocation:

- Taxpayers who got divorced or legally separated during the tax year
- A taxpayer who claims a personal exemption deduction for an individual enrolled in a policy by another taxpayer
- A taxpayer who enrolls an individual in a policy, but another taxpayer claims a personal exemption deduction for the individual
- A taxpayer who files a separate return from his or her spouse

Taxpayers complete the shared policy allocation on Form 8962, Part IV. This is out of scope for the VITA/ TCE programs.

What if taxpayers get married during the year?

If taxpayers got married during the tax year and one or both spouses received APTC payments for the year, the spouses may be eligible to use an alternative calculation to determine their excess advance credit payments. The alternative calculation can be used to reduce excess APTC, but not to increase net PTC. See the instructions for Form 8962 for eligibility. If eligible, taxpayers will complete Form 8962, Part V, Alternative Calculation of Year of Marriage. This is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs.

What about individuals not lawfully present?

The PTC is not allowed for the coverage of an individual who is not lawfully present in the United States. All APTC paid for a not lawfully present individual who enrolls in a qualified health plan must be repaid. If a member of the family is not lawfully present and is enrolled in a qualified health plan with family members who are lawfully present for one or more months of the year, use the instructions in Publication 974 to find out how much APTC, if any, must be repaid. If all family members enrolled in a qualified health plan are not lawfully present, all APTC must be repaid. There is no repayment limitation on excess APTC attributable to the coverage of an individual not lawfully present in the United States. Complete Form 8962 as directed in Publication 974.

Summary

The Affordable Care Act addresses health insurance coverage and financial assistance options for individuals and families, including the PTC. It also includes the individual shared responsibility provision and coverage exemptions from that provision.

In general, all U.S. taxpayers must have MEC for each month, qualify for a coverage exemption, or make a payment when filing his or her federal income tax return. Some coverage exemptions are granted only by the Marketplace, some exemptions can be claimed only on a tax return, and some exemptions may be granted by the Marketplace or claimed on a return.

Only taxpayers who purchase MEC through the Marketplace for themselves or a family member are allowed a PTC. Eligible taxpayers may choose to get the benefit of advance credit payments, the amount of which is based on their estimated PTC, to reduce the cost of monthly premiums. Taxpayers who chose to forgo advance credit payments get all of the benefit of the PTC when they claim it on the tax return. The PTC is calculated and the advance credit payments are reconciled on Form 8962. Taxpayers will receive Form 1095-A from the Marketplace, which will contain the information necessary to complete Form 8962.

Taxpayers who have MEC all year will indicate this on Form 1040 by checking the box in the Other Taxes section. The PTC is claimed in the Payments section of Form 1040. Any excess APTC that must be repaid is entered in the Tax and Credits section of the Form 1040.

Coverage exemptions are claimed on Form 8965.

Any SRP is entered on Form 1040, in the Other Taxes section. Taxpayers should use the Shared Responsibility Payment Worksheet in the instructions to Form 8965 to figure the amount of the SRP due.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following are out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

- Self-employed health coverage deductions
- Form 8962 Parts IV and V

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: Yes. Employer-sponsored coverage is generally minimum essential coverage. If an employee enrolls in employer-sponsored coverage that provides minimum value for himself and his family, the employee and all of the covered family members have minimum essential coverage.

Answer 2: No. They do not have to be covered under the same policy or plan. However, they must all have minimum essential coverage or qualify for a coverage exemption, or Keith and Kathy will owe an SRP when they file a return.

Answer 3: Yes. Grandfathered group health plans are minimum essential coverage.

Answer 4: Yes. Retiree health plans are generally minimum essential coverage.

Answer 5: Yes. Employer-sponsored coverage is minimum essential coverage regardless of whether the employer is a governmental, nonprofit, or for-profit entity.

Answer 6: Yes. Because Jessie will claim her own exemption, she is responsible for her own coverage.

Answer 7: Yes. Jessie's parents would be entitled to claim Jessie if she does not provide more than half of her own support and would therefore be responsible for her coverage.

Answer 8: Yes. Randy is eligible for the short coverage gap exemption because he was without coverage for less than three months.

Answer 10: No. Hank's gross income is below the filing threshold for a dependent with earned income so his parents will not include his MAGI in the Household Income for ACA purposes.

Answer 11: Yes. Hank's income is now above the filing threshold for a dependent with earned income, so his parents will include his MAGI in the Household Income for ACA purposes.

Answer 12: Yes. Camilla can buy coverage through the exchange.

Answer 13: Yes, Antonio can make a deductible IRA contribution up until April 18, 2016.

Answer 14: No, the coverage must have been purchased through the Marketplace.

Glossary

Adopted children – If a child is adopted by a taxpayer during the year, the child is included in the taxpayer's household only for the full months that follow the month in which the adoption occurs. Similarly, if the taxpayer places a child for adoption or foster care, the child is included in the taxpayer's tax household only for the full months before the month in which the placement occurs.

Applicable taxpayer (for purpose of premium tax credit) – A taxpayer must be an applicable taxpayer to claim the premium tax credit (PTC). Generally, an applicable taxpayer is one who has household income at least 100 percent but not more than 400 percent of the federal poverty line (FPL) for the family size, and cannot be claimed as a dependent. If the taxpayer is married at the end of the year, the taxpayer must file a joint return to be an applicable taxpayer unless an exception is met.

A taxpayer with household income below 100 percent of the FPL is an applicable taxpayer if all of the following requirements are met:

- The taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse or a dependent enrolled in a policy through a Marketplace.
- The Marketplace estimated at the time of enrollment that the taxpayer's household income would be between 100% and 400% of the FPL for the taxpayer's family size.
- · Advance credit payments were made for the coverage for one or more months during the year.
- The taxpayer meets the other applicable taxpayer criteria.

A taxpayer with household income below 100% of the FPL can be an applicable taxpayer as long as the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse, or a dependent who enrolled in a qualified health plan is not a U.S. citizen but is lawfully present in the U.S. and not eligible for Medicaid because of immigration status.

Bronze level health plan – A type of health insurance that pays, on average, 60 percent of your health care expenses. You pay the other 40 percent of your health care expenses in the form of copayments, coinsurance, and deductibles.

Coverage family – All members of the taxpayer's family who are enrolled in a qualified health plan and are not eligible for minimum essential coverage (other than coverage in the individual market). The members of the coverage family may change from month to month. A taxpayer is allowed a premium tax credit only for health insurance purchased for members of the coverage family.

Dependents of more than one taxpayer – The tax household does not include someone that can, but is not, claimed as a dependent if the dependent:

- is properly claimed on another taxpayer's return, or
- can be claimed by another taxpayer with higher priority under the tie-breaker rules.

Domestic abuse – Domestic abuse includes physical, psychological, sexual, or emotional abuse, including efforts to control, isolate, humiliate, and intimidate, or to undermine the victim's ability to reason independently. All the facts and circumstances are considered in determining whether an individual is abused. Abuse of the victim's child or any family member living in household may constitute abuse of the victim.

Exchange – See Marketplace.

Exemption Certificate Number (ECN) – The number the taxpayer received from the Marketplace for the individual listed in Part I (Marketplace-Granted Coverage Exemptions for Individuals) on Form 8965, column c.

Family – Taxpayer family includes all individuals and only those individuals for whom the taxpayer properly claims a personal exemption deduction on the tax return (taxpayer, spouse, or dependents).

Family coverage – Health insurance that covers more than one individual.

Family size – For the purposes of the premium tax credit, family size includes the individuals for whom the taxpayer claims a personal exemption deduction on the tax return (taxpayer, spouse if filing a joint return, and dependents).

FPL – Federal Poverty Line – An income amount considered poverty level for the year, adjusted for family size. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) determines the federal poverty guideline amounts annually. The government adjusts the income limits annually for inflation.

Foreign coverage – In general, coverage through a group health insurance provided by a foreign employer to its employees and related individuals is minimum essential coverage (MEC). Individuals with such coverage should see Publication 974, Premium Tax Credit (PTC). However, coverage purchased directly from a foreign health insurance issuer or provided by the government of a foreign country does not qualify as MEC unless recognized as MEC by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). To find out if HHS has recognized particular forms of foreign coverage as MEC, go to www.irs.gov/uac/Individual-Shared-Responsibility-Provision.

Form 1095-A – Used to report certain information to the IRS about family members who enroll in a qualified health plan through the Marketplace. Form 1095-A also is furnished to individuals to allow them to claim the premium tax credit, to reconcile the credit on their returns with advance payments of the premium tax credit (advance credit payments), and to file an accurate tax return.

Form 1095-B – Used to report certain information to the IRS and to taxpayers about individuals who are covered by minimum essential coverage and therefore are not liable for the individual shared responsibility payment.

Form 1095-C – Employers with 50 or more full-time employees use this form to report information about offers of health coverage and enrollment in health coverage for their employees. Form 1095-C is used to report information about each employee. However, in preparation for the first required filing (filing in 2016 for 2015), employers may, if they wish, voluntarily file in 2015 for 2014.

Health Insurance Marketplace – See Marketplace.

Household income – The sum of the taxpayer's modified adjusted gross income (MAGI), the spouse's MAGI (if Married Filing Jointly), and the MAGI of all dependents required to file a tax return.

Incarceration – The taxpayer can claim a coverage exemption for a member of the tax household for any month in which the individual was incarcerated for at least 1 day in the month. An individual is incarcerated if he or she was confined, after the disposition of charges, in a jail, or similar penal institution or correctional facility.

Individual Market – The insurance market that provides private, individual (non-group) health insurance coverage to individuals who purchase health insurance on their own. This includes qualified health plans offered through the Marketplace. Each individual generally must pay the entire cost of the health insurance premium, but certain individuals may be eligible for insurance premium subsidies for coverage offered through the Marketplace.

MAGI – See Modified Adjusted Gross Income.

Marketplace (also: Exchange, Health Insurance Marketplace) – A governmental agency or nonprofit entity that makes qualified health plans available to individuals. The term "Marketplace" refers to state Marketplaces, regional Marketplaces, subsidiary Marketplaces, and a federally-facilitated Marketplace.

Married taxpayers (for purposes of the premium tax credit) – If a taxpayer is married at the end of the tax year, the taxpayer generally must file a joint return with spouse in order to claim the premium tax credit unless the taxpayer meets one of the following two exceptions:

- Exception 1 (Head of Household filing status). If taxpayer was not divorced or legally separated at the end of the year, he or she is considered unmarried if all of the following apply:
 - The taxpayer lived apart from spouse for the last 6 months of the year. (Temporary absences for special circumstances, such as for business, medical care, school, or military service, count as time lived in the home.)
 - The taxpayer filed a separate return from spouse.
 - The taxpayer paid over half the cost of keeping up his or her home for the year.
 - The taxpayer home was the main home of the taxpayer's child, stepchild, or foster child for more than half of the year. (Temporary absences for special circumstances, such as for school, vacation, medical care, military service, and detention in a juvenile facility, count as time lived in home.)
 - The taxpayer can claim the child as a dependent or could claim the child as a dependent except that the child's other parent can claim him or her under the rule for children of divorced or separated parents.
- Exception 2. If taxpayer is a victim of domestic abuse or abandonment and does not qualify to use Head of Household filing status, the taxpayer may claim a premium tax credit if he or she files a return as Married Filing Separately and meets the following:
 - The taxpayer is living apart from his or her spouse at the time the taxpayer filed the current year tax return.
 - The taxpayer is unable to file a joint return because he or she is a victim of domestic abuse or spousal abandonment.
 - The taxpayer certifies on the return that the taxpayer is a victim of domestic abuse or spousal abandonment.

Medicaid Expansion – The health care law provides states with additional federal funding to expand their Medicaid programs to cover adults under 65 who make up to 138% of the federal poverty level. Children (18 and under) are eligible up to that income level or higher in all states.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled that the Medicaid expansion is voluntary with states. As a result, some states have not expanded their Medicaid programs. Many adults in those states with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level fall into a gap. Their incomes are too high to get Medicaid under their state's current rules but their incomes are too low to qualify for the premium tax credit.

Minimum essential coverage (MEC) – Coverage under a government-sponsored program, an eligible employer-sponsored plan, a plan in the individual market, a grandfathered health plan, or other coverage recognized by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), in coordination with the Secretary of the Treasury, as minimum essential coverage.

Modified Adjusted Gross Income (MAGI) – For purposes of PTC, MAGI is a taxpayer's adjusted gross income plus certain income that is not subject to tax (foreign earned income, tax-exempt interest, and Social Security benefits not included in income).

Modified Adjusted Gross Income (MAGI) – For purposes of SRP and coverage exemptions, MAGI is a taxpayer's adjusted gross income plus certain income that is not subject to tax (foreign earned income and tax-exempt interest).

National Average Bronze Plan Premium (NABPP) – This figure is used in calculating the shared responsibility payment (SRP). A table of NABPP amounts can be found in the Instructions for Form 8965 and in Publication 4012, ACA tab.

Premium tax credit (PTC) – A tax credit for certain people who enroll in a qualified health plan offered through the Marketplace (Exchange). The credit reduces the amount of tax the taxpayer owes. It may also give the taxpayer a refund or increase the refund.

If applicable, the taxpayer is allowed a credit amount for any month during the year that the taxpayer or one or more of the family members [spouse or dependent(s)] were:

- · Enrolled in one or more qualified health plans through a Marketplace;
- · Not eligible for other minimum essential coverage.

Qualified health plan – A health plan certified by the Department of Health and Human Services to be offered through the Marketplace. Qualified health plans offered through the Marketplace must be one of four tiers, or "metal levels" – bronze, silver, gold, or platinum. Individuals and families can choose from a variety of qualified health plans, as well as catastrophic plans for young adults and those without affordable options.

Recognized religious sect – A member of a recognized religious sect is exempt from SRP. For purposes of the exemption, a religious sect must be in existence since December 31, 1950, and recognized by the Social Security Administration (SSA) as conscientiously opposed to accepting any insurance benefits, including Medicare and Social Security benefits.

Relief – A taxpayer can certify an exemption from Married Filing Jointly by checking a box on Form 8962, Premium Tax Credit.

Required contribution – The amount an individual would be required to pay toward minimum essential coverage (MEC). For purposes of SRP and the exemption based on unaffordable coverage, if an individual is eligible to purchase MEC provided under an eligible employer-sponsored plan, the individual's required contribution is the portion of the annual premium that the individual would pay for self-only coverage. For an individual eligible for an employer-sponsored plan coverage because the individual is related to an employee (related individual), the required contribution is the portion of the annual premium that the employee would pay to cover the employee and all related individuals in the employee's family. For an individual ineligible for coverage under eligible employer sponsored plans, the required contribution is the annual premium for the lowest cost bronze plan available in the individual market through the Marketplace in the state in which the individual resides, reduced by the amount of the premium tax credit for the taxable year if the individual were enrolled in a qualified health plan through the Marketplace. For purposes of PTC, an employee's required contribution is determined in the same way as that for coverage exemption. Unlike the required contribution for purposes of coverage exemption, for purposes of PTC, the required contribution for a related individual is the portion of the annual premium that the employee would pay for self-only coverage.

Second Lowest Cost Silver Plan (SLCSP) – The second lowest cost silver plan offered through the Marketplace for the rating area in which the taxpayer resides. A taxpayer who enrolled in a qualified health plan through the Marketplace will receive Form 1095-A from the Marketplace which will include the SLCSP amount. This figure is used on Form 8962 to calculate the amount of the premium tax credit that the taxpayer is allowed.

Self-only coverage – Health insurance that covers one individual.

Shared responsibility payment (SRP) – If the taxpayer or any other member of the tax household has neither minimum essential coverage nor an exemption for any month during the tax year, the taxpayer must compute and pay the shared responsibility payment.

Spousal abandonment – A taxpayer is a victim of spousal abandonment for a taxable year if, taking into account all facts and circumstances, the taxpayer is unable to locate his or her spouse after reasonable diligence.

Tax household – For purposes of Form 8965, includes the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse (if filing a joint return), and any individual claimed as a dependent on the tax return. It also generally includes each person the taxpayer can, but does not, claim as a dependent.

Unaffordable coverage – For purposes of Form 8965 for 2015, coverage is unaffordable if the individual's required contribution is more than 8.05% of household income.

Filing Basics

Introduction

This lesson will help you determine which taxpayers must or should file a tax return. You will also find information on how to verify a taxpayer's identity, which form to use, completing the main information sheet, and how long to keep taxpayer records.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your reference materials, you will be able to:

- Determine who must file a tax return
- Determine who should file a tax return
- · Verify the taxpayer's identity
- · Determine how to file the return

Who must file?

U.S. citizens or residents of the United States must file a return based on three factors. There are special rules for dependents, surviving spouses, U.S. citizens and residents living outside the U.S., residents of Puerto Rico, and individuals with income from U.S. possessions.

Remember to use the interview techniques and tools when determining who must file.

What do I need to know?

To decide whether someone must file a tax return, you need to know the individual's:

- Age
- Gross income
- · Filing status

Where do I get information on the taxpayer's age?

Look at the intake and interview sheet for the taxpayer's date of birth. Confirm this date during the interview. Refer to the sample intake and interview sheet at the beginning of the Volunteer Resource Guide.

Where do I get information on the taxpayer's gross income?

An approximation of gross income is enough to see if a taxpayer must file a return. Gross income is all the income the taxpayer received during the tax year in the form of money, goods, property, and services that is not exempt from tax. It includes both earned and unearned income.

The Income section of the Volunteer Resource Guide lists the sources of income that should be included and excluded in determining a person's gross income. You can also refer to the Income lessons in this training guide.

What do I need?

- ☐ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17

Optional

- □ Publication 559
- □ Form 1040 Instructions
- □ Form 9452

Taxpayers often want written proof if they are not required to file a tax return. Form 9452, Filing Assistance Program, provides a worksheet to determine a person's filing requirement, and can be given to taxpayers to keep with their records.

To approximate gross income:

- Add the amounts from all the taxpayer's Form(s) W-2, box 1
- Add taxable amounts reported on any Form(s) 1099
- Using the intake and interview sheet, review the income questions with the taxpayer to see if there was any additional income not reported on Form W-2 or Form 1099 and determine each amount

Total the above amounts to determine the taxpayer's approximate gross income.

Where do I get information on the taxpayer's filing status?

Taxpayers may or may not know which filing status to use. For the purposes of determining whether a person must file a return, narrowing the choices down to the most likely filing status(es) is adequate in most cases.

Check the Taxpayer Information section of the intake and interview sheet for:

- The taxpayer's marital status
- Whether the taxpayer can be claimed as a dependent on someone else's tax return
- The taxpayer's potential dependents

Use the Volunteer Resource Guide's Determination of Filing Status decision tree and the Interview Tips in the Filing Status tab for helpful probing questions.

Who is legally required to file a federal tax return?

To determine whether a taxpayer is legally required to file a return, start with the Volunteer Resource Guide, Who Must File tab. Use these charts to review the examples.

example

Lucy is 36 years old and single, and her gross income is $20,000. She must file a tax return since her income exceeds the amount for her age and filing status.

example

Henrietta and Javier are married and plan to file a joint return. Henrietta is 67 and had a gross income of $11,000 for the tax year. Javier is 66. His gross income was $5,000 for the year. Since their combined gross income is less than the minimum amount for their ages and filing status, they do not have to file a return.

What are special situations that require a taxpayer to file?

If the Who Must File charts show that an individual is not required to file a return, then continue to Chart C – Other Situations When You Must File in the Volunteer Resource Guide to see if any of the following special conditions require the person to file.

The most common special situations when individuals are legally required to file a return are:

- Self-employed with net earnings of $400 or more
- Taxpayers who owe special taxes

Do not include Social Security benefits when determining filing requirement unless the taxpayers are married, are filing a separate return, and lived with their spouse at any time during the tax year.

Use the gross sale price, not the net profit, when estimating gross income for a taxpayer who sold stock or other assets.

Taxpayers who received the 2008 first-time homebuyer credit are required to file a return to repay a portion of the credit.

	EXERCISES
	Refer to the Who Must File section of the Volunteer Resource Guide to answer these questions. Answers are at the end of the lesson summary.
	Question 1: Bob is 27 years old. His gross income was $17,000 during the tax year. Based only on this information, is he required to file a tax return? \square Yes \square No Question 2: Janet and Harry are married and usually file jointly. During the tax year, she turned 66 and he turned 64. Their gross income was $19,800. Based only on this information, are they required to file a tax return? ☐ Yes ☐ No Question 3: Juanita has a dependent child and can file as a Qualifying Widow. She is 47 years old. Her gross income was $25,000. Based only on this information, is she required to file a tax return? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Who should file?

Even if individuals are not required to file a tax return, they should file a return if they qualify for certain credits or a refund. These items are listed in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Who Must File tab.

Individuals should file a return if they are eligible to claim:

- · A refund of withheld taxes
- The earned income credit (EIC)
- · The additional child tax credit
- The health coverage tax credit (out of scope)
- · The American opportunity credit

Taxpayers who should file may be entitled to a tax credit, and filing a return is the only way to get it. Individuals who are not required to file a return and who would not benefit from filing a return can reduce the cost, time, and effort of unnecessary processing by not filing a return.

How do I find out if a taxpayer is eligible to claim a refund or refundable credit?

The taxpayer may qualify for a tax refund, earned income credit, additional child tax credit, or American opportunity credit if:

- Federal or state income tax was withheld on any income form
- · The taxpayer had earned income
- The taxpayer has a qualifying child
- The taxpayer paid higher education expenses
- The taxpayer made estimated tax payments

If a taxpayer is not required to file a tax return, and you are uncertain if they will benefit from filing, begin a return to determine if filing a tax return would benefit the taxpayer.

Refer taxpayers who may qualify for the health coverage tax credit to a professional tax preparer.

The earned income credit may apply with or without a child. See the Earned Income Credit and Child Tax Credit lessons for details on determining eligibility.

How do I verify taxpayer identity?

Before you begin the tax return, you should first verify the identity of the taxpayer(s) and the spelling of names entered on the taxpayer's intake and interview sheet.

What documents do I use to verify identity?

Ask to see photo identification such as:

- Valid driver's license (U.S.)
- · State ID (U.S.)
- Passport
- Visa
- · Military ID
- National ID
- · Employer ID
- · School ID

A spouse who is Married Filing Separately is not required to provide the Social Security card for the other spouse.

Judgment should be used to accept any other valid form of identification. For example, the Site Coordinator can allow proof of identity in a situation of an elderly person with a disability who has an expired driver's license and passport but also provides a valid birth certificate. IRS-tax-law certified volunteers preparing tax returns are required to confirm the identity of the taxpayer to avoid identity theft, tax fraud, and to validate the correct Social Security number. If a taxpayer cannot substantiate their identity, or if the volunteer is uncomfortable accepting the items presented as proof of identity, the taxpayer should be advised to return with an acceptable form of identification. Exceptions to requiring photo ID should only be made under extreme circumstances and should not be the norm. For example, there may be limited situations where an exception may apply to a person with a disability, the elderly, or other unique circumstances. The exception does not include taxpayers known to the site.

Taxpayers who cannot substantiate their identity should seek professional tax assistance.

What about taxpayers filing for decedents?

If you are providing assistance to someone who is filing a return for a decedent:

- Be aware that volunteers need to take steps to protect a taxpayer's identity and avoid possible identity theft.
- Ask to see the surviving spouse's identification or a copy of the death certificate.
- A personal representative may be filing the return for the deceased taxpayer. Verify the identity of the person who is filing for the decedent and ask if they have court documents or other documentation authorizing them to file the tax return.
- Representatives or surviving spouses who do not have the necessary documentation with them should be advised to return once they have the information. If they cannot provide the information, refer them to a professional tax preparer.

For additional information about filing a return for a decedent, refer to Form 1040 Instructions, Publication 17, or Publication 559.

What are Taxpayer Identification Numbers?

IRS regulations require that each person listed on a U.S. federal income tax return have a valid Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN). The types of TINs are:

- Social Security Number (SSN)
- Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN)
- Adoption Taxpayer Identification Number (ATIN)

Who has a Social Security number?

Any individual who is legally eligible for employment in the United States must have a Social Security number.

Some Canadians have both U.S. and Canadian Social Security numbers. Never use the Canadian number on a U.S. tax return.

Who has an Individual Taxpayer Identification Number?

Some individuals who need to file tax returns do not have SSNs. The IRS issues ITINs to nonresidents and others living in the U.S. who are required to have a U.S. TIN but who are not eligible to obtain SSNs.

The ITIN contains nine digits and is formatted like a SSN (XXX-XXXXX), but begins with the number 9 and has a specified range of numbers in the fourth and fifth digits. You should enter the ITIN on the return wherever the SSN is requested.

Who has an Adoption Taxpayer Identification Number?

Taxpayers who are in the process of adopting a child and who are able to claim the child as their dependent or are able to claim the child and dependent care credit need an ATIN for their adoptive child.

The IRS issues an ATIN for the child while a final domestic adoption is pending, and the adopting taxpayers do not have the child's SSN.

Like an ITIN, the nine-digit ATIN begins with the number 9. You should enter the ATIN on the return wherever the child's Social Security number is requested.

Taxpayers who cannot obtain a SSN must apply for an ITIN if they file a U.S. tax return or are listed on a tax return as a spouse or dependent. These taxpayers must file Form W-7, Application for Individual Taxpayer Identification Number and supply documentation that will establish foreign status and true identity. A federal tax return must be associated with all Form W-7 applications with exceptions as noted in the Form W-7 Instructions.

Taxpayer, spouse, or dependent name and Social Security number mismatch is rated as one of the most frequent errors in processing a tax return.

What are acceptable documents if the taxpayer does not have a Social Security card?

For individuals who do not bring their original or a copy of their Social Security card, you may accept either of the following:

- A SSA letter or a Form SSA-1099 statement
- · An ITIN card or letter

Driver's licenses and passports are not acceptable substitutes for Social Security or ITIN cards.

What if the taxpayer does not have a SSN or ITIN?

For individuals without a valid SSN, explain that they must have a taxpayer identification number before you can assist them. Direct them to the Social Security Administration and advise them to complete Form SS-5, Social Security Number Application. If the individual is not eligible for a SSN, refer them to the IRS for Form W-7, Application for IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number.

For a taxpayer who cannot obtain a SSN and has not yet applied for an ITIN, you can use a temporary identification number to prepare the return in the tax software. Turn to the Volunteer Resource Guide, ITIN Returns tab.

When preparing a tax return for an ITIN application, include all Forms W-2, even if the SSN on the W-2 does not belong to the taxpayer. Do not change any information on the W-2. Send it in with the return as it is. Since it is not going to be transmitted electronically, it does not matter if the SSN does not match in the software.

Taxpayers can get an instant benefit verification letter on the Social Security website using their my Social Security account.

Attach the tax return behind Form W-7 along with documentation that will establish foreign status and true identity and have the taxpayer submit according to Form W-7 instructions.

- If it is not available at the volunteer site, the taxpayer can obtain Form W-7 by calling the IRS at 1-800-829-3676 (1-800-TAX FORM) or at www.irs.gov.
- If taxpayers need assistance in completing Form W-7, refer them to an IRS Taxpayer Assistance Center unless a volunteer at that site has been trained in completion of Form W-7 or a Certifying Acceptance Agent is available. A list can be found on www.irs.gov by entering Certifying Acceptance Agent in the search field. Alternatively, refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer.
- An ITIN will expire for any taxpayer who fails to file a federal income tax return for five consecutive tax years. Any ITIN will remain in effect as long as a taxpayer continues to file U.S. tax returns. This includes ITINs issued after Jan. 1, 2013. These taxpayers will no longer face mandatory expiration of their ITINs and the need to reapply. A taxpayer whose ITIN has been deactivated and needs to file a tax return can reapply using Form W-7.

When preparing a return to include with a Form W-7 application, refer to the instructions in the Volunteer Resource Guide, ITIN Returns tab.

What if the SSN on Form W-2 does not match the SSN on the tax return?

The SSN or ITIN on the taxpayer's Form W-2 is expected to match what you enter on the tax return. A mismatch will delay return processing and can create serious errors if the return is filed electronically.

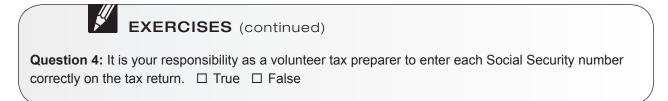

Taxpayers with a Valid SSN

If the taxpayer's Form W-2 does not have the correct SSN, you can prepare the return with the materials provided. However, the taxpayer needs to request a corrected Form W-2 from the employer before submitting the tax return.

Taxpayers with a Valid ITIN

Taxpayers who file tax returns using their ITINs often have Forms W-2 showing erroneous SSNs. If such an ITIN/SSN mismatch occurs:

- Do not change any information on Form W-2
- It is acceptable to e-file a return with an ITIN/SSN mismatch
- The return should reflect the ITIN for the taxpayer, not the SSN on Form W-2
- When entering Form W-2 information, the mismatched SSN should be entered exactly as shown on the Form(s) W-2 issued
- The taxpayer is not eligible for the Earned Income Credit (EIC)

How do I choose the appropriate tax return form?

All taxpayers can use Form 1040. Individuals must meet certain requirements to use Form 1040EZ or Form 1040A. For more details about choosing the correct form, refer to Publication 17, Filing Information chapter.

Tax Software Hint: The software defaults to Form 1040. You should prepare all returns on Form 1040. After you complete the return, the Main Information Sheet will show the simplest form you can use to print the return.

For taxpayers who filed Form 1040EZ or Form 1040A the previous year, determine whether their situation has changed. It may be to their advantage to file Form 1040 if additional adjustments or deductions will result in a lower tax.

How do I file a return?

A return can be filed electronically using IRS e-file or by sending in a paper return.

What is electronic filing?

IRS e-file is a quick, easy, and more accurate alternative to paper returns. With e-filing, taxpayers receive their refund in half the usual time, and even faster with direct deposit.

Detailed instructions for completing and filing the return are covered in the Concluding the Interview lesson and the Volunteer Resource Guide, Preparing the Return tab.

How do I answer taxpayers' administrative questions?

The Volunteer Resource Guide, Publication 17, and www.irs.gov contain answers to many administrative questions asked by taxpayers during the interview process.

Questions such as "How can I get a copy of my prior year's return" or "How can I get an IRS form or publication" can be answered by researching your reference materials.

Turn to the "Frequent Taxpayer Inquiries" located in the Volunteer Resource Guide, References tab and review this helpful information. For a list of phone numbers you can provide to taxpayers, refer to the bottom portion of the "Contact Information for Volunteers," located in the back of the Volunteer Resource Guide.

Review the index in the back of Publication 17 and locate answers to taxpayers' questions that are not answered in the Volunteer Resource Guide.

Using your reference materials, answer the following question.

Question 5: A taxpayer wants to know about the Presidential Election Campaign Fund. Where can you find that information?

What potential pitfalls should I keep in mind?

To avoid any difficulties when preparing tax returns:

- Always treat the information used to prepare an individual's income tax return as confidential.
- Canadians have a number that is like a Social Security number, but it is for their old age pension. Do not use this number on a U.S. tax return. Canadians often have both a U.S. and a Canadian Social Security number.
- Be alert to the following possible indications of fraudulent activity:
 - A Form W-2 that is typed, handwritten, or has noticeable corrections
 - A Form W-2 that looks different from other Forms W-2 issued by the same company
 - A suspicious person accompanying the taxpayer and observed on other occasions
 - Multiple refunds directed to the same address or P.O. box
 - Employment or earnings, which are a basis for refundable credits, that are not well documented
 - Similar returns (e.g., same amount of refund, or same number of dependents, or same number of Forms W-2)
- · Notify your site's coordinator if you suspect any fraudulent or unusual activity.

Summary

Who must file?

To determine whether an individual is required to file a federal tax return:

- · Obtain the person's age
- · Calculate the person's approximate gross income
- Determine the person's likely filing status
- Use the table and guidelines in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Who Must File section

How do I verify taxpayer identity?

Before entering the taxpayer's identity information in the Main Information Sheet or the appropriate tax return form, first verify the identity of the taxpayer(s), the accuracy of each SSN or ITIN, and spelling of names with the appropriate documents.

Which tax return form should I use?

The three federal tax return forms are Form 1040EZ, Form 1040A, and Form 1040.

When using tax software, always select Form 1040 from the Main Information Sheet. After you have completed the return, the Main Information Sheet will show the simplest form you can use to print the return.

Filing the Return

E-filing is the safest, fastest, and easiest way to file a tax return. With e-file, taxpayers can generally expect their refund in less than 21 calendar days after the receipt of their tax return.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following are out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

- · Taxpayers who may qualify for the health coverage tax credit
- · Taxpayers who cannot substantiate their identity

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: Yes, Bob is required to file a return.

Answer 2: No, Janet and Harry are not required to file.

Answer 3: Yes, Juanita must file.

Answer 4: True. To prevent processing delays, check the accuracy of each Social Security number you enter on the return, as well as the spelling of the name associated with the number.

Answer 5: The index in Publication 17 directs us to a paragraph in the chapter on Filing Information.

Notes

Filing Status

Introduction

This lesson will help you determine the most advantageous (and allowable) filing status for the taxpayer. Selecting and entering the correct filing status is a critical component of completing the taxpayer's return.

See the Filing Status tab in the Volunteer Resource Guide for the Determination of Filing Status decision tree and the interview tips for helpful probing questions to use in your interview with the taxpayer.

Objective

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

• Determine the most beneficial filing status allowed for the taxpayer.

What are the five filing statuses?

Taxpayers must use one of five filing statuses. Filing status impacts the calculation of income tax, affects the amount of the standard deduction, and determines allowance or limitation of certain credits and deductions. The following list puts them in order from the most beneficial to the least beneficial to the taxpayer.

- Married Filing Jointly
- · Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child
- · Head of Household
- Single
- Married Filing Separately

Tax Software Hint: Filing status is selected on the Main Information Screen. Go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, Main Information Screen, to review the software entries.

What do I need?

- ☐ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17

Optional:

- □ Publication 501
- □ Publication 555
- □ Publication 971
- □ Form 1040
- □ Form 8379

Taxpayers may qualify for more than one filing status. Choose the filing status that results in the lowest tax for the taxpayer. Use the Volunteer Resource Guide to help determine the correct filing status.

How does marital status affect filing status?

The first step in determining taxpayers' filing status is to confirm their marital status on the last day of the tax year. Avoid using information from the prior year, as it may have changed.

Generally, taxpayers are considered to be unmarried for the entire year if, on the last day of the tax year, they were:

- Unmarried
- Legally separated, under a separate maintenance decree, or
- Divorced under a final decree on or before December 31

Taxpayers are considered to be married for the entire year if:

- They were married on the last day of the tax year, or
- The spouse died during the year and the surviving spouse has not remarried

What are the requirements for each filing status?

Who is considered Single?

Taxpayers can use the Single filing status if, on the last day of the tax year, they were:

- · Not married
- · Legally separated or divorced, or
- Widowed before the beginning of the tax year and did not remarry

Can Single taxpayers qualify for another status?

Some single taxpayers qualify for Head of Household or for Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child status, which can mean a lower tax. These statuses will be discussed later in this lesson.

What is Married Filing Jointly?

Married taxpayers who choose to file a joint return will use one return to report their combined income and to deduct combined allowable expenses. Married taxpayers can select this status even if one of the spouses did not have any income or any deductions. The Married Filing Jointly status can be claimed by taxpayers who, on the last day of the tax year:

- Were married and lived together
- · Were married and living apart, but were not legally separated or divorced
- Were common law married pursuant to the laws of the state in which they live (or in the state where the common law marriage began) and the marriage has not been dissolved, such as by death or divorce, or
- · Did not remarry after their spouse died during the year

What are the responsibilities of each taxpayer on a joint return?

Both taxpayers must include all worldwide income on their joint return. They each may be held responsible for all the tax and for any interest or penalty due, even if all the income was earned by only one spouse. A subsequent divorce usually does not relieve either spouse of the liability associated with the joint return.

In some cases, a spouse may be relieved of joint liability. Information is available in Publication 971, Innocent Spouse Relief, however, this topic is beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE programs. Refer taxpayers in this situation to a professional tax preparer.

A citizen or resident alien married to a nonresident alien may be able to choose from more than one filing status. More information can be found in the Unique Filing Status and Exemption Situations lesson.

Filing a joint return for a common law marriage applies to the federal return only. Volunteers must check state or local laws before completing a state return. Volunteers are not responsible for determining whether a couple is in a common law marriage. If taxpayers are not certain, refer them to a professional tax preparer.

What is Married Filing Separately?

The Married Filing Separately status is for taxpayers who are married, and either:

- · Choose to file separate returns, or
- · Cannot agree to file a joint return

Taxpayers who file as Married Filing Separately each report their own income and deductions on separate returns. These rules do not apply in community property states. More information on community property is provided elsewhere in this lesson.

Can Married Filing Separately taxpayers qualify for another status?

Some married taxpayers may be considered unmarried, according to the IRS definition, even if they are not divorced or legally separated. Such taxpayers may be able to use the Head of Household filing status, which may result in a lower tax than Married Filing Separately. Refer to the topic "Can married taxpayers ever file as Head of Household?" in this lesson to see if the "considered unmarried" definition applies.

Why are taxes usually higher for Married Filing Separately?

Special rules apply to Married Filing Separately taxpayers, which generally result in a higher tax. For example, when filing separately:

- The tax rate is generally higher than on a joint return.
- · Taxpayers cannot take the child and dependent care credit, earned income credit, or education credits.
- Some credits and deductions are reduced at income levels that are half those for a joint return such as the child tax credit and the retirement savings contribution credit.

If a taxpayer is Married Filing Separately and the spouse itemizes deductions on their return, the taxpayer must itemize or take a standard deduction of zero.

For the complete list of special rules, see Publication 17, Filing Status.

Whether or not a spouse is itemizing is only a concern for Married Filing Separately status. Married taxpayers qualified to file as Head of Household can take the standard deduction even if their spouse is itemizing.

Are there special rules for taxpayers who live in community property states?

The income of taxpayers who lived in Arizona, California, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas, Washington, or Wisconsin during the tax year and who choose to file separate returns may be considered separate income or community income for tax purposes. Each state has its own community property laws, which may affect the amount of tax owed by taxpayers. See Publication 555, Community Property, for more information.

If your tax assistance program views community property tax laws for Married Filing Separately taxpayers as beyond the scope of the program, refer such taxpayers to a professional tax preparer.

For Married Filing Separately taxpayers, you must enter the other spouse's name and Social Security number or ITIN on the tax return. This is explained in the Form 1040 Instructions for line 3.

Tax Software Hint: Go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab. Find the section of the Main Information Screen that addresses filing status. Notice the questions asked of the Married Filing Separately taxpayers. If the taxpayer is in one of the community property states mentioned on the form, additional questions must be answered. You may have to complete a worksheet titled Allocation of Income for Community Property Income.

If filing jointly generally results in the lowest total tax, why would married taxpayers want to file separately?

Married taxpayers sometimes choose to file separate returns when one spouse does not want to be responsible for the other spouse's tax obligations, or because filing separately may result in a lower total tax. For example, if one spouse has high medical or miscellaneous expenses, or large casualty losses, separate returns may result in lower total taxes because a lower adjusted gross income allows more expenses or losses to be deducted.

Another common reason taxpayers file as Married Filing Separately is to avoid an offset of their refund against their spouse's outstanding debts. This includes past due child support, past due student loans, or a tax liability the spouse incurred before they were married. If married taxpayers want to file separately, and a potential refund offset is the reason, suggest that they file a joint return with Form 8379, Injured Spouse Allocation.

Who is considered to be an injured spouse?

When a joint return is filed and only one spouse owes a past-due amount, the other spouse can be considered an injured spouse. Injured spouses may file Form 8379 to receive their share of the refund shown on the joint return. The injured spouse:

- 1. Must not be legally obligated to pay the past-due amount, and
- 2. Must have made and reported tax payments (such as federal income tax withheld from wages or estimated tax payments), or claimed a refundable tax credit (see the credits listed in Publication 17 under Who Should File?).

Both of these conditions must apply unless the injured spouse lived in a community property state at any time during the tax year. In community property states, the injured spouse must meet only the first condition. If the taxpayer meets these requirements, Form 8379 can be e-filed with the joint return. See the Instructions for Form 8379 for details on how to complete the form.

If a taxpayer already filed a joint return and the refund was offset, Form 8379 can be filed by itself. When filed after the offset, it can take up to eight weeks for the taxpayer to receive a refund. Do not attach the previously filed tax return, but do include copies of all Forms W-2 and W-2G for both spouses and any Forms 1099 that show income tax withheld. The processing of Form 8379 may be delayed if these forms are not attached. A separate Form 8379 must be filed for each tax year to be considered.

An injured spouse claim is different from an innocent spouse relief request. Form 8379 allows an injured spouse to request the division of the tax overpayment attributed to each spouse. An innocent spouse uses Form 8857, Request for Innocent Spouse Relief, to request relief from joint liability for tax, interest, and penalties on a joint return for items of the other spouse (or former spouse) that were incorrectly reported on the joint return. For information on innocent spouses, see Publication 17, Relief from Joint Responsibility – Filing a Joint Return.

What if a spouse died during the tax year?

Remember, taxpayers whose spouses died during the tax year are considered married for the entire year, providing they did not remarry. The surviving spouse is eligible to file as Married Filing Jointly or Married Filing Separately.

Surviving spouses who have remarried must file with the new spouse, either jointly or separately. The deceased spouse's filing status becomes Married Filing Separately.

Determine the most advantageous filing status for the taxpayer. Surviving spouses who have a dependent child may be able to use the Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child status in the two tax years following the year of the spouse's death. This is discussed later in this lesson.

Who is Head of Household?

Taxpayers may qualify for the Head of Household filing status, if they:

- Are unmarried or "considered unmarried" on the last day of the tax year, and
- · Paid more than half the cost of keeping up a home for the tax year, and
- Had a qualifying person living in their home for more than half the year (except for temporary absences, such as school)

A qualifying person who is the taxpayer's dependent parent does not have to live with the taxpayer. However, the parent(s) must qualify as the taxpayer's dependent(s) for the taxpayer to qualify as Head of Household. For more information, review the Volunteer Resource Guide, Filing Status tab, Who is a qualifying person for Head of Household status?

For a married taxpayer to be "considered unmarried," there are special rules, discussed later in this topic.

What are the costs of keeping up a home?

The costs of keeping up a home include expenses such as rent, mortgage interest, real estate taxes, insurance on the home, repairs, utilities, and food eaten in the home. Payments from Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) or other public assistance programs that contribute to keeping up the home do not count as money the taxpayer paid. However, they must be included in the total cost of keeping up the home to determine if the taxpayer paid over half the cost. See Publication 17, Filing Status, Keeping Up a Home, for more information.

Who is a qualifying person for Head of Household status?

Turn to the chart, Who Is a Qualifying Person Qualifying You To File as Head of Household? in the Volunteer Resource Guide. A qualifying person for Head of Household is defined as:

 A qualifying child who is single (whether or not the child can be claimed as a dependent)

- A married child who can be claimed as a dependent
- · A dependent parent
- A qualifying relative who lived with the taxpayer more than half the year, and is one of the relatives listed on the chart, and for whom the taxpayer can claim an exemption

TIP

A person may be a qualifying relative dependent, but not qualify the taxpayer for Head of Household filing status. For example, a companion or friend who lives with the taxpayer all year may be the taxpayer's dependent but not a qualifying person for Head of Household filing status.

Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Filing Status tab, Who is a Qualifying Person Qualifying You To File as Head of Household?, when reviewing these examples. You will learn more about who can be claimed as a dependent in a later lesson.

example

Kate's unmarried 16-year-old daughter, Shelby, lived with her all year. Kate is single, provided all of Shelby's support, and paid all the costs of keeping up the home. Shelby is Kate's qualifying child dependent and is Kate's qualifying person for Head of Household filing status.

example

Michael provided all the costs of keeping up his home for the year. Michael's son Justin lived with him the entire year. Justin is 22 and was not a full-time student during the tax year, so he cannot be Michael's qualifying child. Although Justin only worked part-time, he earned too much for Michael to claim him as a qualifying relative dependent. Therefore, Michael cannot file Head of Household because he does not have a qualifying person.

example

Jane and Todd are not married. Their daughter, Amanda, lived all year with Jane in an apartment. Todd lived alone. Todd earns more than Jane, and provides for some of her living expenses. He paid over half the cost of Jane's rent and utilities. He also gave Jane extra money for groceries. Even though Todd paid over half the cost of providing a home for Jane and Amanda, he cannot file Head of Household because Amanda did not live with him over half the year. Jane cannot be Head of Household either because she did not provide more than half the cost of keeping up the home for her daughter.

example

Nancy is single and lives alone. Nancy's mother, Maxine, lives alone in another city. Maxine receives Social Security payments, but has no other income. Nancy pays all of the costs of keeping up the home her mother lives in, and provides over half her support. Even though Maxine did not live with her, Maxine is Nancy's qualifying person for Head of Household filing status because Nancy can claim her mother as a dependent under the rules for qualifying relative.

EXERCISES

Answers are after the lesson summary.

Question 1: Alexandra's younger brother, Sebastian, is seventeen years old. Sebastian lived with his grandparents for the first two months of the year. From March through July, he lived with Alexandra. On August 1, Sebastian moved in with some friends and stayed there for the rest of the year. Since Sebastian did not have a job, Alexandra gave him money every month. Assuming Alexandra had no other dependents, can she file as Head of Household?

Yes
No

Notice that the relatives who qualify a person for Head of Household may not be the same relatives who could qualify as a taxpayer's dependent.

example

Since her spouse died five years ago, Joan has lived with her friend, Mary Ann, who is also a widow. Joan is a U.S. citizen, is single, and lived with Mary Ann all year. Joan had no income and received all of her support from Mary Ann. Joan is Mary Ann's qualifying relative because she lived with Mary Ann all year as a member of her household. Mary Ann can claim Joan as a dependent on her return.

However, Joan is not a qualifying person for Head of Household filing status because she is not related to Mary Ann in one of the ways listed on the chart in the Volunteer Resource Guide. She is Mary Ann's qualifying relative dependent only because she lived with Mary Ann all year as a member of her household.

The qualifying person for Head of Household filing status must be related to the taxpayer.

Tax Software Hint: Turn to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab. Find the Main Information Screen that shows the filing status section. The child's name and Social Security number must be entered on line 4 only if the child is not included in the Dependents/Nondependents section.

What are the advantages of filing as Head of Household?

The Head of Household filing status provides a higher standard deduction and, generally, a lower tax rate than Single or Married Filing Separately.

Who can be "considered unmarried" for Head of Household?

Married taxpayers may be "considered unmarried" and file as Head of Household if they:

- File a return for the tax year separate from their spouse.
- Paid more than half the cost of keeping up their home for the tax year. See the Worksheet for Cost of Keeping Up a Home in the Volunteer Resource Guide.
- Lived apart from their spouse during the entire last six months of the tax year. The spouse is considered to have lived in the home even if temporarily absent due to special circumstances, such as military service or education.
- Provided the main home for more than half the year of a dependent child, stepchild, or foster child placed by an authorized agency. This test is also met if the taxpayer cannot claim the exemption only because the noncustodial parent can claim the child using the rules described in Publication 17, Personal Exemptions and Dependents.

example

Denise is married but has lived apart from her spouse for two years. Denise pays all the costs of keeping up her home for herself and her dependent 12-year-old son, who lives with her. Denise can choose to file as Head of Household for the tax year because she meets the definition of "considered unmarried."

A taxpayer who is married to a nonresident alien spouse may be able to file as Head of Household even if the taxpayer lived with the spouse for the year. Review the Unique Filing Status and Exemption Situations lesson for more information.

Who is a Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child?

Taxpayers who do not remarry in the year their spouse dies can file jointly with the deceased spouse. For the two years following the year of death, the surviving spouse may be able to use the Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child filing status. To qualify, the taxpayer must:

- Be entitled to file a joint return for the year the spouse died, regardless of whether the taxpayer actually filed a joint return that year.
- Have had a spouse who died in either of the two prior years. The taxpayer must not remarry before the end of the current tax year.
- Have a child, stepchild, or adopted child who qualifies as the taxpayer's dependent for the year.
- Live with this child in the taxpayer's home all year, except for temporary absences.
- Have paid more than half the cost of keeping up the home for the year.

A foster child does not qualify a taxpayer for the Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child filing status. The standard deduction and tax tables are the same for Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child and Married Filing Jointly filing statuses. These are more favorable than those for Head of Household filing status.

example

Laura's spouse, Jim, died in September of the tax year. She has not remarried, and provides all the support for their dependent children, ages 8 and 10. Laura can file as Married Filing Jointly, claiming an exemption for her deceased spouse. For the next two tax years, she can use the Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child status if she does not remarry.

Tax Software Hint: Go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, Main Information Screen, which includes the filing status section, for the software entries.

How do I determine the correct filing status?

To determine the correct filing status, follow the Filing Status Interview Tips or the Determination of Filing Status flow chart in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Filing Status tab.

Check your understanding of each filing status. Review the lesson and use the Filing Status Interview Tips in the Volunteer Resource Guide to determine the answer. Answers are after the lesson summary.

Question 2: Jane's husband moved out of their home in February of the tax year and has not returned. Jane provides all the cost of keeping up the home for herself and her two dependent children. Jane refuses to file a joint return with her husband. What filing status should she use?

- · Single
- · Married Filing Separately
- · Head of Household
- · Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child

Question 3: Seth lives alone and has never married. He does not support either of his parents. What filing status(es) can he use?

- · Single
- Married Filing Jointly
- Married Filing Separately
- · Head of Household
- Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child

Question 4: Tanya's divorce became final in early September of the tax year. She has sole custody of her three children, who lived with her the entire year. The children are all under the age of 19. She provided more than half of the cost of keeping up the home. What filing status(es) can she use?

- Single
- · Married Filing Jointly
- · Married Filing Separately
- · Head of Household
- Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child

Question 5: Sydney's spouse died two years ago in January. He filed a joint return for that year as the surviving spouse. In the current tax year, Sydney has not remarried, maintains a home for his young children who lived with him all year, and provides their sole support. Using the Filing Status Interview Tips in the Volunteer Resource Guide, determine what filing status Sydney should use?

- Single
- Married Filing Jointly
- · Married Filing Separately
- · Head of Household
- · Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child

Summary

This lesson covered the five filing statuses:

- Single
- Married Filing Jointly
- Married Filing Separately
- · Head of Household
- · Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child

If taxpayers qualify for more than one filing status, choose the one that results in a lower tax. For example, in most cases, married couples pay less tax if they file a joint return.

In general, the Head of Household status is for unmarried taxpayers who paid more than half the cost of maintaining a home for a qualifying person during the tax year. However, some married taxpayers who lived apart from their spouse during the last six months of the year and provided for dependent children may be "considered unmarried" and qualify to file as Head of Household.

A widow or widower with one or more dependent children may be able to use the Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child filing status, which is available for two years following the year of the spouse's death.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following are out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

- A spouse who may be relieved of joint liability
- Depending on your tax assistance program, community property tax laws for Married Filing Separately taxpayers
- Taxpayers who are not certain they are in a common law marriage (rules are complex and differ from state to state)

Answer 1: No, because Sebastian lived with Alexandra for five months, which is less than half the year.

Answer 2: Head of Household. Even though Jane is still married to her husband, she meets the requirements to be "considered unmarried" for filing status purposes and qualifies to file as Head of Household. Although technically she could file as Married Filing Separately, it would not be to her advantage to do so.

Answer 3: Because he is not married, has no dependents living in his household, and does not claim his parents as dependents, Seth can only file as Single.

Answer 4: Because she is legally divorced, Tanya could file as Single. However, because she has children and meets the requirements for Head of Household, she should use this as her filing status because it will result in a lower tax.

Answer 5: Although Sydney meets the requirements to file as Single, Head of Household or Qualifying Widower with Dependent Child, the Interview Tips will help you to determine that he should use the Qualifying Widower with Dependent Child filing status because it will result in the lowest tax.

Personal Exemptions

Introduction

Identifying and entering the correct number of exemptions is a critical component of completing taxpayers' returns, because each allowable exemption reduces their taxable income.

Personal exemptions are reflected in the Exemptions section of Form 1040, page 1.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- · Distinguish between personal and dependency exemptions
- Determine if a taxpayer can claim a personal exemption
- Determine how many personal exemptions a taxpayer can claim

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Optional: Publication 501

What are exemptions?

An exemption is a dollar amount that can be deducted from an individual's total income, thereby reducing the taxable income. Taxpayers may be able to claim two kinds of exemptions:

- Personal exemptions generally allow taxpayers to claim themselves (and possibly their spouse)
- Dependency exemptions allow taxpayers to claim qualifying dependents

This lesson discusses personal exemptions.

The exemption amounts are indexed for inflation and are generally updated every year.

When can a taxpayer claim personal exemptions?

To claim a personal exemption, the taxpayer must be able to answer "no" to the intake question, "Can anyone claim you or your spouse on their tax return?"

This applies even if another person does not actually claim the taxpayer as a dependent. A taxpayer who can be claimed as a dependent must claim "0" exemptions. This means they will not be able to subtract the exemption amount from their gross income, and they may have to use a smaller standard deduction amount. See the lesson Standard Deduction and Tax Computation for more information on this topic.

If married taxpayers file a joint return, they can take a personal exemption for each spouse. If they file separate returns, they can each take a personal exemption for themselves.

When can taxpayers claim an exemption for their spouse?

A spouse is never considered the dependent of the other spouse. However, taxpayers may be able to take an exemption for their spouse simply because they are married.

TIP

exemption.

Taxpayers who are divorced of the tax year cannot claim their (former) spouse as an or legally separated at the end

To claim a personal exemption for one's spouse, the taxpayer must meet these conditions:

- · Married as of December 31 of the tax year, and
- Spouse cannot be claimed as a dependent on another person's tax return, and
- Files a joint return, or files a separate return and the spouse had no income and is not filing a return

A common-law marriage is recognized for federal tax purposes if it is recognized by the state where the taxpayers currently live or in the state where the common-law marriage began, and the marriage has not been legally dissolved, such as by death or divorce. Legal advice may be necessary to determine if a common-law marriage exists. However, filing a joint return for a common-law marriage applies to the federal return only. You must check state or local law before completing a state return.

What about a deceased spouse?

A taxpayer whose spouse died during the tax year can generally claim the personal exemption for the deceased spouse if the taxpayer meets all of these conditions:

- · Did not remarry by December 31 of the tax year, and
- Was not divorced or legally separated from their spouse on the date of death, and
- Would have been able to claim the exemption under the rules for a joint or separate return

How do I use the interview techniques to determine how many personal exemptions a taxpayer can claim?

The Interview Tips for Personal Exemptions in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, can help determine whether the taxpayer can claim any personal exemptions. Use these questions as a guide when you interview the taxpayer.

How do I enter the personal exemptions?

Check the appropriate boxes and enter the number of exemptions claimed on Form 1040, line 6.

Tax Software Hint: The tax software will auto-fill the entries for line 6 once the names and applicable filing status is selected. Review the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, Main Information Screen, for the required entries if the taxpayer is not able to claim his or her own personal exemption.

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Ray Jackson is a widower whose wife died during the tax year. Use the Volunteer Resource Guide, Interview Tips for Personal Exemptions, to help you complete lines 6a and 6b on his tax return. Here's how the conversation might sound:

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	RAY RESPONDS
The questions I'm about to ask you will help us figure out if you can claim any personal exemptions. First of all, you've told me that you were married until your wife died on June 1. I'm sorry for your loss, sir.	Yes, I was. Thank you.
And you did not remarry, right?	That's right.
Are you filing a joint return with your late wife this year?	Yes.
Can anyone else claim either of you as dependents?	Well, I don't think so. We lived off our own income.
Based on your answers, you can claim an exemption for both yourself and for your late wife.

Tax Software Hint: When preparing a return for a deceased taxpayer, enter the date of death on the main information screen. You must also enter the name of the surviving spouse or personal representative on Name line 2. Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Main Information Screen, for details.

Summary

There are two types of exemptions:

- Personal
- Dependency

A personal exemption can be claimed for:

- The individual taxpayer, unless he or she can be claimed as a dependent on another person's tax return
- The taxpayer's spouse, if a joint return is filed and the spouse cannot be claimed on another taxpayer's return
- The taxpayer's spouse, if the taxpayer is not filing a joint return and the spouse had no income, is not filing his or her own return, and is not a dependent of another person

Personal exemptions are claimed in the Exemptions section of the tax return.

Exemptions reduce the taxpayer's taxable income.

Claiming an incorrect number of exemptions is a common error.

Notes

Dependency Exemptions

Introduction

Identifying and entering the correct number of exemptions is a critical component of completing the taxpayer's return. Taxpayers can claim one exemption for each qualified dependent on their return, thereby reducing their taxable income.

See the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab for interview tips that can provide helpful probing questions to use when interviewing the taxpayer.

When the interview is complete, the results are documented on the intake and interview sheet. This information will be the basis of your entries in the tax software.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Determine if a taxpayer can claim an exemption for a dependent by applying the applicable dependency test
- Determine how many exemptions a taxpayer can claim for dependents

Who are dependents?

Dependents are either a qualifying child or a qualifying relative of the taxpayer. As explained in the Personal Exemptions lesson, the taxpayer's spouse cannot be claimed as a dependent but can be claimed as a personal exemption. Some examples of dependents include a child, stepchild, brother, sister, or parent.

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17

Optional:

- □ Publication 501
- □ Form 2120
- □ Form 8332

Persons who qualify to be claimed as a dependent may file a return for taxes withheld, but they cannot claim any exemptions.

How do I apply the dependency tests?

The Marital Status and Household Information section of the intake and interview sheet addresses the issues concerning dependency, but you will still need to use your interview skills to clarify whether the individuals listed are eligible to be claimed as dependents.

Use caution when preparing this section of the taxpayer's return. Use the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab for guidance on asking probing questions to verify the information on the intake and interview sheet. Use the interview tips to apply the dependency tests. Avoid using information from the taxpayer's prior year documents to complete this section.

A taxpayer's spouse cannot be claimed as a dependent but can be claimed as a personal exemption.

Does it matter if I use the interview tips?

Whether you are a new or returning volunteer, the interview tips provide guidelines and definitions to help you apply the dependency tests. They incorporate all of the exceptions, such as the special rules for children of divorced or separated parents as well as the special multiple support rules. As you become more experienced with the qualifying child and qualifying relative rules, you may find that you prefer the Overview of the Rules for Claiming an Exemption for a Dependent chart instead.

How do I use the interview tips?

When determining if a taxpayer can claim a dependent, always begin with Table 1: Dependency Exemption. If you determine that the person is not a qualifying child, then move to Table 2: Dependency Exemption for Qualifying Relative. Depending on the taxpayer's answers, you may also be prompted to use Table 3: Children of Divorced or Separated Parents or Parents Who Live Apart or the Qualifying Child of More Than One Person chart.

Who may be claimed as a dependent?

A dependent may be either a qualifying child or a qualifying relative. Both types of dependents have unique rules, but some requirements are the same for both.

TIP

not met.

The tests for qualifying relative are applied only when the tests for qualifying child are

What tests must be met for all dependents?

To determine if an individual can be claimed as a dependent, begin with the rules that apply to both qualifying child and qualifying relative:

- · Dependent taxpayer test
- Joint return test
- · Citizen or resident test

Dependent Taxpayer Test

A taxpayer (or taxpayer's spouse, if filing a joint return) who can be claimed as a dependent by someone else cannot claim anyone as a dependent on his or her own tax return. Part I of the intake and interview sheet asks, "Can anyone claim you or your spouse on their tax return?" If taxpayers answer yes, they cannot claim a dependent. Use your interview skills because some taxpayers, particularly students, may not be sure of the answer to this question.

Joint Return Test

A married person who files a joint return cannot be claimed as a dependent unless that joint return is filed only to claim a refund of withheld income tax or estimated tax paid.

example

Ruth, who had no income, was married in November of the tax year. Ruth's husband had $30,000 income, and had a filing requirement. They claimed two personal exemptions on their return. Although Ruth's father supported her and paid for the wedding, he cannot claim her as a dependent because she is filing a joint return with her husband.

Citizen or Resident Test

To be claimed as a dependent, a person must be a U.S. citizen, U.S. resident alien, U.S. national, or a resident of Canada or Mexico.

- If a U.S. citizen or U.S. national legally adopts a child who is not a U.S. citizen or resident, this test is met as long as the child lives with the taxpayer as a member of the household all year. If all other dependency tests are met, the child can be claimed as a dependent. This also applies if the child was lawfully placed with the taxpayer for legal adoption.
- Foreign exchange students generally are not U.S. residents and do not meet the citizen or resident test; they cannot be claimed as dependents.

example

Joan, who is a U.S. citizen, adopted an infant boy from Cambodia who lived with her for the entire tax year. Even though Joan's child is not yet a U.S. citizen or resident, he meets the citizen or resident test because he was a member of Joan's household for the entire year.

What are the tests for qualifying children?

The next step to determine if the taxpayer has a dependent is to apply the rules for a qualifying child. If these tests are not met, see if the tests for a qualifying relative are met. Remember, a person must meet the requirements of either a qualifying child or a qualifying relative to be claimed as a dependent. While reading about these tests, follow steps 5-9 in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, Table 1 Interview Tips.

Relationship

To meet this test, the child must be:

- The taxpayer's son, daughter, stepchild, foster child (placed by an authorized placement agency), or a descendant (for example, a grandchild) of any of them
- The taxpayer's brother, sister, half-brother, half-sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant (for example, niece or nephew) of any of them

An adopted child is treated the same as a natural child. This includes a child who was lawfully placed with the taxpayer for legal adoption.

Age

To meet this test, the child must be:

- Under age 19 at the end of the tax year and younger than the taxpayer (or the taxpayer's spouse, if filing jointly), or
- A full-time student under the age of 24 at the end of the year and younger than the taxpayer (or spouse, if filing jointly), or
- Any age if permanently and totally disabled at any time of the year

Attending an on-the-job training course, correspondence school, or a school offering courses only through the Internet, does not qualify the child as a student.

Residency

To meet this test, the child must have lived with the taxpayer for more than half the year. The taxpayer's home is any location where they regularly live; it does not need to be a traditional home. For example, a child who lived with the taxpayer for more than half the year in one or more homeless shelters meets the residency test.

Exceptions to the Residency Test

The child is considered to have lived with the taxpayer during periods of time when either the child or the taxpayer is temporarily absent due to illness, education, business, vacation, military service or detention in a juvenile facility.

A child who was born (or died) during the year is treated as having lived with the taxpayer all year, if the taxpayer's home was the child's home for the entire time he or she was alive.

Taxpayers may claim an exemption for a child who was born or died, or was kidnapped, during the year, as long as the other dependency tests are met.

In the case of a child who was born and died during the year, a SSN is not required but the return cannot be e-filed. The tax return must be mailed. Refer to Publication 17 for specific rules for these rare situations.

example

Hugh's daughter died on January 15 of the tax year. If she met all the dependency tests up until her death, Hugh can claim an exemption for her on his return.

A taxpayer may not claim dependency exemptions for a stillborn child.

In most cases, because of the residency test, a child is the qualifying child of the custodial parent. However, special rules apply to divorced or separated parents or parents who live apart, which are covered later in this lesson.

Support

To meet this test, the child cannot have provided more than half of his or her own support during the tax year. This test is different from the support test for qualifying relative. A person's own funds are not support unless they are actually spent for support. If the taxpayer is unsure whether the child provided more than half of his or her own support, review the Worksheet for Determining Support in the Volunteer Resource Guide together.

example

Bob, 22, is a full-time student and lives with his parents when he is not in the dorm. He worked parttime, but did not pay over half of his total support. Bob meets the relationship, age, and support tests. If he meets the rest of the tests for a qualifying child, he can be claimed as a dependent by his parents.

example

Doris, a U.S. citizen, is 8 years old and had a small role in a television series. She made $60,000 during the tax year, but her parents put all the money in a trust fund to pay for college. She lived with her parents all year. Doris meets the relationship, age, and residency tests. Doris also meets the support test since the $60,000 in earnings were not used for her own support. Since she meets the tests for a qualifying child, she can be claimed as a dependent by her parents.

State benefits provided to a person in need, such as welfare, food stamps or housing, are considered support provided by the state. However, if a child receives Social Security benefits, and uses them toward their own support, the benefits are considered to be provided by the child.

Can the child be a qualifying child of more than one person?

Although a child could meet the conditions to be the qualifying child of more than one person, only one taxpayer can claim the child as a qualifying child for the following six tax benefits (exception: if the special rule for children of divorced or separated parents or parents who live apart applies):

- · Dependency exemption
- · Child tax credit
- Head of Household filing status
- Credit for child and dependent care expenses
- Exclusion from income for dependent care benefits
- Earned income credit

See the Volunteer Resource Guide, Qualifying Child of More Than One Person chart.

If two taxpayers have the same qualifying child, then only one taxpayer can claim all six benefits for that particular qualifying child. They cannot agree to split these benefits. The other taxpayer cannot claim any of the benefits, based on the same qualifying child.

To determine which taxpayer can treat the child as a qualifying child and claim the benefits, apply these rules:

- If only one of the taxpayers is the child's parent, the child is the qualifying child of the parent.
- If the parents file a joint return together and can claim the child as a qualifying child, the child is treated as the qualifying child of the parents.
- If the parents do not file a joint return together but both parents claim the child, IRS will treat the child as the qualifying child of the parent with whom the child lived for the longer period of time during the tax year. If the child lived with both parents the same amount of time, IRS will treat the child as the qualifying child of the parent who had the higher Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) for the tax year.
- If no parent can claim the child as a qualifying child, the child is treated as the qualifying child of the person who had the highest AGI for the tax year.
- If a parent can claim the child as a qualifying child but no parent does, the child is treated as the qualifying child of the person who had the highest AGI for the year, but only if that person's AGI is higher than the highest AGI of any of the child's parents who could claim the child. If the parents file a joint return together, this rule allows the parents to divide their combined AGI equally (between themselves).

Using these tie-breaker rules, taxpayers may be able to choose which one claims the child. If the qualifying child is actually claimed on more than one tax return in a given year, IRS will apply these tie-breaker rules to determine who will receive the benefits.

When a taxpayer's e-filed return is rejected because he or she claimed a dependent that was already claimed by another person, apply the tiebreaker rules. If the taxpayer is the person eligible to claim the dependent based on these rules, a paper return must be filed. The IRS will disallow the dependency exemption on the other person's return.

example

Lynne and her mother, Margaret, share a home and both contribute to the household expenses. Lynne's twelve-year-old-daughter, Karen, lives with them. Although Karen meets all the conditions to be a qualifying child for both Lynne and her mother, Lynne is the taxpayer who can claim Karen as a qualifying child, because she is Karen's parent.

However, if Lynne chooses not to claim Karen, then Margaret may claim Karen as a qualifying child if Margaret's AGI is higher than Lynne's.

Publication 17 and Publication 501 provide more information about qualifying children of more than one person.

What are the tests for qualifying relatives?

Dependents who do not meet the tests for qualifying child might meet the slightly different tests to be a qualifying relative. In addition to the dependent taxpayer, joint return, and citizen or resident tests, there are four additional tests that must be met for a person to be a qualifying relative. The tests are:

- Not a qualifying child test
- Member of household or relationship test
- · Gross income test, and
- Support test

Unlike a qualifying child, a qualifying relative can be any age. Turn to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, Qualifying Relative Interview Tips, to follow along as the tests are described.

Not a Qualifying Child Test

A child is not considered a taxpayer's qualifying relative if the child is the taxpayer's qualifying child or is the qualifying child of another taxpayer.

However, there is an exception to this statement. A child may qualify as the taxpayer's dependent under the tests for qualifying relative, even if that child is the qualifying child of another taxpayer. This is allowed only when the child's parent (or other person for whom the child is a qualifying child) is not required to file an income tax return and either:

- · Does not file a return, or
- · Only files to get a refund of income tax withheld or estimated tax paid

example

Todd has lived with his girlfriend, Eva, and her two children all year in his home. Eva is not required to file, and does not file, a tax return this year. Eva and her two children pass the "not a qualifying child test" to be Todd's qualifying relatives. Todd can claim them as dependents if he meets all the other tests. (Eva and Todd's relationship does not violate local laws.)

EXERCISES

Answers are after the lesson summary.

Question 1: All the facts are the same as in the previous example, except that Eva's gross income is $25,000, and she is required to file a return. In this situation, is Todd allowed to claim the children as qualifying relative dependents? \square Yes \square No

example

Sally has been supporting her friend, Ann, and Ann's young son, Bobby. Ann and Bobby lived with Sally the entire year and meet all the tests to be Sally's qualifying relatives. Ann worked part-time and made $3,100 in wages. Ann files a return only to have her withholding refunded. She does not claim her own exemption. Sally can claim Ann and Bobby as dependents.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 2: All the facts are the same as in the previous example, except, when Ann files her tax return, she uses Bobby as her qualifying child to claim the earned income credit. Who is eligible to claim Bobby as a dependent?

Member of Household or Relationship Test

To meet this test, the person must either:

- · Live as a member of the taxpayer's household all year, or
- · Be related to the taxpayer in one of the following ways:
 - Child, stepchild, foster child or a descendant of any of them
 - Brother, sister, half-brother, half-sister, stepbrother or stepsister
 - Father, mother, grandparent or other direct ancestor, but not foster parent
 - Stepfather or stepmother
 - Son or daughter of the taxpayer's brother or sister (nephew or niece)
 - Son or daughter of the taxpayer's half-brother or half-sister
 - Brother or sister of the taxpayer's father or mother (uncle or aunt)
 - Son-in-law, daughter-in-law, father-in-law, mother-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law

Any of these relationships that were established by marriage are not ended by death or divorce.

example

Susan and Ted are married and file a joint return. They supported Ted's parents throughout the tax year. Even though Ted's parents do not live with Ted and Susan, Ted's parents meet the member of household or relationship test.

An unrelated person who lived with the taxpayer for the entire year can also meet the member of household or relationship test. If the relationship violates local laws, this test is not met. For example, if the taxpayer's state prohibits cohabitation, then that person cannot be claimed, even if all other criteria are met.

Note that:

- A person is still considered living with the taxpayer as a member of the household during periods when that person or the taxpayer is temporarily absent due to special circumstances such as illness, education, business, vacation, military service, and placement in a nursing home.
- Cousins can meet the relationship test for qualifying relative only if they live with the taxpayer for the entire year.
- Qualifying relatives can be unrelated, as long as they lived with the taxpayer all year.
- A taxpayer may not claim a dependency exemption for a housekeeper or other household employee.

example

Mary is a live-in nanny for Jack and Jane in exchange for room and board for the entire year. Even if Mary meets the other tests for qualifying relative, Jack and Jane may not claim Mary as a dependent.

Gross Income Test

To meet this test, the dependent's gross income for the tax year must be less than the personal exemption amount. Gross income is all income in the form of money, property, and services that is not exempt from tax. Specific examples are found in Publication 17, Personal Exemptions and Dependents. Remember this test does not apply to qualifying children, only qualifying relatives. For purposes of this test, the gross income of an individual who is permanently and totally disabled does not include income from a sheltered workshop.

example

Joe is 65 years old and lives with his son and daughter-in-law. Joe's taxable pension income for the year was $10,000. Joe's son and daughter-in-law cannot claim a dependency exemption for Joe because Joe's income exceeds the personal exemption amount.

Support Test

To meet this test, the taxpayer must have provided more than 50% of the person's total support for the tax year. Note that this support test is different from the one for a qualifying child.

When calculating the amount of total support, taxpayers should compare their contributions with the entire amount of support the person received from all sources (such as taxable income, tax-exempt income, and loans). Review the list of valid support expenses and the Worksheet for Determining Support in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, and the Personal Exemptions and Dependents chapter in Publication 17.

example

Sherrie's father received $2,700 from Social Security and investments, but he put $300 of it in a savings account and spent only $2,400 for his own support. Sherrie spent $2,600 of her income for his support, so she has provided over half of his support.

example

Steve provided $4,000 toward his mother's support during the year. His mother had earned income of $600, nontaxable Social Security benefit payments of $4,800, and tax-exempt interest of $200. She used all of these for her support. Steve cannot claim a dependency exemption for his mother because the $4,000 he provided was not more than half of her total support of $9,600.

State benefit payments like welfare, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), food stamps, Medicaid, or housing assistance are considered support provided by the state, not by the taxpayer.

Social Security benefits received by a child and used toward support are considered to have been provided by the child.

Refer to the Worksheet for Determining Support in the Volunteer Resource Guide or the Personal Exemptions and Dependents chapter of Publication 17.

Multiple Support Agreements (Form 2120)

Sometimes no one provided more than half the support of a person. Multiple support means that two or more people who could claim the person as a dependent (except for the support test) together provide more than half the dependent's support. In this situation, the individuals who provide more than 10% of the person's total support, and who meet the other tests for a qualifying relative, can agree that one of them will take the person's exemption.

- The taxpayer claiming the exemption for the dependent must file Form 2120, Multiple Support Declaration or similar statement, with the tax return.
- The other taxpayers providing over 10% of the person's support must provide a written and signed statement agreeing not to claim the exemption for that year. The person who claims the exemption must keep a copy of this written statement as a record. A list of the statement requirements can be found in Form 2120 Instructions.

Multiple Support Agreements apply only to a qualifying relative, not to a qualifying child.

example

Fred's father, Charlie, lives with him and receives 27% of his support from Social Security, 40% from Fred, 24% from Charlie's brother Ray, and 9% from one of Charlie's friends. Either Fred or Ray can take the exemption for Charlie because they each provided more than 10% of Charlie's support, and together contributed more than 50% toward his support. If they agree that Fred should take the exemption, Ray will sign Form 2120 and Fred will attach the form to his tax return.

Question 3: Diane and her brother each provided 20% of their grandmother's support for the year. Two persons who are not related to Diane's grandmother, and who do not live with her, provided the remaining 60% of her support equally. Who is entitled to claim the dependency exemption for the grandmother?

The taxpayers who provide multiple support for a dependent decide among themselves who will take the exemption for the year. Volunteer tax preparers do not decide.

Special Rule for Children of Divorced or Separated Parents or Parents Who Live Apart

In most cases, the child is the qualifying child of the custodial parent. However, a child will be treated as the qualifying child or qualifying relative of his or her noncustodial parent if all the following conditions apply:

- 1. The parents
 - are divorced or legally separated under divorce or separate maintenance decrees or written separation agreements, or
 - lived apart at all times during the last six months of the year whether or not they are or were married
- 2. The child received over half of his or her support for the year from the parents. (Multiple Support Agreement rules do not apply.)
- the year.

This rule does not apply for Head of Household filing status, the credit for child and dependent care expenses. or the earned income credit. For these benefits, the child must meet the residency test. The custodial parent may still qualify for those provisions even though the noncustodial parent can claim the dependency exemption.

4. The custodial parent signs a written declaration (Form 8332 or a similar statement) that he or she will not claim the child as a dependent for the year and the noncustodial parent attaches this declaration to his or her return. If the decree or agreement went into effect after 1984 and before 2009, the noncustodial parent may be able to attach certain pages from the decree or agreement instead of Form 8332. For a pre-1985 decree or agreement, see Publication 17.

This special rule is the exception to:

- · The residency test for qualifying child
- The support test for qualifying relative

Custodial and Noncustodial Parent

The custodial parent is the parent with whom the child lived for the greater number of nights during the year. The other parent is the noncustodial parent.

If the parents divorced or separated during the year and the child lived with both parents before the separation, the custodial parent is the one with whom the child lived for the greater number of nights during the rest of the year.

A child is treated as living with a parent for a night if the child sleeps:

- At that parent's home, whether or not the parent is present, or
- In the company of the parent, when the child does not sleep at a parent's home (for example, the parent and child are on vacation together).

example

Chloe has one child, Timmy, and is divorced. During the tax year, Timmy lived with Chloe 210 nights and with his father 155 nights. Chloe is the custodial parent because Timmy lived with her more nights during the year.

If the child lived with each parent for an equal number of nights during the year, the custodial parent is the parent with the higher adjusted gross income.

Question 4: Ted is divorced and has a daughter who lived with him and his ex-spouse for an equal number of nights. Ted's adjusted gross income is $45,000 and his ex-spouse's adjusted gross income is $30,000. Who is considered the custodial parent?

If a child is emancipated under state law, the child is treated as not living with either parent.

example

When Troy turned age 18 in May, he became emancipated under the law of the state in which he lives. As a result, he is not considered in the custody of his parents for more than half of the year. The special rule for children of divorced or separated parents does not apply.

See more examples and additional information in Publication 17, Personal Exemptions and Dependents.

Revocation of Release of Claim to an Exemption

Custodial parents can revoke a release of claim to exemption they previously provided to the noncustodial parent on Form 8332 or a similar statement. The custodial parent must provide, or make a reasonable effort to provide, the noncustodial parent with written notice of the revocation in the calendar year prior to the tax year in which the revocation is to take effect. Part III of Form 8332 can be used for this purpose. Attach a copy of the revocation to the return for each tax year the child is claimed as a dependent as a result of the revocation.

Tax Software Hint: The tax software determines the taxpayer's dependency exemptions based on the Dependents/Nondependents information entered on the Main Information Sheet.

Be sure to include and verify all the family and dependent information on the taxpayer's intake and interview sheet before entering the data into the Dependents/Nondependents section of the tax software.

For detailed instructions, refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, Main Information Sheet.

Tax Law Application

Elaine Smith has one Form W-2 from her clerk job of 36 years, showing wages of $37,000. She has been divorced from her husband for over 20 years. She pays all the costs of keeping up her home and is the main provider for her seven-year-old granddaughter, Lisa and her 30-year-old son, Todd. Lisa is Todd's niece. Both her son and granddaughter lived with Elaine all year. Her son worked part time and earned $9,000. He is not disabled. She would like to file a tax return and claim her son and granddaughter as dependents.

How do I apply the dependency tests to Elaine's son?

Use the interview tips in the Volunteer Resource Guide to apply the test to Elaine's son.

How do I apply the dependency tests to Elaine's granddaughter?

Use the interview tips in the Volunteer Resource Guide to apply the test to Elaine's granddaughter. You will find that Lisa is a qualifying child of both Elaine and Todd. However, under the tie-breaker rules, Elaine would be entitled to the dependency exemption for Lisa because she has the higher AGI.

Dependent/Nondependent Determinations

Elaine can claim her granddaughter as a dependency exemption, but not her adult son.

Summary

For a taxpayer to claim a dependency exemption, the following conditions must be met:

- · Persons claiming a dependent cannot be claimed as a dependent on another person's return.
- A dependent cannot file a joint return unless the joint return is filed only to claim a refund and no tax liability would exist for either spouse on separate returns.
- A person cannot be claimed as a dependent unless that person is a U.S. citizen, U.S. resident alien, U.S. national, or a resident of Canada or Mexico, for some part of the year. (There is an exception for certain adopted children.)
- A dependent must be either a qualifying child or qualifying relative.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: No, since Eva has a filing requirement and her children meet the tests to be Eva's qualifying children, Todd cannot claim the children as qualifying relatives.

Answer 2: Neither can claim Bobby as a dependent. Because Bobby is considered Ann's qualifying child for EIC, Sally cannot claim Bobby as a dependent under the rules for qualifying relative. Ann cannot claim Bobby as a dependent either, since Ann is Sally's dependent.

Answer 3: No one is entitled to the dependency exemption, since more than half of the grandmother's support is provided by people who cannot claim her exemption.

Answer 4: Ted is his daughter's custodial parent because he had a higher adjusted gross income.

Unique Filing Status and Exemption Situations

Introduction

This lesson will assist you in addressing some filing status issues you may encounter when helping taxpayers who are not U.S. citizens.

This lesson also covers exemption issues related to taxpayers who may have:

- · A nonresident alien spouse, or
- Nonresident alien stepchildren (children of a nonresident spouse who is married to U.S. citizen or resident alien)

This lesson does not cover the preparation of returns for taxpayers who are in the U.S. on an F, J, M, or Q visa. Refer taxpayers with one of these visas to a volunteer who is certified to prepare tax returns for foreign students or to a professional tax preparer.

The Foreign Student Course and certification test are part of Link & Learn Taxes, which is available on www.irs.gov.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- · Determine whether an individual is a resident or nonresident alien
- Determine who can claim the personal exemption for a spouse who is a nonresident alien
- Apply the support test and citizen or resident test to determine whether an individual can be claimed as a dependent
- Apply special rules for Head of Household status when the spouse is a nonresident alien

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17

Optional:

- □ Publication 3
- □ Publication 54
- □ Publication 519
- ☐ Form 1040NR-EZ
- ☐ Form 1040NR

How do I apply tax law to nonresident aliens?

Nonresident aliens can be students, teachers, trainees, or undocumented immigrants. Your role is to determine if the nonresident alien can be treated as a resident alien for tax purposes; most tax rules that apply to a U.S. citizen will also apply to the resident alien, including filing status and exemption issues. Resident aliens and U.S. citizens must report worldwide income on their Form 1040.

Keep in mind that a person is considered married no matter where in the world they were married. It does not matter if one spouse is living in another country. The person who is the resident alien or citizen still must follow tax rules for married persons.

Filing a tax return as a resident alien does not affect the person's immigration status in any way.

Who is a resident alien or nonresident alien?

Let's begin by looking at the intake and interview sheet. Locate the part of the form where taxpayers and their spouses indicate whether they are U.S. citizens. In another part of the form, taxpayers indicate citizenship or residency of family members and dependents.

If the taxpayer has checked "No" for U.S. citizen on the intake and interview sheet, you must determine if the person can be treated as a resident alien for tax purposes before continuing. An individual must meet one of the following tests to be considered a resident alien for tax purposes:

- · Green card test
- Substantial presence test

What is the green card test?

Individuals who were lawful permanent residents of the U.S. at any time during the tax year are resident aliens. They were given the privilege, according to immigration laws, of residing permanently in the U.S. They receive alien registration cards, commonly known as a "green cards," attesting to this status. Green cards are approximately the size of driver licenses. They are no longer green in color but still hold the name. Most green card holders have valid Social Security numbers and must follow the same tax laws as U.S. citizens, including the requirement to report worldwide income on their tax returns.

What is the substantial presence test?

This test is based on a formula of days and years a person is physically present in the United States. Individuals who do not have green cards may still be considered resident aliens if they meet the requirements of the substantial presence test for the calendar year.

Use the Determining Residency Status decision tree in the Volunteer Resource Guide, ITIN Returns tab, to determine an individual's residency status for tax purposes. Information can also be found in Publication 17, "Do I have to file?" section.

example

On their intake sheet, Gloria indicated that her husband, Dante, is not a U.S. citizen. During the interview, you learn that Dante does not have a tax home in another country. He was physically present in the U.S. for 150 days during the current tax year and both of the two prior years. Is Dante a resident alien under the substantial presence test for the tax year?

The decision tree indicates that Dante does meet the substantial presence test and is considered a resident alien for tax purposes. You can assist Gloria and Dante in filing their joint return.

Current tax year: 150 days Prior year: 1/3 of 150 = 50 days Two years prior: 1/6 of 150 days = 25 days Total = 225 days

What counts as days of presence?

Count any day a person is physically present in the United States, at any time during the day, as a day of presence. There are exceptions to this rule. For example, do not count days a person regularly commutes to work in the United States from their home in Canada or Mexico, or days the person is an exempt individual.

Who is an exempt individual?

Generally, an exempt individual is a:

- · Foreign government-related individual
- · Teacher or trainee who is temporarily present under a J or Q visa
- Student who is temporarily present under an F, J, M, or Q visa
- Professional athlete who is temporarily in the United States to compete in a charitable sports event

Do not count the days present in the U.S. for purposes of the substantial presence test for an exempt individual. In general, they will be considered nonresident aliens for tax purposes and should file a Form 1040NR or Form 1040NR-EZ if required. Refer these individuals to a VITA site that prepares tax returns for foreign students or to a professional tax preparer.

Publication 519, U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens, has detailed information on determining who is a resident or nonresident alien.

What if a nonresident alien meets the substantial presence test?

Nonresident aliens who meet the substantial presence test are treated as resident aliens for tax purposes.

No paperwork or documentation is needed to indicate that a person is a nonresident alien filing as a resident alien under the substantial presence test.

All persons listed on the return must have either a valid Social Security number or an individual tax identification number (ITIN). ITINs are discussed in the Filing Basics lesson.

1040NR-EZ.

If a person's visa has expired or the person is not complying with the requirements of the visa, then that person is not an exempt individual and cannot exclude those days he or she is physically present in the U.S.

What if a nonresident alien does not meet the green card or substantial presence test?

If an unmarried nonresident alien does not meet the green card or substantial presence test, refer the taxpayer to a VITA site that handles Foreign Students/Scholars, if appropriate, or a professional tax preparer to file Form 1040NR or Form

If a U.S. citizen or resident alien is married to a spouse who is not a resident alien using the green card or substantial presence test, you may be able to provide assistance. Their options are discussed next.

urn with an I

A return with an ITIN can be e-filed. A return missing an ITIN cannot be e-filed.

example

Paul, a U.S. citizen, is married to Gabriella, who does not have a green card or a valid visa. They have no children and are not supporting anyone else.

Gabriella lived in the U.S. for 120 days during the current tax year. She was also in the U.S. for 120 days in each of the prior two years. Gabriella does not have a tax home in another country. Does Gabriella meet the substantial presence test?

Following the decision tree, you find that Gabriella does not meet the substantial presence test. For tax purposes, she is considered a nonresident alien.

Current tax year: 120 days Prior year: 1/3 of 120 days = 40 days Two years prior: 1/6 of 120 days = 20 days

Total = 180 days

What are the filing status options?

A U.S. citizen or resident alien who is married to a nonresident alien spouse who does not meet either the green card or substantial presence test generally has three filing status options:

- The taxpayer may choose to file as Married Filing Separately
- · The couple may choose to file as Married Filing Jointly
- The taxpayer may qualify for Head of Household under the regular rules for a married person who is "considered unmarried" even while living with the nonresident alien spouse

What happens when a U.S. citizen and nonresident alien spouse file separate returns?

The U.S. citizen can file a Married Filing Separately return and may be able to claim a nonresident alien spouse's personal exemption. The nonresident alien spouse, if required to file a return, would file Form 1040 NR. In this situation, the volunteer can assist in the preparation of Form 1040 for the U.S. citizen but must refer the spouse to a professional tax preparer. Claiming a nonresident alien spouse's personal exemption is covered in more detail in this lesson.

When can nonresident aliens file a joint return?

A married couple may elect to treat a nonresident alien spouse as a resident alien for tax purposes.

How does a married couple elect to treat the nonresident alien spouse as a resident alien?

If the nonresident alien spouse agrees to file a joint return, worldwide income of both spouses must be reported. To make this election, a joint return should be paper-filed with an attached declaration, signed by both spouses, stating:

- One spouse was a nonresident alien and the other spouse was a U.S. citizen or resident alien on the last day of the tax year
- They choose to be treated as U.S. residents for the entire year, and
- · The name, address, and SSN or ITIN of each spouse

For more information, see Publication 17, Filing Status.

How does this election affect the filing status in future years?

The election continues in future years, but the spouses can file separately after the first year, if they choose. The election to treat the spouse as a resident is terminated by revocation, the death of either spouse, their legal separation, or the IRS may terminate it for failure to keep adequate records. Consult Publication 519 for more details on this option.

example

In the previous example, you determined that Gabriella, Paul's nonresident alien wife, does not meet either the green card or the substantial presence tests to be considered a resident alien. However, Paul and Gabriella choose to treat Gabriella as a resident alien. They must attach a signed statement to their return that indicates this choice. You can assist Paul and Gabriella in preparing their joint return. They must report their worldwide income for the year and for all later years unless the choice is ended or suspended. Although Paul and Gabriella must file a joint return for the year they make the choice, they may file either joint or separate returns for later years.

When can a citizen or resident alien, who lives with a nonresident alien spouse, file as Head of Household?

There is an exception that allows U.S. citizens and resident aliens who have a nonresident alien spouse to file as Head of Household. All of the following requirements must be met:

- The taxpayer is a U.S. citizen, or resident alien for the entire year.
- The nonresident alien spouse chooses not to file a joint return.
- The taxpayer meets the other requirements for this filing status.
- The spouse is not a qualifying person for head of household purposes. The taxpayer must have a qualifying person in order to be eligible for this filing status.

EXERCISES

Answers are at the end of the lesson summary.

Question 1: Gloria's husband, Dante, meets the substantial presence test. Gloria is a U.S. citizen. They do not have any children and do not support anyone else. Dante is applying for an ITIN. Gloria has an SSN. They live together.

What filing status options do Gloria and Dante have?

Question 2: Raul is a U.S. citizen and serving in the U.S. Army in Japan. His wife and his children live with him and he is able to claim the children as dependents. Raul's wife, a citizen of Japan, chooses not to be treated as a resident alien for tax purposes. She does not want to file a joint return with him.

Raul meets all of the other qualifications for Head of Household. Even though he is married and living with his spouse, can he claim Head of Household status?

☐ Yes		۷o
-------	--	----

Can a taxpayer with a nonresident alien spouse claim the earned income credit?

Even if a taxpayer is considered unmarried for Head of Household purposes because he or she is married to a nonresident alien, the taxpayer may still be considered married for purposes of the earned income credit. In that case, the taxpayer will not be entitled to the credit. See Publication 596 for more information.

If a taxpayer with a nonresident alien spouse is filing as Head of Household, the Form 1040 Instructions say to enter "NRA" on the head of household line of Form 1040. Additionally, the word "No" should appear on the dotted line next to the earned income credit line of Form 1040.

In the Volunteer Resource Guide, Filing Status – Decision Tree, note that if a spouse is a nonresident alien, the living apart rule does not apply to the taxpayer. This information is also in Publication 17, under Head of Household, Nonresident alien spouse.

What exemptions can be claimed?

Can a taxpayer claim a personal exemption for a nonresident alien spouse?

A taxpayer can claim the personal exemption of a nonresident alien spouse who does not choose to file a joint return, if certain tests are met.

Use the Interview Tips for Personal Exemptions in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, to determine if the taxpayer can claim the personal exemption of the nonresident alien spouse. It does not matter if the taxpayer is filing as Married Filing Separately or as Head of Household. For a nonresident alien spouse, income is defined as U.S. source income only. All the other rules apply as stated, including the requirement that the person cannot be claimed as a dependent on another U.S. tax return.

example

As mentioned earlier, Raul is a U.S. citizen serving in the U.S. Army in Japan. His wife and children live with him and he is able to claim the children as dependents. Raul's wife, a citizen of Japan, chooses not to file a joint return with him. Raul can claim his wife's personal exemption as long as she has no U.S. source income, she is not anyone else's dependent, and has an SSN or ITIN.

example

Tom is a U.S. citizen. He married Anna, a Korean citizen, during the tax year, but came back to the U.S. without her. Anna is still in Korea getting her paperwork in order. She did not choose to file a joint return with him. Tom is filing as Married Filing Separately. Anna has no U.S. source income and cannot be claimed as a dependent on anyone else's U.S. tax return. She has an ITIN for now. Tom can claim her personal exemption on his tax return.

Tax Software Hint: Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, Main Information Screen, for more information on claiming the spouse's exemption.

Can a taxpayer claim a dependency exemption for a child born overseas?

A child born overseas to U.S. citizen parents is considered a U.S. citizen for tax purposes. A child can be claimed as a dependent as long as all the other rules for qualifying child or qualifying relative are met.

The birth of a child abroad should be reported as soon as possible to establish an official record of the child's claim to U.S. citizenship. Form FS-240, Consular Report of Birth Abroad, establishes official evidence that the child is a U.S. citizen.

example

Patricia, a U.S. citizen, is married to Gilberto, a nonresident alien from Spain. Their daughter, Eva, was born while they were living in Spain.

Eva is entitled to U.S. citizenship. Eva will need a Social Security number to be claimed as a dependent on her mother's tax return.

While applying for the Consular Report of Birth Abroad, parents should also apply for a Social Security number and passport for their child. Without a Social Security number, the parents will not be able to claim the child as a dependent or take advantage of credits, such as the earned income credit or the child tax credit, even if all of the other prerequisites are met.

Can a foreign-born stepchild be claimed as a dependent?

Before addressing the dependency exemption question, it is necessary to determine the child's U.S. residency status for tax purposes by answering the questions in the resident or nonresident alien decision tree. If the foreign-born child is a nonresident alien for tax purposes, the child must be a resident of Canada or Mexico to be claimed as a dependent.

example

Terry, a U.S. citizen, is married to a German citizen whose three children are German citizens and do not have green cards. Terry has not adopted the children. They all live in Germany. The children were not physically present in the U.S. during the tax year.

Since the children are not U.S. citizens and are not residents of the U.S., Canada, or Mexico, Terry cannot claim the children as dependents.

Can a taxpayer claim an adopted foreign-born child as a dependent?

A U.S. citizen or national can claim a legally adopted child who is not a U.S. citizen, U.S. resident alien, or U.S. national provided the child is a member of the taxpayer's household all year. All the other rules for a qualifying child or qualifying relative must be met, and the child must have a SSN, ITIN, or ATIN to be claimed as a dependent.

An Adoption Taxpayer Identification Number (ATIN) can be obtained when a domestic adoption is pending and other rules are met. An ATIN can be obtained in a foreign adoption when the child already possesses a green card or a certificate of citizenship, which identifies a child born overseas as a U.S. citizen.

See Publication 17, Personal Exemptions and Dependents, for more information about the citizen or resident test, including who is considered a U.S. national.

An adopted nonresident alien child must live with the taxpayer all year to pass the citizen or resident test.

Question 3: Terry moved his family to the U.S. in January of the tax year. The stepchildren are still not U.S. citizens and they do not have green cards. They meet the other dependency tests. If he can claim them, he will apply for ITINs for them. Can he claim the stepchildren as dependents on his tax return? \square Yes \square No Question 4: John, a U.S. citizen, lives in Germany. His wife is a German citizen who has never lived in the U.S. Their two-year-old son was born in Germany. John's 12-year-old stepdaughter, a German citizen whom John has not adopted, also lives with them. John and his wife provide all the support for the two children. How many dependency exemptions can John claim?

- A. One
- B. Two
- C. Three
- D. Zero

Summary

Resident aliens follow the same tax laws as U.S. citizens.

To determine the residency status of a noncitizen, use the Determining Residency Status decision tree in the Volunteer Resource Guide.

If a citizen or resident alien is married to a person who does not meet the green card or substantial presence test, the couple can elect to treat the nonresident spouse as a resident alien for tax purposes and file a joint return.

A U.S. citizen or resident alien may claim the nonresident alien spouse's personal exemption as long as the spouse:

- · Had no U.S. source income
- · Cannot be claimed as a dependent on someone else's U.S. tax return, and
- · Has an ITIN

A U.S. citizen's child is usually a U.S. citizen by birth, even if the child is born in another country.

A nonresident alien stepchild generally will not pass the citizenship or resident test and therefore cannot be claimed as a dependent, unless the child is a resident of Canada or Mexico.

An adopted nonresident alien child can usually be claimed as a dependent if the child lives with the taxpayer the entire year.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following are out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

- Taxpayers with F, J, M, or Q visas, unless there is a volunteer and quality reviewer at your site with Foreign Student certification
- Nonresident aliens who do not meet the green card or substantial presence test and are not married to a U.S. citizen or resident alien

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: Since Dante meets the substantial presence test, he is considered a U.S. resident alien for tax purposes and must follow U.S. tax laws. Dante and Gloria can use either the Married Filing Jointly or Married Filing Separately filing status.

Answer 2: Yes. Raul can claim Head of Household status because his children are his qualifying persons. If Raul did not have a qualifying person, he would have to use the Married Filing Separately filing status since his wife chose not to file a joint return.

Answer 3: Yes. The children meet the substantial presence test because they were in the United States more than 183 days. Terry's stepchildren are considered resident aliens for tax purposes. As long as the other requirements for qualifying child or qualifying relative are met, Terry can claim the stepchildren as dependents on his tax return. They have to obtain SSNs or ITINs.

Answer 4: A. John can claim one dependency exemption for his son. The son qualifies as a U.S. citizen because his father is a U.S. citizen. The stepdaughter does not meet the U.S. citizen or resident test. A spouse is never considered a dependent, although John may be able to claim her personal exemption.

How do I determine taxable and nontaxable income?

The Income Quick Reference Guide in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, includes examples of taxable and nontaxable income.

Gross income is all income received in the form of money, goods, property, and services that is not exempt from tax. It includes income from sources outside the U.S. or from the sale of a primary residence, even if part or all of that income can be excluded. Gross income may include part of Social Security benefits received and certain scholarship and fellowship grants.

- Income that is taxable must be reported on a taxpayer's return and is subject to tax.
- Income that is nontaxable may have to be shown on a taxpayer's return but is exempt from tax.

What are types of taxable income?

The Income section of Form 1040 is used to report earned and unearned taxable income. The sum of all earned and unearned income is reported on Form 1040, line 22, as total income.

- Earned income any income received for work, such as wages or business/self-employment income
- Unearned income any income produced by investments, such as interest on savings, dividends on stocks, or rental income

What are types of nontaxable or exempt income?

Some nontaxable income such as gifts and inheritances are excludable and not shown on the return.

Exempt income includes such things as interest income produced from certain types of investments. There are some instances when exempt income is shown on the return but not included in the income tax computation, for example, tax-exempt interest income.

Under the Victims of Terrorism Tax Relief Act of 2001, the following amounts are not included in income:

- Certain disability payments received in tax years ending after September 10, 2001, for injuries sustained in a terrorist attack
- Payments from the September 11th Victim Compensation Fund of 2001
- Qualified disaster relief payments made after September 10, 2001, to cover personal, family, living, or funeral expenses incurred because of a terrorist attack
- Death benefits paid by an employer to the survivor of an employee if the benefits are paid because the employee died as a result of a terrorist attack

The Act also provides that the federal income tax liability of those who died as a result of the following attacks is forgiven for certain tax years:

- The September 11, 2001, attacks on the World Trade Center, the Pentagon, and United Airlines Flight 93
 in Somerset County, Pennsylvania
- Terrorist attacks involving anthrax occurring after September 10, 2001, and before January 1, 2002
- · The April 19, 1995, attack on the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building

For additional details, see Publication 3920, Tax Relief for Victims of Terrorist Attacks.

How do I get started?

To determine a taxpayer's income, discuss and review the Income section of the intake and interview sheet with the taxpayer.

Income is reported on a variety of forms depending on its source. Ask the taxpayer to show you all Forms W-2, Forms 1099, and other statements reporting income. (Do not confuse Form 1099 with Form 1098. Generally, Form 1098 reports expenses the taxpayers have paid, not income they have received.)

Tax Software Hint: After you have collected all the income statements, review the pages on Income Documents and How/Where to Enter Income in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab. These pages will show you where to correctly report income items.

How do I report wages, salaries, tips, etc.?

What is Form W-2?

Most employers issue a standardized version of Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement. Go to www.irs.gov to view Form W-2.

Employers must report wages and other employee compensation on Form W-2. Employers are not required to mail Forms W-2, but they must make them available to employees by January 31. Employees may need to pick up Form W-2 from their employers or obtain it electronically.

Additional Medicare Tax applies to an individual's wages, Railroad Retirement Tax Act compensation, and self-employment income that exceeds a threshold amount based on the individual's filing status. This topic is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs. Taxpayers affected by the Additional Medicare Tax should be referred to a professional tax preparer. Additional information can be found on www.irs.gov.

What if the taxpayer does not receive Form W-2 by January 31?

Taxpayers who do not receive Form W-2 by January 31 should first contact the employer and find out if, or when, the form was mailed, or if it can be picked up or accessed online.

If Form W-2 is still not received after allowing a reasonable amount of time for the employer to issue or reissue it, then the taxpayer should contact the IRS for assistance at 1-800-829-1040, but not before February 15.

If taxpayers do not receive Form W-2 before the filing deadline, they should file their tax return with Form 4852, Substitute for Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, or Form 1099-R, Distributions From Pensions, Annuities, Retirement or Profit-Sharing Plans, IRAs, Insurance Contracts, etc. Taxpayers should keep a copy of Form 4852 for their records. Usually Form 4852 can be filed with a state return as well.

A Form W-2 with code Q in box 12, indicating combat pay, requires Military certification to complete the return.

If the taxpayer eventually receives the employer's Form W-2, and the numbers differ from those on Form 4852, the taxpayer will need to amend the return to report the correct amounts.

If the earnings reported on Form 4852 are not reflected on the yearly Social Security Statement, the taxpayer should contact the Social Security Administration at the number shown on the statement.

Tax Software Hint: Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, for instructions on entering income. It is important to enter the information from Form W-2 exactly as it appears on the form. Once you enter all Forms W-2 into the software, it automatically reports the total on Form 1040, line 7, and transfers necessary information for credits, deductions, withholding, etc., to other sections of the tax return.

example

During the tax year, Tina earned income from both a full-time and a part-time job. She received two Forms W-2, each listing different employers. Her return will list her wages as the total of the amounts in box 1, but each Form W-2 must be entered into the tax software separately.

Other W-2 Income

What about income received by household employees?

The term "household employee" refers to one who works in someone's home performing household duties such as caring for children, cleaning, or cooking. Generally, an employer is not required to provide Form W-2 to a household employee who earns less than the threshold amount for that year. In this situation, neither the employer nor the employee will owe Social Security or Medicare tax on those wages. However, employers who withhold federal income taxes from their employee's wages must issue Form W-2. Regardless of whether Form W-2 is issued, the income must be included on Form 1040, line 7.

In-home care providers may receive a Form W-2 with Medicaid waiver payments that are excludable from gross income. This is discussed in more detail in the business income lesson, but also applies when such payments are reported on Form W-2.

Tax Software Hint: See the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, for guidance on determining and entering taxable income.

For further information and a definition of who is a household employee, see Publication 926, Household Employers Tax Guide.

Tip Income

If taxpayers have jobs in which tips are normally received (e.g., waiter/ waitress, bellhop, or motel/hotel housekeeper), be sure to ask about any tips they may have received. All tip income is taxable, whether or not it is reported to the employer.

If individuals receive more than $20 per month in tips at one job and report their tip income to their employer, the tips will be included in the amount on Form W-2, boxes 1, 5, and 7.

Self-employed taxpayers who receive tips, such as hair stylists and manicurists, should include their tips in gross receipts on Schedule C.

Allocated Tips

To ensure that everyone reports their fair share of income from tips, some employers have tip allocation programs. These programs are approved by the IRS. If an employee reports tips to the employer that were less than the designated share based on the employer's formula, the employer reports the difference as "allocated tips" and includes it on the employee's Form W-2.

Allocated tips are shown separately in Form W-2, box 8. Social security and Medicare taxes are not withheld on allocated tips. Allocated tips are not included in the amount in Form W-2, box 1. Explain to the taxpayers that unless they kept a written and reliable record of tips actually received at that job and can prove the allocated amount is inaccurate, the allocated tips must be included in Form 1040, line 7.

Tax Software Hint: When allocated tips are reported on Form W-2, the software automatically adds them to Form 1040, line 7, and also completes Form 4137.

Unreported Tips

If Form W-2 includes allocated tips, but the amount varies from the taxpayer's reliable written record of the tips they received, then the taxpayer's figures are used instead of the amount in Form W-2, box 8.

Other Tips

- The individual is not required to report tip income to their employer if it is $20 or less per month. Since these tips are subject to federal income tax, ask taxpayers if they have any tip income that was not reported to their employer.
- Noncash tips (e.g., tickets or passes) do not have to be reported to the employer, but must be included as taxable income at their fair market value.
- Tips of less than $20 per month or noncash tips are not subject to Social Security and Medicare taxes.
- If tips of more than $20 a month were not reported to the employer, the taxpayer must also pay Social Security and Medicare taxes.
- Complete Form 4137 if the taxpayer received tips that were not reported to the employer. This form calculates the appropriate income, Social Security, and Medicare taxes.

Tax Software Hint: If, based on the taxpayer's records, the amount of allocated tips on Form W-2 is not correct, or if the taxpayer has unreported tips, enter this information on Form 4137. This form will calculate the required Social Security and Medicare taxes. Go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, for

For more information about tip income, see Publication 531, Reporting Tip Income.

Scholarship and Fellowship Income

Are scholarships and fellowships taxable income?

instructions on how to enter unreported or allocated tips.

Form W-2 and Form 1098-T

Scholarships and fellowships may be fully or partially taxable, or nontaxable. Taxable amounts include:

- Payment for services
- Money used for personal living expenses, such as room and board

If the taxpayer received Form W-2 for the scholarship or fellowship, include the amount on Form 1040, line 7, just as you would for any other Form W-2.

Form 1098-T lists qualified tuition and related expenses billed by the school. Verify that these amounts have been paid. It also lists scholarship and grant money the student received. If scholarships or grants exceed the qualified educational costs, some of the grant or scholarship money may be taxable.

In certain situations, the student may choose to include all or part of certain scholarships or fellowship grants in income in order to increase an education credit. This is explained in the education credits lesson, and examples can be found in the Form 8863 Instructions and Publication 970, Tax Benefits for Education.

What about loan repayment assistance programs (LRAPs) for health care professionals?

Education loan repayments are not taxable if they are made to taxpayers by:

- · The National Health Service Corps Loan Repayment Program
- · A state education loan repayment program eligible for funds under the Public Health Service Act, or
- Any other state loan repayment or loan forgiveness program that promotes increased availability of health professionals/services in underserved areas

What about ministers or other members of the clergy?

The ministry profession presents unique issues, such as the parsonage/housing allowance, whether earnings are covered under FICA or SECA (self employment tax), and the rules for being exempt. Publication 517, Social Security and Other Information for Members of the Clergy and Religious Workers, covers this topic. This information is provided for awareness only and is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs. Taxpayers who have these issues should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

What interest is taxable?

Common sources of taxable interest income are checking and savings accounts, certificates of deposit (CDs), savings certificates, U.S. government bonds, interest on insurance proceeds, and loans that the taxpayer makes to others. Some savings and loans, credit unions, and banks call their distributions "dividends." These distributions are really interest and are reported correctly as interest on Form 1099-INT.

Where do I get interest income information?

rather than preparing multiple documents.

There are many sources of information about interest income. Ask the taxpayer to supply all Form(s) 1099-INT from institutions that pay interest.

Some institutions issue a year-end statement with the title "In lieu of Form 1099-INT or Form 1099-DIV"

Original Issue Discount (OID) is a form of interest. A debt instrument generally has OID when issued for an amount that is less than its stated redemption price at maturity. The issuer of the debt instrument will report the amount of OID that is currently taxable on Form 1099-OID, Original Issue Discount, or a similar statement.

If the taxpayers cashed in Series EE or Series I bonds, they should have a Form 1099-INT from the bank. Most taxpayers report the total interest when they cash the bonds. Some taxpayers may report savings bond interest as it accrues each year. This method is out of scope for the volunteer program and taxpayers should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

TIP

TIP

If a taxpayer received less than $10 in interest, the financial institution might not issue taxpayer did not receive Form 1099-INT, they must still report all of their taxable interest

Form 1099-INT. Even if the Interest on qualified U.S. Series EE and Series I savings bonds that are used to pay for higher education expenses may be eligible for exclusion from income using Form 8815, Exclusion of Interest From Series EE and I U.S. Savings Bonds Issued After 1989.

A Net Investment Income Tax applies to individuals, estates and trusts that have certain investment income above certain threshold amounts. This topic is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs. Taxpayers affected by the Net Investment Income Tax should be referred to a professional tax preparer. Additional information can be found on www.irs.gov.

If a U.S. savings bond is issued in the names of co-owners, such as the taxpayer and child, or the taxpayer and spouse, interest on the bond is generally taxable to the co-owner who purchased the bond. To determine who is responsible for paying the tax on the interest from the redemption of a bond, see Publication 17, Interest Income.

- Taxpayers with Series HH bonds receive interest twice a year.
- Ask the taxpayer for the bank statements reporting the interest received.
- · Ask if the taxpayer holds any loans or seller-financed mortgages.

The manner of reporting interest income on Series E, Series EE, or Series I U.S. savings bonds, after the death of the owner (decedent), depends on the accounting and income-reporting methods previously used by the decedent. See Publication 550 for additional information.

example

Bob holds a promissory note for a cash loan that he made to his brother-in-law, Stan. Stan pays Bob principal and interest each month. Even though Bob does not receive a Form 1099-INT, he reports that interest on Schedule B of his tax return.

example

Hazel has four savings accounts in four different banks. The total amount of interest earned from the accounts is $3,000. Hazel will receive four Forms 1099-INT. She will list each payer and amount on Schedule B and file it with her tax return.

What interest income is tax-exempt?

Certain types of interest are exempt from federal income tax. However, they may be taxable by the state, and sometimes the reverse is true; the interest may be taxable on the federal return and exempt from state income tax.

Interest from bonds issued by the following are exempt from federal income tax:

- State and political subdivisions (county or city)
- · District of Columbia
- U.S. possessions and political subdivisions
- · Port authorities
- Toll-road commissions
- Utility service authorities
- Community redevelopment agencies
- · Qualified volunteer fire departments
- · Amounts indicated on broker statements as tax-exempt interest or tax-exempt dividends

Read the taxpayer's Form(s) 1099-INT carefully; both taxable and tax-exempt interest may be listed.

Interest from Private Activity Bonds (PAB) may be shown on the interest statement. It is a subset of taxexempt interest and may impact the Alternative Minimum Tax. Taxpayers who are subject to the Alternative Minimum Tax should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

Although tax-exempt interest is not taxable, it must be reported on Form 1040, line 8b. Tax-exempt interest is used in calculating the taxability of some income items, such as Social Security benefits.

What if a bond is sold between interest payment dates?

If a bond is sold between interest payment dates, part of the sales price represents interest accrued to the date of the sale. This amount is taxable to the seller and must be reported as interest income for that tax year, even if the seller does not receive a Form 1099-INT. The buyers of the bond may receive a 1099-INT reflecting the accrued interest and will treat this amount as a return of capital investment, reducing their basis in the bond. This topic is complex and is out-of-scope for the VITA/TCE programs. Taxpayers who buy or sell bonds between interest payment dates should be referred to a professional tax preparer. If taxpayers would like additional information, refer them to Publication 550, Investment Income and Expenses.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, Additional Interest, NAEOB, and State Adjustment Entries.

What about the interest on an IRA?

Generally interest on a Roth IRA is not taxable. However, if the criteria for distribution are not followed, the interest is taxable.

Interest on a traditional IRA is tax-deferred. Do not include that interest in taxable income until the taxpayer receives distributions from the IRA, which will be reported on Form 1099-R. See the Retirement Income lesson, Publication 17, and Publication 590 for more information on IRAs.

example

Mike makes contributions to a traditional IRA each year. Throughout the year, he gets statements listing the interest earned. Because it is tax-deferred, he does not report any of the interest income from his traditional IRA on his tax return.

How do I report interest income?

Interest income is entered on Form 1040, line 8a or line 8b. Amounts labeled Interest income and Interest on U.S. Savings Bonds and Treasury obligations on Form 1099-INT are reported as taxable interest. Be sure to enter any tax-exempt interest on the interest statement.

If the taxpayer receives Form 1099-OID, report as interest the amounts in boxes labeled Original issue discount, Other periodic interest, and Original issue discount on U.S. Treasury obligations. Ensure that other amounts on Forms 1099-INT and 1099-OID are entered in their proper places on Form 1040. These will be discussed in later lessons. For example, amounts labeled early withdrawal penalty are entered in the Adjustments section and any federal income tax withheld is entered in the Payments section. Investment expenses will be discussed in the Itemized Deductions lesson, and entries for foreign tax paid and foreign country will be discussed in the Foreign Tax Credit lesson.

On Form 1099-INT, if the box labeled Specified private activity bond interest contains an amount, the alternative minimum tax (AMT) may apply, and the taxpayer should be referred to a professional tax preparer. If taxpayers indicate there are adjustments needed for any of the amounts listed on Form 1099-OID, or if they have income from original issue discount but did not receive a Form 1099-OID, refer them to a professional tax preparer to ensure the correct amount is reported.

Tax Software Hint: Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, for instructions on entering interest income in the Interest Statement. Regardless of the amount, when entering interest income, use the Interest Statement as shown in the Volunteer Resource Guide. The software will file Schedule B if required.

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Barbara Smith is a clerk with the United States Postal Service. She has one Form W-2.

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	BARBARA RESPONDS
Now we will complete the income section of your return. I believe you told me that you work at the post office?	Yes. Here is my W-2.
Are you employed by anyone else?	No way, they keep me busy enough at the post office!
Did you have any disability income?	No, I'm not disabled.
Now, let's go on to interest income. Did you earn any interest on checking accounts, savings accounts, or a certificate of deposit? What about U.S. savings bonds? I know that a lot of postal employees buy them at work.	Yes, I have a savings account that earns interest. Here is the 1099-INT. Yes, I do, every pay period.
Are they for educational purposes, or just an investment?	No, they aren't educational. I don't have any information about my bonds with me. Why would I need that?
Some people report the interest as it accrues every year. You have to make this decision in the first year after you buy the bonds. Have you ever declared accrued interest from your savings bonds on your federal tax return?	Oh, no, never.
Well, did you redeem any bonds, or did any of them mature during this tax year?	No to both questions. I've been buying them for 15 years and they don't become fully mature for 30 years.
Okay, then it sounds like your only interest income is from the savings account.

How do I handle dividends?

The corporate distributions that volunteer tax preparers may handle are:

- · Ordinary dividends
- · Qualified dividends
- · Capital gain distributions
- · Nondividend distributions

These are all found on Form 1099-DIV.

If the FATCA (Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act) filing requirement box is checked on Forms 1099-INT, 1099-DIV, or other income reporting document, the taxpayer may have a FATCA filing requirement. Refer these taxpayers to a professional tax preparer.

What are ordinary dividends?

Ordinary dividends are corporate distributions paid out of the earnings and profits of the corporation. Any dividend received on common or preferred stock is an ordinary dividend unless the paying corporation states otherwise. Total ordinary dividends are reported on Form 1099-DIV.

example

Olivia held both common stock and preferred stock in several U.S. corporations. Several of them paid dividends during the tax year. The following January, she received Forms 1099-DIV listing these as ordinary dividends.

What are qualified dividends?

Qualified dividends are ordinary dividends that qualify for lower, long-term capital gains tax rates. See Publication 17, Dividends and Other Distributions, for a detailed definition of qualified dividends.

Taxpayers who have questions about why a dividend is qualified or not qualified should contact the company that issued the dividend.

What are capital gain distributions?

Capital gain distributions are also called capital gain dividends. They come from mutual funds and real estate investment trusts (REITs). They are taxed at the lower long-term capital gains rate, regardless of how long the taxpayer holds the shares. Capital gain distributions are reported to the taxpayer on Form 1099-DIV. The taxpayer reports these distributions as long-term capital gains on Form 1040, line 13, and on Schedule D if required.

Capital gains are not the same as capital gain distributions. A capital gain distribution is the owner's portion of the capital gains that were realized when the mutual fund or REIT sold assets. A volunteer with a Basic certification can prepare a return with this type of income.

A capital gain occurs when the owner of a mutual fund or other capital asset sells the asset for more than its cost. A volunteer must have Advanced certification to prepare a return for taxpayers who actually sold mutual fund shares, or other shares of stock.

What are nondividend distributions?

Form 1099-DIV also shows nondividend distributions, part of a distribution that is nontaxable because it is a return of the taxpayer's cost or other basis. Taxpayers should keep this information with their tax records in order to calculate the adjusted basis of the stock when it is sold.

Where do I get dividend information?

Most corporations use Form 1099-DIV to report dividend distributions to each shareholder. Ask the taxpayer for any Form(s) 1099-DIV. If the taxpayers did not receive a Form 1099-DIV for a dividend, ask if they received the information on their annual brokerage statement.

example

During the tax year, Olivia owned shares in a mutual fund and in a real estate investment trust. Both made capital gain distributions that year. The following January, she received Forms 1099-DIV listing these capital gain distributions.

How do I report dividend information?

Generally, all dividend income is reported on Form 1040, lines 9a and 9b. Schedule B may be needed if the taxpayer's ordinary dividends exceed a specified amount, or if the taxpayer was the nominee for dividends that actually belong to someone else. On Form 1099-DIV, amounts included in boxes labeled Unrecap. Sec. 1250 gain, Section 1202 gain, Cash liquidation distributions, and Noncash liquidation distributions are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs. Refer taxpayers with amounts in these boxes to a professional tax preparer.

Any federal income tax withheld is reported in the Payments section of the return. Investment expenses will be covered later in the Itemized Deductions lesson. Foreign tax paid will be covered in the Foreign Tax Credit lesson.

Tax Software Hint: In the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, use Dividend Statement for Schedule B for guidance for entering dividend income. If the taxpayer has multiple accounts, the software adds all the dividends for you, preventing math errors. Accurate use of the worksheet ensures the income will be taxed correctly and that other entries from Form 1099-DIV will be distributed to the proper locations on the return.

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Leonard and Gloria are filing a joint return. Leonard and the volunteer are discussing dividend income.

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	LEONARD RESPONDS
Do you and your wife own shares of stock, mutual funds, or bond funds?	Yes, I have an IRA and I own shares in several mutual funds and a bond fund. My wife has an IRA. Here are the statements.
The earnings on the IRAs are tax deferred until you take a distribution. These 1099-DIVs are what we want right now. Are these the only Forms 1099-DIV that you received?	Yes
We will enter the information from each of these on the Dividend Statement. It will add everything up and display it properly on your tax return.

What should be reported on Form 1040, line 10?

Taxpayers who receive a refund of state or local income taxes may receive Form 1099-G listing their refund amount(s). Not everyone must include the refund in their taxable income.

- Taxpayers who claimed the standard deduction on the tax return for the year they received a refund of state or local income taxes do not have to include the refund in their taxable income.
- Taxpayers who itemized deductions and received a state or local refund may have to include all, part, or none of the refund in their federal taxable income.

Refer taxpayers who received a state or local income tax refund for a year other than the previous tax year to a professional tax preparer.

Only taxpayers who itemized and received a federal income tax benefit for deducting their state or local income taxes have to include their state/local tax refunds in income. If they itemized and deducted the state sales tax instead of the state income tax withheld, none of the refund is taxable.

example

Nancy itemized her deductions on last year's federal return. She included the income taxes paid to her state on Schedule A. During the current tax year, she received a state refund on the overpaid portion of those taxes. When filing her current year tax return, she must use the state tax refund worksheet to see how much of the refund to include in her federal taxable income.

Tax Software Hint: Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, for guidance on entering the state tax refund received in a prior year. The software calculates the taxable part of the refund (if any) and enters the amount on Form 1040, line 10.

What is alimony?

Alimony is a payment to or for a spouse or former spouse under a separation or divorce instrument. It may include payments on behalf of the spouse or former spouse, such as medical bills, housing costs, and other expenses. It does not include child support or voluntary payments outside the instrument. The person receiving alimony must include it as income. The person paying alimony can subtract it as an adjustment to income. This will be discussed in a later lesson.

If the taxpayer is unsure whether a payment is alimony or child support, ask if the payments will stop once the child is grown.

Where do I get alimony information?

Ask if the taxpayer received alimony under a divorce or separation instrument. If so, explain that you need the exact amount, since it may also be reported as a deduction by the taxpayer, and the two amounts must agree.

How do I report alimony income?

Tax Software Hint: On Form 1040, line 11, enter the alimony amount. There is no worksheet for reporting alimony income, and the Social Security number of the person paying the alimony is not needed.

This training covers alimony paid under a divorce or separation instrument executed after 1984. Other rules apply to agreements executed before 1985. If the agreement was executed before 1985, refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer.

Summary

This lesson covered income reported on Form 1040, lines 7–11, including how to differentiate taxable and nontaxable income, and earned or unearned income.

- Earned income is any income received for work, such as wages or business/self-employment income.
- Unearned income is any income produced by investments, such as interest on savings, dividends on stocks, or rental income.
- Form 1040, line 7 income includes wages, salaries, tips, and scholarships, generally reported to the taxpayer on Form W-2.
- Common sources of taxable interest income are checking and savings accounts, certificates of deposit (CDs), savings certificates, or U.S. government bonds. This interest is reported by the payer on Form 1099-INT and included in the taxpayer's income on Form 1040, line 8.
- Interest on certain bonds, such as from state political subdivisions, District of Columbia, or port authorities, are exempt from federal income tax but must be reported on Form 1040, line 8b.
- Lines 9a and 9b on Form 1040 are for reporting ordinary and qualified dividends. Dividends are reported to the taxpayer on Form 1099-DIV. Ordinary dividends are corporate distributions paid out of the earnings and profits of a corporation. Qualified dividends are ordinary dividends that qualify for lower, longterm capital gains tax rates. Capital gain distributions are reported on Form 1040, line 13, and Schedule D, if required.
- Form 1040, line 10 is for taxpayers who received a state or local income tax refund. Taxpayers who itemized deductions in the previous year and received a tax benefit from deducting state or local income taxes may have to report part or all of their refund as income. Taxpayers generally receive Form 1099-G reporting their state or local tax refund.
- Alimony is income received from a spouse or former spouse under a separation or divorce instrument. It is reported on Form 1040, line 11.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following are out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

- Taxpayers with income from the following sources reported on Form 1040:
 - Other gains/losses (line 14)
 - Farm income (line 18)
- Taxpayers affected by the Additional Medicare Tax
- Certain children with unearned income who must file Form 8615
- · Accrual method for reporting income
- Taxpayers who buy or sell bonds between interest payment dates
- Form 1099-INT, box labeled Specified private activity bond interest if AMT applies
- Adjustments needed for any of the amounts listed on Form 1099-OID, or if the taxpayer should have received Form 1099-OID but did not receive one
- Form 1099-DIV, boxes labeled Unrecap. Sec. 1250 gain, Section 1202 gain, Cash liquidation distributions, and Noncash liquidation distributions
- State or local income tax refunds received during the current tax year for a year other than the previous tax year
- Alimony/divorce agreements executed before 1985
- Tax returns for ministers and members of the clergy because of unique tax issues

Notes

Income - Business; Form 1040, Line 12

Introduction

This lesson will help you prepare an accurate return for taxpayers who have business income, including self-employment income. Form 1040, line 12, is used to report income from a business or profession operated as a sole proprietor or independent contractor.

Preparation of tax returns with Schedule C are in scope for VITA/TCE under certain limited conditions and with expenses of $25,000 or less.

This lesson covers recordkeeping requirements for taxpayers with business income and expenses. Refer to Publication 583, Starting a Business and Keeping Records, for more information. You will learn how business income affects eligibility for certain tax credits.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- · Determine how to report business income
- · Determine when to complete Schedule C-EZ or C
- Determine what business expenses are within the scope for the VITA/ TCE programs
- Identify "red flags" when preparing a Schedule C return with earned income credit (EIC)
- Determine what records to maintain

Where do I get business income information?

Business income information may come from the following:

- Forms 1099-MISC, Miscellaneous Income, box 7, Nonemployee Compensation
- Forms W-2, Wage and Tax Statement with Statutory Employee checked in box 13
- Taxpayer's books and records
- Forms 1099-K, Merchant Card and Third Party Payments

Based on your interview and the completion of the taxpayer's intake and interview sheet, you may discover that the taxpayer or spouse had business income from being self-employed or working as an independent contractor. Taxpayers are self-employed if they carry on an unincorporated trade or business as a sole proprietor or independent contractor. These taxpayers may not have income statements for their business income and expenses. The information to prepare their tax return comes from their records.

Carefully review the intake and interview sheet and ask follow-up questions to determine if the taxpayer or spouse had business income. Taxpayers may not think of themselves as "self-employed" if they have a small home business or work part-time as an independent contractor.

- □ Form 1099-MISC
- □ Schedule C
- □ Schedule C Instructions
- □ Schedule C-EZ
- □ Schedule SE

- □ Publication 583
- □ Form 1099-K
- □ Form 1099-K Instructions

Cash Income

Some taxpayers may indicate that they received cash income for selfemployment activity. This income must be reported, unless excluded by law.

If taxpayers do not have adequate records of the cash income they received, you may be able to assist them with simple record reconstruction. See the section on reconstructing records later in this lesson.

Income received from all sources in a self-employed taxpayer's business must be reported, unless excluded by law

Form 1099-MISC, Miscellaneous Income

Taxpayers who are independent contractors should receive Form 1099-MISC showing the income they earned from payers who are required to file Forms 1099. The amount from Form(s) 1099-MISC, along with any other business income payments, are reported on their tax return.

A taxpayer does not have to conduct regular full-time business activities to be self-employed. Having a part-time business in addition to a regular job or business may be self-employment. Ask for any Form(s) 1099-MISC that document this income. Subcontractors or individuals who receive less than $600 may not receive Form 1099-MISC, but still must report all cash income. Also ask for documentation of any business income that was not reported on Form W-2 or Form 1099-MISC (e.g., payments received from individual clients who do not need to file Form 1099).

example

Tim works as an independent contractor for ABC Construction Company. The company sent Tim a Form 1099-MISC that shows he received $15,000 for the work he did for them. He also received cash payments of $4,000 from several different individuals for the work he completed. He did not receive Forms 1099-MISC for the $4,000. Tim must include the $4,000 cash payments as self-employment income along with the $15,000 from Form 1099-MISC.

Qualified Medicaid Waiver Payments

Qualified Medicaid waiver payments are treated as difficulty of care payments and are excludable from gross income. Medicaid payments for in-home care are classified as Medicaid waiver payments when the care provider and the care recipient reside in the same home.

If the taxpayer received payments described in Notice 2014-7 on or after January 3, 2014, that are excludable from gross income as difficulty of care payments, then the taxpayer must exclude the income under section 131 as provided in Notice 2014-7 for 2014 and later years.

When the care provider and the care recipient do not live together in the same home, the Medicaid payments are fully taxable.

Excluded Medicaid waiver payments are not earned income for the earned income credit, for the dependent care credit, nor the additional child tax credit.

The taxpayer may file a Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, if they received payments described in Notice 2014-7 in an earlier year if the time for claiming a credit or refund is still open. Generally, for a credit or refund, the taxpayer must file Form 1040X within three years (including extensions) after the date the taxpayer filed their original return or within two years after the date they paid the tax, whichever is later.

In Part III of Form 1040X, the taxpayer should explain that the payments are excludable under Notice 2014-7. Excluding payments described in the notice in an earlier year may affect deductions or credits that were claimed for the earlier year, as well as other tax items for the earlier year.

For more information, go to irs.gov and search for Certain Medicaid Waiver Payments.

How is business income reported?

Form 1040

Form 1040, line 12, is used to report income from a business operated or a profession practiced as a sole proprietor. Schedule C-EZ or Schedule C shows the income and expenses and the net amount is carried to Form 1040, line 12. An activity qualifies as a business if the primary purpose for engaging in the activity is for income or profit and the taxpayer is involved in the activity with continuity and regularity. For example, a sporadic activity or a hobby does not qualify as a business. A hobby is an activity typically undertaken for pleasure during leisure time.

To report income from an activity not for profit, see the instructions for Form 1040, line 21, and Publication 17, Other Income. This topic is out of scope. Refer any taxpayers with not-for-profit activity to a professional tax preparer.

Form 1040, line 12, is also used to report wages and expenses the taxpayer had as a statutory employee or certain income shown on Form 1099-MISC, Miscellaneous Income.

Some employers misclassify workers as independent contractors and report their earnings on Form 1099-MISC. Taxpayers who believe they have been misclassified should contact the IRS and ask for help.

Schedule C-EZ and Schedule C

Business income is reported on either:

- · Schedule C-EZ, Net Profit From Business, or
- · Schedule C, Profit or Loss From Business

If preparing Schedule C, Part I, the following are out of scope for VITA/TCE programs: return and allowances, cost of goods sold (involves inventory), and other income. Taxpayers with these items should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

Figure the net profit or loss by subtracting the business expenses from business income. The total profit or loss is then transferred to Form 1040, line 12.

The net profit or loss will be reported on Form 1040, line 12. The net profit will also need to be shown on Schedule SE in order to calculate the self-employment tax. Schedule SE will be covered in a later lesson.

Volunteer tax preparers who have Advanced certification can assist with preparation of Schedule C-EZ and the limited Schedule C.

Tax Software Hint: The tax software calculates net profit after income and expense entries are made. Next, the software transfers the net profit to the applicable line on Schedule SE to compute the self-employment tax. Amounts are then transferred to the applicable lines of Form 1040.

The following terms are used in the preparation of business returns:

Definition of Terms
Business expenses	Business expenses are amounts that are ordinary and necessary to carry on the business.
Cash method of accounting	The cash method of accounting reports all income when received and deducts all expenses when paid.
Inventory	Inventory is the items the taxpayer buys or makes for resale to others.
Depreciation	The cost of items that are expected to last more than a year should be spread over a period of years rather than deducted in the year of purchase. If the taxpayers have such a cost, they should be referred to a professional tax preparer.
Asset write-off	An election is available to immediately write off qualifying assets. Taxpayers who wish to write off assets should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

Who can use Schedule C-EZ?

There are a number of conditions taxpayers must meet in order to use Schedule C-EZ. Taxpayers can use Schedule C-EZ only if they:

- · Have less than $5,000 in business expenses
- · Use the cash method of accounting
- · Have no inventory at any time during the year
- · Did not have a net loss from the business
- Operate only one business as a sole proprietor during the tax year (each spouse on a joint return may use a separate Schedule C-EZ to report business income from separately owned sole-proprietor businesses if other conditions for filing Schedule C-EZ are met)
- · Have no employees during the year
- Are not required to file Form 4562, Depreciation and Amortization, for this business (depreciation and asset write-offs are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs)
- Do not deduct expenses for business use of a home
- Do not have prior year unallowed passive activity losses from this business

In the interview, if you discover taxpayers have issues that fall outside the scope of the VITA/TCE programs, refer them to a professional tax preparer.

Who can use Schedule C for purposes of the VITA/TCE programs?

Volunteers can assist taxpayers who have returns that require Schedule C with certain limits. Use the same criteria as Schedule C-EZ, except taxpayers can have expenses up to $25,000, and more than one Schedule C can be prepared if the taxpayers have more than one business. If taxpayers have a Schedule C that falls outside these parameters, refer them to a professional tax preparer.

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

As you review the intake and interview sheet with taxpayers, ask questions to determine if they have any self-employment income, their accounting method, and their business expenses, as shown in this sample interview:

SAMPLE	NTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	JASON RESPONDS
What kind of business do you have and were you the sole owner?	I install air conditioners and yes, I own the business myself. No partners or employees.
Do you have a record of your business income and expenses for last year?	Yeah, I've got a separate checking account for my business. I had a pretty decent first year actually.
Do you use the cash method of accounting? And what were your expenses?	Yes. I have a printout of my year-end summary here. Well, I do the installations myself; I spend a lot of money on parts, tools that last less than a year, and equipment repairs. My expenses for the year were $2,212.
Do you keep any parts in inventory?	No, I purchase the parts when an order is placed with me.
And you say you had a good year? In other words, did you make a profit?	That's correct.
Did you use part of your home for your business?	No, I don't.
Okay, and how much business income did you have? [On page 2 of the intake and interview sheet, indicate Jason's responses to these questions.]	My gross totaled $30,762.

EXERCISE

Question 1: Based on the information in the sample interview, does Jason qualify to fill out a Schedule C-EZ? ☐ Yes ☐ No

How do you clarify taxpayers' business income and expenses?

All IRS-certified volunteers must exercise due diligence when preparing tax returns. Due diligence means doing your part to ensure tax returns are correct.

This means, as a volunteer, you must do your part when preparing or reviewing a tax return to ensure the information on the return is correct and complete. Generally you can rely in good faith on information from a taxpayer without requiring documentation as verification.

However, when preparing a tax return with a Schedule C/C-EZ and the earned income credit (EIC), take additional steps to determine that the net self-employment income used to calculate the amount of, or eligibility for, EIC is correct and complete. Additional clarification or inquiries should be made if the information furnished by the taxpayer appears to be incorrect, incomplete, or inconsistent. Taxpayers sometimes want to over report or under report their income to qualify for or maximize the amount of EIC.

Ask sufficient questions of taxpayers claiming self-employment income to be satisfied that:

- The taxpayer actually conducts a business
- The taxpayer has records to support income and expenses, or can reasonably reconstruct income and expenses records
- All income and related expenses have been included on the taxpayer's Schedule C/C-EZ

Emphasize to taxpayers that in the event of an IRS audit, they would need to provide receipts to support their figures.

What Schedule C situations raise a "red flag"?

As a volunteer preparing a tax return with Schedule C/C-EZ, watch for examples of incorrect, incomplete, or inconsistent information, such as:

- · Schedule C/C-EZ income in round numbers
- · Schedule C/C-EZ cash businesses as the only income on a return claiming EIC
- · Schedule C/C-EZ with little or no expenses when expenses would be expected
- Schedule C/C-EZ taxpayers with little or no records for income and expenses
- Any Schedule C/C-EZ income that brings the taxpayer to the maximum EIC
- Schedule C/C-EZ without a Form 1099

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

A taxpayer, Dana, comes in to have her tax return prepared. She tells you she runs her own babysitting business and wants to claim the EIC.

To assist the taxpayer in completing an accurate return, you need to ask more questions to determine if Dana did incur allowable business expenses and that the income she reported is correct.

SAMPLE INTE	ERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	DANA RESPONDS
Tell me about your business, and were you the sole owner?	I have a babysitting service that I handle all by myself.
Do you have a record of your business income and expenses for last year?	Well, I'm not very good at keeping records, but I can tell you that I made $14,000 over the course of the year. I didn't have any expenses.
How did you determine that you made a net profit of $14,000?	I based my income on deposits to my checking account.
I see. We may be able to reconstruct your business income based on your deposits. Did you bring any bank statements or your checkbook record with you today?	No, I'm sorry.
How many children did you care for, and was this a full-time or part-time job for you?	Babysitting is just part-time. I watch several of my neighbors' children along with my own kids who are 8 and 10 years old.
What is your fee for babysitting?	It averages about $10 an hour.
Do you have a calendar or schedule of the children present each day?	No, but I may be able to come up with one.
Do you have a business license or permit, and do you watch the children in your own home or in a daycare facility or in the client's home?	My home and sometimes at my neighbors' homes. I don't need a permit.
Do you buy any supplies such as food, diapers, toys, or other items necessary for the business?	Sometimes I need to buy supplies. But I didn't bring receipts with me.

Did you intend to deduct expenses for the business use of your home?	No, I don't think so.
Be aware that the IRS requires that you report all income and allowable expenses on your tax return. In the event of an IRS audit, you will be responsible for providing support for the income and expenses claimed on your return. Before we can proceed, you'll need to gather some additional facts and records. I'll write down a list of items that could help us more accurately calculate your net profit from your business.	OK – thanks. I'll see what I can pull together.

The information provided by the taxpayer appears to be both inconsistent and incomplete, because it is unlikely that someone who operates this type of business:

- 1. Has no business expense. Most businesses have expenses, even if it is just a few dollars here and there.
- 2. Has annual gross receipts from the business that are an exact round dollar amount, and that amount maximizes EIC.

The volunteer cannot complete a return based on information provided, but gives Dana the chance to gather materials to document her business.

What business expenses are within scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

Taxpayers deduct the costs of running their business. These costs are known as business expenses. To be deductible, a business expense must be both ordinary and necessary. An ordinary expense is one that is common and accepted in the taxpayer's industry. A necessary expense is one that is helpful and appropriate for the taxpayer's trade or business. All ordinary and necessary expenses incurred in a self-employed taxpayer's business must be reported. See the Instructions for Schedule C for more detailed information on deductible business expenses. Examples of these expenses include the following:

Advertising

Advertising expenses are the costs associated with promoting the business through various means including yellow pages, newspapers, magazines, billboards, racing sponsors, and television spots.

Every self-employed taxpayer must claim all allowable deductions in computing net earnings from self-employment.

Car and Truck Expenses

A taxpayer who uses a car or truck in a business may be able to deduct the costs of operating and maintaining the vehicle. Vehicle expenses can be calculated using actual expenses or the standard mileage rate. Actual expenses include depreciation. The calculation of depreciation is outside the scope of the VITA/TCE programs. If the taxpayers have used actual expenses in the past, or wish to use actual expenses in the current year, they must be referred to a professional tax preparer.

For the standard mileage deduction, the current standard mileage rate is multiplied by the number of business miles. Only parking and tolls can be added to this deduction. Commuting and other personal automobile expenses should not be included in this amount.

example

Wendy is a self-employed masseuse and does not maintain an office in her home. She does neck massages for office workers and travels to three office buildings each work day. It is 10 miles from home to the first office and 5 miles from the last office back home. These 15 miles are commuting miles and, therefore, not deductible. The 13 miles Wendy drives from the first office to the second office and 5 miles from the second office to the third office are deductible. Of the 33 miles driven each work day, 18 miles are deductible.

Commissions and Fees

Commissions or fees are paid to both individuals and businesses. If payments to a single individual are $600 or more, the taxpayer must report the payments on Form 1099-MISC. In this case the taxpayers' return is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs.

Insurance

Insurance policies and coverage are deductible for the business operation. This includes property, automobile (business vehicles only), and malpractice.

If the standard mileage rate is used, no deduction is allowed for automobile insurance premiums.

Health insurance for the sole proprietor and his or her family is not deductible as a business expense. These medical premiums may be deducted on Form 1040 as an adjustment to gross income, subject to qualifications. However, the adjustment to gross income deduction on Form 1040 is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs.

Other Interest

This category can include interest paid on operating loans, but not mortgage interest.

Legal and Professional Services

Expenses included on this line are fees paid to professionals, such as attorneys, accountants, appraisers, and engineers.

Legal fees paid to acquire business assets are not deductible. These costs are added to the basis of the property. Some accountant fees and attorney fees may be for personal services (e.g., tax returns, wills, or estates) and are not deductible as business expenses.

Office Expense

Office expense generally includes supplies such as pens, paper, and postage.

Rent or Lease – Vehicle, Machinery, and Equipment

This category includes rental fees for cars, trucks, vans, machinery, equipment, and other personal property. Leases of more than 30 days are out of scope.

Repairs and Maintenance

Repairs on equipment, automobiles, office space, and buildings are some possible expenditures reflected in this category. Expenses that should not be reflected are:

- Capital equipment that is improperly expensed (see Cost Recovery in Publication 535).
- · Repairs that substantially improve a facility or equipment that should be capitalized.

Supplies

Supplies expense includes costs for general operating supplies not associated with the cost of goods sold.

Taxes and Licenses

Taxpayers can deduct taxes and license fees paid in the operation of their business. Examples include:

- State and local sales taxes imposed on the taxpayer as the seller of goods or services
- Real estate and personal property taxes on business assets
- Certain licenses and regulatory fees

Travel/Meals and Entertainment

Travel expenses are the ordinary and necessary expenses of traveling away from home for business. Examples of deductible travel, meal, and entertainment expenses are in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Deductions tab.

Utilities

Utilities typically consist of normal electric, gas, water, and telephone expenses for the business. The base rate of the first telephone line to a residence cannot be deducted, but additional costs incurred for business purposes can be included as an expense. There should be no deduction for personal expenses in this category.

example

Kiana runs a small business from her home. She has only one phone line and frequently makes longdistance calls for business. The cost of the phone line cannot be deducted, but Kiana can deduct the long-distance charges for her business calls.

Other Expenses

Taxpayers may also be able to deduct other ordinary and necessary business expenses not deducted elsewhere on Schedule C. See Form Schedule C Instructions (Part V - Other Expenses) and Publication 535 for more information.

How do I complete Schedule C-EZ?

Part I: General Information

Enter the type of business and the Principal Business Code. A list of Principal Business Codes can be found in Schedule C Instructions and in Form 1040 Instructions.

Tax Software Hint: To find Principal Business Codes, bring up the Help screen while in Schedule C-EZ. A list is available under Business Codes.

Enter the business name, if there is one. If the business has an Employer Identification Number (EIN), enter it (most Schedule C-EZ businesses do not need an EIN, since they do not have employees). If the business has an address that is different from the one shown on Form 1040, enter it.

Check "Yes" or "No" box for the question, "Did the business make any payments in the current tax year that would require filing of Form(s) 1099?"

If the answer is Yes, did or will the business file required Forms 1099? Check "Yes" or "No" box.

In general, taxpayers who seek assistance through the VITA/TCE programs may be required to file Form 1099-MISC for payments in the amount of $600 or more for services performed for a trade or business by people not treated as its employees. An example is for subcontractors who are nonemployees. For a complete listing of Forms 1099 and the requirements for issuance, refer to the chart in the Form 1099 General Instructions.

If the taxpayer responds Yes to making payments that would require the filing of Form(s) 1099, the income tax return and any related Form 1099 preparation are both out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs. The Form 1040 must still be referred to a professional tax preparer even if taxpayers indicate they have already filed the Forms 1099.

Part II: Figure Net Profit

Enter on line 1 the amount for gross receipts or sales.

If this income was reported to the taxpayer on Form W-2 and the "Statutory Employee" box on that form is checked, see Schedule C-EZ Instructions before completing this line.

Tax Software Hint: Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, for guidance on entering income reported on Form 1099-MISC and other payments received that are not reported on Form 1099-MISC.

Enter on line 2 the total amount of all deductible business expenses that the taxpayer actually paid during the year. Only the portion of these costs that are attributable to the business can be deducted as a business expense.

Examples of deductible business expenses include advertising, car and truck expenses, commissions and fees, insurance, interest, legal and professional services, office expenses, rent or lease expenses, repairs and maintenance, tools that last less than a year, supplies, taxes, travel, the allowable percentage of business meals and entertainment, and utilities. The base rate of the first telephone line to a residence cannot be deducted, but additional costs incurred for business purposes can be included as an expense.

For earned income credit and self-employment tax purposes, the taxpayer must include all allowable deductions in computing net earnings.

Tax Software Hint: Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, for guidance on entering expenses on the Schedule C-EZ. The tax software will total all the expenses and transfer the amount to line 2.

Part III: Information on Vehicles

If the taxpayer had business expenses for a car or truck, complete the questions in Part III. Business miles do not include commuting miles between home and the business location or between business and lunch locations. Business miles do include travel between home and a temporary workplace when the taxpayer has one or more regular places of work. If the taxpayer has no regular place of work, only the travel from one temporary place to another is counted. See the Volunteer Resource Guide, Deductions tab, and Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment, Gift, and Car Expenses for more details.

Vehicle expenses can be calculated using actual expenses or the standard mileage rate. Actual expenses include depreciation, which is outside the scope of the VITA/TCE programs. If the taxpayer has used actual expenses in the past, or wishes to use actual expenses in the current year, refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer.

The standard mileage rate is multiplied by the number of business miles to calculate the vehicle expense.

Add the total vehicle expenses to all nonvehicle expenses in line 2. The standard mileage rate represents all vehicle expenses; taxpayers may add only such fees as parking or tolls.

Complete the information in Schedule C-EZ, Part III.

How do I complete Schedule C?

Generally the same business expenses are deductible on both Schedule C and C-EZ. The expenses are totaled and included on one line on Schedule C-EZ, whereas on Schedule C, the business expenses are broken down by category.

General Information Section

Complete lines A-J.

- · Enter the type of business.
- Enter the Principal Business Code. A list of Principal Business Codes can be found in Schedule C Instructions and in Form 1040 Instructions.
- Enter the business name, if no separate name, leave blank.
- Employer ID Number (EIN), if any.
- · Enter the business address.
- Check accounting method. (Only cash method is in scope for the VITA/TCE programs; if taxpayers use another method, refer them to a professional tax preparer.)
- Check "Yes" or "No" box for: Did the taxpayer "materially participate" in the operation of the business?
 - In general, the taxpayer materially participates if based on all the facts and circumstances, the taxpayer participated in the activity on a regular, continuous, and substantial basis during the year.
 See Schedule C Instructions for specific tests to determine if the taxpayer meets the requirements for material participation.
 - If the taxpayer meets one of the tests for material participation, check the "Yes" box, otherwise the answer is "No." If there is uncertainty about the taxpayer materially participating in the business, refer them to a professional tax preparer.
- Check the box if business was started or acquired during the tax year.
- Check "Yes" or "No" box for: Did the business make any payments in the tax year that would require filing of Form(s) 1099?
- If Yes, did or will the business file required Forms 1099? Check "Yes" or "No" box.

In general, taxpayers who seek assistance through the VITA/TCE programs may be required to file Form 1099-MISC for payments in the amount of $600 or more for services performed for a trade or business by people not treated as its employees. An example is for subcontractors who are nonemployees. For a complete listing of Forms 1099 and the requirements for issuance, refer to the chart in the General Form 1099 Instructions.

If the taxpayer responds Yes to making payments that would require the filing of Form(s) 1099, the income tax return and any related Form 1099 preparation are both out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs. The Form 1040 must still be referred to a professional tax preparer even if the taxpayer indicates they have already filed the Forms 1099.

Part I: Income

Enter on line 1 the amount for gross receipts from the taxpayer's trade or business. If the income was reported on Form W-2 and the "Statutory Employee" box on that form is checked, see Schedule C Instructions before completing this line.

CAUTION

Determine if the taxpayer received business income that was not reported on Form 1099-MISC. For example, tips received by self-employed hair stylists or manicurists are to be included in gross receipts on Schedule C-EZ/C.

Statutory Employees

If the taxpayer received Form W-2 and "Statutory employee" was checked in box 13, report the income and expenses related to that income on Schedule C or C-EZ. Enter the statutory employee income from Form W-2, box 1, on line 1 of Schedule C or C-EZ. Social security and Medicare taxes should have been withheld from the earnings; therefore, the taxpayer does not owe self-employment tax on these earnings. Statutory employees include full-time life insurance agents, certain agent or commission drivers, traveling salespersons, and certain home workers.

Self-employment income and statutory employee income cannot be reported on the same Schedule C. The taxpayer must file two separate Schedules C.

Tax Software Hint: If the taxpayer has a Form W-2 with the "Statutory employee" box checked, be sure to follow the guidance for the applicable line of Schedule C or C-EZ. This income is not subject to self-employment tax since Social Security and Medicare taxes have already been withheld.

Part II: Expenses

On Schedule C there is a separate line for the most common expenses that are incurred in a business. Review the taxpayer's information to determine if the expenses are ordinary and necessary.

Part III: Cost of Goods Sold

This relates to inventory and is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs.

Part IV: Information on Your Vehicle

This includes information for claiming the standard mileage rate for vehicle expenses.

Part V: Other Expenses

This includes all ordinary and necessary expenses not deducted elsewhere on Schedule C.

Tax Software Hint: Since net losses are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs, the "Worksheet for Some Investment is Not at Risk" is not applicable.

Question 2: Daniel has his own business. He received Form 1099-MISC for $13,000 for work he completed as an independent contractor. He also received cash payments that total $2,500 for other jobs he completed for different individuals. Must Daniel report the cash payments of $2,500 on his return? ☐ Yes ☐ No Question 3: Ellen has a small business. The gross income from her business is $40,000, her business expenses total $11,500, and she must file a Schedule C. Is Ellen's tax return in scope for the VITA/TCE programs? \Box Yes \Box No

Recordkeeping

Why keep records?

Everyone in business must keep records. See the Volunteer Resource Guide, Deductions tab, for a table on recordkeeping. Good records will help the taxpayer do the following:

- · Monitor the progress of their business
- · Prepare their financial statements
- · Identify source of receipts
- Keep track of deductible expenses
- · Prepare tax returns
- · Support items reported on tax returns

Kinds of records to keep

Except in a few cases, the law does not require any specific kind of records. Taxpayers can choose any recordkeeping system suited to their business that clearly shows their income and expenses.

The recordkeeping system should include a summary of business transactions. This summary is usually made in the taxpayers' books (for example, accounting journals and ledgers). The books must show the gross income, as well as the deductions and credits. For most small businesses, the business checkbook is the main source for entries in the business books. In addition, supporting documents must be kept.

Supporting documents

Purchases, sales, payroll, and other transactions in the business generate supporting documents. Supporting documents include sales slips, paid bills, invoices, receipts, deposit slips, and canceled checks.

These documents contain information that must be recorded in the books.

It is important to keep these documents in an orderly fashion and in a safe place because they support the entries in the books and on the tax return. For instance, organize them by year and type of income or expense.

When a business involves the use of a vehicle, a mileage log would be a supporting document.

Reconstructing records

Make adequate inquiries to be satisfied that the taxpayer is carrying on a business and that the income and expenses reported on the tax return are substantially correct and complete.

You may help a taxpayer with simple record reconstruction. Assisting the taxpayer in reconstruction will help teach the taxpayer about recordkeeping. Extensive record reconstruction should be performed by the taxpayer or a paid preparer. If you are not satisfied with the accuracy of the reconstructed records, you have the right to decline to prepare the return. See your Site Coordinator for guidance.

The goal of record reconstruction is to use available documentation to develop a sound and reasonable estimate of the taxpayer's business income and expenses to support the Schedule C prepared. When reconstructing records, you can use such tools as:

- · Appointment books or calendars
- Online map tools
- IRS standard allowances
- Checkbooks
- · Canceled checks

- · Bank or credit card statements
- · Lists of regular clients
- · Partial receipts or sales tax records
- · Cell phone records, call history, or computer logs
- · Prior year returns

How long to keep records

Generally, taxpayers must keep records that support income or deductions on a return until the period of limitations for that return runs out.

The period of limitations is the time in which a taxpayer can amend a return to claim a credit or refund, or the IRS can assess additional tax. For more information on recordkeeping see Publication 583.

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Remember our taxpayer, Dana, with a babysitting business? She said she made $14,000 in net profit from her business, and wants to claim the EIC. After careful interviewing, the volunteer has determined the return cannot be completed without record reconstruction. The volunteer asked Dana to go home and return with some documentation to support her claims.

Based on the taxpayer's materials and additional questions, you can determine if Dana should be claiming expenses for the business use of her home. If so, refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer.

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	DANA RESPONDS
Nice to see you again, and I see you have some additional materials. What kind of documentation were you able to put together?	As you suggested, I completed a calendar that shows the number of children that I cared for on each date.
That sounds great. First, let's multiple the number of children that you cared for by the corresponding charged rate to confirm your income figure. Did you also bring documents to support your business expenses? OK, then we'll calculate a reasonable estimate of expenses incurred.	Yes, I have some grocery store receipts, canceled checks, bank statements, and credit card statements. I have highlighted the regular purchases I made for my business. Good. I'm sure my first estimate of $14,000 business income is not accurate after all. I appreciate learning what I need to do to keep

What about self-employment tax?

A taxpayer must file Schedule SE if he or she has net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more. The tax is computed on Schedule SE and transferred to Form 1040, to be added to other taxes owed. The Schedule SE is attached to Form 1040, and discussed in the Other Taxes lesson.

Self-employed taxpayers may claim an adjustment to income for part of their Social Security and Medicare taxes.

Tax Software Hint: Self employment tax and the deductible part of self-employment tax are automatically calculated. The software then enters these amounts on applicable lines of Form 1040.

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

To gain a better understanding of the tax law, complete the comprehensive problem or practice exercise(s) for your course of study in Publication 4491-W.

For practice using the tax preparation software, complete the scenarios using the Practice Lab on L<.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: Yes. Jason meets all requirements to qualify for completing Schedule C-EZ.

Answer 2: Yes. The cash payments must be included in Daniel's gross receipts the same as the $13,000 on Form 1099-MISC. Cash payments are compensation for his services and must be reported on his Schedule C-EZ or Schedule C.

Answer 3: Yes. Ellen's business expenses are under $25,000.

Notes

Income - Capital Gain or Loss; Form 1040, Line 13

Introduction

This lesson will help you assist taxpayers who must use Form 8949, Sales and Other Dispositions of Capital Assets, in conjunction with Form 1040, Schedule D, Capital Gains and Losses, to report capital gains and/or losses on the sale of assets. This lesson includes topics on the sale of stock, mutual funds, and the sale of a personal residence. If the taxpayers have sold any other assets, refer them to a professional tax preparer. This lesson will help you identify the asset's holding period, adjusted basis, net short-term and long-term capital gains or losses, the taxable gain or deductible loss, the tax liability, and the amount of any capital loss carryover.

The intake and interview sheet asks about income from the sale of property such as stock, bonds, or real estate. Ask taxpayers if they sold any stock, securities, other investment property, or a home during the tax year. It is important to ensure that all income is accurately reported on the return.

For additional information on the topics discussed in this lesson, see Publication 544, Sales and Other Dispositions of Assets, Publication 551, Basis of Assets, Publication 550, Investment Income and Expenses, and Publication 523, Selling Your Home.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- · Determine the adjusted basis of capital assets
- Determine if the asset's holding period is long-term or short-term
- Calculate the taxable gain or deductible loss from the sale of capital assets
- · Determine whether a home is the taxpayer's main home
- Determine if a taxpayer meets the ownership and use tests
- Determine when the 5-year ownership/use test period is suspended

What information must I have to report a capital gain or loss?

To report capital gain or loss, you will need to identify:

- · Basis and/or Adjusted Basis:
 - Basis is the original cost of the asset
 - Adjusted basis includes original cost plus any increases or decreases to that cost (such as commissions, fees, depreciation, deductible casualty losses, insurance reimbursements or major improvements)
 - Brokers must report cost or other basis on Form 1099-B, unless the securities sold were noncovered securities
 - Taxpayers must use codes to report if 1099-B was received, and whether or not it showed basis reported to the IRS
- · Holding period:
 - Short-term property is held one year or less
 - Long-term property is held more than one year
 - Long-term capital gains are taxed at a lower rate than short-term gains
 - Brokers must report whether the gain or loss is short-term or long-term on Form 1099-B, unless the securities sold were noncovered securities
- · Proceeds from the sale:
 - Form 1099-B reflects gross or net proceeds for a stock or mutual fund
 - Form 1099-S usually reflects gross proceeds of real estate transactions
 - Other evidence in the absence of the above

Taxpayers who have transactions using Bitcoins or other virtual currencies are out of scope.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, Schedule D, Capital Gain or Loss Transactions Worksheet.

What is the basis of stock?

Basis

In order to compute gain or loss on a sale, taxpayers must provide their basis in the sold property. The basis of property is usually its cost.

- If taxpayers need help determining their basis and do not have the original purchase documents, refer them to their stockbroker.
- If taxpayers cannot provide their basis in the property, the IRS will deem it to be zero.

Special rules apply to inherited property; these rules are covered in this lesson, in the topic, "Basis Other Than Cost." If the taxpayer acquired the stock by means other than a purchase or inheritance, such as a gift or an employee stock option plan (ESOP), and does not know the basis of the stock, refer them to a professional tax preparer. The determination of basis in these situations is beyond the scope of VITA/TCE.

Adjusted Basis

An adjustment to basis may include additional commissions or fees paid to the broker at the time of purchase or sale.

Stock is bought and sold in various quantities. It is important for the taxpayer to keep track of the basis per share of all stock bought and sold. Events that occur after the purchase of the stock can require adjustments (increases or decreases) to the "per share" basis of stock. The original basis per share can be changed by events such as stock dividends, stock splits, and DRIP (dividend reinvestment plan) accounts.

- Stock dividends are issued in lieu of cash dividends. These additional shares increase the taxpayer's ownership so the original basis is spread over more shares, which decreases the basis per share.
- A stock split is a method used by corporations to lower the market price of stock. A two for one stock split will decrease the basis per share by half. The original basis of $200 for 100 shares becomes $200 for 200 shares.
- DRIP accounts leave cash dividends with the company for the purchase of additional shares. Even though these shares are from the same company, they retain their own individual basis separate from the original purchase. Each new purchased share could have a different basis.

TIP

Although stock splits and stock dividends do not occur often, always ask taxpayers if they received any additional shares from these transactions.

Taxpayers should keep track of their basis in mutual fund shares.

- The original basis of mutual fund shares bought is usually their cost or purchase price. The purchase price usually includes any commissions or load charges paid for the purchase.
- The original cost basis of mutual fund shares acquired by reinvesting distributions is the amount of the distributions used to purchase each full or fractional share. This rule applies even if the distribution was an exempt-interest dividend that was not reported as income.
- The basis in mutual fund shares may need to be increased or reduced. For more information, refer to Publication 550.

example

Alice paid \$1,100 for 100 shares of ABC, Inc. stock (which included the broker's commission of \$25). The original basis per share was $$11 ($1,100 \div 100)$. She received 10 additional shares as a tax-free stock dividend. Her \$1,100 basis must be allocated to the 110 shares (100 original shares plus the 10-share stock dividend). This results in an adjusted basis of \$10 per share ($$1,100 \div 110$).

Basis Other than Cost

There are times when cost alone cannot be used as basis. In some cases, the fair market value (FMV) or adjusted basis is used.

- Property Received as a Gift To determine the basis of property received as a gift, taxpayers must know its adjusted basis to the donor just before it was given to the taxpayer. Taxpayers also need to know the FMV at the time of the donation and the amount of any gift tax paid on the donation. Determination of the adjusted basis of property received as a gift can be very complex and is beyond the scope of VITA/TCE.
- Inherited Property
 - Before 2010 and after 2010: the basis of property inherited during this time is generally the FMV of the property on the date of the decedent's death. However, this can vary if the personal representative of the estate elects to use an alternate valuation date or other acceptable method. If the taxpayer cannot provide the basis and holding period for the property, refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer.

– During 2010 (after December 31, 2009, and before January 1, 2011): special rules may apply to property inherited from a decedent who died in 2010. Determining the basis of such property can be complex. If the taxpayer cannot provide the basis and holding period for the property, refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer for determination of basis issues. For more information on the special rules, see Publication 4895, Tax Treatment of a Property Acquired from a Decedent Dying in 2010.

Wash Sales

- The reporting of wash sales is in scope only if reported on Form 1099-B (boxes 1f and 1g) or on brokerage or mutual fund statement.
- A wash sale is the sale of securities at a loss and the acquisition of same (substantially identical) securities within 30 days of sale date (before or after).
- Taxpayers cannot deduct losses from sales or trades of stock or securities in a wash sale unless the loss was incurred in the ordinary course of business as a dealer in stock or securities.
- The disallowed loss is added to the cost of the new stock or securities. The result is an increase to the basis in the new stock or securities. This adjustment postpones the loss deduction until the disposition of the new stock or securities.
- The holding period for the new stock or securities includes the holding period of the stock or securities sold.

example

The taxpayer buys 100 shares of X stock for $1,000. The taxpayer sells these shares for $750 and within 30 days from the sale buys 100 shares of the same stock for $800. Because the taxpayer bought substantially identical stock, the taxpayer cannot deduct the loss of $250 on the sale. However, the taxpayer adds the disallowed loss of $250 to the cost of the new stock, $800, to obtain the basis in the new stock, which is $1,050.

For additional information on how to figure the basis, refer to the Basis of Property chapter in Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax for Individuals.

If the taxpayer knows the basis of property that was inherited or received as a gift, you can provide assistance. If they do not know the basis of the property, refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer.

How do I determine the holding period?

Long-Term or Short-Term

For purchases prior to 2011, taxpayers must provide the date the stock was acquired. Beginning in 2011, brokers must report the date of acquisition and whether the gain or loss is short-term or long-term on Form 1099-B, unless the securities sold were noncovered securities. Generally, a noncovered security is:

- · Stock purchased before 2011
- Stock acquired in 2011 that was transferred in 2011 to a DRIP
- A security acquired due to a stock dividend, stock split, reorganization, redemptions, stock conversion, recapitalization, corporate division, or similar action

Taxpayers will have to provide the information for noncovered securities not reported on Form 1099-B.

Form 1099-B will also indicate the date the stock was sold. These two dates will determine the holding period. Capital gains and losses are either long-term or short-term, depending on how long the taxpayer owned the stock. Stock held for:

- · One year or less has a short-term holding period
- More than one year has a long-term holding period

The holding period begins the day after the shares were purchased and includes the day the shares were sold. If investment property is inherited, the capital gain or loss is treated as long-term. This is true regardless of how long the property is held (except for property inherited in 2010 in certain situations).

If a taxpayer acquired property from a decedent who died in 2010, special rules may apply in determining tax items including basis, gain, loss, holding period, and character for the property. Determining these tax items is complex and outside the scope of the VITA/TCE programs.

You may provide assistance to taxpayers who sold property inherited from someone who died in 2010 as long as the taxpayer knows the basis and the correct holding period. Refer taxpayers who do not know this information to a professional tax preparer. Determining basis and the correct holding period for property inherited in 2010 is complex and outside the scope of VITA/TCE. See Publication 4895 for more information.

Determining the correct holding period is important because short-term gains are taxed at regular income tax rates and long-term gains are taxed at a lower rate than the other income reported on the return.

Stock acquired as a nontaxable stock dividend or stock split has the same holding period as the original stock owned. They are considered to have been acquired on the same day as the original stock. Stock acquired in a DRIP has its own purchase date. The holding period for stock received as a taxable stock dividend begins on the date of distribution.

example

Lenny bought 500 shares of XYZ Corporation stock for $1,500, including his broker's commission. Five years later, XYZ distributed a 2% nontaxable stock dividend (10 shares). Three days after the stock dividend was distributed, Lenny sold all his XYZ stock for $2,030.

Although Lenny owned the 10 shares for only three days, all the stock has a long-term holding period. Stock acquired as a nontaxable stock dividend has the same holding period as the original stock owned. Because he bought the stock for $1,500 and then sold it for $2,030 more than a year later, Lenny has a long-term capital gain of $530 on the sale of his 510 shares.

If taxpayers do not have the purchase documents or other records showing date of purchase and cost, refer them to their stockbroker or financial planner.

For additional information on the holding period and other tax consequences of selling or trading investment property, refer to the Sale of Property Chapter in Publication 17.

Mutual Funds

A mutual fund is a regulated investment company generally created by "pooling" funds of investors providing the advantage of a diversity of investments and professional management.

Owners of mutual funds may receive both Form 1099-DIV and Form 1099-B. Form 1099-DIV reports capital gain distributions from sales of stock held by the mutual fund. Profits of these sales are reported to the shareholders of the fund as capital gain distributions. If taxpayers (owners) decide to sell any of their shares in the mutual fund itself, Form 1099-B will be issued. The taxable gain or loss from the sale or exchange of the taxpayer's shares in a mutual fund is reported on Schedule D as a capital gain or loss.

If mutual fund dividends and capital gain distributions are reinvested in new shares, the holding period of each new share begins the day after that share was purchased. Therefore, if both the new shares and the original shares are sold, there may be both short-term and long-term gains and losses.

To figure the gain or loss on the disposition of mutual fund shares, which shares were sold and the basis of those shares need to be determined. If the shares in a mutual fund were acquired all on the same day and for the same price, figuring their basis is not difficult. However, shares are generally acquired at various times, in various quantities, and at various prices, making it more difficult to figure the basis. Taxpayers can choose to use either a cost basis or an average basis to figure the gain or loss. For more information on how to report the sale or exchange of mutual fund shares, refer to Publication 550.

Stock

Some taxpayers may own shares of stock they bought on different dates or for different prices. This means they own more than one "block" of stock. Each block may differ from the others in its basis (the amount paid for the stock), its holding period (long-term or short-term), or both.

In directing a broker to sell stock, the taxpayer may specify which block, or part of a block, to sell. This is called "specific identification." To be valid, the specification must be made before or at the time of sale, not after the sale. If the taxpayer does not do this, the shares are sold from the earliest block purchased (FIFO method – or First In, First Out).

example

Marie bought 100 shares of Antrim Corporation stock for $2,000. A year later, she bought another 100 shares of Antrim for $2,300. Five years later, she sold 100 shares of Antrim for $3,000 but she did not identify the specific block at the time of sale.

Because Marie purchased the earliest block of 100 shares at $2,000, the adjusted basis of the shares she sold was $2,000. The sales price of the 100 shares sold was $3,000. Marie had a long-term capital gain of $1,000.

However, if she had told her broker to sell the 100 shares from the second block of stock she bought, the adjusted basis would have been $2,300, giving Marie a long-term capital gain of $700.

What information do I need from Form 1099-B?

Sale of stock is reported to the taxpayer on Form 1099-B, Proceeds From Broker and Barter Exchange Transactions. Form 1099-B is prepared by the broker who handled the sale of the stock. If boxes on Bartering: Profit or (loss) realized on closed contracts; Unrealized profit (loss) on open contracts – prior year; Unrealized profit or (loss) on open contracts – current year; or Aggregate profit (loss) on contracts have an entry, refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer. These boxes provide information about transactions that are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs.

Form 1099-B includes these boxes for reporting sales of securities:

- Date of sale or exchange
- Date of acquisition
- Type of gain or loss (short-term or long-term)
- · Stocks, bonds, etc.
 - Sale price
 - Gross proceeds/gross proceeds less commissions and option premiums
- Cost or other basis
- Federal income tax withheld
- Wash sale loss disallowed
- Identify a noncovered security and if basis is reported to IRS
- Description

Brokers must complete boxes on the Date of sale or exchange; Date of acquisition; Type of gain or loss; Cost or other basis; and Wash sales when reporting sales of securities unless the box for Noncovered security is checked.

Date of Sale or Exchange

The stockbroker reports the date the stock was sold on Form 1099-B. If the securities sold were noncovered securities, use this date, along with the purchase date provided by the taxpayer, to determine the holding period. If the securities sold were covered securities, the stockbroker reports the date the stock was acquired and whether the gain was short-term or long-term.

Sales Price

The stockbroker reports the sales price of the stock and checks a box to indicate if the amount is the sales price (gross proceeds) or sales price less commissions and option premiums (net proceeds):

- If sales price (gross proceeds) is checked, ask the taxpayer for the amount of commissions/fees paid and enter an adjustment on the capital gains worksheet
- If sales price less commissions and option premiums (net proceeds) is checked, the broker subtracted the commissions and fees from the proceeds

example

Richard sold stock for $2,300. He paid his broker a commission of $35 on the sale and received net proceeds of $2,265. Richard's broker has reported:

- Sales price on Form 1099-B of $2,300
- · The box next to sales price is checked

Because the sales price is shown, the broker's commissions and fees ($35) are shown as an adjustment on the capital gains worksheet.

Tax Software Hint: If not already calculated in the sales price, add the broker's commissions and fees as an adjustment on the capital gains worksheet. To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab.

EXERCISES

Answers are after the lesson summary.

Question 1: Kevin paid his broker a $75 fee on the sale of his stock. His Form 1099-B shows $925, and the box next to sales price is checked. What is the amount Kevin reports as his sales price?

- A. $925
- B. $1,000
- C. $850
- D. $75

Other Information

If the securities sold were noncovered securities, Form 1099-B would not report the date the stock was originally purchased, the original purchase price, or any adjustments to the basis. Some brokers report this information on a tax reporting supplement. If not, the taxpayer must provide this information.

Some brokers do not issue standard Forms 1099-B. Instead, they may issue their own statement sometimes entitled 1099 Consolidated Statement or Substitute 1099, which shows stock sales and other types of distributions, such as dividends and interest.

How do I enter data on Form 8949 and Schedule D?

Generally, transactions are not reported directly on Schedule D. Instead, they are detailed on various Forms 8949. A separate Form 8949, page 1, is required for each of the three types of short-term transactions. The three types of long-term transactions are recorded on a separate Form 8949, page 2. The subtotals from Forms 8949 are carried over to Schedule D, where aggregate gain or loss is calculated.

A check box on Form 8949 identifies the type of transaction reported; a taxpayer with more than one type of transaction must file a separate form for each type.

Some taxpayers may be able to enter capital gains transactions directly on Schedule D. See the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, for the current information on Schedule D and Form 8949.

Tax Software Hint: All entries are made on the Taxable Gain or Loss Worksheet. The software determines the holding period and enters the information on Form 8949, pages 1 and/or 2, provided correct transaction codes are properly entered in both the worksheet and Form(s) 8949. Use Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, to review software information.

How do I report capital gain distributions?

Capital gain distributions are reported to the taxpayer on Form 1099-DIV. If there is no sale or disposition of capital assets to report, the Form 1099-DIV amount is reported directly on Form 1040, line 13 with a checkmark in the box to indicate a Schedule D is not required.

If a taxpayer has both Form 1099-DIV and Form 1099-B, then capital gain distributions are added to Schedule D, Part II, line 13.

Question 2: Which of the following taxpayers is required to file Form 1040 and Schedule D?

- A. Marriah, who received one Form 1099-B and no Forms 1099-DIV
- B. Lorraine, who received Forms 1099-DIV for capital gain distributions from three different mutual funds
- C. Both of the above

Tax Software Hint: If the source documents (Forms 1099-DIV and 1099-B) are recorded properly in the tax preparation program, then the numbers will be reported in the proper places. The amount from Form 1099-DIV, box 2a, will be entered on the Dividend Statement for Schedule B (along with the other information) and will automatically carry over to the capital gain distributions line (line 13) in Schedule D, Part II.

example

Eldridge received a Form 1099-DIV. Box 2a shows he received a total capital gain distribution of $170.

Eldridge also received a Form 1099-B that shows a net sales price of $1,200 on the sale of 600 shares of ABC Group, Inc. He held the stock for over 6 years. His basis in ABC, including commission, is $1,455.

Eldridge must use Schedule D to report his capital gain distribution because he sold stock that must be reported on Schedule D.

How do I complete reporting of capital gain or loss?

Form 8949 contains most capital gain and loss transactions. The subtotals from Form 8949 are carried over to Schedule D, where gain or loss is calculated in aggregate.

Combining all the amounts in the gain or (loss) column on Schedule D, Part I, results in a net short-term capital gain or loss. Combining all the amounts in the gain or (loss) column on Schedule D, Part II, results in a net long-term capital gain or loss.

The combination of the net short-term and net long-term capital gains or losses impacts the tax liability. If there is a combined net capital loss in excess of $3,000 (or if Married Filing Separately, in excess of $1,500), then the excess is carried to the next tax year and forward until exhausted. Carryover losses retain their original holding period.

example

Bill bought 1,000 shares of stock for $15,000 (including commission). One year later he sold 600 shares of the stock for $7,800, net proceeds. Bill had a net loss of $1,200 as shown below:

Basis = $($15,000 \div 1,000) \times 600 = $9,000$

Sales Price = $7,800

Gain or Loss = Sales Price - Basis = $7,800 - $9,000 = -$1,200

Bill had a short-term loss of $1,200.

example

Margo bought stock for $1,500, plus a $25 commission; 18 months later she sold all the stock for $2,000 and paid a $25 commission. Her Form 1099-B shows the gross proceeds of $2,000 as the sales price.

Basis = ($1,500 + $25 + $25) = $1,550

Sales Price = $2,000

Gain or Loss = Sales Price - Basis = $2,000 - $1,550 = $450

Margo had a long-term gain of $450.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 3: Stella's cost basis for 600 shares of KLM Corporation stock she purchased was $2,400. After holding the stock for seven years, Stella sold the 600 shares for $4,400 and paid a $100 commission. Her broker reported the gross proceeds of $4,400 on Form 1099-B. What was the sales price for the shares and the amount of capital gain?

A. $4,400 sales price and $2,000 gain

B. $4,400 sales price and $1,900 gain

C. $4,500 sales price and $2,100 gain

D. $4,300 sales price and $1,900 gain

How do I calculate and report a carryover of a capital loss?

A taxpayer cannot take net losses of more than $3,000 ($1,500 for married taxpayers filing separately) in figuring taxable income for any single tax year. The allowable loss is referred to as the deduction limit. Unused losses can be carried over to later years until they are completely used up. Any prior year carryover losses are combined with the capital gains and losses in future years.

Capital Loss Carryover Worksheet

To figure any capital loss carryover from the year prior to the current tax year, use the Capital Loss Carryover Worksheet from the Schedule D instructions. To complete the worksheet, you will need information from the prior year return.

Ask taxpayers for their Schedule D Worksheet (Capital Loss Carryovers from This Year to Next Year) from the previous year to determine the carryover amounts from the prior year to the current year.

- · Enter short-term capital loss carryovers on Schedule D, Part I
- Enter long-term capital loss carryovers on Schedule D, Part II

If the taxpayer's current year capital loss exceeds the deduction limit and the remainder must be carried forward to the next tax year, remind the taxpayer to bring a copy of the current year's return to assist in preparing next year's return. Make a note on the outside of the taxpayer's tax return record envelope to alert next year's preparer. Next year, whomever assists the taxpayer will use this information to figure how much capital loss the taxpayer can carry over from the prior tax year to the current tax year.

For additional information on Schedule D, capital gains and losses, and carryovers, refer to the Reporting Gains and Losses chapter in Publication 17.

Tax Software Hint: Tax software automatically calculates the taxpayer's capital loss. If the loss is over the limit, tax software reports the maximum allowable deduction. The remainder can be carried over to future tax years.

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Taxpayers Jeremy and Janice Smith checked the "Yes" box for income from the sale of stock on the intake and interview sheet. The volunteer asks for details.

SAMPLE INTERVIE	W
VOLUNTEER SAYS	JEREMY RESPONDS
Previously we discussed your dividends from the Pembroke Fund, reported on Form 1099-DIV. Did you have any other income from the sale of stock, securities, or other investments?	Yes, I sold some stock this year.
Do you have a 1099 for that?	Yes, I have this Form 1099-B and this stockbroker's statement.
We already included the capital gain distribution from the mutual fund when we entered the dividends. We'll enter the stock sale information now. I see the broker's statement has the sale details I need, but do you know when you purchased the Purdue stock?	I bought the Purdue stock back on July 13, 2000.

SAMPLE INTERVIEW (continu	led)
VOLUNTEER SAYS	JEREMY RESPONDS
I see the sale date was March 10 of the current tax year. That means the holding period for the stock was more than one year. They call that long-term, and it determines both where the information is reported and the tax rate for any gain. Now, do you know the basis for the stock?	What is that?
That's what it cost you, including any broker fees or commissions.	Yes, it cost $10,053, plus I had to pay $35 in fees.
Have you had any other costs related to the stock since then, such as additional fees? That means that the basis for the stock is $10,123. The 1099-B shows that you received gross proceeds of $8,859 when you sold the stock. We'll put all these numbers into this worksheet in the tax software. As you can see, the software has calculated your net loss; this is the sales price minus the basis, for a net loss of $1,264. After I enter these other transactions from the broker's statement, we'll get a final net gain or loss on Schedule D. This will determine the amount that will be reported on Form 1040, line 13.	No, that's it. Wait, when I sold it, I had to pay $35 more.
[Indicate Jeremy's responses to these questions on the intake and interview sheet.]

Who must file Form 8949 and Schedule D for the sale of a home?

To determine if the sale of the taxpayer's residence must be reported on Form 8949 and Schedule D, identify whether the home was the taxpayer's main home, if the taxpayer meets the ownership and use tests, and if the gain is more than the allowed exclusion amount. For additional guidance in making this determination, refer to the Selling Your Home Chapter in Publication 17 or Publication 523.

The intake and interview sheet lists income from the sale of real estate. Ask taxpayers if they sold any real estate, such as their principal residence or "main home" during the tax year. The taxpayer may be eligible to exclude all or part of the gain from their taxable income.

Who must report the sale of a home?

Taxpayers must report the sale of a home when one of the following is true:

- The taxpayer does not meet the ownership test
- The taxpayer does not meet the use test
- During the two-year period ending on the date of the sale, the taxpayer has excluded the gain from the sale of another home
- · The taxpayer has a gain and does not qualify to exclude all of it
- The taxpayer has a gain and chooses not to exclude it
- The taxpayer received Form 1099-S

Exclusion Amount

Taxpayers who sold their main home may be able to exclude gain up to a maximum of $250,000 ($500,000 for married taxpayers who file a joint return).

Generally, if the taxpayer can exclude all of the gain, it is not necessary to report the sale. If the taxpayer has gain that cannot be excluded, it is taxable and reported on the return.

A loss on the sale cannot be deducted, however, the taxpayer may be required to report it.

What is considered a "main" home?

Only gain from the sale of a taxpayer's main home may be excluded from the taxpayer's income; gain from the sale of a home that is not the taxpayer's main home will generally have to be reported as income.

A taxpayer's "main" home is where they live most of the time. It does not have to be a traditional house; for example, it may be a houseboat, mobile home, cooperative apartment, or condominium, but it must have cooking, sleeping, and bathroom facilities. The taxpayer's main home may also be a rented house or apartment. Taxpayers with more than one home cannot choose which home to designate as their main home.

example

Lucille owns a home in a Colorado ski area (the ski home). She stays at the ski home most weekends and spends the entire months of December, January, and February there. When she is not at the ski home, she lives in a four-room apartment that she rents in Denver. Even though she does not own it, Lucille's main home is her rental apartment in Denver, because she lives there most of the time.

What are the ownership and use tests?

To claim the exclusion on the gain from the sale of a home, the taxpayer must meet the ownership and use tests. This means that during the five-year period ending on the date of the sale, taxpayers must have:

- · Owned the home for at least two years (the ownership test), and
- Lived in the home as their main home for at least two years (the use test)

There are special rules for members of the Armed Forces, intelligence personnel and Peace Corps volunteers in the application of the five-year period. See "Five-year Test Period Suspension" later in this lesson.

The required two years of ownership/use do not have to be continuous. Taxpayers meet the tests if they can show that they owned and lived in the property as their main home for either a total of 24 full months or 730 days (365 x 2) during the five-year period ending on the date of sale. Short, temporary absences are counted as periods of use even if the property is rented during those absences.

Ownership and use tests can be met during different two-year periods. However, a taxpayer must meet both tests during the five-year period ending on the date of the sale.

example

Helen lived in a rented apartment in 2005. The apartment building was later changed to a condominium, and she bought her apartment on December 1, 2010. In 2012, Helen became ill and on April 14 of that year she moved into her daughter's home. On July 10, 2014, while still living in her daughter's home, she sold her apartment.

For the 2014 tax year, Helen can exclude all the gain on the sale of her apartment because she met the ownership and use tests. Her five-year period is from July 11, 2009, to July 10, 2014, the date she sold the apartment. She owned her apartment from December 1, 2010, to July 10, 2014 (over two years). She lived in the apartment from July 11, 2009 (the beginning of the five-year period) to April 14, 2012 (over two years).

Question 4: Emily, who is single, bought a home in 2000. She lived in the home until January 1, 2009, when she accepted a temporary job assignment in Venezuela and left the house vacant. Emily returned to her home on December 31, 2010 and lived there until she sold the house on January 10, 2014. Does Emily meet the ownership and use test? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Reduced Exclusion

Taxpayers who owned and used a home for less than two years (do not meet the ownership and use test) may be able to claim a reduced exclusion under certain conditions. These include selling the home due to a change in place of employment (beyond a certain distance), health, or unforeseen circumstances. If any apply, refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer. Reduced exclusion computations/determinations are beyond the scope of VITA/TCE.

Prior Exclusions

In addition, during the two-year period ending on the date of the sale, the taxpayer must not have claimed an exclusion on a gain from the sale of another home.

Married Homeowners

The ownership and use tests are applied somewhat differently to married homeowners. Married homeowners can exclude up to $500,000 if they meet all of these conditions:

- · They file a joint return
- · Either spouse meets the ownership test
- · Both individuals meet the use test
- Neither one excluded gain in the two years before the sale of the current home

If either spouse does not satisfy all these requirements, they cannot claim the maximum exclusion ($500,000). The most they can claim is the total of the maximum exclusions each would qualify for if not married and the amounts were figured separately. For this purpose, each spouse is treated as owning the property during the period that either spouse owned the property. This calculation is outside the scope of VITA/TCE.

Sale of Main Home by Surviving Spouse

Beginning with main home sales after 2007, the maximum exclusion ($500,000) by an unmarried surviving spouse is allowed if the sale occurs no later than two years after the date of the spouse's death, and all other requirements are met.

How do I figure the gain (or loss) from the sale of a home?

After determining that a taxpayer is eligible for the exclusion, figure the gain (or loss) on the sale based on the selling price, amount realized, basis, and adjusted basis. If the selling price of the taxpayer's home is less than the allowable exclusion of up to $250,000 ($500,000 if Married Filing Jointly), it is not necessary to calculate the gain; none of it will be taxable. Loss on the sale of a residence is not deductible. For more information, see the Selling Your Home section in Publication 17.

A loss on the sale of a personal residence is not deductible.

If the taxpayer used the home for business purposes or as rental property, refer them to a professional tax preparer. The taxpayer cannot exclude the part of the gain equal to the depreciation allowed or allowable as a deduction.

Selling Price

The selling price is the total amount taxpayers (the seller) received for their main home. It includes money, all notes, mortgages, or other debts taken over by the buyer as part of the sale, and the fair market value of any other property or services that the seller received.

If the taxpayer received Form 1099-S, Proceeds from Real Estate Transactions, use it to figure the selling price. Box 1 shows the date of sale (closing) and box 2 shows the gross proceeds received from the sale of the home. For taxpayers who did not receive a Form 1099-S, use sale documents and other records.

If the taxpayer can exclude the entire gain from the sale of a main home, the person responsible for closing the sale (i.e., a real estate broker or settlement agent) generally will not issue Form 1099-S. If Form 1099-S is issued and you determine that the gain is excludable, the sale should be reported on Form 8949 and Schedule D to notify the IRS of the exclusion.

If the taxpayer has a loss on the sale of a main home for which Form 1099-S was received, the taxpayer must report the loss on Form 8949 and Schedule D even though it is not deductible.

Amount Realized

The amount realized is the selling price minus selling expenses (commissions, advertising fees, legal fees, and loan charges paid by the seller, such as points). Amount realized can be calculated using Worksheet 2, Taxable Gain on Sale of Home, in Publication 523. (A similar worksheet is available in the tax software.)

Amount realized = Selling price - Selling expenses

$246,000 = $250,000 - $4,000

Question 5: Jan meets the eligibility requirements for claiming the exclusion on the gain from the sale of his home. The selling price of the home was $195,000. The selling expenses were $15,000. What is the amount realized in this sale?

Basis

The basis in a home is determined by how the taxpayer obtained the home. If a taxpayer bought or built a home, the basis is what it cost the taxpayer to buy or build that home. If the taxpayer inherited the home, the basis is its fair market value on the date of the decedent's death, or on the later alternate valuation date chosen by the representative for the estate.

Alternative valuation issues and determining the adjusted basis of property received as a gift can be very complex and are outside the scope of this training. Advise the taxpayer to seek assistance from a professional tax preparer.

Adjusted Basis

The adjusted basis is the taxpayer's basis in a home increased or decreased by certain amounts.

Increases include additions or improvements to the home such as building a recreation room or adding a bathroom. In order to be considered an increase, the improvement must have a useful life of more than one year. Repairs that maintain the home in good condition are not considered improvements and should not be added to the basis of the property.

Decreases to basis include deductible casualty losses and gains a taxpayer postponed from the sale of a previous home before May 7, 1997. Decreases can also include depreciation during the time the home was used for business purposes or as rental property. If any of these decreases apply, the taxpayer should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

Determining the basis of property inherited in 2010 is complex and outside the scope of the VITA/TCE programs. Taxpayers who sold such property should be referred to a professional tax preparer if they do not know the basis and the correct holding period.

To figure the adjusted basis of a home, use Worksheet 1, Adjusted Basis of Home Sold, in Publication 523.

Adjusted basis = Basis + Increases - Decreases

How much of the gain from a home sale can a taxpayer exclude?

Once you've determined the gain or loss on the sale of a taxpayer's main home, next figure the exclusion and any taxable gain from the sale.

If all the requirements are met, an individual taxpayer may exclude up to $250,000 of the gain from taxable income; taxpayers who use the Married Filing Jointly filing status may exclude up to $500,000.

Publication 523 contains Worksheet 2, Taxable Gain on Sale of Home, which may be used to figure the gain or loss, the exclusion, and the taxable gain from a sale.

Taxpayers who claimed the first-time homebuyer credit may be required to repay the credit in the year of sale. The repayment is limited to the amount of gain on the sale. This situation is out of scope for VITA/TCE. Refer taxpayers to the Form 5405 Instructions or to a professional tax preparer for more information on how to adjust the basis of the home and exceptions to the repayment rule.

Gain from the sale or exchange of a main home is not excludable from income if allocable to periods of nonqualified use. Generally, nonqualified use means any period in 2009 or later where neither the taxpayer nor spouse (or former spouse) used the property as a main home (with certain exceptions). A list of exceptions to a period of nonqualified use can be found in Publication 523. To figure the portion of nonqualified use, multiply the gain by the following fraction:

Total nonqualified use during period of ownership in 2009 or later

Total period of ownership

This issue can be complex. Refer taxpayers with "nonqualified use" issues to a professional tax preparer.

Where do I report any taxable gain from the sale of a home?

Proceeds from the sale of a main home that meets the ownership and use tests must be reported only if the gain is greater than the taxpayer's allowed exclusion; only the excess must be reported. Gain from the sale of a home that is not the taxpayer's main home will generally have to be reported as income.

In both cases, the gain is taxable gain. The sale must be reported on Form 8949 and Schedule D. If the home was used for business purposes or as rental property, the gain would be reported on Form 4797 and the taxpayer should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

If the amount realized is less than the adjusted basis, the difference is a loss, which cannot be deducted. However, taxpayers who received Form 1099-S for a loss on the sale of a main home must report the loss on Form 8949 and Schedule D even though it is not deductible. Reporting the transaction should prevent the taxpayer from receiving a notice from the IRS.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab.

How do I report a nondeductible loss if taxpayer received Form 1099-S on the sale of a main home?

If the taxpayer has a loss on the sale of a main home for which Form 1099-S was received, you must report the loss on Form 8949 and Schedule D even though it is not deductible.

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Jeremy and Janice Smith checked the "Yes" box for selling some real estate on the intake and interview sheet. The volunteer asks for details.

SAMPLE INTERV	IEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	JEREMY RESPONDS
Did you sell a home during this tax year?	Yes, I was going to mention that to you because I should get a tax break on that.
Well, you may be able to exclude all or part of your gain from that sale, but to find out, I have to ask you a few questions. First, how long did you own the home?	Three and a half years.
And was it the main place you lived for at least two years of that time?	Yes, we lived there the whole time.
Great, you meet the ownership and use tests. During the two years before you sold the house did you claim an exclusion on a gain from another house?	No, this is my only house.
Did you receive Form 1099-S?	No, but I do have my paperwork from the sale. My real estate broker said I wouldn't need that form because I was within the limits.
Your paperwork shows a selling price of $360,000. Do you have anything that lists the basis in the home, that is, the value of the home at the time you bought it?	Yes, I bought it for $280,000 and put in $20,000 of improvements – mostly new bathrooms.
With a basis of $300,000, your gain from the sale is $60,000.
As a married couple who meets the ownership and use tests, you can exclude up to $500,000 from the sale, so you don't have to report the sale on your return.
[Indicate Jeremy's responses to these questions on the intake and interview sheet.]

What is the Five-Year Test Period Suspension?

Taxpayers can choose to have the five-year test period for ownership and use suspended during any period the homeowner (either spouse if married) served on "qualified official extended duty" as a member of the uniformed services or Foreign Service of the United States, as an employee of the intelligence community, or as an employee or volunteer of the Peace Corps. This means that the taxpayer may be able to meet the two-year use test even if the taxpayer and/or spouse did not actually live in the home during the normal five-year period required of other taxpayers.

Taxpayers are on qualified official extended duty if they serve at a duty station at least 50 miles from their main home or live in government quarters under government order. Taxpayers are considered to be on extended duty when they are called to active duty for more than 90 days or an indefinite period.

Period of Suspension

The period of suspension cannot last more than ten years. Together, the ten-year suspension period and the five-year test period can be as long as fifteen years. The suspension can be used on only one property at a time.

For more information about the suspension of the five-year test period, see Members of the Uniformed Services or Foreign Service, Employees of the Intelligence Community, or Employees or Volunteers of the Peace Corps, in Publication 523.

example

For the 2014 tax year: Peter bought a home in 2004 and lived in it for 2½ years. Beginning in 2007, he was on qualified official extended duty in the U.S. Army. He sold his home in 2014 and had a $12,000 gain. Peter would normally not meet the use test in the five-year period before the sale (2009-2014). Because of the suspension, Peter's test period is the five years before he went on qualified official extended duty.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 6: In this exercise, John purchased a home in 2003. Through your interview process, you discover that he sold his main home in 2014. John had not lived in the home for six years. Which of the following conditions would allow John to exclude his gain?

- A. John went on sabbatical for four years and backpacked through Europe.
- B. John lived with a co-worker for four years and let his brother occupy his home.
- C. John was deployed to Europe on official extended military duty for five years.
- D. John married and his bride had her own home. The couple chose to live in the wife's home and rent out John's home, until it was sold.

Summary

This lesson covered how to report the sale of capital assets and the sale of a principal residence. In most cases, a taxpayer must use Form 8949 and Schedule D to report capital gains and losses on the sale of assets. You learned how to identify the asset's holding period, adjusted basis, net short-term and long-term capital gains or losses, the taxable gain or deductible loss, and the amount of capital loss carryover.

Qualified taxpayers may be able to exclude a portion of the gain on the sale of their main home if they meet the ownership and use tests. Taxpayers can choose to have the five-year test period for ownership and use suspended during any period the homeowner (either spouse if married) served on qualified official extended duty as a member of the uniformed services or foreign service of the United States, as an employee of the intelligence community, or as an employee or volunteer of the Peace Corps. A loss on the sale of a principal residence is not deductible but must be reported if the taxpayer received Form 1099-S.

The worksheets in Publication 523 help you figure the taxable gain from the sale of a home using selling price, amount realized, basis and adjusted basis, along with the maximum allowed exclusion.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following are out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

- Taxpayers who have sold any assets other than stock, mutual funds, and a personal residence
- · Determination of basis issues:
 - Basis of stock acquired other than by purchase or inheritance, such as a gift or employee stock option plan
 - Basis of inherited property determined by a method other than the FMV of the property on the date of the decedent's death
 - Basis of property acquired from a decedent who died in 2010
 - Basis of property received as a gift
- · Like-kind exchanges and worthless securities
- Form 1099-B, boxes on Bartering: Profit or (loss) realized on closed contracts; Unrealized profit (loss) on open contracts – prior year; Unrealized profit or (loss) on open contracts – current year; or Aggregate profit (loss) on contracts
- · Reduced exclusion computations/determinations in the sale of a home
- Married homeowners who do not meet all requirements to claim the maximum exclusion on the sale of a home
- · Decreases to basis, including:
 - Deductible casualty losses and gains a taxpayer postponed from the sale of a previous home before May 7, 1997
 - Depreciation during the time the home was used for business purposes or as rental property
- Taxpayers with "nonqualified use" issues
- Sale of a home used for business purposes or as rental property

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

To gain a better understanding of the tax law, complete the comprehensive problem or practice exercise(s) for your course of study in Publication 4491-W.

For practice using the tax preparation software, complete the scenarios using the Practice Lab on L<.

You may not be able to complete the entire exercise if some of the technical issues in the exercise are not covered until later lessons in the training. In these instances, complete as much of the exercise as you can. Come back later to finish the exercise after you cover all the technical topics.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: A. Never change the sales price. If Form 1099-B shows sales price (gross proceeds), include the broker's fee in the basis amount entered on the Capital Gain or Loss Transactions Worksheet.

Answer 2: A. Only Marriah sold stock and received Form 1099-B.

Answer 3: B. The sales price was $4,400, which was $1,900 more than the adjusted basis of $2,500 ($2,400 cost + $100 commission) of the shares.

Answer 4: Yes. Emily meets the ownership and use test because she owned and lived in the home for at least two years of the five-year period ending on the date of the sale.

Answer 5: The amount realized on Jan's sale is $180,000 (selling price minus selling expenses).

Answer 6: C. The only circumstance that will allow John to exclude the gain is if he can extend the five-year period due to official extended military duty.

Income - Retirement Income; Form 1040, Lines 15-16

Introduction

This lesson will help you identify and report the taxable portion of retirement income received by the taxpayer. To do this, you must understand the types of retirement income and the forms used to report them. You should also be able to recognize when taxpayers should adjust their withholding and determine which form to use.

This lesson does not cover Social Security benefits or tier 1 railroad retirement benefits (Social Security equivalent benefits), which are discussed in the Social Security Benefits lesson.

For more information on the topics discussed in this lesson, see Publication 575, Pension and Annuity Income; Publication 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs); Publication 721, Tax Guide to U.S. Civil Service Retirement Benefits; and Publication 939, General Rule for Pensions and Annuities.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Identify how retirement income is reported to the taxpayer using Form 1099-R series
- Calculate the taxable portion of different types of retirement income
- Determine how to report retirement income on the tax return
- · Determine when an adjustment to withholding should be made

What is retirement income?

Retirement income can include Social Security benefits as well as benefits from annuities, retirement or profit sharing plans, insurance contracts, IRAs, etc. Retirement income may be fully or partially taxable. For information about Social Security benefits and tier 1 railroad retirement benefits, see the Social Security Benefits lesson.

Where can I get information about a taxpayer's retirement income?

To determine if the taxpayer must report retirement income, review the taxpayer's completed intake and interview sheet, particularly the Income section. If the taxpayer had retirement income, you may need to ask additional questions to clarify the type of plan, whether the taxpayer's contributions to the plan were before-tax or after-tax dollars, etc. This is explained later in this lesson.

[☐] Simplified Method Worksheet

Be considerate when probing for the information you need to complete the return. When taxpayers cannot provide the required information (and have not retained the packet of "retirement papers" they received when they retired), suggest that they contact their former employer or annuity administrator. You may even give the taxpayer a written list of questions that need to be resolved.

Form 1099-R Series

Retirement income can be reported on:

- Form 1099-R, Distributions From Pensions, Annuities, Retirement or Profit-Sharing Plans, IRAs, Insurance Contracts, etc.,
- Form CSA 1099-R, Statement of Annuity Paid (civil service retirement payments),
- · Form CSF 1099-R, Statement of Survivor Annuity Paid, and
- · Form RRB 1099-R, Annuities or Pensions by the Railroad Retirement Board

If Form 1099-R is for an IRA-type distribution, it will be indicated in box 7.

Examples of these forms can be found in Publication 4491-W. These forms indicate such information as the amount received, the taxable portion, and the taxpayer's cost (investment) in the plan.

If the taxable amount is indicated, Basic certified volunteers can complete the return. In general, if the taxable amount is not indicated, volunteers with Advanced certification must calculate the taxable portion using the Simplified Method Worksheet covered later in this lesson.

Qualified disability income reported on Form 1099-R with a Distribution Code 3 in Box 7, is reported as earned income wages on Form 1040, line 7, until the minimum retirement age is met.

What if the taxable portion is already calculated?

In many instances, the payer will compute the taxable portion of the distribution and report the taxable amount on Form 1099-R. Taxpayers with Form RRB-1099-R can only be helped by Advanced certified volunteers, because the taxable portion is not shown on the form.

Tax Software Hint: Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, 1099-R Pension and Annuity Income.

Amounts from Form 1099-R are reported as follows:

- If the IRA/SEP/SIMPLE box is not checked on Form 1099-R
 - the gross amount (box 1 of Forms 1099-R, CSA- and CSF-1099-R) should be shown on Form 1040, line 16a, Pensions and annuities
 - the taxable amount (box 2a of Forms 1099-R, CSA- and CSF-1099-R) should be shown on Form 1040, line 16b, Taxable amount (pensions and annuities)
- · If the IRA/SEP/SIMPLE box is checked on Form 1099-R
 - report the gross amount on Form 1040, line 15a, IRA distributions
 - report the taxable amount on Form 1040, line 15b, Taxable amount (IRA distributions)

Note: The IRA/SEP/SIMPLE box is not checked for Roth IRAs. Instead, Roth IRAs are identified on Form 1099-R with a distribution code Q, J, or T. (Only code Q is in the scope of the VITA/TCE program.) Roth IRA distributions are reported on Form 1040, Line 15.

Any amount of federal income tax withheld on Forms 1099-R, CSA- and CSF-1099-R should be entered in the Payments section of the tax return.

What if the taxable portion is not calculated?

If the payer did not include the taxable amount on Form 1099-R, CSA- or CSF-1099-R, or if taxpayers have Form RRB 1099-R, you will need to compute the taxable portion of the distribution. The following will help you determine the additional information needed to calculate the taxable portion of distributions from IRAs, pensions, or annuities.

What do I need to know about retirement income distributions?

Retirement plans are funded by either before-tax or after-tax contributions. "Before-tax" simply means that the employee did not pay taxes on the money at the time it was contributed, i.e., the taxpayer has no cost basis in the plan. "After-tax" means the employee paid taxes on the money when it was contributed, i.e., the taxpayer has a cost basis in the plan.

If the taxpayer made all contributions to a plan with before-tax dollars, the entire distribution will be fully taxable. The funds are taxed at the time of the distribution because neither the contributions nor the earnings/investment gains were previously taxed. This is common in 401(k) and Thrift Savings Plans.

If the taxpayer did not contribute to the retirement plan, all the distributions are fully taxable.

If the taxpayer made all contributions to a plan with after-tax dollars, then the distributions will be partially taxable. The portion of the distribution that is considered a return of the after-tax dollars will not be taxed again. It is considered a return of the taxpayer's cost basis (an amount for which taxes have already been paid). The portion of the distribution that represents the earnings/investment gains is taxable since it has not been previously taxed. This is common in employer retirement plans. Qualified distributions from an employer plan designated ROTH account are wholly nontaxable, similar to a ROTH IRA.

Employee Contributions	Contributions			Taxability o
	Before-Tax	After-Tax	Fully	Partially	Nontaxable
No	n/a	n/a	Yes	_	_
Yes	Yes	_	Yes	_	_
Yes	_	Yes	_	Yes	_
Yes, ROTH	_	Yes	_	_	Yes

example

Mark retired after working 30 years for a construction company. Each week, he contributed to the Carpenter's Pension Plan. Every year, Mark paid tax on the gross amount of his salary, including his pension contribution. This means his pension contributions were made with dollars that had already been taxed. Now that he is receiving payments from the pension, he will not be taxed on the portion that represents his contribution; he will be taxed on the portion that represents earnings.

Taxpayers may not always understand why they must pay taxes on their retirement income. When this is the case, take the time to clearly explain what retirement funds are taxed and why. It is usually a good idea to question taxpayers about the nature of their contributions to ensure that they will not be taxed twice on the same funds.

How do I find the taxable portion of IRA income?

Individual Retirement Arrangements

IRA distributions are reported on Form 1099-R. Earnings and investment gains in a taxpayer's IRA generally accumulate tax free or tax deferred until they are withdrawn as fully- or partially-taxable distributions. There are four kinds of IRAs, each with different tax implications:

- Traditional IRA
- Roth IRA
- · Savings Incentive Match Plans for Employees (SIMPLE) IRA
- · Simplified Employee Pension (SEP) IRA

Traditional IRA

Distributions from traditional IRAs are fully taxable unless nondeductible contributions have been made. See the Adjustments lesson for additional information. Form 8606, Nondeductible IRAs, is used to keep track of nondeductible contributions. Taxpayers who made nondeductible contributions should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

example

Richard contributed $500 a year to a traditional IRA. Each year, he deducted these contributions from his income. This year he received his first distribution from the traditional IRA. It is fully taxable: Richard will pay income tax on the distributions he receives, which represent the contributions he made and deducted, as well as the earnings on these contributions over the years.

Roth IRA

Distributions from a Roth IRA are tax free and may be excluded from income if the following requirements are met:

- The distribution is made after the 5-year period beginning with the first day of the first taxable year for which a contribution was made to a Roth IRA set up for the taxpayer's benefit, and
- · The distribution is:
 - Made on or after age 59½, or
 - Made because the taxpayer was disabled, or
 - Made to a beneficiary or to an estate, or
 - To pay certain qualified first-time homebuyer amounts (up to a $10,000 lifetime limit)

You can identify Roth IRAs from the distribution code used on Form 1099-R. Distribution codes Q, J, and T are specific to Roth IRAs. Only code Q is in scope for the VITA/TCE programs. See instructions for code Q in Publication 4012.

Nonqualified Distributions

If the above requirements are not met, the distribution is nonqualified and additional taxes may apply. Taxpayers who made nonqualified Roth IRA distributions should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

Contributions to SIMPLE and SEP IRAs are out of scope for VITA/TCE.

Qualified Distributions

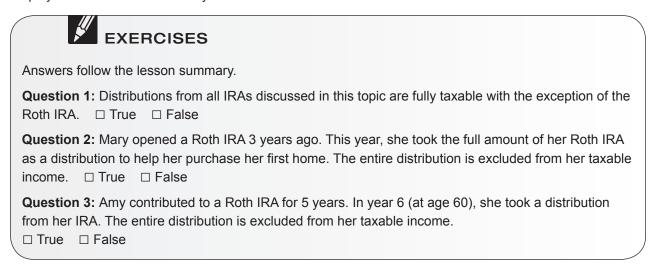

The IRA trustee will indicate the distribution is qualified by using Code Q in box 7. The entire distribution is not taxable.

Savings Incentive Match Plans for Employees (SIMPLE) IRA

Some employers offer their employees (including self-employed individuals) the chance to contribute part of their pay to an IRA as part of a SIMPLE plan. The employer is also generally required to make contributions on behalf of eligible employees. Generally, SIMPLE IRA contributions are not included in an employee's income when paid into an IRA, and the distributions are fully taxable when the employee receives them in later years.

Simplified Employee Pension (SEP) IRA

Some employers offer their employees (including self-employed individuals) the chance to contribute part of their pay to an IRA as part of a SEP plan. Generally, SEP IRA contributions are not included in an employee's income when paid into the IRA. Because of this, distributions are generally fully taxable when the employee receives them in later years.

How are IRA distributions reported?

Traditional IRA

If IRA/SEP/SIMPLE is checked on Form 1099-R, ask the taxpayer:

- Was this a distribution from a traditional IRA?
- Were the contributions deducted from income in the year they were made?

If so, the entire distribution is taxable. Report the distributions on Form 1040, line 15b. It is not necessary to enter the amount on line 15a. If not, the distribution is partially taxable. In that case, refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer.

An early distribution from a traditional or Roth IRA may be subject to a 10% additional tax. Refer to the Other Taxes lesson for more information.

SIMPLE and SEP IRAs

Distributions from SIMPLE and SEP IRAs are in scope for VITA/TCE, because they are taxable and are generally reported on the return just like taxable traditional IRA distributions.

Exception: Funds distributed from a SIMPLE IRA in the first two years are subject to a 25% early distribution penalty. If this is applicable, Form 1099-R will be issued with distribution code S. If an exception to the penalty applies, complete Form 5329 as you would do with traditional IRA distributions.

Roth IRA

Distributions from a Roth IRA are not taxable as long as they meet all the criteria discussed previously. If the distribution does not meet the criteria, then all or part of the funds MAY be taxable; refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer.

How are rollovers handled?

Generally, a rollover is a tax-free distribution to the taxpayer from one retirement account (traditional IRA or employer's pension plan) that rolls over into a similar retirement account within 60 days.

Form 1099-R will be issued to the taxpayer by the financial institution. If the distribution was a direct rollover by the institution to another institution, it will show distribution code G. If there is also a taxable amount in box 2 of the 1099-R, the distribution may be partially or fully taxable. No further action is needed.

If the taxpayer indicates that a rollover occurred but the distribution code is NOT G, then the taxpayer must have re-deposited the full amount into an appropriate account within 60 days. If this was not done, the distribution may be partially or fully taxable; refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer.

Note: Distributions from SIMPLE IRAs in the first two years (distribution code S) can only be rolled over tax-free into other SIMPLE IRAs. Taxable SIMPLE IRA rollovers are out of scope for VITA/TCE.

Starting in 2015, there is a limit of one IRA rollover per twelve months. This does not affect the ability of an IRA owner to transfer funds from one IRA trustee directly to another because such a transfer is not a rollover.

What about a rollover from a Roth IRA?

Most of the rules for rollovers to traditional IRAs apply to Roth IRAs. Generally, a withdrawal of all or part of the assets from one Roth IRA and a contribution to another Roth IRA within 60 days is tax free. A rollover from a Roth IRA to an employer retirement plan is not allowed.

If there is a direct rollover of a designated Roth account distribution to a Roth IRA, the distribution code for Form 1099-R will be code H.

If the distribution does not meet the tax-free rollover requirements, all or part may be taxable; refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer.

Tax Software Hint: Additional information must be entered for retirement account rollovers. Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, 1099-R Exclusion Worksheet.

Question 4: Andrew changed jobs and received Form 1099-R from his previous employer. The gross distribution amount in box 1 is $11,200. Andrew deposited the entire $11,200 into his IRA within 30 days of receiving the check (rollover).

Which of the following statements is true?

- A. The entire distribution is includible as income
- B. The entire distribution is excludable from income
- C. The distribution is eligible for the ten-year tax option
- D. The distribution is eligible to be taxed at a special rate

How do I find the taxable portion of pensions and annuities?

Fully Taxable Pensions and Annuities

Pension and annuity income is reported on Form 1099-R (the distribution box is unchecked), Form CSA 1099-R, and Form RRB 1099-R. In general, pension or annuity payments are fully taxable, if the following is true:

- Taxpayers did not pay any part of the cost of their pensions or annuities
- Employers did not withhold part of the cost from the taxpayers' pay while they worked
- Employers withheld part of the cost from the taxpayer's before-tax pay while they worked

Social security benefits and IRA distributions are not reported on the pension line of the tax return.

example

Sue worked for a software development company for 20 years. She retired and began receiving pension income the same year. Sue never contributed to the pension plan while she was working; her employer made all of the contributions. Her pension is fully taxable.

Partially Taxable Pensions and Annuities

Two methods used to figure the taxable portion of each pension or annuity payment are the General Rule and the Simplified Method. Unless an exception applies, retirees must use the Simplified Method for annuity payments from a qualified plan. A qualified plan is established by an employer to provide retirement benefits for employees and their beneficiaries. Employees typically do not pay taxes on plan assets until the assets are distributed; furthermore, earnings on qualified plans are tax deferred. If a taxpayer tells you they have been using the General Rule to figure the taxable portion for past years, refer them to a professional tax preparer.

If the taxpayer's annuity starting date is before July 2, 1986, the General Rule has to be used unless the Three-Year Rule can be used.

The Simplified Method is used to calculate the tax-free portion of each pension or annuity payment. The Simplified Method Worksheet calculates the taxpayer's cost basis for each monthly payment. The number of monthly payments is based on the taxpayer's age (and the spouse's age if a joint/survivor annuity is selected by the taxpayer) on the annuity start date. This calculation is not changed for subsequent events, such as divorce, marriage or death.

Taxpayer's cost basis ÷ Number of monthly payments = Monthly Tax-Free Portion Tax Software Hint: Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, 1099-R Exclusion Worksheet, for more information on calculating the taxable portion using the Simplified Method.

Be sure to include any amount of federal income tax withheld on Form 1099-R in the Payments section of the tax return.

To calculate the taxable portion of a pension or annuity using the Simplified Method, you will need certain information:

- The cost in the plan (total employee contribution on Form 1099-R)
- The taxpayer's age on the date the annuity began (and the spouse's age if joint/survivor annuity is selected); note if the annuity starting date is before or after the taxpayer's birthday for that year
- Total of tax-free amounts from previous years, available from the taxpayer's prior year worksheet

If the taxpayer has more than one Form 1099-R that is not fully taxable, calculate the tax-free portion for each form separately.

example

Melvin retired from a manufacturing plant. While he was working at the plant, his employer withheld money from each paycheck and sent it to the Engineer's Pension Fund. Melvin will receive a monthly pension payment for the rest of his life. Melvin will use the Simplified Method Worksheet to determine the tax-free part of monthly payments.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 5: Dotty worked for the local tire plant for 32 years. She retired in June and receives a monthly pension of $1,679. (She received six payments for July through December.) Dotty never contributed to the pension plan; her employer made all of the contributions. How much of her pension is taxable?

A. $12,074

B. $11,074

C. $10,074

D. $1,679

Disability Pension Income

Generally, taxpayers who retire on disability must include all of their disability payments in income. Disability payments are taxed as wages until the taxpayer reaches the minimum retirement age – this age is set by the employer. After the taxpayer reaches the minimum retirement age, disability payments are treated as pension income to determine taxability.

When disability pay is treated as wages, it might affect the earned income credit.

Taxpayers are considered disabled if they cannot engage in any substantial gainful activity because of any medically determinable physical or mental condition that can be expected to result in death or to be of long-continued and indefinite duration.

Minimum retirement age is generally the earliest age at which taxpayers may receive a pension, whether or not they are disabled.

Employers may report disability income on one of the following forms:

- Form W-2, if the taxpayer has not reached the minimum retirement age set by the employer
- Form 1099-R, if the taxpayer has reached the minimum retirement age

Some employers report qualified disability income on Form 1099-R with Distribution Code 3 in box 7 regardless of the taxpayer's age. You must confirm employers' minimum retirement age. If the taxpayer is under the retirement age, the volunteer must take steps in the software to ensure the income is properly reflected as wages on Form 1040, line 7.

If both the taxpayer and the employer pay for a disability insurance plan, only the amount the taxpayer receives because of the employer's payments is taxable as income. The taxpayer's employer should be able to give specific details about the pension plan and the amount the taxpayer paid for the disability pension.

If the taxpayer is disabled and has not reached the minimum retirement age, report the disability income as wages on Form 1040, line 7. If the taxpayer has reached the minimum retirement age, report the taxable portion of the disability income as a taxable pension on Form 1040, line 16b.

Tax Software Hint: If Form 1099-R, box 7, indicates a distribution code 3, and the taxpayer is on disability but under retirement age, check the box stating the taxpayer is disabled. The tax software will place the amount on Form 1040, line 7, Wages, rather than the pension line.

Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, 1099-R Pension and Annuity Income, for more information on how to report disability pay to ensure it is reported on the correct line of Form 1040.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 6: Annie Jo is 47 years old and has retired on disability from her job. While loading cargo for a tractor-trailer company, a large box fell on her and left her paralyzed. She receives a monthly payment from her former employer's pension plan to which Annie Jo had not contributed. She has not reached the minimum retirement age set by her company's pension plan. On which line of her Form 1040 should you report her disability income?

- A. Line 63, estimated tax payments and amount applied from return
- B. Line 16a, pensions and annuities
- C. Line 16b, taxable pensions and annuities
- D. Line 7, wages

Retired Public Safety Officers

Eligible public safety officers can elect to exclude from income distributions of up to $3,000 made directly from a government retirement plan to the provider of accident, health, or long-term disability insurance. See Insurance Premiums for Retired Public Safety Officers in Publication 575 for more information.

Tax Software Hint: If the taxpayer is eligible for the exclusion, refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, 1099-R Exclusion Worksheet.

What other retirement income issues are there?

There are a few other issues related to reporting retirement income that you may encounter. Some of the following distributions are subject to various additional taxes that are computed on Form 5329, Additional Taxes on Qualified Plans (Including IRAs) and Other Tax-Favored Accounts. If certain exceptions are met, the additional tax does not apply.

Only the exceptions for early distributions not subject to the additional tax (Part I of Form 5329) are included in scope for the VITA/TCE training. Refer taxpayers who must complete other information on Form 5329 to a professional tax preparer. Form 5329 and exceptions are covered in the Other Taxes lesson.

Lump-Sum Distributions

A lump-sum distribution is the distribution or payment within one tax year of an employee's entire balance from all qualified pension, stock bonus, or profit-sharing plans that the employer maintains. The distribution does not include certain deductible voluntary employee contributions and certain amounts forfeited or subject to forfeiture. Distributions from IRAs or tax-sheltered annuities do not qualify as lump-sum distributions.

To qualify as a lump-sum distribution, the payment must have been made:

- · Because the plan participant died, or
- · After the participant reached age 59½, or
- Because the participant (not including a self-employed individual) separated from service with the employer, or
- After the participant, if self-employed, became totally and permanently disabled

Lump-sum distributions are reported on Form 1099-R like any other pension distribution. Some lump-sum distributions qualify for special tax treatments. If Form 1099-R indicates a distribution code of A, it is a lump-sum distribution qualifying for special tax treatments. Taxpayers with this situation should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

Premature Distributions

A premature distribution is an early withdrawal from a retirement fund, for purposes other than retirement, by a taxpayer who is under 59½. Early distributions can be subject to an additional 10% tax. The additional tax applies to the taxable portion of the distribution or payment.

If the distribution code is 1, the taxpayer will be subject to the additional 10% tax, unless an exception applies.

Certain early distributions are excluded from the early distribution tax. If the distribution code in Form 1099-R is 2, 3, or 4, the taxpayer does not have to pay the additional tax. The exceptions for excluding early distributions from the additional tax are covered in more detail in the Other Taxes lesson.

Minimum Distributions

To avoid an additional tax, participants in retirement plans must begin taking a Required Minimum Distribution (RMD) by a previously specified date. That date is April 1 of the calendar year following the year in which the taxpayers either reached age 70½, or retired, whichever is later. For IRAs, it does not matter whether the taxpayer has retired. These rules do not apply to Roth IRAs. The trustee of the qualified plan will contact the taxpayer at the appropriate time to begin RMD.

After the starting year for RMDs, taxpayers must receive the minimum distribution for each year by December 31 of that year. (The starting year is the year in which the taxpayer reaches 70½ or retires.) If no distribution is received during the taxpayer's starting year, the required minimum distributions for two years must be received the following year, one of which must be taken by April 1.

If the taxpayer does not receive the minimum distribution, an additional tax may be imposed. The tax is 50% of the difference between the minimum distribution and the amount actually distributed for the tax year.

This information is provided for your information only, to help you answer any questions a taxpayer may ask about RMD. RMD distributions are reported on Form 1099-R and included on the return using the procedures previously discussed.

example

Peter turned 70½ on August 20 of this year. He must receive the first required minimum distribution from his IRA by April 1 of next year. He must receive a second required minimum distribution by December 31 of next year.

example

Ralph retired five years ago. He turned 70½ this tax year. He must begin taking minimum distributions from his qualified plans by April 1 of the following year.

example

Myrna was 72 when she retired this year. She was required to begin taking minimum distributions from her traditional IRA after age 70½ even though she has not retired. Myrna has until December 31 to take her minimum distribution for the current tax year.

Withdrawal of Excess IRA Contributions

An excess IRA contribution is the amount contributed to a traditional IRA during the year that is more than the smaller of:

- $5,500 ($6,500 if age 50 or older), or
- · The taxable compensation for the year

The taxpayer may not know that a contribution is excess until the tax return is completed after the end of the year. In this situation, the excess amount, with any earnings on that amount, must be withdrawn by the due date of the return (including extensions). If the excess amount is not withdrawn by the due date of the return, the taxpayer will be subject to an additional 6% tax on this amount.

The withdrawn excess contribution is not included in the taxpayer's gross income if both of the following conditions are met:

- No deduction was allowed for the excess contribution
- All interest or other income earned on the excess contribution is withdrawn by the due date of the return, including extensions

However, taxpayers must include the earnings on the excess contribution as income on the return. This income is reported on the return for the year in which the excess contribution was made. The withdrawal of interest or other income may also be subject to an additional 10% tax on early distributions.

If the taxpayer is subject to an additional tax due to excess IRA contributions, refer them to professional tax preparer.

Question 7: Taxpayers who withdraw excess contributions and earnings on the excess contributions by the due date of the tax return are not subject to an additional 6% tax on the excess contribution.

□ True □ False

Question 8: Helen turned 70½ on March 17, 2014. She retired in 2003. She has never taken any distribution from her traditional IRA accounts. The bank told her that she now needs to take a minimum distribution of $1,479 per year. Helen is required to:

- A. Take a distribution of $1,479 by December 31, 2014
- B. Take a distribution of $1,479 by April 1, 2014, and another $1,479 by December 31, 2014
- C. Take a distribution of $2,958 by December 31, 2014
- D. Take a distribution of $1,479 by April 1, 2015, and another $1,479 by December 31, 2015

How do I determine when an adjustment to withholding should be made?

After the completion of the return, if the taxpayer owes $1,000 or more on the tax return, you should discuss their withholding and estimated tax options with them.

Sometimes taxpayers are not aware they can request that federal income tax be withheld from their retirement income by filing Form W-4P, Withholding Certificate for Pension or Annuity Payments. This form is sent to the payer. Also, Form W-4V, Voluntary Withholding Request, is used to request withholding from Social Security benefits. This form is sent to the Social Security Administration. Every year, the Social Security Administration reports taxpayers' retirement benefits and/or voluntary withholdings on Form 1099-SSA.

Taxpayers who receive a very large refund may make better use of their funds if tax withholding is lowered. Explain ways they can reduce their withholding.

For additional help, taxpayers can refer to Publication 17, Withholding, Form W-4, or visit the IRS Web site at www.irs.gov and use the "Withholding Calculator." A taxpayer who chooses not to have tax withheld may have to pay estimated tax each quarter. Failure to pay enough federal income tax throughout the year can result in a large amount of tax being owed when the return is due. It can also result in a penalty. Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals, is used to calculate the estimated quarterly payment and provides vouchers with which to remit the payments.

Question 9: Faith comes to your site to get her tax return done. When you finish her return, you explain to her that she owes $985, and that she needs to pay this amount by April 15. She says that she will pay the amount, but wants to know if there is some way to have more tax withheld from her pension so that she doesn't owe so much at the end of the year. Which form should she complete to increase the withholding from her pension?

A. Form W-4P

B. Form W-4V

Summary

This lesson helped you identify, calculate, and report the taxable portion of retirement income received by the taxpayer. It reviewed the types of retirement income and the forms used to report them. You learned when taxpayers of retirement age are required to take a minimum distribution from a retirement plan and when they may need to adjust their withholding.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following are out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

- The taxpayer needs to file Form 8606
- Taxpayers who made nondeductible contributions to a traditional IRA
- Taxpayer subject to additional tax due to excess IRA contributions
- · Roth IRA distributions that are taxable or partially taxable, and distributions with Form 1099-R, code J or T
- IRA rollovers that do not meet the tax-free requirements
- Taxpayers who used the General Rule to figure the taxable portion of pensions and/or annuities for past years
- Form 1099-R, distribution code A (lump-sum distribution qualifying for special tax treatments)

For practice using the tax preparation software, complete the scenarios using the Practice Lab on L<.

You may not be able to complete the entire exercise if some of the technical issues in the exercise are not covered until later lessons in the training. In these instances, complete as much of the exercise as you can. Come back later to finish the exercise after you cover all the technical topics.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

- Answer 1: False. In addition to Roth IRAs, nondeductible contributions to traditional IRAs are also not taxed when they are distributed.
- Answer 2: False. Mary's distribution was not made after the 5-year period beginning with the first taxable year she made a contribution to her Roth IRA. Therefore, the earnings/investment gains portion of the distribution will be taxable income. (She may also owe an additional tax on early distributions. This will be discussed in the Other Taxes lesson.)
- Answer 3: True. Amy's distribution can be excluded from her taxable income because it was made more than five years after the beginning of the taxable year of her first contribution, and it was made on or after age 59½.
- Answer 4: B. Andrew can exclude the entire distribution from income because it was rolled over into an IRA within the allowed 60-day period.
- Answer 5: C. Dotty's entire pension amount of 10,074 (6 x 1,679) is fully taxable because she has never paid income taxes on her employer's contribution to her pension.
- Answer 6: D. Because Annie Jo has not reached the minimum retirement age set by her employer, you should report her disability income as wages on line 7 of her Form 1040.
- Answer 7: True. Taxpayers must withdraw excess contributions and any earnings by the due date of the return (including extensions) to avoid the additional 6% tax on the excess contribution.
- Answer 8: D. Taxpayers are required to begin receiving distributions from their qualified plan by April 1 of the calendar year following the year in which they reach age 70½. Helen was 70½ in 2014. She should take a distribution of $1,479 for tax year 2014 by April 1, 2015, and another distribution of $1,479 for tax year 2015 by December 31, 2015.
- Answer 9: A. Generally, Form W-4P, Withholding Certificate for Pension and Annuity Payments, is used to request a change in withholding on a pension.

Income – Schedules K-1 and Rental

Introduction

This lesson covers the reporting of:

- Certain income from Schedules K-1 (Forms 1065, 1120S, and 1041). Only volunteers who certify at the Advanced level are permitted to prepare a Schedule E with Schedule K-1 income items identified in this lesson or Form 1099-MISC, Box 2, Royalties, with no associated expenses.
- Rental income and expenses for the Military course. Volunteers must certify at Military level to prepare Schedule E for rental income.

Generally, the at-risk and passive activity issues in this lesson are beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE programs. These issues are referenced for those assisting military members living abroad who have limited access to resources and professional preparers.

The intake and interview sheet provides a line to list income from rental property but does not provide a place to list income from Schedules K-1. It is important to ensure that all income is accurately reported on the return. Ask taxpayers if they rented out their home or other property during the tax year or if they received a Schedule K-1 (Form 1041, Form 1065, or Form 1120S) from an estate, trust, partnership, or S corporation.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Identify Schedule K-1 income items that are within the scope of the VITA/TCE programs
- · Determine how to report Schedule K-1 income items
- Determine which types of rental income must be reported
- Identify how to report rental expenses

This lesson does not apply to taxpayers who are in the business of renting properties.

What is reported on Schedule K-1?

Schedule K-1 is used to report the taxpayer's share of income, other distributions, deductions, and credits from partnerships, S corporations, and some estates and trusts. One copy of Schedule K-1 is sent to the IRS and is later matched with individual returns. Another copy of Schedule K-1 is sent to the taxpayer. Ask taxpayers if they received a Schedule K-1 from such an entity that reflects their share of income, reportable on their Form 1040. It is important to correctly report this income to avoid notices or correspondence from the IRS.

How and where can income be reported?

Income reported on Schedule K-1 will be included on the taxpayer's return in various places depending upon the type of income. Income reported on Schedule K-1 that is within the scope of the VITA/TCE programs includes:

- Interest income (1040, line 8a)
- Dividend income (1040, line 9a)
- · Qualified Dividends income (1040, line 9b)
- · Net short-term capital gains and losses (Schedule D, line 5)
- Net long-term capital gains and losses (Schedule D, line 12)
- Tax-exempt interest income (Form 1040, line 8b)
- Royalty income (Schedule E)

In Part I, enter a code 6 for royalties. Refer to the Schedule E Instructions for more information.

Royalty income is in scope for the VITA/TCE programs only when the source document of the royalty income is reported on Schedule K-1 or Form 1099-MISC, Box 2, Royalties, with no associated expenses. For these investors, the depletion allowance would already have been figured for them by the partnership or S corporation. Any other income, deductions, credits, etc., reported on Schedule K-1 is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs, and the taxpayer should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

Schedule K-1 (Form 1041)

The fiduciary of a domestic decedent's estate, trust, or bankruptcy estate uses Form 1041 to report income, gains, losses, etc., of the estate or trust.

Taxpayers receive Form 1041, Schedule K-1, to report their share of income from interest, dividends (ordinary and qualified), and capital gains (net short-term and net long-term). The taxpayer's income from these sources should be reported on the appropriate forms and schedules as listed on Form 1041, Schedule K-1, page 2.

Schedule K-1 (Forms 1065 and 1120S)

Partnerships use Form 1065, Schedule K-1, to report the taxpayers' share of the partnership's income, deductions, credits, etc. In general, a partnership is not subject to income tax and is a flow-through entity. This means the income flows through to the partners, who pay tax on their allocated share of the partnership income.

S corporations use Form 1120S, Schedule K-1, to report the taxpayers' share of the corporation's income (reduced by any tax the corporation paid on the income), as well as any deductions, credits, etc. The S corporation is also a flow-through entity with the reported income flowing to each shareholder. Shareholders pay tax on their allocated share of the income.

Taxpayers receive a Schedule K-1 (Form 1065 or Form 1120S) reporting their share of income from interest, dividends (ordinary and qualified), and capital gains (net short-term and net long-term) from partnerships and corporations. Schedule K-1, page 2, lists the appropriate forms and schedules where taxpayers' income from these sources should be reported.

What is rental income?

Generally, payment received for renting a room or a home to a tenant is rental income reportable on Form 1040, Schedule E. U.S. citizens and resident aliens must report rental income, regardless of whether the rental property is located in the U.S. or in a foreign country. Gross rental income may include other payments in addition to the normal and ordinary rents received, such as:

- · Advanced rent
- · Security deposits, if it represents rental income
- · Payments for breaking a lease
- Expenses paid by the tenant
- Fair market value of property or services received instead of rental payments

The taxpayer's method of accounting affects when the rental income is reported. The cash method reports income when received and expenses when paid; most individuals use this method. The accrual method reports income when earned and expenses when incurred, and is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs. Refer taxpayers using the accrual method of accounting to a professional tax preparer.

In completing Schedule E, the following should be answered:

- Question A Check the box "Yes" or "No" to the question: Did the taxpayer make any payments in the current year that would require the filing of Form 1099? If Yes, the return is out of scope.
- Question B If Yes, did or will the taxpayer file all required Forms 1099?
 Check the box "Yes" or "No."
- In Part I, line 2 The number of fair rental value days and number of personal use days is reported on Schedule E.

Landlords who are not in the business of renting property are not required to file Form 1099 even if they pay a service provided more than $600 a year.

Schedules K-1 are not filed with the tax return. Advise taxpayers to keep Schedules K-1 with their records.

The security deposit is not included in income when the taxpayer plans on returning the deposit at the end of the lease. However, if the security deposit is intended to serve as the last month's rent, then it should be included in income when received.

Tax Software Hint: Use Schedule E to report rental income only when the taxpayer is not in the business of renting property. For software entries, see the Volunteer Resource Guide, Schedule E – Rental and Royalty Income and Loss (Limited) page.

It is important that property be rented at fair rental value. If a property is rented at less than fair rental value, the income and expenses are reported in a different manner than discussed in this lesson. Refer taxpayers who rent their property at less than fair rental value to a professional tax preparer.

What qualifies as a rental expense?

Taxpayers who reside in homes they own generally itemize and deduct mortgage interest and property taxes on Schedule A. However, when a taxpayer rents out a home, those become rental expenses along with the cost of certain other operating expenses. Taxpayers who do not use the rental home as their residence should:

- · Include the rent as income and
- · Deduct all of the rental expenses, even if they exceed income

Mortgage interest and property taxes

Mortgage interest and property taxes are deductible as rental expenses. If the residence (or a portion of the residence) was used as rental property for any part of the year, the taxpayer must allocate the property tax and mortgage interest deductions between Schedule A and Schedule E.

In general, taxpayers use Schedule A, Itemized Deductions, to report the portion of the mortgage interest and property taxes that apply to their use of the home. That portion can be based on a percentage of time (4 months as a residence and 8 months used as rental) or based on an area (1,500 sq. ft. as a residence and 500 sq. ft. as the rental portion). For the part of the year and/or the portion of the home that is rented out, taxpayers report rental income and expenses (including a portion of the mortgage interest, property taxes, and other expenses that relate to the rental time/portion of the home) on Schedule E, Supplemental Income and Loss.

If any part of the property tax is designated for local benefits that increase the value of the property, such as streets and sidewalks, that portion of the tax is added to the basis of the property rather than as an ordinary rental expense or an itemized deduction.

Mortgage interest is reported to the taxpayer on Form 1098, Mortgage Interest Statement. This statement may also include property taxes. If it does not, the taxpayer will have a document from the local taxing authority.

Generally, mortgage interest expense is fully deductible. However, refer taxpayers with rental-related interest expenses other than mortgage interest to a professional tax preparer.

example

Paul Kingman lived in his home through September, when he was notified he was being transferred overseas. He rented his home beginning in October. The total amount of Kingman's mortgage interest for the tax year was $2,400 and his property taxes were $600. Report nine months (January–September) of mortgage interest and property taxes as itemized deductions on Schedule A, that is, $1,800 and $450, and the other three months (October–December) as expenses on Schedule E, that is, $600 and $150.

What are other deductible rental expenses?

In addition to mortgage interest and property taxes, deductible rental property expenses include these items listed on Schedule E:

- Advertising
- Auto and travel expenses to check on the property
- Cleaning and maintenance
- · Commissions paid for collecting rental income
- · Insurance premiums
- Mortgage points
- · Legal and professional fees
- Property management fees
- Repairs
- Utilities
- Other rental-related expenses, such as rental of equipment, long distance phone calls, and condominium/cooperative maintenance fees

EXERCISES

Question 1: John Princeton was transferred overseas and began renting out his residence on September 1 of the tax year. How much of his mortgage interest and property taxes should be reported on his Schedule E?

- A. All of it
- B. Eight-twelfths (2/3 or 67%)
- C. Four-twelfths (1/3 or 33%)
- D. None of it

What about property insurance?

The property insurance that taxpayers pay on their residence is deductible as a rental expense for the time it is considered rental property. If the residence is rented for part of the year, only the amount that covers the rental time is deductible. If a portion of the residence is rented, the deductible portion must be allocated and deducted on Schedule E.

Insurance premiums paid more than one year in advance cannot be deducted in one year. All taxpayers must prorate advanced premium payments over the period covered by the policy. The only portion deductible in the current year is that amount that covers the current year. The remainder is spread out over the life of the insurance coverage.

Can auto and travel expenses be deducted as rental expenses?

Taxpayers can deduct ordinary and necessary travel and transportation expenses attributable to the production of rental income. If the travel was in or outside of the U.S., taxpayers should substantiate the pleasure vs. business portions of the trip and allocate the expenses accordingly.

When a tenant does not pay the rent, a cash-basis landlord cannot take a deduction for the unpaid rent. Taxpayers cannot take a deduction for a payment they did not include in income. Taxpayers who use their personal automobile for rental-related trips may use either the standard mileage rate or the actual expense method for business mileage. However, if the taxpayers wish to use the actual expense method, refer them to a professional tax preparer.

The standard mileage method multiplies the miles driven for business by a standard cost. The standard rate includes all expenses of operating the vehicle. Only parking and tolls can be added to the standard mileage deduction. See Publication 17, Car Expenses and Other Employee Business Expenses, for the current year standard mileage rate. Taxpayers may use the standard mileage rate only if they meet one of these requirements:

- The vehicle was owned and used the standard method the first year the vehicle was put into service or
- The vehicle was leased and used the standard method for the life of the lease

The actual expense method figures the deduction based on a variety of factors, including gasoline, oil, repairs, insurance, and rentals and may even involve depreciation or the value of a vehicle provided by the taxpayer's employer.

This lesson discusses only the standard mileage rate. If taxpayers wish to use the actual method, refer them to a professional tax preparer.

Are repairs and improvements deductible?

Taxpayers often misunderstand when an expense qualifies as a repair or an improvement. A repair keeps the property in good operating condition; the cost is a current year deduction. An improvement adds to the life or material value of the property, prolongs its useful life, or adapts it to new uses. This cost must be depreciated over the recovery period for the improvement. The total cost of an improvement includes material, labor, and installation.

Tax Software Hint: For software entries, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Schedule E – Rental and Royalty Income and Loss (Limited) page.

Repairs (Deduction)	Improvements (Depreciation)
Painting	Adding a room
Fixing gutters	Installing a new fence
Repairing driveways	Putting in plumbing or wiring
Replacing window glass	Replacing a hot water tank
Repairing the roof	Putting on a new roof
Repairing appliances	Replacing/adding major appliances

Additional information on rental income can be found in Publication 527, Residential Rental Property and Publication 946, How to Depreciate Property.

Question 2: All of the following are examples of deductible rental expenses except

- A. Carpet cleaning fees
- B. Charges for phone calls made to the property manager
- C. Gas and electric bills paid for the rental property
- D. Repairs made to the homeowner's personal residence

Question 3: Which of the following rental expenses must be recovered by taking depreciation?

- A. Home insurance premiums
- B. Painting
- C. Installing a backyard fence
- D. Repairing a broken furnace

How do I handle depreciation of rental property?

The cost of property with a useful life of one year or more, and used in a trade or business or held for the production of income (such as rent), is recovered by deducting an expense called depreciation.

"Depreciable property" includes buildings, machinery, furniture, equipment, vehicles, and any cost for additions or improvements to rental property. The value of land, however, is not depreciable; therefore, the cost of clearing, grading, planting, or other land improvements are also not depreciable.

Depreciation allows the taxpayers to deduct some of the cost of the property each year on their tax return. The annual amount of depreciation on property reduces the taxpayers' basis in that property. Taxpayers should claim the correct amount of depreciation every year. Even if they did not deduct the depreciation during any tax year, they must still reduce their basis in the property by the amount of depreciation that they should have deducted.

What factors determine the amount of depreciation to deduct?

The factors that determine the depreciation amount are:

- · Depreciation method used
- Basis of the property
- Recovery period for the property

Depreciation Method

The most common methods for determining depreciation are:

- Straight line or declining balance: Property placed in service before 1981
- ACRS (Accelerated Cost Recovery System): Property placed in service after 1980, but before 1987
- MACRS (Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System): Property placed in service after 1986

This training focuses on the MACRS method. Under MACRS, conventions are used to determine the portion of the year to depreciate property both in the year the property is placed in service and in the year of disposition. MACRS uses mid-month convention, mid-quarter convention, and half-year convention. The mid-month convention is used to calculate depreciation on residential real property. This means that you treat the property placed in service or disposed of during a month as placed in service or disposed of at the midpoint of the month.

example

Captain Barbara Ventura purchased a condo in August 2008 for $225,000, which was her principal residence. The purchase price did not include the cost of any land. Last year, she was transferred overseas on December 20. Repairs were made to the condo in January and February of this year. On March 1 of this year, the property was rented. Assuming her depreciable basis is $225,000, she is allowed to take 9½ months of depreciation. Using the depreciation table for residential Rental Property, Barbara is allowed a depreciation amount of $6,478.00. (Multiply the depreciable basis of $225,000 by .02879 the percentage from Table A-6 of Pub 946.)

example

This year, Captain Ventura bought a new stove that she placed in service on August 27, for $1,500. Under MACRS, using the half-year convention, she can take 6 months of depreciation, though the stove was in service for approximately 4 months. The amount of depreciation is calculated by multiplying the depreciable basis of $1,500 by applicable percentage from Table A-1 of Pub 946.

Question 4: Taxpayers have the option of not claiming a depreciation deduction they are entitled to and avoid reducing the basis in their depreciable property. □ True □ False
Question 5: All of the following property may be depreciable except
A. Furniture
B. Buildings
C. Land
D. Vehicles
Question 6: Which method of depreciation is used for property placed in service after 1986?
A. Straight line
B. MACRS

What is considered the basis and adjusted basis for depreciation purposes?

Generally, the basis for depreciation is the purchase price of the property, including the cost of improvements, but not including the value of the land. When property is converted from personal use to rental use, the basis is the lesser of the adjusted basis or fair market value (FMV) at the time of conversion. The total of the yearly deductions for depreciation can never total more than the basis of the property.

For taxpayers who acquired their home as an inheritance or gift, the basis may not be the original cost. For more information, see Publication 551, Basis of Assets.

C. ACRS

D. Declining balance

example

Carlos and Vanetta purchased a house in 1986 for $100,000. The value of the building was $85,000. They made no improvements. In the current year, they were transferred overseas and decided to rent out the home, which was their personal residence. The value of the house and land for the current year was $125,000. The basis for depreciation is $85,000.

The basis of property must be increased or decreased to reflect certain adjustments before the depreciation deduction is computed. To find the adjusted basis, add the purchase price of a home to the cost of any improvements minus:

Taxpayers cannot include the value of their own labor, or any other labor they did not pay for, in the basis of any property they constructed.

- · Any casualty losses or depreciation previously deducted and
- Land value

The basis of depreciable property should also be adjusted when it is acquired in a purchase with a trade-in. Again, the value of any associated land must be assessed and excluded from the basis of the property.

example

A set of major appliances that Mark Newcomb used in his rental property had an adjusted basis of $500. He acquired a set of new appliances with a fair market value of $2,000 by trading in the old appliances and paying $1,000 in cash. Although the fair market value of the new appliances was $2,000, Mark's basis for depreciation purposes is $1,500 (the $500 adjusted basis plus his $1,000 cash payment).

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 7: The purchase price of Wayne's rental property, including land, was $255,000, when the value of the land was assessed at $155,000. He spent $50,000 on improvements to the building and another $10,000 on landscaping. What is Wayne's basis for depreciation in the property?

- A. $305,000
- B. $255,000
- C. $160,000
- D. $150,000

What are considered recovery periods?

The recovery period of property is the number of years over which the taxpayer recovers its cost or other basis. The MACRS method uses the class life of property to determine the length of time the property will be depreciated.

How do I figure the MACRS deduction?

To figure the MACRS deduction, you need to know the property's:

- · Placed in service date
- Recovery period
- · Depreciable basis

What is the placed in service date?

For depreciation purposes, property is considered placed in service when it is in a condition or state of readiness and availability for use. A property's depreciation deduction is prorated in the year it is placed in service. Even if the property is not being used, it is considered in service if it is available for use.

example

Joan Smith moved from her home in July. During August and September, she made several repairs to her house. On October 1, she listed the property for rent with a real estate company, which rented on December 1. The property is considered placed in service on October 1, the date when it was available for rent.

What are considered recovery periods under MACRS?

The recovery period of the property depends on its property class. Each item of depreciable property is assigned to a property class. Property classes are based on the property's class life and determine its recovery period. Under General Depreciation System (GDS), the recovery period of an asset is generally the same as its property class. A table is available in Publication 527, Residential Rental Property, to help determine the correct recovery period for an item.

Under MACRS:

- A home converted in 1986, or later, to a rental property would be depreciated over a recovery period of 27.5 years.
- A stove used in this same rental would be assigned a 5-year recovery period.

See Publication 946, How to Depreciate Property, Appendix A, for Tables of Depreciation, which show the recovery periods for different property classes.

Property located outside the U.S. has a longer recovery period than property in the U.S., and the taxpayer must use the Alternative Depreciation System (ADS) under MACRS. ADS generally increases the number of years over which the property is depreciated and therefore decreases the annual deduction. Residential rental property located in a foreign country is depreciated over a 40-year recovery period.

Question 8: Which of the following properties would generally have the shortest recovery period for depreciation? (Use the table in Publication 527.)

- A. A rental home located in the U.S.
- B. A washing machine in a rental unit located in the U.S.
- C. Improvements to a rental unit located outside the U.S.
- D. A rental home located outside the U.S.

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

As you review the intake and interview sheet with taxpayers, ask questions to determine if they have any rental income and expenses. Use the Interview Tips to help obtain additional information, as shown in this sample interview.

SAMPLE INTERVIE	W
VOLUNTEER SAYS	TONY RESPONDS
I see you were stationed overseas last year from March through December. Did you rent out your home during that time?	Yes. From February 1 through the end of the year. Actually, the tenant was there for thirteen months – he just moved out.
We only need to deal with last year. Now, during January of last year you were the only one living in the house?	Yes, that's right. How does all that affect my taxes?
For January, we'll report a twelfth of your mortgage interest and property taxes as itemized deductions on Schedule A. For February through December, we'll report your mortgage interest, property taxes, the cost of maintenance and repairs, and other expenses on Schedule E.	O.K.
Now, how much did you receive in rent and other payments from February through December?	There was rent of $1,200 each month and the last month's cleaning deposit.
I have Form 1098 for your mortgage interest and the invoice for your property taxes. I'll need the amount of your homeowners insurance for the year. Did you have any other expenses related to renting, such as repairs or improvements?	Yes, just before I left the country, I spent $1,000 having the place painted and I installed a new refrigerator.
We'll report the paint job on Schedule E as an expense. We'll also work out the depreciation on both the house and the refrigerator.

How do I handle rental property that the taxpayer also uses?

When the rental property is a portion of the taxpayer's residence, the rental income and expenses must be allocated separately from the taxpayer's personal expenses.

How do I differentiate between rental expenses and personal use expenses?

Expenses that apply to only the rental part of a property are direct business expenses and should be reported in full on Schedule E. The cost of installing a second phone line strictly for a tenant's use, for example, is deductible as a rental expense. However, the taxpayer cannot deduct any part of the cost of the first phone in a partially-rented property, even if tenants use it.

Expenses that benefit the entire property (indirect expenses) must be divided between rental use and personal use; the rental portion is reported on Schedule E. If deductions are itemized, the personal portion of home mortgage interest and property tax may be reported on Schedule A. The taxpayer can choose any reasonable method to allocate the expenses. The most common methods are based on the number of rooms in the dwelling or on the total area of the dwelling.

On Schedule E, report expenses that apply exclusively to the rental room and the allowed percentage of expenses that benefit the entire house. For example, if the rented portion is 10% of the property, the taxpayer could deduct:

- 100% of the cost to wallpaper the tenant's room
- 10% of property taxes, utilities, mortgage interest, and depreciation

example

Gloria rents one room in her 1,200 square foot house to a tenant. The rental room measures 10 feet by 12 feet (120 square feet, or 10% of the total house). She may deduct:

- 100% of any expenses that relate only to the rental portion of the house, such as repairs or upgrades to the rented room
- 10% of any qualified expense that benefits the entire house

When taxpayers can itemize personal deductions on Schedule A, they can report the deductible expenses that benefit the entire house minus the percentage that applies to the tenant's room. In Gloria's case, if she is treating the rental portion as 10% of the residence, she can deduct the following on Schedule A:

Expenses related to days of personal use do not qualify as rental expenses. The taxpayer must allocate the expenses based on the number of days of personal use to total use of the property.

- 90% of the mortgage interest
- 90% of the property taxes

example

Charles used his rental property for personal use 7 days and rented it for 63 days. In most cases, 10% of Charles' expenses are not rental expenses and cannot be deducted on Schedule E (7 = 10% of 70 total days: 7 personal days + 63 rented days).

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 9: For taxpayers who rent part of a property in which they live, which expenses are reported only on Schedule E and not on Schedule A?

- A. Home insurance and mortgage interest
- B. Property taxes and repairs
- C. Utilities and home insurance
- D. Depreciation and property taxes

How should taxpayers report rental expenses that exceed their rental income when they live in the home for part of the year?

Questions in Part I, line 2 of Schedule E ask for information on the number of rental days at fair rental value and the number of days for personal use. If taxpayers rented out a dwelling unit that they also used for personal purposes during the year, they may not be able to deduct all the expenses for the rental part.

Dwelling unit (the unit) means a house, apartment, condominium, or similar property. A day of personal use is any day, or part of a day, that the unit was used by:

- · The taxpayer for personal purposes,
- Any other person for personal purposes, if that person owns part of the unit (unless rented to that person under a "shared equity" financing agreement),
- Anyone in the taxpayer's family (or in the family of someone else who owns part of the unit), unless the unit is rented at a fair rental price to that person as his or her main home,
- · Anyone who pays less than a fair rental price for the unit, or
- · Anyone under an agreement that lets the taxpayer use some other unit

Are there any exceptions?

Taxpayers who used a dwelling unit as their main home may not have to count all that time as "days of personal use." Do not count as personal use any day the taxpayer:

- Spends working substantially full time repairing and maintaining the unit, even if a family member used it for recreational purposes on that day, or
- Used the unit as the taxpayer's main home before or after renting it or offering it for rent, if the taxpayer rented or tried to rent it for at least 12 consecutive months (or for a period of less than 12 consecutive months at the end of which the taxpayer sold or exchanged the home)

example

On February 28, 2011, Trent moved out of the house he had lived in for six years because he accepted a job in another town. He rented his house at a fair rental price from March 15 last year to May 14 this year. On June 1 this year, he moved back to town and moved back into his house. Because he rented his property for 12 or more consecutive months, his use of the house is not counted as personal use. Since these days are not counted as days of personal use, the limitations on deductions do not apply.

Are there any limitations?

There are limitations based on whether the taxpayer used the dwelling unit as a home and it meets the personal use test. The personal use test is met if the taxpayer used the unit for personal purposes in the current tax year more than the greater of:

- 14 days or
- 10% of the total days it was rented to others at a fair rental price

Fair rental days and personal use days are reported in Part I, line 2, of Schedule E.

If the taxpayer did not use the dwelling unit as a home, the taxpayer can deduct all the expenses for the rental part, subject to the At-Risk Rules and the Passive Activity Loss Rules. For more details on these rules, refer to Publication 527, Residential Rental Property.

If the taxpayer used the dwelling as a home and rented the unit for fewer than 15 days in the current tax year, do not report the rental income and do not deduct any rental expenses. If the taxpayer itemizes deductions on Schedule A, the taxpayer can deduct allowable interest, taxes, and casualty losses. (Remember that the topic of casualty losses is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs.)

If the taxpayer used the dwelling as a home and rented out the unit at least 15 days in the current tax year, the taxpayer may not be able to deduct all of the rental expenses. The taxpayer can deduct all of the following expenses for the rental part on Schedule E:

- Mortgage interest
- · Real estate taxes
- Casualty losses (out of scope)
- Other rental expenses not related to the taxpayer's use of the unit as a home, such as advertising expenses and rental agents' fees

If there is rental income left after deducting these expenses, the taxpayer can deduct other expenses, including depreciation, up to the amount of remaining income. The taxpayer can carry over to the following tax year the unused expense amounts.

example

Roger owns a condominium apartment in a resort area. He rented it at a fair rental price for a total of 170 days during the year. For 12 of those days, the tenant was not able to use the apartment and allowed Roger to use it even though he did not refund any of the rent. Roger's family actually used the apartment for 10 of those days. Therefore, the apartment is treated as having been rented for 160 days (170 – 10). Roger figures 10% of the total days rented to others at a fair rental price is 16 days. Roger's family also used the apartment for 7 other days during the year.

Roger used the apartment as a home because he used it for personal purposes for 17 days. That is more than the greater of 14 days or 10% of the 160 days it was rented (16 days).

Roger must allocate expenses related to personal use. In addition he is limited in the expenses that he can report on Schedule E.

example

Latricia converted the basement of her home into a one-bedroom apartment. She rented the apartment out at a fair rental price to college students during the nine-month school year. During June, Latricia's brother stayed in the apartment rent-free. This is considered personal use. Limitations apply to Latricia's rental expense deductions because the apartment was used for personal purposes for 30 days, which was more than the greater of:

- · 14 days or
- 10% of the 270 days it was rented (27 days)

Question 10: Which of the following taxpayers cannot deduct any of their rental expenses?

- A. Julio, who rented out his house eight months last year. After the tenants moved out, he let his sister and brother-in-law stay in the house two months rent-free.
- B. Marcel, who rented a room of his condo all year and lived there himself 11 months.
- C. Cherice, who offered a room for rent in her home all year but had only one renter who stayed just one month.
- D. Lois, who rented her home 12 days and then allowed her father to live there rent-free the rest of the year while she worked overseas.

Tax Software Hint: If the property was used as a rental for the entire year, the income and expenses can be reported on Schedule E. If the property was used partially as a rental and partially as a residence, some expenses may need to be allocated. For software entries, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Schedule E – Rental and Royalty Income and Loss (Limited) page.

How do I handle rental losses?

Deducting all rental expenses and depreciation from the rent received may result in a net loss. Rental losses are not always fully deductible. There are two restrictions on how much a loss can offset other sources of income:

- At-risk rule
- · Passive activity rules

What is the at-risk rule?

The at-risk rule places a limitation on the amount the taxpayer can deduct as losses from activities often described as tax shelters. Generally, any loss from an activity subject to the at-risk rules is allowed only to the extent of the total amount the taxpayer has at risk in the activity at the end of the tax year.

What are the passive activity rules?

The passive activity rules state that passive activity losses can be deducted only from passive activity income. Passive income does not include salary, dividends, or investments but is generally attributed to such things as rental income. Therefore, losses that exceed rental income (the passive activity) are not deductible; however, some losses may be deductible if an exception is met.

Passive income and active participation

The limits on deducting rental losses are affected by the degree to which renting out the property is a passive activity or involves active participation:

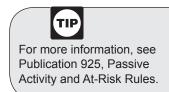

- Passive rental activity means receiving income mainly from the use of property rather than for services.
- Active participation means making significant management decisions, such as approving rental terms, repairs, expenditures, and new tenants. Taxpayers who use a leasing agent or property manager could be considered active participants if they retain final management rights.

Exception

Rental activities are generally considered passive activities. For this reason, rental losses are not fully deductible. However, an exception to the passive activity rule provides that taxpayers who actively participate in the rental activity can use up to $25,000 of their rental losses to offset any other nonpassive income ($12,500 for married taxpayers filing separately and living apart for the entire year). Examples of nonpassive income are salaries, wages, commissions, tips, self-employment income, interest, dividends, annuities, and some royalties. (This deduction is subject to phaseout if the taxpayer's adjusted gross income (AGI) exceeds certain limits.)

What is active participation?

It is considered active participation when taxpayers own at least 10% of the rental property and make management decisions in a significant and bona fide sense. Management decisions include approving new tenants, deciding on rental terms, approving expenditure, and similar decisions.

example

Sally Jenkins, a U.S. citizen, lives in Europe and is paid $25,000 in wages by the U.S. government and had $100 of interest income. She rented out her U.S. home and incurred $1,000 in rental loss for the tax year. Although her sister collects the rent, Sally makes all of the decisions as to whom, and for what amount, the property will be rented. While Sally is in Europe, she pays her sister to manage the property. Sally's rental loss of $1,000 may be offset against her gross income of $25,100 because she is considered to be an active participant in the rental activity.

Tax Software Hint: Be sure to answer the question related to active participation in the worksheet shown below the Schedule E in the tax software.

Phase-Out of Offset

The amount allowed to offset nonpassive income is:

- Reduced once the taxpayer's Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) exceeds $100,000 ($50,000 for Married Filing Separately)
- Completely phased out when AGI exceeds $150,000 ($75,000 for Married Filing Separately)

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 11: Which restriction limits the deductibility of rental loss to the amount of rental income?

- A. Phase-out of offset
- B. Passive activity rules
- C. Active participation rule

How are passive rental losses reported?

Taxpayers use Form 8582 to figure the amount of any passive activity loss allowed for the current tax year. Form 8582 summarizes losses and income from all passive activities.

Generally, taxpayers are not required to file Form 8582 if they have:

- · Only one passive loss generated from a rental activity and
- An AGI of less than $100,000

Completing Form 8582 is out of scope if volunteers are required by software to enter additional data in Form 8582. See the following Tax Software Hint.

Tax Software Hint: The tax software will automatically generate and complete Form 8582 if required. If any questions arise regarding whether to file or how to complete Form 8582, refer the taxpayer to the IRS or a professional tax preparer.

Summary

Taxpayers receive Schedule K-1 (Form 1065, Form 1041, or Form 1120S) reporting their share of income from flow through entities. Interest, dividends (ordinary and qualified), capital gains (net short-term and net long-term) are in scope. Schedule K-1, page 2, lists the appropriate forms and schedules where the taxpayers' income from these sources should be reported. Only royalties on Schedule K-1, Forms 1065 and 1120S are within scope. Volunteers must certify to the Advanced level or above to prepare a Schedule E with entries from Schedule K-1.

Rental income and deductible rental expenses are reported on Part I of Schedule E, Supplemental Income and Loss. Volunteers must certify at the Military level to prepare a Schedule E for rental income.

U.S. citizens and resident aliens must report rental income for the months their home is rented, regardless of whether the rental property is located in the U.S. or in a foreign country.

When renting out part of the property, certain expenses must be divided between rental use and personal use; some are reported on Schedule A and some on Schedule E.

Taxpayers who do not use a dwelling unit as a home (for personal purposes) should include all the rent in their income and deduct all the rental expenses. There are special rules and limitations if the taxpayer used the dwelling unit as a home and it meets the personal use test.

Rental income and expenses are not reported if the taxpayer used the dwelling as a home and rented the unit for fewer than 15 days in the current tax year. If the taxpayer itemizes deductions on Schedule A, the taxpayer can deduct allowable interest, taxes, and casualty losses. (Remember that the topic of casualty losses is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs.)

Because rental activities are generally considered passive activities, rental losses are not fully deductible. However, taxpayers who actively participated in the renting of the property may deduct up to $25,000 of their rental losses, up to $12,500 for married taxpayers filing separately and living apart. This deduction is subject to phase-out if the taxpayer's AGI exceeds certain limits.

The passive activity rules state that passive activity losses can be deducted only from passive activity income. Taxpayers with rental losses may be required to file Form 8582, Passive Activity Loss Limitations.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following are out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

- Income reported on Schedules K-1 (other than what is listed in the introduction to this lesson)
- Deductions, credits, and other items reported on Schedules K-1
- Royalty income reported on Form 1099-MISC with associated expenses
- Taxpayers who rent their property at less than fair rental value
- Rental-related interest expenses other than mortgage interest
- The actual expense method (auto and travel expense deductions)
- Casualty loss
- Completing Form 8582
- Taxpayers who filed or need to file Form(s) 1099

EXERCISE ANSWERS

- Answer 1: C. You would deduct four-twelfths (33%) of his mortgage interest and taxes on Schedule E, and report the other 67% on Schedule A.
- Answer 2: D. Repairs made to the homeowner's personal residence are not deductible as rental expenses. However, the other expenses are deductible, along with repairs made to rental property, legal and professional fees, and property management fees.
- Answer 3: C. Fencing adds to the value of the property, so the cost cannot be deducted as a rental expense. Instead, it must be depreciated over the useful life of the improvement.
- Answer 4: False. Taxpayers should claim the correct amount of depreciation every year. If they do not, they still must reduce their basis in the property by the amount of depreciation that they could have deducted.
- Answer 5: C. The value of land is not depreciable; furniture and vehicles are depreciable property.
- Answer 6: B. MACRS (modified ACRS) is the method used for property placed in service after 1986.
- Answer 7: D. Wayne's basis for depreciation is $150,000 ($255,000 $155,000 + $50,000). The basis does not include landscaping expenses.
- Answer 8: B. The recovery period of an appliance, based on its class life, is shorter than that of a home, and property located inside the U.S. has a shorter recovery period than property outside the U.S.
- Answer 9: C. The rental portions of utilities, home insurance, repairs, and depreciation are rental deductions on Schedule E, but the personal portions are not a deductible expense reported on Schedule A. Taxpayers who rent out part of a property allocate mortgage interest and property taxes separately on both schedules.
- Answer 10: D. Lois rented her home out fewer than 15 days during the year and used it for personal purposes by allowing her father to live there rent-free.
- Answer 11: B. Passive activity losses can be deducted only from passive activity income. Taxpayers who are not active participants may not deduct rental losses that exceed rental income.

Income - Unemployment Compensation; Form 1040, Line 19

Introduction

This lesson will help you assist taxpayers who have unemployment compensation payments.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- · Identify unemployment compensation income
- · Determine how to report unemployment compensation on the tax return

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 4491-W
- □ Optional: Form 1099-G

What is unemployment compensation?

Unemployment compensation generally includes any amount received under an unemployment compensation law of the United States or of a state in the U.S. In most cases, unemployment compensation is taxable.

Where can I get unemployment compensation information?

Begin with the unemployment question on intake and interview sheet. Ask the taxpayer for any Form(s) 1099-G, Certain Government Payments that document unemployment compensation payments from each government entity.

In most states, taxpayers can elect to have federal income taxes withheld from their unemployment compensation benefits. Be sure to review Form 1099-G, box 4, for any federal income tax withheld.

How do I report unemployment compensation?

The total for all amounts of unemployment received in Form(s) 1099-G, box 1, should be entered on Form 1040, line 19.

The amount of withholding from Form 1099-G, box 4 should be entered in the payment section on Form 1040.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab.

Income - Social Security Benefits; Form 1040, Line 20a

Introduction

This lesson will help you assist taxpayers who have Social Security and equivalent railroad retirement benefits. These benefits may or may not be taxable.

The intake and interview sheet lists Social Security and Railroad Retirement Benefits in the Income section.

Ask the taxpayer about the receipt of either of these benefits. The Social Security Administration issues Form SSA-1099, Social Security Benefit Statement, to Social Security benefit recipients. The Railroad Retirement Board issues Form RRB-1099, Payments by the Railroad Retirement Board, and Form RRB-1099-R, Annuities or Pensions by the Railroad Retirement Board.

See Publication 575, Pension and Annuity Income, and Publication 915, Social Security and Equivalent Railroad Retirement Benefits, for additional information on the topics discussed in this lesson.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Determine the taxable portion of Social Security and railroad retirement benefits
- Determine the most advantageous method of reporting lump sum Social Security benefits
- Report Social Security and railroad retirement benefits on the tax return

What are Social Security and railroad retirement benefits?

Social Security Benefits

Social security benefits are payments made under Title II of the Social Security Act. They include Old-Age, Survivor, and Disability Insurance (OASDI) benefits.

Social security benefits include monthly retirement, survivor, and disability benefits. They do not include Supplemental Security Income (SSI). Certain government retirees who receive a pension from work are not covered by Social Security.

Some portion of the Social Security benefits received may be taxable. Generally, if Social Security benefits are the only source of income, then the benefits are not taxable. In this instance, taxpayers may not be required to file a return. However, if the taxpayers are Married Filing Separately and lived with their spouse at any time during the tax year, 85% of the benefits will be taxable.

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- ☐ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 4491-W

Optional:

- □ Publication 575
- □ Publication 915
- □ Form RRB-1099
- □ Form RRB-1099-R
- □ Form SSA-1099
- ☐ Social Security Benefits Worksheet

Railroad Retirement Benefits (RRBs)

Railroad Retirement Benefits (RRBs) are benefits paid to railroad employees working in jobs that are covered by the Railroad Retirement Act (RRA). The RRA benefits have two components: tier 1 (Social Security equivalent benefits) and tier 2 (treated as a qualified employee plan). The tier 2 benefits are reported on Form RRB 1099-R. These funds are discussed in the previous lesson on Retirement Income.

How are these benefits reported to the taxpayer?

Form SSA-1099

Social security benefits are reported on Form SSA-1099. Box 5 shows the amount of net benefits. Taxpayers who did not receive Form SSA-1099, or have misplaced it, may be able to get an instant printout of benefits from their personal "my Social Security" account on the Social Security Administration website at SSA.gov. Or taxpayers may call toll-free to request a benefit statement to be sent by mail. Effective October 1, 2014, Social Security stopped providing benefit verification letters in their offices.

Form RRB-1099

Tier 1 railroad retirement benefits are equal to the Social Security benefit that a railroad employee or beneficiary would have been entitled to receive under the Social Security system. These benefits are called "Social Security equivalent benefits" and, for tax purposes, are treated like Social Security benefits. They are shown on the BLUE Form RRB-1099. Box 5 shows the net Social Security equivalent benefits for tier 1.

example

Jacob is a retired railroad switchyard operator. Using the intake and interview sheet, the volunteer determined Jacob received Railroad Retirement Benefits. He received Form RRB-1099 and Form RRB-1099-R. The amount from Form RRB-1099 will be added to any amount of Social Security benefits that he may have received from other employment.

When are Social Security benefits and tier 1 RRBs taxable?

Part of the following benefits received by the taxpayer may be taxable:

- · Social security benefits
- Railroad retirement benefits, tier 1 (Social Security equivalent portion)

To correctly calculate the taxable portion, you need to know the amount in box 5 of Form SSA-1099 or Form RRB-1099. The taxable amount, if any, of a taxpayer's Social Security benefits depends upon filing status and other reportable income. Generally, if Social Security (or Social Security equivalent) benefits were the taxpayer's only source of income, the benefits are not taxable and the taxpayer does not need to file a federal income tax return. If the taxpayer received Social Security benefits and other income, complete the Social Security Benefits Worksheet to calculate the taxable portion.

A portion of the benefits is taxable if total income (including tax-exempt interest), plus one-half of the benefits received, is more than certain base income amounts, which vary based upon the taxpayer's filing status. A portion of the benefits is also taxable if the taxpayers are Married Filing Separately and lived with their spouse at any time during the year.

The taxable portion of Social Security benefits is never more than 85% of the net benefits the taxpayer received. In many cases, the taxable portion is less than 50%.

If the taxpayer files a joint return, combine the income and benefits of both spouses when completing the worksheet. Even if one spouse received no Social Security benefits, include that spouse's other income when completing the worksheet. If both spouses received benefits, combine both their benefits and income when completing the worksheet for the return.

Taxpayers can use Form W-4V, Voluntary Withholding Request, to request withholding from Social Security benefits.

example

Wanda and Dan are both retired and will file a joint return. Wanda received Form SSA-1099 with an amount of $4,300 appearing in box 5. Dan retired from the railroad, and box 5 of his Form RRB-1099 shows an amount of $6,800. Wanda and Dan will use the combined benefits of $11,100 and only one worksheet to calculate if any of their benefits are taxable.

How do I report Social Security or railroad tier 1 benefits?

Tax Software Hint: The tax software will perform all the calculations to determine the taxable amount based on other information on the return. Be sure to enter all income, including tax-exempt interest, in order for the software to correctly calculate taxability of benefits. If the taxpayer is itemizing deductions, include Medicare premiums (Part B and D) from Forms SSA-1099 and RRB-1099 so that it flows to Schedule A. Additionally, be sure to enter any federal income tax withholding. Go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, Railroad Retirement, Civil Service, and Social Security Benefits page, for software entries.

EXERCISES

Answers follow the lesson summary.

Question 1: Hank comes to your site to get some help with his tax return. He is upset because his neighbor told him that he would have to pay tax on all of his Social Security benefits this year. After talking to Hank, you learn that his wife died several years ago. This tax year, he sold all of his stock and moved into senior housing. The sale of the stock created $31,896 of taxable income for Hank. His neighbor told him, with that much income, the entire $11,724 of his Social Security benefits would be taxable. What is the maximum taxable amount of Hank's benefits?

- A. $31,896
- B. $20,172
- C. $11,724
- D. $9,965

What are lump-sum benefit payments?

Some taxpayers may have received a lump-sum benefit payment. This payment could be for the current tax year and for prior tax years. Box 3 of the taxpayer's Form SSA-1099 or Form RRB-1099 will include the lump-sum payment. The form will also show the year, or years, of the payment. The additional information will be shown in Description of Amount in box 3 on Form SSA-1099 or in boxes 7–9 on Form RRB-1099.

When figuring the taxable portion of Social Security benefits, two options are available for lump-sum benefit payments:

- The first option allows the taxpayer to report the whole payment the year it was received. When the taxpayer chooses this option, complete the Social Security Benefits Worksheet as usual by including the entire lump-sum payment on line 1.
- The second option is to treat the payment as received in the earlier year or years. This is done by figuring whether any part of these benefits is taxable, based on the earlier year's income. Any part that is taxable is then added to any taxable benefits for the current year and included on Form 1040, line 20b. The taxpayer can elect this method if it lowers the taxable benefits.

Do not confuse this type of lump-sum benefit payment with the lump-sum death benefit that both the SSA and RRB pay to many of their beneficiaries. No part of the lump-sum death benefit is subject to tax.

Will the lump-sum election method lower taxable benefits?

Figuring the taxable benefits under the lump-sum election method is in scope for the VITA/TCE programs.

If the taxpayer chooses the second option, only the current year income will be adjusted. You do not file amended returns for the earlier years.

Under the lump-sum election method, refigure the taxable part of all the benefits for the earlier year (including the lump-sum payment) using that year's income and filing status; then subtract any taxable benefits for that year that were previously reported. The remainder is the taxable part of the lump-sum payment. Add it to the taxable part of the benefits for the current year (figured without the lump-sum for the earlier year).

In order to compute the taxable benefits, you will need copies of the taxpayer's prior year returns.

For additional information on the lump-sum election, see Publication 915.

example

In 2014, Jane applied for Social Security disability benefits but was told she was ineligible. She appealed the decision and won. In 2015, she received a lump-sum payment of $6,000, of which $2,000 was for 2014 and $4,000 was for 2015. Jane also received $5000 in Social Security benefits in 2015, so her 2015 Form SSA-1099 shows benefits paid of $11,000.

Jane had other taxable income in both 2014 and 2015. She should figure her taxable benefits under the lump-sum election method to see if it is lower.

Tax Software Hint: The tax software will figure all the calculations after you enter the prior year tax return information. Go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, 1099-R Entries Variation page, for software entries.

Because the earlier year's taxable benefits are included in the current year's income, no adjustment is made to the earlier year's return. Do not file an amended return for the earlier year.

Once a taxpayer elects this method of figuring the taxable part of a lump-sum payment, the election can only be revoked with the consent of the IRS.

Summary

This lesson explained how to determine whether income from taxpayers' Social Security benefits and railroad retirement benefits is taxable.

Generally, if Social Security benefits were the taxpayer's only source of income, the benefits are not taxable and the taxpayer does not need to file a federal income tax return. If the taxpayer received Social Security benefits and other income, the Social Security Benefits Worksheet must be completed to calculate the taxable portion.

When figuring the taxable portion of Social Security benefits, two options are available for lump-sum benefit payments. The taxpayer may report the whole payment in the year it was received or treat the payment as received in the applicable earlier year or years.

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: D. $9,965 or 85% of the net benefits, is the maximum amount that could ever be taxable.

Income - Other Income; Form 1040, Line 21

Introduction

This lesson will help you determine other forms of income and how to report other sources of income. Part of the lesson is for all course levels and part is only for the International level.

The International part of this lesson will help you report income earned from worldwide sources. To do this, you need to be able to identify the type of income and, if reportable, convert it to the equivalent U.S. dollar value of the foreign currency.

This lesson will cover the foreign earned income exclusion reported on Form 2555 or Form 2555-EZ.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to determine:

- Other types of income and how to report other sources of income
- Determine the requirements for the cancellation of debt on nonbusiness credit card debt when preparing tax returns
- Determine when canceled credit card debt is included in gross income on Form 1040
- How to properly report income earned from worldwide sources
- Who is eligible for the foreign income exclusion and how to calculate the excludable amount using Form 2555, Foreign Earned Income, or Form 2555-EZ, Foreign Earned Income Exclusion

What do I need?

- ☐ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 54
- □ Publication 4491-W
- □ Form 1040 Instructions
- □ Form 2555
- □ Form 2555-EZ

Optional:

- ☐ Form W-2G
- □ Form 1099-Misc
- □ Form 1099-Q
- □ Form 525
- □ Form 970

How do I handle other income?

"Other income" is income that does not have its own line on Form 1040. Generally, these amounts are reported on line 21. Here are examples:

- Prizes and awards
- Gambling winnings, including lotteries and raffles
- Jury duty pay
- · Alaska Permanent Fund dividends
- Nonbusiness credit card debt cancellation

Even if the taxpayer does not receive an income document from the payer, the taxpayer is required to report the income.

If you are unsure about sources of other income, consult the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab – Income Documents page, and Publication 17, Other Income, or discuss the income item with your Site Coordinator.

Use the interview techniques and tools discussed in earlier lessons to ensure that all taxable income has been included.

HSA Topic

Certain Health Savings Account (HSA) distributions not used to pay or reimburse the taxpayer for qualified medical expenses are generally reported as other income on Form 1040, line 21. This topic is not covered in this lesson. It is covered in a specialty course on Link & Learn taxes for volunteers with a Basic or higher certification. This online course is optional. Check with your Site Coordinator to determine if you should be certified in this topic. To access this course and earn a certification, go to www.irs.gov and use the keyword/ search "Link & Learn."

How do I report other income?

In most cases, if taxpayers have "other income," they must file Form 1040 and report the income on line 21.

Gambling Winnings

The taxpayer may receive one or more Forms W-2G reporting gambling winnings. Total gambling winnings must be reported on Form 1040, line 21. If the taxpayer also had gambling losses, the losses can only be deducted on Schedule A. See the Itemized Deductions lesson for more details.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to reporting gambling income, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income Quick Reference Guide.

Cash for Keys Program

Cash for Keys Program income, which is taxable, is income from a financial institution, offered to taxpayers to expedite the foreclosure process. Report this income on Form 1040, line 21 as "other income." The taxpayers should receive Form 1099-MISC with the income in box 3.

Qualified Medicaid Waiver Payments

On January 3, 2014, the IRS issued Notice 2014-7 addressing the income tax treatment of certain payments to an individual care provider under a state Home and Community-Based Services Waiver (Medicaid waiver) program. The notice provides that the IRS will treat "qualified Medicaid waiver payments" as difficulty of care payments excludable from gross income. Qualified Medicaid waiver payments are payments by a state, a political subdivision of a state, or a certified Medicaid provider under a Medicaid waiver program to an individual care provider for nonmedical support services provided under a plan of care to an individual (whether related or unrelated) living in the individual care provider's home.

If taxpayers received payments described in Notice 2014-7, they may receive a Form 1099-MISC reporting these payments in box 3, Other income. Generally, an amount reported in box 3 of Form 1099-MISC is reported on Form 1040, line 21, Other income. If taxpayers choose to exclude the payment from income, they should not include the amount of those payments on line 21. If filing a paper return, enter "Notice 2014-7" on the dotted line next to line 21 of Form 1040. No additional entry is needed on the Form 1040 if filing electronically.

If the taxpayer received a Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, with the amount of the payments reported in box 1, Wages, tips, other compensation and chooses to exclude the payment from income, include the full amount of those payments on Form 1040, line 7. On line 21, enter the excludable portion of the payments as a negative amount that will reduce the adjusted gross income. If filing a paper return, enter "Notice 2014-7" on the dotted line next to line 21 of Form 1040. No additional entry is needed on the Form 1040 if filing electronically.

If the taxpayer received qualified Medicaid waiver payments on or after January 3, 2014, that were excludable from gross income as difficulty of care payments, the taxpayer may not choose to include these payments in gross income, and must exclude the income under section 131 as provided in Notice 2014-7 for 2014 and afterward.

Taxpayers may file a Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, if they received payments described in the notice in an earlier year (before 2014) if the time for claiming a credit or refund is still open. Generally, for a credit or refund, taxpayers must file Form 1040X within three years (including extensions) after the date the original return was filed or within two years after the date they paid the tax, whichever is later.

In Part III of Form 1040X, the taxpayer should explain that the payments are excludable under Notice 2014-7. Excluding payments described in the notice in an earlier year may affect deductions or credits that were claimed for the earlier year, as well as other tax items for the earlier year.

For more information, go to irs.gov and search for Certain Medicaid Waiver Payments.

Are distributions from ABLE accounts taxable?

A qualified ABLE program is a program established and maintained by a state agency under which a person may make cash contributions to an ABLE account to pay for the qualified disability expenses of an eligible individual (the designated beneficiary). Qualified beneficiaries can have only one ABLE account. Contributions are made in after-tax dollars and can be made by any person. Contributions must be made in cash and are not deductible for federal income tax purposes. Total annual contributions cannot exceed the gift tax exclusion in a single year.

Distributions from an ABLE account that do not exceed the qualified disability expenses of the beneficiary during the taxable year are excluded from gross income. A distribution from an ABLE account that exceeds the qualified disability expenses of the beneficiary is subject to an additional tax of 10% imposed on the amount not used for qualified disability expenses. A distribution from an ABLE account that exceeds the qualified disability expenses of the beneficiary will be included in the gross income of the beneficiary on Form 1040, line 21, and is out of scope.

Qualified disability expenses include: education, housing, transportation, employment training and support, assistive technology and personal support services, health, prevention and wellness, financial management and administrative services, legal fees, expenses for oversight and monitoring, funeral and burial expenses.

Form 1099-QA, Distributions from ABLE Accounts, is used to report distributions from an ABLE Account.

Are distributions from Educational Savings Accounts, such as a Coverdell ESA and a 529 plan, taxable?

Distributions from Coverdell ESAs and QTPs are reported on Form 1099-Q, Payments From Qualified Education Programs (Under Sections 529 and 530). Coverdell ESA distributions can be used to pay for qualified elementary, secondary, and postsecondary expenses. QTP distributions can only be used to pay qualified postsecondary expenses.

A portion of the distributions is generally taxable to the beneficiary if the total distributions are more than the beneficiary's adjusted qualified education expenses for the year.

The taxable portion is the amount of the excess distribution that represents earnings that have accumulated tax free in the account. The taxable amount must be reported on Form 1040, line 21.

For additional information about educational savings accounts, distributions, and qualified education expenses, refer taxpayers to Publication 970, Tax Benefits for Education.

An American opportunity credit or lifetime learning credit can be claimed in the same year the beneficiary takes a tax-free distribution from a QTP or Coverdell ESAs, as long as the same expenses are not used for both benefits. See Publication 17 and Publication 970, Tax Benefits for Education, for more details.

Cancellation of Debt – Nonbusiness Credit Card Debt

Generally, if a taxpayer receives Form 1099-C for canceled credit card debt and was solvent (assets greater than liabilities) immediately before the debt was canceled, all the canceled debt will be included on Form 1040, line 21, Other Income. No additional supporting forms or schedules are needed to report canceled credit card debt.

example

John made a deal with his credit card company to pay $2,000 on his $7,000 balance, and the company agreed to take it as payment in full. In January of the current year, John received a Form 1099-C from his credit card company reporting $5,000 (the amount of debt canceled). John was solvent immediately before the debt was canceled. John would include the entire $5,000 in income on Form 1040, line 21.

Lenders and creditors are required to issue Form 1099-C if they cancel a debt of $600 or more. If the debt canceled is less than $600, some lenders or creditors may send a letter or some other form of notification to the taxpayer. Generally, taxpayers must include all canceled amounts (even if less than $600) on the Other Income line of Form 1040.

Insolvency (Out of Scope for VITA/TCE)

Insolvency is a condition in which the FMV of all assets is less than one's liabilities. The amount or level of insolvency is expressed as a negative net worth.

For purposes of determining insolvency, assets include the value of everything owned (including assets that serve as collateral for debt, and exempt assets which are beyond the reach of creditors under the law, such as an interest in a pension plan and the value of a retirement account).

Liabilities are amounts owed and include:

- · The entire amount of recourse debts
- The amount of nonrecourse debt that is not in excess of the FMV of the property and is security for the debt

Use the Insolvency Determination Worksheet as a resource to determine whether a taxpayer is considered insolvent.

If the taxpayer had nonbusiness credit card debt canceled, all or part of the debt may be excluded if the cancellation occurred in bankruptcy, or if the taxpayer was insolvent immediately before the cancellation. These situations are beyond the scope of VITA/TCE. If any of these situations apply, refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer. See IRS Publication 4681 for more information.

Publication 4731, located in the Volunteer Resource Guide (Income Tab), provides step-by-step guidance for the volunteer tax return preparer to determine if the cancellation of credit card debt is within scope.

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Here is how a volunteer advised Michelle regarding her canceled credit card debt.

SAMPLE INTERVIE	EW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	MICHELLE RESPONDS
I notice you received a 1099-C from a credit card company.	Yes, I negotiated with them to cancel $3,000 of my debt.
Yes, Form 1099-C shows the amount of debt discharged.	I could only afford to pay them $1,000, so it really helped me.
Do you think your debts at the time exceeded your assets?	I'm not sure, but it's certainly possible.
Let's fill out the Insolvency Determination Worksheet to help us determine whether you were insolvent.	O.K.
According to the worksheet, you are insolvent. I am afraid I am not able to help you. VITA/TCE volunteers are not trained to compute the nontaxable portion of canceled credit card debt.	Oh, I understand.
I suggest you seek assistance from a professional tax preparer.	I will, thank you.

Question 1: Greg was released from his obligation to pay $5,000 of personal credit card debt. The credit card company sent Form 1099-C showing canceled debt of $5,000. Greg is fairly certain he has more debt than he has assets.

Can the VITA/TCE site provide tax return preparation assistance to Greg?

- A. Yes, since the entire $5,000 in canceled debt is considered income and reported on Form 1040, line 21.
- B. No, because it appears Greg is insolvent, which might mean some of the canceled credit card debt would be nontaxable and beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE programs.

Question 2: Kay was released from her obligation to pay personal credit card debt. She owed $10,000 to her credit card company, which agreed to accept $2,500 as payment in full. Before paying the credit card company, it was determined Kay was solvent (assets greater than liabilities) and not in bankruptcy. The credit card company issued Kay a Form 1099-C, reporting $7,500 as the amount of debt discharged.

Based on the information above, can Kay be assisted at her local VITA/TCE site? ☐ Yes ☐ No Question 3: Review the information in Question 2 about Kay's canceled debt. If the VITA/TCE site is able to assist Kay, what amount would be reported on Kay's Form 1040, line 21?

- A. $0
- B. $10,000
- C. $2,500
- D. $7,500

What is worldwide income?

U.S. citizens and U.S. resident aliens are required to report worldwide income on a U.S. tax return regardless of where they live and even if the income is taxed by the country in which it was earned. Filing requirements are the same as for U.S. citizens and U.S. resident aliens living in the United States and apply whether income is from within or outside the U.S.

U.S. citizens and U.S. resident aliens living abroad may be able to claim tax benefits such as the foreign earned income exclusion or the foreign tax credit. This part of the lesson covers the foreign earned income exclusion. The foreign tax credit will be covered in another lesson.

example

In the current year, Alfredo Kendall earned $40,000 while working in Dallas, Texas, for Dade Corporation. In September of this year, he transferred to their office in Stuttgart, Germany. While in Germany, he earned $30,000 (U.S. dollars). All of Alfredo's wages, including the income he earned in Germany, is included in his gross income. His Form 1040, line 7, will show $70,000.

Income is treated the same on the return regardless of the country from which it is derived. Similar income earned inside or outside the U.S. is generally taxed in the same way on the return. Likewise, income earned in the U.S. and not taxed will be treated in the same way if earned outside the U.S. The lines on which income is reported on Form 1040 are the same whether the U.S. citizen or U.S. resident alien is living within or outside U.S. boundaries.

Foreign income might be reported to taxpayers on forms or in ways that are not used in the United States. Question taxpayers closely to ensure that they are reporting all worldwide income. Review the income records to ensure that includible amounts are accurate and complete.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to income from a foreign employer, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, How/Where to Enter Income.

Answers are listed following the lesson summary.

Question 4: Marta Bremer, a U.S. citizen, lives in Mussbach, Germany. Her income included $22,000 in wages earned in Germany. She earned $300 in interest from her U.S. bank. What is Marta's total income?

- A. $0
- B. $22,300
- C. $300
- D. $22,000

Question 5: Mary Carleton, a U.S. citizen, lives in Belgium. Her income included $10,000 in wages from her Belgian employer, $200 in interest from her U.S. bank, $8,000 in alimony payments, and $7,000 in child support payments from her ex-spouse. What is Mary's gross income?

- A. $8,000
- B. $10,200
- C. $18,200
- D. $25,200

How do I convert foreign income to U.S. dollars?

Exchange rates

All amounts on the U.S. tax return must be stated in U.S. dollars. Convert income that taxpayers received in foreign currency into U.S. dollars using the appropriate exchange rate. U.S. exchange rates are stated in two ways:

- Units of foreign currency to one U.S. dollar: 0.74855 Euro = 1 U.S. dollar
- U.S. dollars to one unit of the foreign currency: 1.33592 U.S. dollar = 1 Euro

Exchange rates shown here are for example only. Use the exchange rates in effect when the income was received.

example

Ryan received 3,000 Euros (€3000) on a day that the exchange rate was 0.74855 Euros to one U.S. dollar. Based on this exchange rate, the value of Ryan's €3000 is: €3000 ÷ 0.74855 = $4,007.75

To convert a sum of money into U.S. dollars, divide the amount of foreign currency by the exchange rate for the foreign currency to one U.S. dollar.

In other words:

Amount of foreign currency = Amount in U.S. dollars Exchange rate of foreign currency to one U.S. dollar

3.000 Euros = $4,007.75 0.74855

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 6: Caryn received 200 Euros on a day that the exchange rate was .75514 Euros to one U.S. dollar. In U.S. dollars, she would have ____.

- A. $264.85
- B. $377.57
- C. $115.03
- D. $11.50

Question 7: Given an exchange rate of .7000, how much is 36,000 Euros worth in U.S. dollars?

A. $252.00

B. $25,200.00

C. $51,428.57

D. $61,614.00

Which exchange rate should I use?

The exchange rate for a particular currency is likely to change every day. Use the exchange rate prevailing when the taxpayer receives the pay or accrues the item. The exchange rate is determined by the date of transaction, which is either the date on the check or the date the money is credited to the taxpayer's account. If there is more than one exchange rate, use the one that most properly reflects the income.

However, the taxpayer can use the average annual exchange rate if:

- · Foreign income was received evenly throughout the year, and
- · The foreign exchange rate was relatively stable during the year

Taxpayers may use the monthly average exchange rates if they earned foreign income evenly for one or more months, but less than twelve months.

example

Edward Hall worked in Dallas for Lubbock Incorporated from January until September. On September 29, he was transferred to Lubbock's Mexico City office, where he will be working for three more years. In Mexico, he is paid in Mexican pesos. Because he received the majority of his annual salary in U.S. currency, he should not use the annual average exchange rate for the Mexico source income. If he does not know the exchange rate at the time he received the funds, he can use the monthly average exchange rate for October, November, and December.

Where to obtain exchange rates

In mid-January, the IRS distributes exchange rates for various currencies to its worldwide offices, including the prior year's average annual exchange rate information.

To obtain exchange rates, call the IRS International office at 267-941-1000 (not toll-free) or the overseas IRS offices. The phone numbers of these offices are listed in Publication 54, Tax Guide for U.S. Citizens and Resident Aliens Abroad. Exchange rates can also be found at www.irs.gov by typing "foreign currency rates" in the search box. You may also contact banks that provide international currency exchange services.

Because taxpayers should use the rate that most nearly reflects the value of the foreign currency at the time they receive the income, taxpayers may use an exchange rate that is different from the rates posted in IRS worldwide offices if they find it to be a true representation.

What is the foreign earned income exclusion?

Use Form 2555-EZ or Form 2555 to claim the foreign earned income exclusion. Certain taxpayers can exclude income earned in, and while living in, foreign countries. The maximum amount of the foreign earned income exclusion is indexed to inflation annually. For the current year amount go to www.irs.gov or Publication 17. The foreign earned income exclusion does not apply to wages and salaries of U.S. military members and civilian employees of the U.S. government.

If the taxpayer qualifies to exclude foreign earned income, the excludable amount will be reported as a negative amount on Form 1040, line 21. Since the foreign earned income would have been reported on Form 1040, line 7 as taxable wages or on line 12 as self-employment income, the exclusion (negative amount) will reduce the total income calculated on line 22. The method of calculating the tax when the taxpayer elects the foreign earned income exclusion is based on the Foreign Earned Income Tax Worksheet. The tax software will do this calculation automatically.

The child tax credit is not refundable for taxpayers electing to exclude foreign earned income from tax.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to the software for the foreign earned income exclusion, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, How/Where to Enter Income.

When do I choose the exclusion?

The foreign earned income exclusion is voluntary. It is not always an advantage to claim the exclusion. If taxpayers wish to claim the exclusion, they must file either Form 2555-EZ or Form 2555 with a timely return (including extensions). If the taxpayer is not eligible for the foreign earned income exclusion, any taxes paid on this income to a foreign government may be eligible for the foreign tax credit. See the lesson Foreign Tax Credit for more information.

Once the taxpayer chooses to exclude foreign earned income, that choice remains in effect for that year and all later years until revoked. The taxpayer may revoke the exclusion for any tax year by attaching a statement. When the exclusion is revoked, the taxpayer may not claim the exclusion again for the next five tax years without the approval of the IRS.

What are the eligibility requirements?

To claim the foreign earned income exclusion, taxpayers must:

- Demonstrate that their tax home is in a foreign country
- Meet either the bona fide residence test or the physical presence test
- · Have income that qualifies as foreign earned income

The requirements are applied separately to each individual. If a married couple is working overseas, each spouse must meet all requirements to qualify for the exclusion. If they do qualify, each is entitled to an exclusion of up to the maximum amount for the current year.

The terms "foreign," "abroad," and "overseas" do not include Puerto Rico, U.S. Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Guam, the Commonwealth of the Northern Marianas, Wake Island, the Midway Islands, and Johnston Island.

Question 8: Miranda has lived in Puerto Rico since 2003. Is she eligible for the foreign earned income exclusion? ☐ Yes ☐ No

How do I determine the tax home?

To claim the foreign earned income exclusion, the taxpayer's tax home must be in a foreign country. The tax home is defined as the country in which the taxpayer is permanently or indefinitely engaged to work as an employee or a self-employed individual, regardless of where the family home is maintained.

For taxpayers who work abroad but do not have a regular place of business because of the nature of the work, their tax home is the place where they regularly live. The tax home for members of the U.S. Armed Forces is the permanent duty station, either land-based or on a ship.

example

John and Mary are both in the Armed Forces and have been permanently stationed in Germany since August 2007. Their tax home for the current year is Germany.

Question 9: Alan has lived and worked in China since August 16, 2005. China is his tax home.
□ True □ False

What is a regular place of abode?

For purposes of the foreign earned income exclusion, if taxpayers work overseas for an indefinite period of time, and their regular place of abode is the U.S., the taxpayers cannot designate the foreign country as the tax home.

"Regular place of abode" is defined as one's home, habitation, domicile, or place of dwelling. It does not necessarily include one's principal place of business.

If the taxpayer maintains a place of business, or is assigned to overseas employment in a foreign country for an indefinite period, and does not maintain a regular place of abode in the U.S., the tax home is overseas and the taxpayer may be eligible for the foreign earned income exclusion.

How do I determine whether the U.S. is the taxpayer's regular place of abode?

Ask three guestions to determine whether a U.S. home is the taxpayer's regular place of abode:

- 1. Did you use your home in the U.S. as a residence while you worked at your job in the U.S. just before going abroad to your new job, and did you continue to maintain work (e.g., contacts, job seeking, leave of absence, ongoing business) in that area in the U.S. during the time you worked abroad?
- 2. Are your living expenses duplicated at your U.S. and foreign homes because your work requires you to be away from your U.S. home?
- 3. Do you have a family member or members living at your U.S. home, or did you frequently use your U.S. home for lodging during the period you worked abroad?

If the answer to two of the questions is "no," the taxpayer is considered to be indefinitely assigned to the new location abroad and is eligible for the foreign earned income exclusion.

If the answer to all three questions is "yes" and the job duration is for less than one year with the taxpayer returning to the U.S. home, the taxpayer is considered "temporarily away" from home. In this case, the taxpayer does not qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion, but may qualify to deduct away-from-home expenses.

If the answer to two of the three questions is "yes," with the same expectation of job duration and return to the U.S. home, the location of the tax home depends on the facts and circumstances.

example

Henry is a member of the Armed Forces. He was assigned to a post in Japan last year. This assignment was for an indefinite period that exceeds one year. Margaret, his wife, accompanied him to Japan and has foreign earned income. They have not used their home in the U.S. as a place of residence for over a year. Therefore, their tax home for this year is Japan.

Question 10: Stan is employed on an offshore oil rig in the territorial waters of a foreign country and works a 28-day on/28-day off schedule. He returns to his family residence in the U.S. during his off periods. Does Stan's employment satisfy the tax home test? ☐ Yes ☐ No

What is the period of stay requirement?

The period of stay is the amount of time the taxpayer stays in the foreign country. To meet the period of stay requirement, the taxpayer must be either:

- A U.S. citizen or U.S. resident alien from a tax treaty country who is a bona fide resident of a foreign country (or countries) for an uninterrupted period that includes an entire tax year, or
- A U.S. citizen or U.S. resident alien who is physically present in a foreign country or countries for at least 330 full days during any period of 12 consecutive months

What is the bona fide residence test?

To meet the bona fide residence test, taxpayers must show that they have set up permanent quarters in a foreign country for an entire, uninterrupted tax year. Simply going to another country to work for a year or more is not enough to meet the bona fide residence test. A taxpayer must establish a residence in the foreign country.

A brief trip to the U.S. will not prevent the taxpayer from being a bona fide resident, as long as the intention to return to the foreign country is clear.

example

Charles is a military spouse who has lived and worked in England since 2006. His mother still lives in the U.S. Charles came to the U.S. for two weeks this year to be with his mother after she had surgery. Charles' trip to the U.S. does not affect his status as a bona fide resident of a foreign country.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 11: Zach, a U.S. citizen, has homes in the U.S. and in Spain, where he has worked for the last two years. Zach's spouse, who is also a U.S. citizen, lives with him in Spain. Zach visits the U.S. frequently. Does Zach meet the bona fide residence test in Spain? ☐ Yes ☐ No

What is the physical presence test?

If the taxpayers do not meet the bona fide residence test, then they may qualify under the physical presence test rules. To qualify, the taxpayers must be physically present in a foreign country 330 full days during a period of twelve consecutive months.

In order for a day to count for the test, it must be a full day in a foreign country. When arriving from the U.S., or returning to the U.S., any day in which part of the time is spent in the U.S. or over international waters does not count as a qualifying day in a foreign country.

The taxpayer may move about from one place to another in a foreign country or to another foreign country without losing full days. If any part of the taxpayer's travel is not in any foreign country and takes less than 24 hours, you are considered to be in a foreign country during that part of travel. See Publication 54, Physical Presence Test column for additional information.

example

If a taxpayer left England by ship at 10:00 p.m. on July 6 and arrived in Lisbon at 6:00 a.m. on July 8, the taxpayer would lose July 6, 7, and 8 as full days because the trip took more than 24 hours. In this example, if the taxpayer remained in Lisbon, the first full day would be July 9.

Figuring the 12-Month Period

Any 12-month period may be used if the 330 full days in a foreign country fall within that period. If necessary, more than one period may be used, including periods that overlap. See Publication 54 for clarification on the physical presence rules.

What is qualifying income?

To qualify for the exclusion, income must be earned income.

How does earned income qualify for the exclusion?

To qualify for the exclusion, the earned income must be for services performed in a foreign country. Amounts paid by the United States or its agencies to its employees do not qualify for the exclusion. This includes military pay and payment for such activities as post exchanges, commissaries, and officers clubs.

Earned income does not include:

- Dividends
- Interest
- Capital gains
- Alimony
- · Social security benefits
- Pensions
- Annuities

example

Alisa, a U.S. resident, is a member of the Armed Forces and has lived in Japan since 2010. Her military pay is not eligible for the foreign earned income exclusion. In her spare time, she is a self-employed DJ in Tokyo. The income from her self-employment may qualify for the exclusion.

What are sources of earned income?

To qualify for the exclusion, services must be performed in a foreign country. Where the payments come from or where they are deposited is not a factor in determining the source of the income.

If a taxpayer works predominantly in a foreign country, but does some work in the U.S., an adjustment must be made to the total foreign earned income.

example

Earl works and lives in the Bahamas. During the tax year, he worked 50 weeks in the Bahamas. He attended a business meeting in Florida for one week, and was on vacation for two weeks. One-fiftieth or 2% of his wages are not foreign earned income because of the week spent working in Florida.

example

Ron and his wife Amy, both U.S. citizens, have lived in England for two years. Ron is in the military and Amy works in a pastry shop in a nearby town. Ron's military income does not qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion but Amy's wages from the company in England does qualify. The source of Amy's income is England.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 12: Juanita lives in Scotland. She is retired and her income consists of U.S. Social Security, a pension, and several stock dividends. Does she qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion? ☐ Yes ☐ No

When do I complete and file Form 2555 or Form 2555-EZ?

If the taxpayer qualifies to exclude foreign earned income, Form 2555 or Form 2555-EZ must be completed. Publication 54, Tax Guide for U.S. Citizens and Resident Aliens Abroad has an illustration of a tax return with Form 2555 completed for the husband and Form 2555-EZ completed for the wife.

To be able to use Form 2555-EZ, the taxpayer must:

- · Be a U.S. citizen or resident alien who has wages and salaries, but not self-employment income
- Have total foreign earned income of the annual maximum amount or less
- Have no business or moving expense deductions

Taxpayers who do not meet these requirements must use Form 2555 to claim the exclusion. For example, a taxpayer who receives self-employment income and is eligible for the exclusion must use Form 2555.

example

Michael and his wife, Eva, have been stationed in Australia since 2009. Michael is a member of the U.S. Armed Forces and Eva operates a home day-care business. Their tax home is Australia, and they meet the bona fide residence test. Eva wants to exclude her self-employment income from U.S. taxation.

Because her income is from self-employment, she will need to complete Form 2555 instead of Form 2555-EZ to exclude the income, and must complete Schedule SE to pay Social Security and Medicare taxes.

Question 13: Mallory is a U.S. citizen who has $34,000 of foreign earned income (wages). She has no other income. Which form should she file?

A. Form 2555

B. Form 2555-EZ

How do I complete Form 2555-EZ?

Taxpayers who are eligible to file Form 2555-EZ should complete Parts I, II, and IV of the form. Complete Part III if the taxpayer was in the United States or any of its possessions during the tax year.

How do I complete Form 2555?

Use the following guidelines when completing Form 2555.

- Part I is completed by all taxpayers
- Part II is completed by taxpayers who qualify under the bona fide residence test
- Part III is completed by all taxpayers who qualify under the physical presence test
- Part IV is completed by all taxpayers list all foreign earned income
- Part V is completed by all taxpayers
- · Part VI is completed by taxpayers claiming the housing exclusion and/or housing deduction
- Part VII is completed by taxpayers claiming the foreign earned income exclusion
- Part VIII is completed by taxpayers claiming the foreign income exclusion, the foreign housing exclusion, or both.
- Part IX is completed by taxpayers claiming the housing deduction if line 33 is more than line 36, and line 27 is more than line 43

Summary

Total income from all sources is entered on Form 1040, line 22 (the sum of lines 7-21).

Taxpayers are sometimes alarmed at how high their total income is. If this happens, reassure the taxpayer that the return is not finished yet! It is very likely that adjustments, deductions, and credits will considerably reduce the total tax owed.

Line 21, Other Income, includes any taxable income for which there is not a specific line identified on Form 1040, lines 7–20b.

If a taxpayer receives Form 1099-C for canceled credit card debt and was solvent immediately before the debt was canceled, all the canceled debt will be included on Form 1040, line 21, Other Income.

U.S. citizens and resident aliens are taxed on worldwide income. They must file a U.S. tax return even if all the income is from foreign sources, and even if they pay taxes to another country.

When taxpayers living abroad receive income in foreign currency, the amounts reported on the return must be converted into U.S. dollars. Use the exchange rate prevailing when the taxpayer receives the pay or accrues the item. If there is more than one exchange rate, use the one that most properly reflects the income.

If the taxpayers are eligible to exclude some or all of their foreign earned income, then Form 2555 or Form 2555-EZ must be completed. The excludable amount will be entered as a negative number on line 21 to offset the income reported on line 7 or line 12.

The following are out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

For practice using the tax preparation software, complete the scenarios using the Practice Lab on L<.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

- Answer 1: B. Greg is fairly certain that he has more debt than he has assets, which means he is insolvent. This situation is beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE programs.
- Answer 2: Yes. Kay was solvent and not in bankruptcy, and the credit card company issued her a Form 1099-C.
- Answer 3: D. Kay would report $7,500 on line 21 of her Form 1040.
- Answer 4: B. Marta's gross income includes her wages and interest, both of which should be reported on her tax return.
- Answer 5: C. Mary's gross income includes her wages, interest, and alimony, all of which should be reported on her tax return. Her child support payments are her only nontaxable income.
- Answer 6: A. Dividing 200 Euros by the .75514 exchange rate comes to $264.85.
- Answer 7: C. Dividing 36,000 Euros by the .7000 exchange rate comes to $51,428.57.
- Answer 8: No. Miranda is not eligible for the foreign earned income exclusion because Puerto Rico is not a foreign country.
- Answer 9: True. Generally, the tax home is the country in which taxpayers maintain their place of business. Because Alan works in China, it is considered to be his tax home. For taxpayers who do not have a regular place of business because of the nature of the work, their tax home is the place where they regularly live.
- Answer 10: No. Stan is considered to have a residence in the United States and does not satisfy the tax home test in the foreign country. He is not eligible for the foreign earned income exclusion.
- Answer 11: Yes. Since Zach went to Spain to work and has established a permanent residence there with his spouse, he meets the bona fide residence test.
- Answer 12: No. Social security benefits, pension, and dividends do not qualify as earned income; therefore, Juanita does not qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion.
- Answer 13: B. Since Mallory's earned income is wages (not self-employment) and is less than $95,100, she can file Form 2555-EZ.

Military Income

Introduction

This lesson will help you determine which income items received by current and former members of the U.S. Armed Forces are reportable on the return, and the status of any medical separation pay or pay related to service in a combat zone.

Community property laws may impact the income reported by some military members on their returns.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to determine:

- Which income items received by members of the U.S. Armed Forces are reportable on the tax return and
- The status of any medical separation pay or pay related to service in a combat zone

What do I need?

- ☐ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 3
- □ Publication 525
- □ Publication 555

What are the types of income?

U.S. Armed Forces members receive many different types of pay and allowances. Some are includible in gross income while others are excludable from gross income.

Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab for detailed lists of these types of military pay and to determine if they are included in gross income, or excluded.

What income is includible?

Includible items are subject to tax and must be reported on the tax return. The items listed in Publication 3, Table 1, and the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab are included in gross income, unless the pay is for service in a combat zone or in a qualified hazardous duty area. All includible military income will generally be shown on Form W-2, box 1, and reported on Form 1040, line 7, Wages.

What income is excludable?

Excludable income does not have to be reported as income on the tax return. The exclusion applies whether the item is furnished in kind, or is a reimbursement or an allowance.

For example, the Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH) can be excluded from gross income as a qualified military benefit. Excludable income will not be included in the amount on Form W-2, box 1.

If the amount shown on Form W-2, box 1, differs from the last Leave and Earnings Statement for the current tax year, advise the taxpayer to contact the local accounting and finance or payroll office for an explanation.

If U.S. Armed Forces members were provided a commuter highway vehicle (such as a van) by their employer, refer them to Publication 525, Taxable and Nontaxable Income, and to a professional tax preparer.

D.	Hardship duty pay

Homeowners Assistance Program (HAP)

HAP was created to compensate qualified military and civilian employee homeowners when base closures negatively impact the real estate market or when they are required to permanently relocate during the home mortgage crisis. These payments for qualified military base realignments and closures are excluded from income. For additional information go to http://hap.usace.army.mil/overview.html.

What is military separation with disability severance pay?

Disability severance pay has varying effects on a service member's income and taxes.

What is severance pay?

U.S. Armed Forces members who have been separated from the military after years of service or for medical reasons are given severance pay, which is generally taxable as wages. If the member receives disability severance pay and is later awarded Veteran's Affairs (VA) disability benefits, 100% of the disability severance benefit may be excluded from income. The VA makes the determination that the member is entitled to medical disability benefits, and the determination process can take several months, and sometimes years.

What is VA disability compensation?

VA disability compensation is a monetary benefit paid to veterans who are disabled because of injury or disease incurred or aggravated during active military service. The veteran's service must have been terminated through separation or discharge under honorable conditions. Disability compensation varies with the degree of disability and the number of dependents, and is paid monthly. The benefits are not subject to federal or state income tax. The VA does not issue Form W-2, Form 1099-R, nor any other document for nontaxed veteran's disability benefits.

What happens after a service member receives a letter of determination?

Once the VA sends a letter of determination, all future pension payments from the government are offset by the disability amount paid directly from the VA. Disability payments received directly from the VA are not taxable and are not included on Form W-2 or Form 1099-R.

Although pension payments made before the letter of determination was issued have already been taxed, the letter exempts from taxes the same amount of previous pension payments. U.S. Armed Forces members who have already filed a tax return and reported that pension income should file Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return and attach a copy of the letter of determination.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 3: Disability payments sent directly from the VA to the discharged service member _____.

- A. Are taxable
- B. Appear on the taxpayer's Form W-2 or 1099-R
- C. Are not included on the taxpayer's Form W-2 or 1099-R
- D. May begin before the VA issues the letter of determination

example

Anita Zapata was an active duty service member who was separated due to a medical condition, and began receiving her military pension in February of the previous tax year. Here are the payments she reported on that year's tax return:

P	ayments	Amount
•	Disability severance pay	$10,000
•	Service pension	$33,000
•	Active duty pay	$ 5,000

In the current tax year, the VA determined that she was retroactively entitled to a VA disability pension of $837 each month from the date of her discharge (February of the previous tax year). She can amend her current tax return to exclude $9,207 ($837 x 11 months) of the pension she received plus the entire $10,000 disability severance payment.

She must attach a copy of her letter of determination to the amended return. Her current tax year Form 1099-R will not include the nontaxable VA disability retirement payments received during that year.

What is a combat zone?

A combat zone is any area the President of the United States designates by Executive Order as an area in which the U.S. Armed Forces are engaging or have engaged in combat. An area becomes a combat zone and ceases to be a combat zone on the dates the President designates by Executive Order. Publication 3 lists the specific areas and dates.

A taxpayer serving in a combat zone may qualify for relief from certain IRS compliance actions, such as audits or enforced collections, until 180 days after the taxpayer has left the zone.

Taxpayers qualifying for such combat zone relief may notify the IRS directly of their status through a special e-mail address: combatzone@irs.gov. They should provide name, stateside address, date of birth and date of deployment to the combat zone. They should not include any Social Security numbers in an e-mail. This notification may be made by the taxpayer, spouse, or authorized agent or representative. For more information visit www.irs.gov.

Hazardous duty areas are determined by Congress. Members of the Armed Forces deployed overseas, away from their permanent duty station, in support of operations in a qualified hazardous duty area, or performing qualifying service outside the qualified hazardous duty area, are treated as if they are in a combat zone for federal income tax purposes.

What is the combat zone exclusion?

Members of the U.S. Armed Forces who serve in a combat zone may exclude certain pay from their income. The entitlement to the pay must have fully accrued in a month during which they served in the combat zone or were hospitalized due to wounds, disease, or injury incurred while serving in the combat zone. They do not have to receive the pay while in a combat zone, in a hospital, or in the same year they served in a combat zone.

The following section is to help you understand when pay is considered excludable as combat pay. You will not be making any decisions about what is excludable. The information on the military member's Form W-2 indicates the amount of combat pay with a code Q. If military members feel the amount is incorrect, refer them to the local accounting and finance or payroll office for clarification. Do not change any amounts on Form W-2 when entering them in the tax software.

What qualifies as service in a combat zone?

Service in a combat zone includes periods that military members are absent from duty because of illness, wounds, or leave. If, as a result of serving in a combat zone, military members become prisoners of war or are missing in action, they are considered to be serving in the combat zone as long as they remain in that status for military pay purposes.

When does service outside a combat zone qualify as service inside a combat zone?

Military service outside a combat zone is considered to be performed in a combat zone if the service:

- Is in direct support of military operations in the combat zone, and
- Qualifies a member for hostile fire/imminent danger pay due to dangers or risks from the combat zone

Pay received for this service will qualify for the combat zone exclusion if the other requirements are met.

What is nonqualifying presence in a combat zone?

The following military service does not qualify as service in a combat zone:

- · Presence in a combat zone while on leave from a duty station located outside the combat zone
- Passage over or through a combat zone during a trip between two points that are outside a combat zone, and
- Presence in a combat zone solely for a member's personal convenience

example

Sgt. Bobby Osage was not assigned to a combat zone but he performed duty that qualified for hostile fire pay. He can exclude that income.

U.S. service members are considered to be serving in a combat zone if they are either assigned on official temporary duty to a combat zone or they qualify for hostile fire/imminent danger pay while in a combat zone.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 4: Which of the following may qualify as service in a combat zone?

- A. Temporary duty in a combat zone
- B. Traveling through a combat zone between two points outside of the combat zone
- C. Presence in a combat zone while on leave from a duty station located outside the combat zone
- D. Direct support of a qualified hazardous duty area but not entitled to hostile fire/imminent danger pay

What is the amount of the combat zone exclusion?

- Enlisted members, warrant officers, or commissioned warrant officers who serve in a combat zone during any part of a month (even one day) can exclude all of that month's military pay, including awards and re-enlistment bonuses for which the member becomes eligible while in the combat zone. Military pay earned while hospitalized due to wounds, disease, or injury incurred in the combat zone can also be excluded.
- Commissioned officers (including limited duty officers) may exclude pay according to the rules for enlisted members. However, the amount of the exclusion is limited to the highest rate of enlisted pay plus the amount of imminent danger/hostile fire pay received for each month during any part of which they served in a combat zone or were hospitalized as a result of their combat zone service.

Combat pay is not included in box 1 wages on the service member's Form W-2, but the amount is shown in box 12, with code Q. If service members believe the taxable wages on Form W-2 are incorrect, they should contact the local accounting and finance or payroll office to request a corrected Form W-2.

Nontaxable combat pay may increase the Child Tax Credit or Earned Income Tax Credit. Enter all fields from Form W-2 when preparing the tax return. Be sure to consider the combat pay amount when calculating these credits. Compare the credits with and without the inclusion of combat pay; choose the one that is most beneficial to the taxpayer.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, Main Information Sheet, Taxpayer Information section, and the entries related to combat zone, "Special Processing."

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Here's how a volunteer might help taxpayers with combat pay:

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	MRS. FANNIN RESPONDS
Let's talk for a minute about where your husband was stationed.	My husband was in a combat zone for part of the year. Do I need to tell you the dates or anything?
The combat pay is not taxable, but it's shown on your husband's W-2, here in box 12, with code Q. I will enter that into the system with the rest of the W-2 information, because combat pay can increase some tax credits. I can show on the tax return that he was in the combat zone, but I don't need to know the exact dates. Is he serving in Iraq?	That's right.

What are the laws regarding community property?

The community property states are Arizona, California, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas, Washington, and Wisconsin. Special rules apply to married taxpayers who file separately or who were divorced during the tax year and their domicile is in a community property state. For military members residing in these states, the key word is domicile, which describes someone's legal, permanent residence. It is not always where the person presently lives.

Married taxpayers who choose to file separately, when subject to community property rules, have to figure community income and separate income for state and federal income tax.

How do community property laws affect Armed Forces pay?

State community property laws apply to active military pay. Generally, the pay is either separate or community income based on the marital status and domicile of the couple while the service member was/is in active military service.

Whether an item is subject to community property laws depends on whether the payment is classified as active pay or retired/retainer pay:

- State community property laws apply to active military pay. Generally, the character of the pay as separate from community income is determined by the marital status and domicile of the service member and spouse while the member is on active military service.
- Armed Forces retired or retainer payments may be subject to community property laws. For more information see Publication 555, Community Property.

Summary

Special rules may govern whether certain income received by members of the U.S. Armed Forces is includible or excludable from taxable income reported on the return:

- Homeowners Assistance Program (HAP)
- Medical separation with disability severance pay
- · Combat zone exclusion
- · Community property laws

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following are out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

 U.S. Armed Forces members who were provided a commuter highway vehicle (such as a van) by their employer

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

To gain a better understanding of the tax law, complete the comprehensive problem or practice exercise(s) for your course of study in Publication 4491-W.

For practice using the tax preparation software, complete the scenarios using the Practice Lab on L<.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: False. The payments and withholdings for the enlistment and reenlistment bonuses are reflected on the service member's Form W-2.

Answer 2: B. The Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH) and Basic Allowance for Subsistence (BAS) are both nontaxable income.

Answer 3: C. Once the VA sends the letter of determination, all pension payments are offset by the disability amount paid directly from the VA, which is not taxable and not included on any Form W-2.

Answer 4: A. Military members are considered to be serving in a combat zone if they are either assigned on official duty to a combat zone or they qualify for hostile fire/imminent danger pay while serving in direct support of a combat zone.

Adjustments to Income

Introduction

This lesson covers the Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) section of the tax return. Taxpayers can subtract certain expenses, payments, contributions, fees, etc. from their total income. The adjustments, subtracted from total income on Form 1040, establish the AGI.

Some items in the Adjusted Gross Income section of the tax return are out of scope. This lesson will cover all in-scope topics. Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide or go to www.irs.gov to view Form 1040.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Identify which adjustments are within the scope of the VITA/TCE programs
- Calculate and accurately report the adjustments to income that are within the scope of the VITA/TCE programs

How do I determine if the taxpayer has adjustments to income?

To identify the adjustments to income that taxpayers can claim, you will need to ask the taxpayers if they had the types of expenses listed on the Adjusted Gross Income section of the tax return. Review the taxpayers' answers on their intake and interview sheet.

During the tax year did the taxpayer or spouse:

- · Receive income from self-employment?
- Pay a penalty for early withdrawal of savings?
- · Pay alimony?
- Make contributions to a traditional IRA?
- Pay student loan interest?
- Receive income from jury duty that was turned over to an employer?

There are other adjustments to income on Form 1040, such as selfemployed health insurance deduction, self-employed SEP, SIMPLE, and qualified plans and domestic production activities deductions. These are beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE programs. If you believe a taxpayer could benefit from one of these other adjustments, encourage the taxpayer to consult a professional tax preparer.

Tax Software Hint: To review the tax software entry screen for Adjustments to Income, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Adjustments tab.

How do I handle self-employment tax?

Self-employed taxpayers can subtract a deductible portion of their self-employment tax from their income. Self-Employment Tax is covered in the Other Taxes Lesson.

Tax Software Hint: The deductible portion of the self-employment tax is automatically calculated from Schedule SE. To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Adjustments tab.

How do I handle penalties for early withdrawal?

Taxpayers can adjust their income to deduct penalties they paid for withdrawing funds from a deferred interest account before maturity. Ask if the taxpayer and/or spouse made any early withdrawals during the tax year. If so, ask to see Form 1099-INT, Interest Income, or Form 1099-OID, Original Issue Discount, documenting the penalty.

Tax Software Hint: The early withdrawal penalty amount is entered on the electronic Interest Statement, Schedule B. The penalty amount will carry over to Form 1040, adjustment section.

example

Gloria withdrew $5,000 early from a one-year, deferred-interest certificate of deposit. She had to pay a penalty of three months' interest. She can claim this penalty amount as an adjustment to income.

How do I handle alimony paid?

Alimony is a payment to a spouse or former spouse under a divorce or separation instrument. The payments do not have to be made directly to the ex-spouse. For example, payments made on behalf of the ex-spouse for expenses specified in the instrument, such as medical bills, housing costs, and other expenses can qualify as alimony. Alimony does not include child support or voluntary payments outside the instrument. The person paying alimony can subtract it as an adjustment to income; the person receiving alimony must treat it as income. A summary of the alimony requirements can be found in the Adjustments section of the Volunteer Resource Guide.

When you conduct the interview, ask if the taxpayer paid alimony under a divorce or separation instrument. If so, explain that you need the exact amount, as well as the Social Security number of the recipient, because the recipient must report the payment to the IRS as income and the two amounts must agree.

For additional information on alimony, refer to the Alimony chapter in Publication 17 and Publication 504, Divorced or Separated Individuals.

example

Anthony has been divorced for three years. Under his divorce instrument, he paid his ex-wife $8,000 during the tax year. As a favor, he also made $4,000 in payments to cover part of her vehicle lease so she could keep steady employment. He can take the $8,000 as an adjustment to income. He cannot count the lease payments because those were payments not required by the divorce instrument.

EXERCISES

Answers are at the end of the lesson summary.

Question 1: Victoria divorced in 2007. Her divorce settlement states that she must pay her ex-husband $12,000 a year. She is also required to pay his ongoing medical expenses for a condition he acquired during their marriage. During the tax year, the medical expenses were $11,400. How much can she deduct as an adjustment to income?

- A. $12,000
- B. $11,400
- C. $23,400
- D. $600

How do I handle IRA contributions?

"IRA" stands for "Individual Retirement Arrangement." It is a personal savings plan that offers tax advantages to set aside money for retirement. This section discusses "traditional" IRAs. A traditional IRA is any IRA that is not a Roth or SIMPLE IRA. See the Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs) chapter in Publication 17, and Publication 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements, for more information on all types of IRAs.

Some of the features of a traditional IRA are:

- Taxpayers may be able to deduct some or all of their contributions to the IRA (depending on circumstances).
- · Generally, amounts in an IRA, including earnings and gains, are not taxed until distributed.
- · Contributions may be eligible for the retirement savings contributions credit.

Although contributions to a Roth IRA cannot be deducted, the taxpayer may be eligible for the retirement savings contributions credit, discussed in the lesson on Miscellaneous Credits.

example

Fred has a traditional IRA account and a Roth IRA account. During the tax year, Fred contributed $2,200 to his traditional IRA and $1,000 to his Roth IRA. The most Fred will be able to deduct is the $2,200 contribution to his traditional IRA.

Ask taxpayers about myRA accounts. A new type of savings account, myRA is designed for Americans who don't have access to an employer-sponsored retirement savings plan. Taxpayers are able to open a myRA with as little as $25 and contribute $5 or more every payday.

What are the eligibility requirements for an IRA contribution?

The taxpayer, and the taxpayer's spouse if applicable, must meet these eligibility requirements in order to make an IRA contribution:

- Types of IRAs: Verify the types of IRAs to which the taxpayer and spouse contributed. Only contributions to traditional IRAs are deductible.
- Age limit: Taxpayers can contribute to a traditional IRA only if they are less than 70½ years of age at the end of the tax year. Check the taxpayer's birth date (and spouse's if applicable) indicated on the intake and interview sheet.
- Compensation: Individuals must have taxable compensation (i.e., wages, self-employment income, commissions, taxable alimony, or taxable scholarships or fellowships).
- Time limits: Contributions must be made by the due date for filing the return, not including extensions. Verify with the taxpayer and spouse that they made the contribution(s) (or will make them) by the due date of the return.

Be sure the taxpayer knows that if a contribution is reported on the tax return but is not made by the deadline, the taxpayer must file an amended return.

How much can a taxpayer contribute to an IRA?

Generally, you can deduct the lesser of:

- · The contributions to your traditional IRA of the year, or
- The general limit (or the spousal IRA limit, if it applies)

What is the compensation requirement?

Compensation is generally the income a taxpayer has earned from working; it also includes alimony, and other forms of earned income. (See Publication 17 for more information on compensation.) Taxpayers cannot make IRA contributions that are greater than their compensation for the year.

An IRS certified volunteer preparer must exercise due diligence when preparing or assisting in the preparation of, approving, and filing tax returns. Based on this, volunteers may rely in good faith without requiring certain documents from the taxpayer. However, the volunteer preparer may not ignore the implications of information furnished to, or actually known by, the preparer. The preparer must ask questions if the information furnished appears to be incorrect, inconsistent, or incomplete.

If taxpayers file a joint return, and one spouse's compensation is less than the other spouse's compensation, the most that can be contributed for that spouse is the lesser of:

- The general limits, or
- The total compensation includible in the gross income of both spouses for the year, reduced by:
 - Traditional IRA contributions for the spouse with the greater compensation
 - Any contribution for the year to a Roth IRA for the spouse with the greater compensation

In other words, as long as they file a joint return, married taxpayers' combined IRA contributions cannot exceed their combined compensation, and neither spouse can contribute more than the spousal IRA limit to their own IRA.

example

Gene and Sue are married and are both over 50 years old. Gene earned $70,000 and Sue earned $1,500. During the tax year, Gene contributed $3,500 to his traditional IRA and $2,000 to a Roth IRA, making his total contributions $5,500. To figure the maximum contribution to Sue's IRA, use a total compensation of $66,000 (i.e., $71,500 – $5,500). If Gene and Sue file jointly, they can contribute up to $6,500 to Sue's IRA even though her own compensation was just $1,500.

Although a person may have IRA accounts with several different financial institutions, the tax law treats all of their traditional IRA accounts as one single IRA.

example

Bill is 29. He has a traditional IRA account at City Home Savings Bank and another traditional IRA account through his stockbroker. He also opened a Roth IRA through his stockbroker. Bill can contribute to any or all of his accounts this year, but the combined contributions for the tax year cannot exceed the ceiling amount.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 2: Stan, an unmarried college student working part time, earned $4,500 during the tax year. He contributed $1,000 to a Roth IRA. What is the maximum he can contribute?

- A. $1,000
- B. $3,500
- C. $4,500
- D. $2,000

Question 3: Bob and Carol are married and both are 55 years old. They both work and each has a traditional IRA. During the tax year, Bob earned $2,000, and Carol earned $50,000. If they file separate returns, what is the maximum that Bob can contribute to his IRA? **$

Are there special rules for certain military personnel?

Current or former members of the Armed Forces may qualify for additional retirement benefits. Under the Heroes Earned Retirement Opportunities (HERO) Act, taxpayers can count tax-free combat pay as compensation when determining whether they qualify to contribute to either a Roth or traditional IRA. Before this change, members of the Armed Forces whose earnings came entirely from tax-free combat pay were generally barred from using IRAs to save for retirement.

When can IRA contributions be deducted?

Deductions cannot be taken for contributions to other types of IRAs. The taxpayer's deduction for IRA contributions may be "phased out" (i.e., reduced or eliminated) depending on their income, filing status, and whether the taxpayer is covered by a retirement plan at work. The difference between the permitted contributions and the IRA deduction, if any, is the taxpayer's nondeductible contribution. Form 8606, Nondeductible IRAs, must be completed for any nondeductible traditional IRA contributions.

If taxpayers do not report nondeductible contributions, all of the contributions to a traditional IRA will be treated as having been deducted. This means all distributions will be taxed when withdrawn unless the taxpayer can show, with satisfactory evidence, that nondeductible contributions were made.

Form 8606 requires basis information in IRAs from prior years and can be complex. If Form 8606 is required, refer the taxpayer to a professional tax preparer.

How do I determine the deduction amount?

The factors that affect whether traditional IRA contributions are deductible include:

- Whether the taxpayer (or spouse, if filing a joint return) is covered by a retirement plan at work.
- The taxpayer's Modified Adjusted Gross Income (MAGI) before taking the deduction. If the taxpayer or spouse is covered by a retirement plan, the deduction amount will be reduced or eliminated if the MAGI on the tax return is above a certain limit. Use the IRA Deduction Worksheet from Form 1040 Instructions to figure their MAGI without the deduction.

How do I complete the IRA Deduction Worksheet?

If the taxpayer and spouse meet the general eligibility requirements, continue the interview by using the IRA Deduction Worksheet, in the tax software, as your guide.

Retirement coverage at work

Ask if the taxpayer and/or spouse were covered by a retirement plan at work at any time during the tax year. If so, their deduction may be limited. Employees covered by a retirement plan will have box 13 on Form W-2 checked.

Filing status and income

If the taxpayer or spouse is covered by a retirement plan, the worksheet will show the income limits for deducting IRA contributions, based on the filing status of the return. The worksheet will also help you calculate the MAGI, by subtracting certain other adjustments to income from the total income on the return. Notice that the income limitation amount may be different for each spouse on a joint return, but that the MAGI computation is the same. This is because if one spouse is covered by a retirement plan but the other is not, the noncovered spouse will have a higher income limit before their IRA deduction is phased out.

If the MAGI is greater than the income limits, the deduction cannot be taken. If this is the case, explain to the taxpayers and answer any questions they may have about why the deduction cannot be taken. The contribution may still be made, it is just not deductible.

If the deduction is allowed, continue the calculation to determine if the taxpayer is entitled to a full deduction or a partial deduction.

Enter the total contributions to traditional IRAs that were made (or will be made) for each spouse (on a joint return) by the due date of the return. The worksheet in the tax software calculates the amount that can be deducted from income.

If the taxpayers' IRA contribution is more than the general limit or their compensation, advise the taxpayers that their excess contributions (and all related earnings) should be withdrawn from the IRA before the due date. If the excess contributions are not withdrawn, an additional tax will be assessed. This tax on excess contributions is discussed in the lesson on Other Taxes.

How do I report the IRA deduction?

Report the deduction in the adjustment section of Form 1040.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Adjustments tab, Adjustments to Income.

What if the taxpayer has excess IRA contributions?

An excess IRA contribution is an amount contributed to a traditional IRA that is more than the smaller of:

- The taxable compensation for the year, or
- General limit amount

The taxpayer may not know that a contribution qualifies as "excess" until the tax return is completed. When this situation is identified, the excess amount, with any earnings on that amount, must be withdrawn by the due date of the return (including extensions). If the excess amount is not withdrawn by the due date of the return, the taxpayer will be subject to an additional 6% tax on this amount. This additional tax is covered in the Other Taxes lesson, but is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs. Taxpayers subject to the additional 6% tax should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

The withdrawn excess contribution is not included in the taxpayer's gross income if both of the following conditions are met:

- No deduction was allowed for the excess contribution
- · All interest or other income earned on the excess contribution is withdrawn

Taxpayers must include in gross income the interest or other income that was earned on the excess contribution. Taxpayers must report it on their return for the year in which the excess contribution was made. The withdrawal of interest or other income may be subject to an additional 10% tax on early distributions.

Form 1099-R

Taxpayers will receive Form 1099-R indicating the amount of the withdrawal. If the excess contribution was made in a previous tax year, the form will indicate the year in which the earnings are taxable.

example

Maria, age 35, made an excess contribution of $1,000, which she withdrew by the due date of her return. At the same time, she also withdrew the $50 income that was earned on the $1,000. She must include the $50 in her gross income (for the year in which the excess contribution was made). She must also pay an additional tax of $5 (the 10% additional tax on early distributions because she is not yet 59½ years old), but she does not have to report the excess contribution as income or pay the 6% excise tax. Maria receives a Form 1099-R showing that the earnings are taxable for the current year.

How do I handle student loan interest?

The student loan interest deduction is generally the smaller of $2,500 or the interest payments paid that year on a qualified student loan. This amount is gradually reduced (phased out) or eliminated based on the taxpayer's filing status and MAGI.

example

Robert has taken his first job after completing law school. His filing status is Single. He paid $3,000 in interest on his student loans during the tax year. With all adjustments to income (except student loan interest adjustment), his MAGI is below the limits. He can deduct $2,500 of his student loan interest as an adjustment to income.

example

Veronica and her husband are filing jointly. Their MAGI is above the fully deductible income limits. She completed her doctoral degree last year and paid $2,400 in student loan interest during the tax year. Due to their high MAGI, their deduction must be calculated; it will be less than the full amount of interest that she paid.

What type of interest qualifies?

Generally, student loan interest is paid during the year on a loan for qualified higher education expenses. The loan must meet all three of these conditions:

- It was for the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse, or a person who was the taxpayer's dependent when the loan was obtained
- The qualified higher education expenses were paid within a reasonable period of time before or after obtaining the loan
- · It was for an eligible student

Interest does not qualify if the loan was from a related person, a qualified employer plan, or if the taxpayer is not legally liable for the loan.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 4: Todd and Janet have a MAGI below the limits. They are filing jointly. Two years ago, they took out a loan so Todd's mother could earn her RN degree at night school. Todd could not claim her as a dependent on his return. This year, they paid $1,000 in interest on the loan. Does his mother meet the student qualifications? \square Yes \square No

Who is eligible for the deduction?

Generally, a taxpayer can claim the deduction if all the following are true:

- The taxpayer is not using the Married Filing Separately filing status
- The taxpayer will not be claimed as a dependent on someone else's return
- The taxpayer is legally obligated to pay interest on a qualified student loan
- The taxpayer paid interest on a qualified student loan
- The interest is on a loan to pay tuition and other qualified higher education expenses for the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse, or someone whom the taxpayer could claim as a dependent when the loan was taken out
- The education expenses were paid or incurred within a reasonable period of time before or after the loan was taken out
- The person for whom the expenses were paid or incurred was an eligible student Conduct a probing interview to verify that the taxpayer meets all these tests for the deduction.

What are qualified higher education expenses?

Qualified expenses include: tuition and fees; room and board; books, supplies and equipment; and other necessary expenses (such as transportation).

Qualified expenses must be reduced by certain other educational benefits. Ask the taxpayer if the expenses were offset by any of the following:

- · Employer provided educational assistance benefits
- Tax-free distributions from a Coverdell ESA or from a qualified tuition program
- U.S. savings bond interest excluded from income because it is used to pay qualified higher education expenses
- Certain scholarships and fellowships
- · Veteran's educational assistance benefits
- Any other nontaxable payments (other than gifts, bequests, or inheritances) received for educational expenses

No double benefit allowed

Taxpayers cannot deduct as interest on a student loan any amount that is an allowable deduction under any other provision of the tax law (e.g., as home mortgage interest).

What is an eligible educational institution?

An eligible educational institution is generally any accredited public, nonprofit, or private post-secondary institution eligible to participate in the student aid programs administered by the Department of Education. It includes virtually all accredited, public, nonprofit, and privately owned profit-making post-secondary institutions. If the taxpayers do not know if an educational institution is an eligible institution, they should contact the school. A searchable database of all accredited schools is available on the U.S. Department of Education website.

Who is an eligible student?

An eligible student is someone enrolled at least half-time in a program leading to a degree, certificate, or other recognized educational credential. The standard for what is half the normal full-time work load is determined by each eligible educational institution.

example

This year, Jeremy paid interest on a loan that allowed his 21-year-old daughter, Kate, to complete a program in holistic medicine as a full-time student at the Southwestern College of Synergistic Therapy. Although she qualifies as his dependent, and the loan paid for books, supplies, and equipment, the college is not accredited. Therefore, Jeremy cannot deduct the interest on the student loan.

Where can I get the information?

If the taxpayer paid $600 or more in interest to a single lender, the taxpayer should receive Form 1098-E, Student Loan Interest Statement, or another statement from the lender showing the amount of interest paid. This information will assist you in completing the student loan interest deduction.

The taxpayer should keep documentation of all qualified student loan interest paid during the tax year.

See Publication 970, Tax Benefits for Education, for more information on the Student Loan Interest Deduction.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Adjustments to Income, in the Adjustments tab.

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Here is how a volunteer helped Brenda determine if she can take the deduction for her student loan interest.

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	BRENDA RESPONDS
In reviewing your intake and interview sheet, I see you did not indicate if you had any educational expenses. Did you pay any student loan interest this year?	Yes, I just graduated a year ago and I'll be paying those loans for a while.
Well, you might be able to take a deduction for that. You are filing as Single, and your income before adjustments is not more than the limit for your filing status. Do you know how much interest you paid?	I have two loans; here are the statements.
The interest amounts add up to $2,600. Now, if your interest payments qualify for the deduction, the most we can claim is $2,500. Do you have any questions about that?	No, I understand.
I just need to ask a few questions to see if you qualify, okay? Earlier we decided that you can't be claimed as a dependent on someone else's return, so that's no problem. Can you tell me what you used the loan to pay for?	My tuition and fees, and my books.
Did you receive any educational assistance, like from your employer or the Veteran's Administration?	No.
How about tax-free withdrawals from a Coverdell educational savings account, another qualified tuition program, or from U.S. savings bonds?	No, none of those.
Did you get any other nontaxable payments, not counting gifts, bequests, or inheritances, which were specifically for educational expenses?	Heavens, no, I wish I had!
It looks like you can claim the maximum deduction of $2,500. [Indicate on the intake and interview sheet whether Brenda is eligible for this adjustment.]

Is pay for jury duty an adjustment to income?

As you learned earlier, jury duty pay received by taxpayers is included in Other income on Form 1040. Some employees receive their regular wages from their employers while they are serving on a jury instead of working at their jobs.

Often, employees must turn their jury duty pay over to their employers. This may be claimed as an adjustment to income.

How do I determine Adjusted Gross Income?

The taxpayer's total Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) is the amount that is used to compute some limitations, such as the medical and dental deduction on Schedule A and the credit for child and dependent care expenses. To find the taxpayer's AGI:

- 1. Add the Income section. This is the taxpayer's total income.
- 2. Add the Adjustments to Income section. These are the total Adjustments.
- 3. Subtract the Adjustments section from the Income section. This is the AGI.

Daniela, we've totaled your income, so we can go on to Adjustments to Income. We might find ways to reduce the income that you're taxed on. Do you have any questions before we go on?	No, it all makes sense.
Now, let's review the expenses listed on your intake and interview sheet and the deductions listed in the Adjustments to Income section of Form 1040. Do you have a Health Savings Account?	No, I don't.
Okay. We can skip moving expenses because you haven't moved for your job. That brings us to self-employment tax. As you can see, tax software has calculated the deductible portion of your self-	Cool!

Did you pay any alimony?	No, I've never even been married.
Now, did you contribute to an IRA?	I put in $2,000 right after Christmas.
Good for you. Will you be contributing any more? You can put money in your IRA before the deadline for filing the return.	I don't think so, but that's good to know.
Was it a traditional, Roth IRA, or a SIMPLE IRA?	It was just a plain old IRA. Here's the statement.

Summary

In this lesson, you learned how to identify and work with these adjustments to income:

- Deductible portion of self-employment tax
- · Penalty on early withdrawal of savings
- Alimony paid
- IRA deduction
- · Student loan interest deduction
- Jury duty pay turned over to the taxpayer's employer

There is an optional specialty course on health savings accounts on Link & Learn Taxes for volunteers with Basic certification or higher.

If you believe a taxpayer could benefit from an adjustment that is out of scope and was not covered in this lesson, encourage the taxpayer to consult a professional tax preparer.

In this lesson, you saw that tax software makes it much easier to work with adjustments by providing easy access to electronic worksheets and by doing many calculations for you.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following are out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

- Other adjustments to income on Form 1040, such as:
 - Self-employed health insurance deduction
 - Self-employed SEP, SIMPLE, and qualified plans
 - Domestic production activities deduction
- Form 8606, Nondeductible IRAs

Military Moving Expenses

Introduction

This lesson will help you determine which members of the U.S. Armed Forces are entitled to an adjustment to income for moving expenses. To do this, you will need to determine qualifying moves, allowances and reimbursements, and deductible moving expenses.

To determine if the taxpayer has incurred moving expenses, it is important to ask probing questions during the taxpayer interview.

To deduct moving expenses as an adjustment to income, the taxpayer generally must meet certain time and distance tests. However, a member of the Armed Forces on active duty who moves because of a permanent change of station does not have to meet these tests.

Unreimbursed moving expenses are deducted using Form 3903, Moving Expenses. Armed Forces members receive a variety of moving reimbursements and allowances that must be considered when determining if the expenses are deductible. The travel voucher will contain much of the information needed to compute the deduction.

See Publication 521, Moving Expenses, for additional information on the topics discussed in this lesson.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Determine if a move qualifies as a permanent change of station (PCS)
- · Identify deductible moving expenses
- Determine when allowances and reimbursements must be included in income

What do I need?

- $\hfill \square$ Intake and Interview Sheet
- ☐ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 4491-W
- □ Form 3903

Optional:

- □ Publication 3
- □ Publication 521
- □ Form 1040 Instructions

What is a permanent change of station?

Only expenses incurred as a result of a permanent change of station (PCS) are deductible. A permanent change of station includes a move from:

- Home to the area of the first post of duty.
- One permanent post of duty to another.
- The last post of duty to home or to a nearer point in the U.S. The Armed Forces member must move within one year of ending active duty or within the period allowed under the Joint Travel Regulations.

What does a permanent change of station include for spouses and dependents?

If the Armed Forces moves service members and their spouses or dependents to or from separate locations, the moves are treated as a single move and the qualified expenses of both moves are combined and deducted on the same tax return.

Answers are at the end of the lesson summary.

Question 1: Which of the following is a permanent change of station?

- A. A move by an Air Force pilot to an airbase for a six-month detail
- B. A move by an Army sergeant to his home two years after he ended active duty
- C. A move by a new enlistee from her home to her first post of duty
- D. A temporary move by a U.S. Marine to attend a six-month training program

What expenses are included in the moving expense adjustment?

Qualifying military moving expenses fall into the following two categories, the cost of:

- Moving household goods and personal effects
- · Reasonable travel and lodging expenses

To qualify as "reasonable," the route taken must be the shortest, most direct route available, from the former home to the new home. Additional expenses for stopovers, side trips, or pre-move house hunting expenses are not deductible as moving expenses.

Qualifying expenses that exceed government allowances and reimbursements are deductible.

Use Publication 521 as a resource for additional information. This publication has detailed information on deductible and nondeductible moving expenses. It also contains a special section on members of the Armed Forces.

How do I handle military reimbursements?

Determine whether any moving allowances or reimbursements provided by the government should be included in a service member's income, and how to accurately report the deduction on Form 1040.

What is a DITY move?

Typically, Armed Forces members move their own household items in a personal or rented vehicle; this is called a Do It Yourself (DITY) move. The Armed Forces provides an incentive payment equal to 95% of the estimated cost to the government for DITY moves. When the move is completed, the Armed Forces member provides receipts and paperwork to substantiate authorized expenses. The net financial profit is taxable and is reported on a separate Form W-2.

How do I report a DITY move?

DITY payments are entered as income on Form 1040, line 7.

Armed Forces members may not take a moving expense deduction based on the expenses approved by the finance office when settling the DITY move, as they have already been used to reduce taxable income.

example

Captain Cook receives orders for a PCS. He chooses to pack and drive his household goods to the new duty station in his own vehicle. The Air Force estimates that the move would have cost the government $2,500. Captain Cook's actual expenses for the move were $1,750. He receives a payment for $2,375 (95% of the government's estimate), but Form W-2, box 1, will show only $625 ($2,375 minus $1,750) for the DITY move. Captain Cook cannot deduct any of his expenses, since he's already been reimbursed.

What forms of reimbursement are not included as income?

Certain forms of reimbursement provided by the government are not to be included as income on the Armed Forces member's tax return.

- · Moving or storage services furnished to the Armed Forces member
- · Nontaxable allowances such as:
 - Dislocation allowance
 - Temporary lodging allowance
 - Mileage allowance in lieu of transportation
 - Per diem allowance

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 2: Sgt. Bishop received Form W-2 for $1,000 as a result of a DITY move to a new Permanent Duty Station (PDS). In addition, the government paid her a mileage allowance of $300, a lodging allowance of $200, and a dislocation allowance of $1,200. How much should Sgt. Bishop include in her gross income on Form 1040, line 7?

- A. $1,500
- B. $1,000
- C. $300
- D. $200

How do I calculate the adjustment?

Deductions can only be claimed for expenses not covered by a nontaxable reimbursement or moving allowance. If the taxpayers have allowable expenses that exceed the amount they were reimbursed, Form 3903 should be completed. Form 3903 is not needed if all the taxpayers' reimbursements were nontaxable allowances that were greater than their expenses.

Tax Software Hint: The tax software addresses the Armed Forces PCS move and calculates the standard mileage amount based on miles traveled for the move. For software entries, go to Form 1040, Adjustments to Income in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Adjustments tab.

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Here's how a volunteer could help Mrs. Fannin determine if she had any deductible moving expenses:

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	MRS. FANNIN RESPONDS
You said you just moved here during June of this year. Was this a PCS move?	Yes, my husband was transferred here in March, shortly before he deployed. I have family close by, so I'd rather stay here while he's overseas.
If your expenses were more than the Armed Forces reimbursement, you may be able to use the difference to reduce your gross income. We'll complete Form 3903 to see how it comes out. We drove our own car 1,000 miles to get here, and paid $120 for gas. We paid $300 for motels and $135 for meals on the way. The IRS allows lodging costs, but not food. So your total allowable expenses includes $300 for the motels and your mileage expenses. The travel voucher shows a total of $400 in reimbursements – did you receive any other reimbursements or allowances?	No, that's it.
Then you'll get to deduct the amount you spent that was more than your reimbursement. [On the intake and interview sheet, be sure to note that you've addressed this adjustment.]

When should an Armed Forces member claim the deduction?

Armed Forces members who use the cash method of accounting (the most common) and have qualified expenses exceeding their reimbursement can deduct the expenses either in the year they paid them, in the year reimbursement was received, or immediately after the year of reimbursement but by the due date, including extensions, for filing the return for the reimbursement year.

If expenses are deducted and reimbursement is received in a later year, the reimbursement must be included in income.

Question 3: In November of the current year, Petty Officer Wharton moved from California to Washington. The move qualified as a PCS. He incurred $800 in mileage expenses and $1,600 in lodging. He paid $1,400 to ship household goods over the allowed weight limit, and $500 to ship his dog. The following year, he filed his travel voucher and received $2,400 mileage and travel allowance. He also received a $1,500 dislocation allowance.

For what tax year(s) can Petty Officer Wharton claim his moving expenses on Form 3903?

- A. Next year only
- B. Current year only
- C. Either current year or next year

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Amanda was relocated to another Air Force base. Here's how a volunteer could help Amanda determine if she had any deductible moving expenses:

Only the travel and lodging en route can be claimed on Form expenses. Your reimbursement and dislocation allowances add up to $1,400. Since that's more than your expenses, you don't have anything to deduct. But, you don't have to include any of the excess reimbursement as income, either.

Summary

This lesson described the types of Armed Forces moves that qualify for tax benefits, the kinds of expenses that are deductible, and the use of Form 3903 to compute the moving expense deduction. These expenses are deductible as an adjustment to income on Form 1040.

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

To gain a better understanding of the tax law, complete the comprehensive problem or practice exercise(s) for your course of study in Publication 4491-W.

For practice using the tax preparation software, complete the scenarios using the Practice Lab on L<.

You may not be able to complete the entire exercise if some of the technical issues in the exercise are not covered until later lessons. In these instances, complete as much of the exercise as you can. Come back later to finish the exercise after you cover all the technical topics.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: C. A move by a new enlistee from her home to her first post of duty is considered a PCS.

Answer 2: B. The $1,000 DITY payment should be included as gross income on line 7. However, nontaxable allowances such as dislocation allowances, temporary lodging allowances and mileage allowances provided by the Armed Forces should not be included as gross income on the service member's tax return, even if they exceed allowable expenses.

Answer 3: C. Because Petty Officer Wharton paid for moving expenses in the year prior to the year of reimbursement, he can claim all of his moving expenses on Form 3903 in either the year he paid or the year he was reimbursed.

Standard Deduction and Tax Computation

Introduction

This is the first of eight lessons covering the Tax and Credits section of the taxpayers' return. After completing this lesson on standard deductions and the Itemized Deductions lesson, you will be able to subtract the appropriate deduction from the taxpayers' adjusted gross income to figure their taxable income.

Some taxpayers may need to use the standard deduction worksheet in the Form 1040 Instructions.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Determine the standard deduction amount for most taxpayers
- Determine the standard deduction amount for taxpayers claimed as dependents
- Identify how taxable income and income tax are computed and reported

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 4491-W
- □ Form 1040

Optional:

□ Publication 501

What are deductions?

Deductions are subtractions from a taxpayer's adjusted gross income (AGI). They reduce the amount of income that is taxed. Most taxpayers have a choice of taking a standard deduction or itemizing their deductions. When taxpayers have a choice, they should use the type of deduction that results in the lower tax. Use the interview techniques and tools discussed in earlier lessons to assist you in determining if the standard deduction will result in the largest possible deduction for the taxpayer.

What is a standard deduction?

A standard deduction for most taxpayers is a set dollar amount based on the taxpayer's filing status. An increased standard deduction is available to taxpayers who are 65 or older or blind. There are limitations on the standard deduction for taxpayers who can be claimed as a dependent on someone else's return. The Volunteer Resource Guide, Deductions tab, includes references for calculating the standard deduction.

example

James, 44, and Sara, 39, are filing a joint return. Neither is blind, and neither can be claimed as a dependent. They decided not to itemize their deductions. They will use the married filing jointly standard deduction amount. Their standard deduction is computed using the Standard Deduction Chart for Most People in the Volunteer Resource Guide.

What is an itemized deduction?

Itemized deductions allow taxpayers to reduce their taxable income based on specific personal expenses. If the total itemized deductions are greater than the standard deduction, it will result in a lower taxable income and lower tax. In general, taxpayers benefit from itemizing deductions if they have mortgage interest, very large unreimbursed medical or dental expenses when compared to their income, or other large expenses such as charitable contributions. Itemized deductions will be covered in the next lesson.

Who cannot take the standard deduction?

Some taxpayers cannot take the standard deduction and must itemize. During the interview, find out if the taxpayer is:

- · Filing as Married Filing Separately and the spouse itemizes
- A nonresident or dual-status alien during the year (and not married to a U.S. citizen or resident at the end of the year)

If either situation applies, the taxpayer must itemize personal deductions and the box on Form 1040, page 2, must be checked.

example

Chase files as Married Filing Separately. Her spouse, Grant, will be itemizing his deductions. Chase cannot use the standard deduction; she will have to itemize her deductions.

Tax Software Hint: The standard deduction is automatically calculated based on entries on the Main Information Sheet. If the taxpayer cannot take the standard deduction, the tax software will prompt the preparer to itemize deductions.

How does age or blindness affect the standard deduction?

The standard deduction is higher if the taxpayer or spouse is 65 or older, and if one or both are blind. This information is reported in the check boxes located on Form 1040, page 2. The more check boxes marked, the higher the standard deduction. Be sure to verify the taxpayer's and spouse's age and level of blindness as described below.

Tax Software Hint: These boxes are automatically checked based on entries on the Main Information Sheet. For software entries, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, Main Information Screen.

example

Sherman is 73 years old and blind. He files as Single using Form 1040. Because Sherman is over 65 and blind, enter 2 in the appropriate box on Form 1040, page 2.

Who qualifies as 65 or older?

Taxpayers are entitled to a higher standard deduction if they are 65 or older at the end of the year. They are considered to be 65 on the day before their 65th birthday. In other words, a person born on January 1 is considered to be 65 on December 31 of the previous year.

The standard deduction for decedents is the same as if they had lived the entire year; however, if taxpayers die before their 65th birthday, the higher standard deduction does not apply.

example

Armando died on November 24. He would have been 65 if he had reached his birthday on December 12 of that same year. He does not qualify for a higher standard deduction for being 65 because he died before reaching his 65th birthday.

Who qualifies as blind?

Taxpayers are entitled to a higher standard deduction if they are considered blind on the last day of the year and they do not itemize their deductions. A taxpayer who is not totally blind must have a certified statement from an eye doctor (ophthalmologist or optometrist) that:

- The taxpayer cannot see better than 20/200 in the better eye with glasses or contact lenses or
- · The field of vision is not more than 20 degrees

If the eye condition is not likely to improve beyond these limits, the statement should include that fact. Taxpayers should keep the statement for their records.

If vision can be corrected beyond those limits only by contact lenses and the taxpayer can only wear the lenses briefly because of pain, infection, or ulcers, the taxpayer can take the higher standard deduction for blindness.

What if only one spouse is over 65 or blind?

Taxpayers can take the higher standard deduction if one spouse is 65 or older, or blind, and if:

- · The taxpayer files a joint return, or
- The taxpayer files a separate return and can claim an exemption for the spouse because the spouse had no gross income and an exemption for the spouse could not be claimed by another taxpayer

What is the standard deduction based on age or blindness?

The standard deduction for taxpayers who are 65 or older or are blind increases for each box checked for age or blindness. This amount can also be computed using the Standard Deduction Chart in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Deductions tab.

These amounts do not apply if the taxpayer (or spouse if Married Filing Jointly) can be claimed as a dependent on someone else's return.

example

Tim is 67 and is filing as Single. He is not blind and he cannot be claimed as a dependent on someone else's return. His standard deduction is computed using the chart in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Deductions tab.

example

Kevin and Jane are both 60, and Jane is blind. They are filing as Married Filing Jointly. Neither can be claimed as a dependent on someone else's return. They are entitled to the regular standard deduction for married filing jointly plus an additional amount for being blind.

EXERCISES	\
Use the Standard Deduction Chart in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Deductions tab to complete the following exercises. Answers are at the end of the lesson summary.
Question 1: Roderick is 64 and blind. Can he claim an additional deduction? ☐ Yes ☐ No
Question 2: Leticia died in May just before celebrating her 65th birthday. Does she qualify as age 65? ☐ Yes ☐ No	,

What about individuals who can be claimed as dependents?

The standard deduction is generally lower for an individual who can be claimed as a dependent by another taxpayer. Taxpayers who can be claimed as a dependent must use the Standard Deduction for Dependents Worksheet to determine their standard deduction. The worksheet can be found in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Deductions tab.

Tax Software Hint: A dependent's standard deduction will be automatically calculated, as long as the box indicating they can be claimed as a dependent by another taxpayer has been checked on the Main Information Sheet. For software entries, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, Main Information Screen.

example

Janet is single, 22, a full-time student, and not blind. Her parents claimed her as a dependent on their current year tax return. She has no itemized deductions, so she will compute her standard deduction using the Standard Deduction Worksheets for Dependents.

How do I determine which deduction is best for the taxpayer?

If taxpayers are not required to itemize, they should take the higher of the standard deduction or the itemized expenses deduction. In general, taxpayers will benefit from itemizing their deductions if they have mortgage interest, qualified charitable contributions, or if unreimbursed medical/dental expenses are large compared to their income. During the interview, ask the taxpayer if any of the following were applicable during the tax year:

- Large out-of-pocket medical and dental expenses
- State and local income taxes, real estate taxes, and/or personal property taxes
- Mortgage interest
- Gifts to charity
- Certain other miscellaneous deductions

If the taxpayer's expenses qualify, itemizing may be a better choice.

Tax Software Hint: The taxpayer's standard deduction is automatically calculated and displayed on page 2 of the Form 1040 screen. The software automatically selects the deduction method that gives the taxpayer the best result, but only if Schedule A information is entered. For software entries, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Deductions tab, Form 1040, Page 2 – Deductions.

How are taxable income and tax determined?

Tax is based on the amount of taxable income, which is determined by the taxpayer's AGI, exemption amount, and standard deduction or itemized deductions. Taxable income is determined by subtracting from the AGI:

- · Personal and dependency exemptions
- · Standard or itemized deductions

Tax Software Hint: Tax is automatically calculated based on previous entries. It is important to enter all income, deduction, and credit information correctly for the tax to be computed accurately. The tax software also calculates the exemption amount and applies any limitations in determining the tax.

Summary

You should be able to identify those who can take the standard deduction, and how the deduction is affected by their filing status, age, blindness, and status as a dependent. All of this will make it easier for you to help taxpayers understand how their deduction is computed and its impact on their tax.

You should also understand that the tax computation is based on taxable income. The tax may be further reduced by tax credits to be covered in an upcoming lesson.

You are now ready to work with itemized deductions in the next lesson.

A separate worksheet is used to calculate the tax (instead of the tax tables) for taxpayers with certain types of income, such as capital gains, qualifying dividends, or foreign earned income.

Please see the Affordable Care Act (ACA) lesson contained in this publication for additional information on calculating the Excess Advanced Premium Tax Credit.

Itemized Deductions

Introduction

This lesson will assist you in determining if a taxpayer should itemize deductions. Generally, taxpayers should itemize if their total allowable deductions are higher than the standard deduction amount.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Determine if a taxpayer should itemize deductions
- Determine the type of expenses that qualify as itemized deductions
- Report accurately itemized deductions on Schedule A, Itemized Deductions
- Explain the recordkeeping requirements for claiming charitable contributions

What are itemized deductions?

Itemized deductions are subtractions from a taxpayer's Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) that reduce the amount of income that is taxed. Most taxpayers have a choice of taking a standard deduction or itemizing deductions. Taxpayers should use the type of deduction that results in the lowest tax.

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 4012
- □ Publication 4491-W
- □ Form 1040
- □ Schedule A

Optional:

- □ Publication 502
- □ Publication 526
- □ Publication 529
- □ Publication 530
- □ Publication 936

Who should itemize?

Taxpayers who have a standard deduction of zero should itemize their deductions. Taxpayers who normally fall within this category are:

- · Married, filing a separate return, and their spouse is itemizing
- Filing a return for a short tax year due to a change in the annual accounting period
- Considered to be nonresident aliens or dual status aliens during the year (and not married to a U.S. citizen or resident at the end of the tax year)

How do I decide if a taxpayer should itemize deductions?

In general, taxpayers who have mortgage interest or a very large amount of unreimbursed medical/dental expenses compared to their income would benefit from itemizing their deductions.

Use the Interview Tips – Itemized Deductions in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Deductions tab, to determine if itemizing deductions would be more beneficial for the taxpayer. If you think the taxpayer may benefit from itemizing, enter the qualified expenses on Schedule A. The tax software will automatically select the larger of itemized versus standard deduction.

Itemized deductions include amounts paid for qualified:

- Medical and dental expenses
- · Certain taxes paid
- Mortgage interest
- · Gifts to charity
- · Casualty and theft losses
- · Miscellaneous deductions

Casualty and theft losses are outside the scope of the VITA/ TCE programs. Refer taxpayers with these losses to a professional tax preparer.

For taxpayers using the Married Filing Separately status, if one spouse itemizes, the other must also itemize (even if their itemized deduction amount is zero).

Tax Software Hint: For software entries, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Deductions tab, Form 1040, Page 2, Deductions.

What medical and dental expenses are deductible?

Taxpayers must be able to itemize in order to deduct medical and dental expenses. Taxpayers can deduct only the amount of unreimbursed medical and dental expenses that exceeds 10% of their Adjusted Gross Income (AGI).

If the taxpayer or their spouse is age 65 or over, they will use the 7.5% threshold of AGI. This applies to any tax year beginning after December 31, 2012, and ending before January 1, 2017.

Tax Software Hint: Review the Itemized Deductions Detail
Worksheet for Schedule A. Deductions tab in the Volunteer Resource Guide.

The standard mileage rate allowed for out-of-pocket expenses for a car when used for medical reasons can be found in Publication 17. Taxpayers can also deduct parking fees and tolls.

Whose expenses are covered?

Qualified medical and dental expenses paid by the taxpayer during the tax year can be included for:

- The taxpayer
- The taxpayer's spouse
- Dependents claimed at the time the medical services were provided or at the time the expenses were paid
- Individuals who could be the taxpayer's dependent except:
 - They do not meet the gross income test, or
 - They do not meet the joint return test, or
 - The taxpayers, or their spouse if filing jointly, could be claimed as a dependent on someone else's return

If a child of divorced or separated parents is claimed as a dependent on either parent's return, each parent may deduct the medical expenses that they individually paid for the child.

example

Stewart and Carmen are divorced. Their son, Raymond, lives with Carmen, who claims him as a dependent. Carmen paid for and deducted Raymond's standard medical and dental bills. Stewart deducted the emergency bill he paid when Raymond broke his arm.

Review Whose Medical Expenses Can You Include? in the Medical and Dental Expenses chapter of Publication 17.

What types of expenses are covered?

Refer to Publication 17 for the medical and dental expenses checklist, and Publication 502 for more information on medical, dental, and other expenses. Be sure the expenses were not paid with pretax dollars or reimbursed by an insurance company.

Retired public safety officers cannot include as medical expenses any health or long-term care premiums they elected to have paid with tax-free distributions from their retirement plan.

If you and a taxpayer disagree as to whether a particular expense is deductible, politely refer the taxpayer to the Site Coordinator. The taxpayer may be correct, but you should not deduct an expense unless you are sure it is deductible.

EXERCISES

Answers are at the end of the lesson summary.

Question 1: Bill and Kathy Ferris file a joint return. They paid the medical and dental bills listed below. The total of Bill and Kathy's qualified medical expenses is $_____.

Medical Expenses	Amount	Deductible
Unreimbursed doctors' bills	$500	?
Unreimbursed orthodontist bill for braces	$1,200	?
Hospital insurance premiums	$300	?
Life insurance premiums	$500	?
Unreimbursed prescription medicines	$100	?
Vitamins	$70	?
Hospital bill (before insurance company's reimbursement of $1,000)	$2,000	?
Smoking-cessation program	$150	?
Total	$4,820	?

Taxpayers may only deduct unreimbursed medical expenses. They may not deduct medical insurance premiums paid with pretax dollars or reimbursed by an insurance company. For taxpayers who receive the premium tax credit (PTC), only the premiums paid out of pocket by the taxpayer and not covered by the PTC, may be used as a medical expense when itemizing deductions. For example, if the taxpayer's insurance policy premium was $12,000 and they received a PTC of $10,000, they would only be able to deduct the $2,000 premiums paid out of pocket by the taxpayer as a medical expense deduction, subject to the appropriate applicable adjusted gross income threshold for itemized medical expenses and any excess advanced premium tax credit repayment from this return.

What taxes may be deductible?

Taxpayers can deduct certain taxes if they itemize. To be deductible, the tax must have been imposed on and paid by the taxpayer during the current tax year. Taxes that are deductible include:

• State and local income taxes – This includes withheld taxes, estimated tax payments, or other tax payments (such as a prior year state or local income tax refund that the taxpayer chose to credit to their estimated tax for the following year) are deductible.

- · Real estate taxes
 - State, local, or foreign real estate taxes based on the assessed value of the taxpayer's real property, such as the taxpayer's house or land, are deductible.
 - Taxes based on other than the assessed value of the property may be deductible in certain circumstances if they are levied:
 - For the general public welfare
 - By a proper taxing authority
 - At a similar rate
 - On owners of all properties in the taxing authority's jurisdiction
 - Real estate taxes, which are generally reported on Form 1098, Mortgage Interest Statement, or a similar statement from the mortgage holder, are deductible. If the taxes are not paid through the mortgage company, the taxpayer should have a record of what was paid during the year.
 - Some real estate taxes are not deductible, including taxes for local benefits and improvements that tend to increase the value of the property, itemized charges for services, transfer taxes, rent increases due to higher real estate taxes, and homeowners' association fees.

State and local taxes withheld are shown on Form W-2 in either box 17 or 19.

See the Legislative Extender's lesson contained in this publication for information regarding the optional sales tax.

Real estate taxes reported on Form 1098 may include nondeductible amounts. Use the interview techniques with taxpayers to determine if nondeductible amounts such as sanitation pickup and water fees are included in their Form 1098. These items should not be included on Schedule A.

Which taxes are not deductible?

Not all taxes are deductible and some items aren't actually classified as taxes. Some examples include employment taxes, federal income taxes, and license fees.

How do I handle taxes that are deductible?

Deductible taxes are reported on Form 1040, Schedule A in the Taxes You Paid section.

State and local income taxes

Include tax withheld, estimated tax payments to a state or local government, and tax payments for an earlier year paid during the current tax year. Do not include penalties or interest.

Foreign income taxes

Generally, income taxes that were paid to a foreign country can be taken as an itemized deduction on line

8 of Schedule A, or as a credit against U.S. income tax on Form 1040. More information will be provided on this credit in subsequent lessons. You should compare claiming the foreign taxes paid as a nonrefundable credit to taking it as an itemized deduction and use whichever results in the lowest tax.

See the Taxes chapter in Publication 17 for more information.

Tax Software Hint: For software entries, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Deductions tab, Schedule A, Itemized Deductions.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 2: Which of the following taxes are deductible on Schedule A?

- A. Federal income tax
- B. State, local, and foreign income tax and real estate tax
- C. Tax on alcohol and tobacco
- D. Foreign sales tax

Question 3: For a tax to be deductible, a tax must be _____. (Select all that apply.)

- A. Imposed during the tax year
- B. Imposed on the taxpayer
- C. Paid during the tax year
- D. Paid by the taxpayer

How do I handle interest paid?

Certain types of interest payments qualify as itemized deductions. Home mortgage interest, points (paid as a form of interest), and investment interest can be deducted on Schedule A. Investment interest is outside the scope of the VITA/TCE programs and should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

Home Mortgage Interest

Generally, home mortgage interest is any interest paid on a loan, line of credit, or home equity loan secured by the taxpayer's home. The flow chart Is My Home Mortgage Interest Fully Deductible? in Publication 17 will help you determine if interest paid by the taxpayer should be included on Schedule A.

Members of the clergy and military can subtract qualified mortgage interest even if they receive a nontaxable housing allowance.

Generally, the deductible amount of home mortgage interest paid by a taxpayer is shown on Form 1098, Mortgage Interest Statement. Only taxpayers who are legally liable for the debt can deduct the interest in the year it is paid. Remember that taxpayers may have more than one mortgage or may have refinanced during the year and may have multiple Mortgage Interest Statements.

See the Legislative Extender's lesson contained in this publication for information regarding qualified mortgage insurance premiums.

A taxpayer may be able to deduct interest on a main home and a second home. A home can be a house, cooperative apartment, condominium, mobile home, house trailer, or houseboat that has sleeping, cooking, and toilet facilities.

Review "Home Mortgage Interest" in Publication 17, Interest Expense chapter, for details on determining deductible amounts of mortgage interest.

example

From 1991 through 1998, Alfredo and Cindy Kendall obtained home equity loans totaling $91,000. Alfredo and Cindy used the loans to pay off gambling debts, overdue credit payments, and some nondeductible medical expenses.

The current balance of Alfredo and Cindy's home equity loan is $72,000. The fair market value of their home is $230,000, and they carry $30,000 of outstanding acquisition debt (the amount used to buy, build, or improve their home).

If Alfredo and Cindy file a joint return, they can deduct the interest on their loans because:

- The total of these loans ($72,000) does not exceed $100,000 and
- The total amount of the home equity ($72,000) is not more than the home's fair market value minus any outstanding acquisition debt ($230,000 $30,000 = $200,000)

What are points?

Points are the charges paid by a borrower and/or seller to a lender to secure a loan. They are also called:

- · Loan origination fees (including VA and FHA fees)
- Maximum loan charges
- Premium charges
- · Loan discount points
- Prepaid interest

When are points deductible?

Only points paid as a form of interest (for the use of money) can be deducted on Schedule A. Generally, points must be spread over the life of the mortgage. However, if the loan is used to buy or build a taxpayer's main home, the taxpayer may be able to deduct the entire amount in the year paid. See the Interest Expense chapter of Publication 17 for more information.

Points paid to refinance a mortgage are generally not deductible in full the year they were paid, unless the points were paid in connection with the improvement of a main home and certain other conditions are met.

Beware of certain charges that some lenders call points. Points paid for specific services, such as appraisal fees, preparation fees, VA funding fees or notary fees, are not interest and are not deductible.

Use the flow chart in the Interest Expense chapter of Publication 17 to help determine if points are fully deductible.

What types of interest are not deductible?

Interest that cannot be deducted includes:

- Interest on car loans where the car is used for nonbusiness purposes
- Other personal loans
- · Credit investigation fees
- · Loan fees for services needed to get a loan
- Interest on a debt the taxpayer is not legally obligated to pay
- · Finance charges for nonbusiness credit card purchases

Question 4: Joe and Angela file a joint return. During the year, they made the interest payments listed below. The total of Joe and Angela's fully deductible interest for the tax year is $_____.

Interest Payments	Amount	Deductible
Qualified interest on their home mortgage, reported on	$2,180	?
Form 1098
Credit card interest	$400	?
Points paid to refinance their mortgage for a better	$1,500	?
interest rate (None of the points qualify as interest.)
Interest on a car loan	$2,000	?
Total	$6,080	?

How do I handle gifts to charity?

A charitable contribution is a donation or gift to a qualified organization, which may be deductible if the taxpayer itemizes. Cash, check, and noncash contributions should be reported on Schedule A, line 16 and line 17, respectively. Deductions may be taken for contributions to:

- Organizations that operate exclusively for religious, charitable, educational, scientific, or literary purposes
- Organizations that work to prevent cruelty to children or animals
- Organizations that foster national or international amateur sports competition if they do not provide athletic facilities or equipment
- · War veterans' organizations
- Certain nonprofit cemetery companies or corporations
- The United States, or any state, the District of Columbia, a U.S. possession (including Puerto Rico), a political subdivision of a state or U.S. possession, or an Indian tribal government or any of its subdivisions that perform substantial government functions

To be deductible, contributions must be made to a qualifying organization, not an individual.

Qualified organizations are listed in Publication 78, Cumulative List of Organizations. An online version is offered to help taxpayers efficiently search organizations that are eligible to receive tax-deductible charitable contributions.

To find out if the organization is a qualified charity go to www.irs.gov.

Deductible items include:

- Monetary donations
- · Dues, fees, and assessments paid to qualified organizations above the value of benefits received
- · Fair market value of used clothing and furniture in good condition
- Cost and upkeep of uniforms that have no general use but must be worn while performing services donated to a charitable organization
- Unreimbursed transportation expenses that relate directly to the services the taxpayer provided for the organization
- Part of a contribution above the fair market value for items received such as merchandise and tickets to charity balls or sporting events
- Transportation expenses, including bus fare, parking fees, tolls, and either the cost of gas and oil or the standard mileage deduction may be taken. See Publication 4012 for the standard mileage deduction for charitable contributions.

Form 1098-C, Contributions of Motor Vehicles, Boats and Airplanes, is out of scope. Taxpayers who have made these contributions should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

Which gifts to charity are not deductible?

Contributions to the following types of organizations do not qualify as deductible:

- · Business organizations, such as the Chamber of Commerce
- · Civic leagues and associations
- · Political organizations and candidates
- · Social clubs
- Foreign organizations
- · Homeowners' associations
- · Communist organizations

Amounts that may not be deducted include:

- Cost of raffle, bingo, or lottery tickets
- Tuition
- · Value of a person's time or service
- · Blood donated to a blood bank or Red Cross
- Car depreciation, insurance, general repairs, or maintenance

- Direct contributions to an individual
- Sickness or burial expenses for members of a fraternal society
- Part of a contribution that benefits the taxpayer, such as the fair market value of a meal eaten at a charity dinner

example

Susan ran a 10K organized by the Chamber of Commerce to benefit a qualified charitable organization. She paid the race organizers a $30 entry fee and received a "free" T-shirt and pancake breakfast after the race.

Susan did not make a contribution to the qualifying organization. She paid the Chamber of Commerce, which allotted funds to the benefiting organization. Therefore, none of Susan's entry fee is tax deductible. If the race had been organized by the qualifying organization itself, part of her entry fee may have been deductible.

What limits apply to charitable deductions?

Taxpayers whose charitable contributions total more than 20% of their AGI may be able to deduct only a percentage of their contributions and must carry over the remainder to a later tax year. The percentage varies depending on the type of gift and the type of charitable organization. More information on these limitations is available in Publication 17. Individuals affected by limits on charitable deductions should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

What records should the taxpayer keep for charitable contributions?

Taxpayers must keep records to verify the cash and noncash contributions they make during the year. Advise taxpayers that they cannot deduct a cash contribution, regardless of the amount, unless one of the following records of the contribution is kept:

- A bank record, such as a canceled check, a bank copy of a canceled check, or a bank statement containing the name of the charity, the date, and the amount
- A written communication from the charity, which must include the name of the charity, date of the contribution, and amount of the contribution

Out-of-pocket expenses related to donated services

For unreimbursed expenses related to donated services, the taxpayer must have:

- Adequate records of the expenses
- Organization's written acknowledgment and description of the taxpayer's services

Only out-of-pocket expenses that are directly related to the donated services can be deducted. The value of time or services donated cannot be deducted. See Publication 17, Contributions chapter, for the rules applicable to out-of-pocket expenses incurred when rendering services to a qualifying organization.

What records should the taxpayer keep for noncash contribution deductions?

Noncash contributions less than $250

For any single contribution of less than $250, the taxpayer must keep:

- A receipt or other written communication from the organization or the taxpayer's own reliable written records for each item, showing:
 - Name and address of organization
 - Date and location of the contribution
 - Reasonably detailed description of the donated property
 - Fair market value of the donated property

Noncash contributions of at least $250 but not more than $500

For any single contribution of at least $250 and not more than $500, the taxpayer must have all the documentation described for noncash contributions less than $250. In addition, the organization's written acknowledgment must state whether the taxpayer received any goods or services in return and a description and good faith estimate of any such items.

Noncash contributions of more than $500

Taxpayers with more than $500 in total noncash contributions must file Form 8283 and should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 5: Julia made the following contributions last year:

- $600 to St. Martin's Church (The church gave her a letter verifying the amount.)
- $32 to Girl Scouts (not for cookies!)
- · $40 to a family whose house burned
- $50 for lottery tickets at a fundraiser
- $100 for playing bingo at her church

The amount that Julia can claim as deductible monetary contributions is $_____

What about casualty and theft losses?

The deduction for casualty and theft losses is complex, with many rules and exceptions. Taxpayers with deductible casualty and theft losses should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

Deductions are not allowed for the charitable contribution of clothing and household items if the items are not in good used condition or better.

If the taxpayer is donating capital gain property or property that was previously depreciated, refer them to a professional tax preparer.

What are miscellaneous deductions?

What types of miscellaneous expenses are deductible?

Miscellaneous itemized deductions are expenses a taxpayer incurs to:

- · Produce or collect income
- · Manage, conserve, or maintain property held for producing income
- · Determine, contest, pay, or claim a refund of any tax

For some miscellaneous deductions, only the portion that exceeds 2% of the taxpayer's AGI can be deducted. Other miscellaneous deductions are deductible regardless of AGI.

Which deductions are subject to the 2% limit?

Examples of miscellaneous deductions include:

- Credit or debit card convenience fees incurred when paying income tax, charged by the card processor
- Union dues and fees
- Professional society dues
- Uniforms not adaptable to general use (See the Miscellaneous Deductions chapter in Publication 17 for more information.)
- · Small tools and supplies used for business
- Professional books, magazines, and journals
- Employment-related educational expenses (Review Does Your Work-Related Education Qualify? in the Tax Benefits for Work-Related Education chapter in Publication 17.)
- · Expenses of looking for a new job in your present occupation
- · Investment counsel fees
- Investment expenses
- Safe deposit box rental for investment documents
- Tax counsel and assistance
- · Trustee's administrative fees for IRA

Tax Software Hint: For software entries, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Deductions tab, Schedule A – Itemized Deductions.

Which deductions are exempt from the 2% limit?

Deductions that are not subject to the 2% limit include:

- Gambling losses to the extent of gambling winnings (taxpayers must have a record of their losses)
- Work-related expenses for disabled individuals that enables them to work, such as attendant care services at their workplace

Gambling losses in excess of winnings are not deductible. The full amount of winnings must be reported as income and the losses (up to the amount of winnings) can be claimed as an itemized deduction.

What types of miscellaneous expenses are not deductible?

The types of miscellaneous expenses that are not deductible include:

- Commuting expenses (mileage to and from a taxpayer's regular place of work)
- · Political contributions
- · The cost of entertaining friends
- Lost or misplaced cash or property
- · Travel as a form of education

An attorney's fee for a will is considered a personal legal expense, so it is not deductible.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 6: Philip had the expenses shown below. What is the total of Philip's qualified miscellaneous itemized expenses? $_____.

Expense	Amount	Deductible
Income tax preparation fee	$100	?
Safe deposit box rental (to store bonds)	$75	?
Life insurance premiums	$300	?
Credit card convenience fee for income tax payment	$70	?
Loss on sale of personal home	$1,800	?
Investment journals and newsletters	$250	?
Investment expenses	$200	?
Attorney fees for preparation of a will	$100	?
Total	$2,895	?

Summary

Medical and Dental Expenses

Unreimbursed medical and dental expenses exceeding 10% of the taxpayer's AGI are deductible; they are reported on lines 1 through 4 of Schedule A. If the taxpayer or their spouse is age 65 or over, they will use the 7.5% threshold of AGI through 2016.

Qualified medical and dental expenses are those paid during the tax year for the taxpayer, spouse, and dependents.

Taxes

Deductible taxes are reported on lines 5 through 9 of Schedule A and include the following:

- · State and local income taxes
- · State, local, or foreign real estate taxes
- Personal property taxes

Interest

Deductible interest is reported on lines 10 through 15 of Schedule A.

Generally, the taxpayer receives Form 1098, Mortgage Interest Statement, which shows the deductible amount of interest paid. To be deductible, the interest must be paid by the taxpayer during the tax year. Only taxpayers who are legally liable for the debt can deduct the interest.

Only points paid as a form of interest (for the use of money) can be deducted on Schedule A. Generally, points must be spread over the life of the mortgage. However, if the loan is used to buy or build a taxpayer's main home, and certain other conditions are met, the taxpayer may be able to deduct the entire amount in the year paid.

Gifts to Charity

Qualified charitable contributions are reported on lines 16 through 19 of Schedule A.

The contributions to qualifying organizations that taxpayers can deduct include:

- Monetary donations
- · Dues, fees, and assessments paid to qualified organizations above the value of benefits received
- Fair market value of used clothing and furniture at the time of donation
- Cost and upkeep of uniforms that have no general use but must be worn while performing donated services for a charitable organization
- Unreimbursed transportation expenses that relate directly to the services the taxpayer provided for the qualifying organization
- Part of a contribution above the fair market value for items received such as merchandise and tickets to charity balls or sporting events

CAUTION

Taxpayers are required to keep receipts and records of all their contributions.

Miscellaneous Deductions

For some miscellaneous deductions, only the portion that exceeds 2% of the taxpayer's AGI can be deducted. Other miscellaneous deductions are deductible regardless of AGI.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following is out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

- · Casualty and theft losses
- Investment interest
- Form 1098-C, Contributions of Motor Vehicles, Boats and Airplanes
- Taxpayers affected by limits on charitable deductions
- Taxpayers that file Form 8283 to report noncash contributions of more than $500
- If the taxpayer is donating property that was previously depreciated
- · If the taxpayer is donating capital gain property

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: The total of qualified medical and dental expenses is $3,250, which does not include life insurance premiums, vitamins, or reimbursed hospital expenses.

Answer 2: B. State, local, foreign income tax, and real estate taxes are all deductible on Schedule A.

Answer 3: B, C, and D. Taxpayers cannot deduct a tax they did not owe, did not pay, or that they paid during another year. However, the tax may have been imposed in a prior year.

Answer 4: $2,180. The only interest that is fully deductible for the tax year is Joe and Angela's home mortgage interest. The points they paid to refinance are not deductible because they were not paid to acquire or improve the main home, and the other interest paid was personal interest and is not deductible.

Answer 5: The amount that Julia can claim as deductible cash contributions is $632 (donations to her church and to the Girl Scouts). Bingo, lottery tickets, and donations to individuals in need are not deductible.

Answer 6: $695, which includes tax preparation fee, safe deposit box rental, credit card convenience fees, investment journals and newsletters, and investment expenses.

Military Employee Business Expenses

Introduction

This lesson will help you determine and claim qualified employee business expenses for members of the Armed Forces, such as uniforms, education and travel. These expenses, with one exception, may be reported on Form 2106 or Form 2106-EZ or may be deducted on Schedule A as a Miscellaneous Itemized Deduction subject to the 2% limit or in certain cases as an adjustment to income.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource tools, you will be able to:

- Determine if the taxpayer has military business expenses that can be deducted
- · Identify which form to use to report military business expenses

What are military employee business expenses?

Military employee business expenses are necessary work-related expenses incurred by active and reserve members of the U.S. Armed Forces. The U.S. Armed Forces includes commissioned officers, warrant officers, and enlisted personnel in all regular and reserve units under the control of the Secretaries of the Defense, Army, Navy, Air Force, and Coast Guard. It does not include members of the Merchant Marines or the American Red Cross.

TP)

Although the intake and interview sheet does not list military employee business expenses, service members should take advantage of deductions to which they are entitled. Ask taxpayers if they had any unreimbursed military work-related expenses.

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 3
- □ Publication 4491-W
- □ Form 2106
- □ Form 2106-EZ
- □ Schedule A

Optional:

- □ Publication 463
- □ Publication 970
- □ Form 2106 Instructions

What are qualified uniform expenses?

Qualified uniform expenses are the cost and upkeep of uniforms and certain articles that are:

- Specifically required as a condition of employment and
- Not adaptable to general use as regular clothing

Members of the Armed Forces are required to wear uniforms when they are on duty, and they are generally allowed to wear their uniforms in place of regular civilian clothing when they are off duty. In this case, members of the military cannot claim a deduction for the uniform cost and upkeep.

However, when military regulations prohibit off-duty wear of certain uniforms, service members can deduct the cost and upkeep of those uniforms. Service members must reduce the deductible expenses by any nontaxable uniform allowance or reimbursement they receive.

In addition, costs for required items, such as insignia of rank, corps devices, epaulets, aiguillettes, and swords, can be deducted.

The same rules apply for active duty personnel and reservists.

Are professional dues deductible?

Dues paid to professional societies that are directly related to their trade or business can be deducted by service members.

However, service members cannot deduct amounts paid to an officers' club or a noncommissioned officers' club.

example

Lt. Walker, an electrical engineer at Maxwell Air Force Base, can deduct professional dues paid to the American Society of Electrical Engineers.

EXERCISES

Answers are after the lesson summary.

Question 1: Which of the following expenses can be deducted?

- A. The cost of a dress blue uniform (without shoulder boards or gold stripe on pants), including cape; off-duty wear allowed
- B. The cost of a full Army green uniform (without braid) that can be worn anytime
- C. The cost of battle dress uniforms and utility uniforms that can be worn only while on duty or while traveling to and from duty
- D. None of the above

Question 2: Which of the following expenses can be deducted?

- A. Cost of epaulets
- B. Cost and upkeep of a reservist's uniform that can be worn off duty (no uniform allowance received)
- C. All of the above

Question 3: Lt. Edwards is on active duty for the U.S. Navy. He specializes in the installation and maintenance of sonar detection systems on Navy ships. As a volunteer, he also draws illustrations and cartoons for his base's internal newsletter. He receives no compensation for his illustrations. Is the membership fee he pays to the Professional Illustrators' Society a deductible expense?

Yes
No

Can service members claim work-related educational expenses?

Service members can claim educational expenses as an employee business expense if the education:

- Is required by their employer, the law, or regulations to keep their current salary, status, or job if these requirements serve a business purpose of the employer or
- Maintains or improves the skills required in their present work

These expenses are deductible whether or not the education may lead to a degree.

This section relates only to expenses that may be deductible on Schedule A subject to the 2% AGI limitation. Service members can determine whether the expenses also qualify as an education credit, then claim them where they are most beneficial.

However, service members cannot claim an employee business expense for education that is:

- · Needed to meet the minimum educational requirements for their trade or business or
- · Part of a program of study that will qualify them for a new trade or business

example

Col. Wilson, an Army pilot, incurred educational expenses to obtain an accounting degree. He cannot deduct his accounting degree expenses on Schedule A because the degree will qualify him for a new trade or business.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 4: True or False? For educational expenses to be claimed as an employee business expense deduction, the education must help the service member qualify for a degree.

☐ True ☐ False

Question 5: Which of the following can be classified as a work-related education expense?

- A. Cost of a laptop and desk lamp for studying
- B. Expenses incurred by a flight operations officer to take an advanced piloting course
- C. Cost of civilian clothes to wear to a course taken off base
- D. Expenses incurred by a Navy disbursing clerk to learn television repair

What about travel and transportation expenses incurred for educational expenses?

Service members who have qualified deductible educational expenses may deduct the cost of travel and transportation for that education. This includes the cost of going from work to school, or travel expenses if the service member travels overnight mainly to obtain work-related education. Service members cannot deduct the round-trip cost of going from home to school unless they are regularly employed and go to school on a temporary basis (not reasonably expected to last more than one year) for work-related education.

See Publication 970 for additional information regarding Educational Expenses.

Service members cannot deduct the cost of travel that is itself a form of education, even if it is directly related to their duties.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 6: Major Manchester is stationed in Manila. On weekends, she drives to Taal to take lessons in traditional Philippine dance. Can Major Manchester deduct these travel expenses? ☐ Yes ☐ No

What are travel expenses?

Travel expenses are unreimbursed work-related expenses incurred while service members are traveling away from home. They must be ordinary and necessary expenses such as airfare, car rental, taxi fare, lodging, and meals. Expenses for personal travel, leave, or liberty cannot be deducted.

When are travel expenses deductible?

For travel expenses to be deductible:

- There must be a work-related purpose for the travel
- They must be deemed as the "ordinary and necessary" costs of traveling away from home
- The expenses must be greater than the total of any advances, allowances, or reimbursements service members received

If Armed Forces members do not claim reimbursement for expenses they are entitled to, no deduction for those expenses may be claimed.

What is meant by "away from home"?

"Away from home" has a slightly different meaning for military than for civilian taxpayers. For service members, "home" is the duty station to which they are permanently assigned, which can be a ship or a base. It includes the entire city or general area where the post of duty is located.

Service personnel are considered to be away from home if they are away from their permanent duty stations for a period substantially longer than an ordinary day's work. Service members may deduct business-related travel expenses incurred while traveling away from home.

For Navy personnel assigned to permanent duty aboard a ship that has regular eating and living facilities, the ship is considered to be "home" for travel expense purposes.

Examples of work-related travel expenses for members of the Armed Forces include:

- Expenses incurred while on temporary duty (TDY) or temporary additional duty (TAD) if "away from home" (i.e., ship, base, or station)
- Expenses of a reservist away from home overnight to attend drills
- Meals and lodging of a reservist temporarily called to active duty
- Travel expenses, including meals and lodging, incurred in connection with deductible educational activities
- Travel expenses incurred when carrying on official business while on "no cost" (to the government) orders

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 7: Which of the following individuals is entitled to deduct travel expenses?

- A. Sgt. Bullock, who commutes from his home to his permanent post of duty in the same city
- B. Capt. Hinds, who takes a taxi to work from his home to his permanent post of duty
- C. Major Forrest, a reservist who is called to temporary duty and must attend an overnight meeting away from home
- D. PFC Jenkins, who is assigned to permanent duty aboard a ship that provides meals and lodging

What are temporary active duty reservists' expenses?

Military reservists temporarily called to active duty who must remain away from home to perform their duties may claim unreimbursed travel expenses such as meals and lodging. This applies:

- · As long as the duty occurred under competent orders and
- Whether or not the reservist was compensated

To claim unreimbursed travel expenses, reservists must:

- · Be stationed away from the general area of their job or business and
- Return to their regular jobs once released

Expenses are deductible only if the reservists pay for meals and lodging at their official military post and only to the extent the expenses exceed Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH) and Basic Allowance for Subsistence (BAS).

What is the 100-mile rule for reservists?

Military reservists include members of the U.S. Armed Forces (i.e., Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, and Coast Guard Reserve), the U.S. Army National Guard, the U.S. Air National Guard, or the Reserve Corps of the U.S. Public Health Service.

Military reservists who must travel more than 100 miles away from home and stay overnight to attend a drill or reserve meeting may be able to deduct their travel expenses as an adjustment to income rather than as a miscellaneous itemized deduction. The amount of expenses that can be deducted is limited to the:

- Federal rate for per diem (for lodging, meals, and incidental expenses)
- Standard mileage rate (for car expenses) plus any parking fees, ferry fees, and/or tolls

Any expense in excess of the standard mileage rate and expenses that do not qualify for the adjustment to gross income deduction can be claimed only as a miscellaneous itemized deduction subject to the 2% limit.

The 100-mile rule is an exception to Form 2106 requirements and qualifies as an adjustment to income, which is an above-the-line deduction.

example

Mary is in the Army Reserve. She lives in a town that is 120 miles from Base A, where she normally reports for Reserve drills or meetings. During the current tax year, she occasionally traveled to Base B, which was only 40 miles from her home.

Mary may claim the travel expenses she incurred going to Base A as an adjustment to income. Mary's remaining expenses for travel to Base B may qualify as an itemized deduction on Schedule A. This deduction will be subject to the 2% AGI limitation.

Tax Software Hint: For software entries, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Deductions tab, Schedule A - Itemized Deductions.

What is the deduction for meals?

U.S. service personnel can deduct the cost of meals and business-related entertainment incurred during business travel away from their permanent duty station.

Meals and entertainment expenses are figured separately from other business travel expenses. They are multiplied by a percentage: 50% for most taxpayers and 80% for those subject to Department of Transportation hours of service.

TIP

EZ, Part II.

The standard mileage rate can be found on Form 2106, Part

II, Section B, and Form 2106-

For information on using the standard meal allowance instead of actual expenses, see Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment, Gift, and Car Expenses.

Taxpayers may report the actual amounts for meals, entertainment, and incidental expenses or they may use a standard amount to claim meals and incidental expenses. In either case, the service member must provide records to prove the time, place, and business purpose of the travel.

For service personnel who are fully reimbursed by the government for meals under an accountable plan that excludes reimbursement from gross income, there is no amount to deduct and, therefore, no amount subject to the 50% limit.

What are local transportation expenses?

Local transportation expenses are typically defined as the ordinary and necessary costs incurred in getting from one place to another to perform work-related duties while not traveling away from home. This can include traveling from one job to another. However, the expenses of getting to and from the taxpayer's regular place of work are not deductible.

Allowable local transportation expenses include:

- The cost of driving and maintaining one's own vehicle
- Travel by rental cars, bus, rail, or taxi

Are car expenses deductible?

Service personnel who use their own vehicles to travel for work are entitled to deduct actual expenses or the standard mileage rate to figure the deductible costs of operating their vehicles for business purposes.

Actual expenses include the cost of gas, oil, repairs, insurance, and depreciation on the vehicle. If a taxpayer chooses to use actual expenses instead of the standard mileage rate, refer them to a professional tax preparer.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 8: Which of the following costs are considered to be a local transportation expense?

- A. Daily meals taken during a week-long training session while on duty
- B. Gasoline used to drive to and from one's regular place of work
- C. Taxi fare to travel while on duty to a local work-related convention
- D. Elaborate lunch to treat top-ranking military official visiting base

Are expenses related to temporary work locations deductible?

Expenses incurred while commuting to work are not deductible. However, service members who are on temporary assignments in the same trade or business as their regular place of business can deduct the expenses of the daily round trip between their home and the temporary location, if not reimbursed by their employer.

Service members can deduct ordinary and necessary costs of traveling to temporary work assignments:

- Traveling from one workplace to another within the city or general area that is their tax home
- · Visiting clients or customers
- Going to a business meeting away from their regular workplace

Expenses incurred while traveling away from home overnight are deductible as travel expenses, not local transportation expenses.

example

Sgt. Purdue attended a meeting of an Armed Forces reserve unit. The meeting is considered to be a second place of business because it is held on one of Sgt. Purdue's regular work days. He can deduct the expense of traveling from his home and regular work location to the meeting location.

Who needs to complete Form 2106?

If the service member has job-related travel, meals, or local transportation expenses, or other expenses that are greater than reimbursements, Form 2106 must be used to calculate the itemized deduction.

Form 2106 is not required if the taxpayer is claiming only job-related expenses for uniforms, professional dues, or education, and no reimbursement was received.

To determine whether service members need to complete Form 2106, consider the following factors:

- Did the service member have work-related travel, meals, or local transportation expenses?
- Did the service member receive an allowance or a reimbursement from the military?
- Did the amount of travel expenses exceed the amount of the reimbursement or allowance?

For service members who are not required to file Form 2106, enter miscellaneous deductions subject to 2% of AGI directly on Schedule A.

Form 2106-EZ can only be used by employees who received no reimbursement from their employer and who use the standard mileage rate. In most cases, military members with work-related travel expenses will have received reimbursement and will need to use Form 2106.

example

Capt. Glendale traveled from his duty station in California to Washington, DC, for a conference. He was away for five days. The Army advanced $700 to Capt. Glendale for the trip. His actual expenses were $625. When he filed his travel voucher with the Army, he returned the extra $75. He does not have to complete Form 2106.

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Let's see how a volunteer helps Mary, an Army Reservist, determine how to deduct her employee business expenses.

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	MARY RESPONDS
You were in the Reserves, as well as working your full-time civilian job. Did you have any expenses associated with that?	Well, my unit usually meets at Anderson, which is about 120 miles from here. I had ten round trips during the year, plus we met at Baker five times. That's only 40 miles away. Here's my mileage record.
Oh, good. The expenses you have for traveling more than 100 miles away as a reservist can be deducted, even if you can't itemize. Did you have to pay for lodging or meals or parking? Did you get any reimbursement?	I paid $72 for a hotel room each time, and I ate at the mess for about $20 each trip. No, I have to pay for it myself.
The most we'll be able to deduct on the meals is 50%, but you can take all of the lodging, plus your mileage.	No, those were short meetings on weeknights, so I just drove straight from work.
It's different for the drills at the other base, since they're not as far from your home. I have two questions about these trips: when did you make them, and did you leave from your regular job to go to Baker, or was it on a day off?
Since you are driving from one job to another, that's deductible too. But only if you can itemize, and it's over 2% of your AGI. Did you have any other work-related expenses?	I'm a trauma nurse, and I have to take continuing education courses each year to stay certified. The classes cost $500 once I paid for the books.
Did you get reimbursed for any part of that?	The military gave me an allowance, but that only covered $400.
Then you'll be able to deduct the $100 you paid out of pocket —but only if you can itemize and exceed that 2% limit. All right, the expenses for traveling more than 100 miles for reserve duties adds up to $1,380, along with the hotel rooms at $720, and half the meals at $100 totals $2,200. We'll deduct that right on the front of the return.
The other mileage from trips to Baker add up to $230, and the $100 out of pocket for the class will give you a total of $330 for your Schedule A if you can itemize. Now let me ask you some questions about your car so I can complete this form
[On Mary's intake and interview sheet, indicate that you've addressed these items.]

Summary

This lesson explained business expense deductions of special interest to the military and how to claim them.

Travel expenses must be ordinary and necessary expenses of temporarily traveling away from home for a person's job and must be greater than the total of any advances, allowances, and reimbursements received for such expenses.

- Travel and transportation expenses can be taken as miscellaneous itemized deductions on Schedule A, subject to the 2% AGI limit.
- Travel expenses for meals, lodging, and incidentals are only deductible if they are incurred while temporarily away from home on business. Assignments that last, or are realistically expected to last, more than one year are not considered temporary.
- Commuting and other personal expenses are not deductible.
- Travel costs associated with deductible educational expenses are treated like other business travel costs.

Form 2106 and Schedule A are used to figure and claim the itemized deductions for employee business expenses that exceed reimbursement. Service members are required to file Form 2106 to claim job-related travel, transportation, meals, or entertainment expenses, or when they have been paid by their employer for any expenses being deducted on Schedule A.

National Guard and Reserve members who travel more than 100 miles away from home and stay overnight to attend drill or reserve meetings can deduct travel expenses as an adjustment to income. All other deductible miscellaneous itemized deductions discussed in this lesson are deducted on Schedule A as a Miscellaneous Itemized Deduction, subject to the 2% AGI limit.

To claim these expenses, a service member must itemize using Form 1040, Schedule A, Itemized Deductions.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following is out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

Credit for Child and Dependent Care Expenses

Introduction

This lesson covers the credit for child and dependent care expenses. Some taxpayers may not be aware of this credit. Your time and effort may result in a lower tax for the taxpayers.

Whether the taxpayer is filing Form 1040 or Form 1040A, calculate the credit using Form 2441.

CAUTION

Don't confuse this credit with the child tax credit!

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- · Determine if a taxpayer is eligible for the credit
- · Calculate the amount of the credit

What is a nonrefundable credit?

A nonrefundable credit is a dollar-for-dollar reduction of the tax liability. A nonrefundable credit can only reduce the tax liability to zero. The credit discussed in this lesson is a nonrefundable credit. Generally, nonrefundable credits are applied against federal tax in the order they are listed on Form 1040, page 2, in the Tax and Credits section.

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 4491-W
- ☐ Form 2441 and instructions

Optional:

- □ Publication 503
- ☐ Form 1040 Instructions

Tax Software Hint: The software will calculate these credits, but the correct information must be input. The volunteer tax preparer must make the correct determinations by using the intake and interview sheet and resource materials.

What is the child and dependent care credit?

This credit allows taxpayers to reduce their tax by a portion of their child and dependent care expenses. The credit may be claimed by taxpayers who, in order to work or look for work, pay someone to take care of their qualifying person. A qualifying person is a:

- Qualifying child under 13
- · Spouse who is incapable of self-care
- Dependent who is incapable of self-care

The credit ranges from 20% to 35% of the taxpayer's expenses. The percentage is based on the taxpayer's earned income and adjusted gross income. The amount of the credit cannot be more than the amount of income tax on the return. It can reduce an individual's tax to $0, but it will not give the taxpayer a refund.

Some taxpayers receive dependent care benefits from their employers, which may also be called "flexible spending accounts" or "reimbursement accounts." Taxpayers may be able to exclude these benefits from their income. Employer-provided dependent care benefits appear in the taxpayer's Form W-2, box 10.

Because the child and dependent care credit is a nonrefundable credit, only taxpayers with taxable income can claim the credit. However, all taxpayers who receive employer-provided dependent care benefits are required to complete Form 2441, Part III to determine if they can exclude all or part of these benefits from their taxable income.

How do I determine if a taxpayer is eligible?

The information gathered from the intake and interview sheet, along with the decision tree in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab, will help you determine the taxpayer's eligibility. Be sure to ask whether the taxpayer has paid for any type of dependent care, for example, for a spouse or another dependent.

The Volunteer Resource Guide decision tree covers the five eligibility tests the taxpayer must meet to qualify for the credit:

- · Qualifying person test
- · Earned income test
- · Work-related expense test
- Joint return test
- · Provider identification test

Use the decision tree questions in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab, as a guide for your interview with the taxpayer. Keep in mind that the taxpayer must pass all five of the tests to qualify for the credit.

What is the qualifying person test?

The taxpayer's child and dependent care expenses must be for the care of one or more qualifying people. Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab, Child and Dependent Care Credit Expenses, to determine who is a qualifying person. Any of the following are qualifying persons:

- A qualifying child who is the taxpayer's dependent and under age 13 when the care was provided. If the child is being claimed as a dependent by the noncustodial parent under the special rules for children of divorced and separated parents, only the custodial parent may treat the child as a qualifying person for this credit.
- Someone who was physically or mentally incapable of self-care who the taxpayer claims as a dependent or for whom the taxpayer could claim a dependency exemption, except that:
 - The person had income greater than the current year exemption amount
 - The person filed a joint return
 - The taxpayer or spouse, if Married Filing Jointly, could be claimed as a dependent on someone else's current year tax return
- Spouses who were physically or mentally unable to care for themselves and lived with the taxpayer more than half the year.

See the rules for Qualifying Child and the special rules for children of divorced or separated parents or parents who live apart in Publication 17, Personal Exemptions and Dependents.

example

Jim paid someone to care for his wife, Janet, so he could work. Janet is physically unable to care for herself. Jim also paid to have someone prepare meals for their 12-year-old daughter, Jill. Both Janet and Jill are qualifying persons for the credit.

What questions should I ask?

Ask the questions from the decision tree in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab, and the intake and interview sheet. The sample interview shown uses these questions.

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	DOROTHY RESPONDS
I see you indicated on your intake sheet that you had child and dependent care expenses.	Yes, I did.
You may qualify for the child and dependent care credit. Let me ask you a few questions about that. Which of your dependents received the care?	My daughter.
Now, she is 16 years old, correct?	Yes, but she was diagnosed with a severe mental condition. She just can't take care of herself.

Even though Dorothy's daughter is over 13, she meets the qualifying person test because she cannot care for herself.

Once you've determined if the taxpayer had eligible expenses for the child and dependent care credit, confirm the appropriate box on the intake and interview sheet is checked.

What is the earned income test?

The taxpayer (and spouse, if married) must have earned income during the year. Earned income includes:

- Wages
- Salaries
- Tips
- Other taxable employee compensation
- · Net earnings from self-employment
- Strike benefits
- · Disability pay reported as wages

It does not include income earned while incarcerated or in a work release program.

Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credits tab, Earned Income Table, for the list of earned income.

What if spouses are full-time students or are unable to care for themselves?

A taxpayer's spouse is treated as having earned income for any month the spouse is physically or mentally incapable of self-care, or is a full-time student. The spouse's income is considered to be $250 for each month if there is one qualifying person in the home or $500 each month if there are two or more qualifying people. A full-time student is defined as enrolled and attending a school for the number of hours or classes the school considers full time. The spouse must be a full-time student for some part of five calendar months during the year.

If, in the same month, both the taxpayer and the taxpayer's spouse are full-time students or are not able to care for themselves, only one spouse can be considered to have earned income of either $250 for one qualifying person or $500 for two qualifying persons for that month.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab, Form 2441, Credit for Child and Dependent Care Expenses.

What questions should I ask?

Ask the questions from the decision tree in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab and the intake and interview sheet. Here is how a volunteer might interview a taxpayer about this test.

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	DOROTHY RESPONDS
I believe you mentioned earlier that you and your husband	Yes.
both work, is that correct?
Did you both work while your daughter was in	Yes and no. My husband just finishing his program in July.

So, he was a full-time student for the first six months of the	Yes. Does that disqualify us?
tax year?
No. That does not disqualify you.

Dorothy and her husband meet the earned income test because her husband was a full-time student for at least five months and is considered to have earned income for those months.

What is the work-related expense test?

Expenses are considered work-related only if both of the following are true:

- The expenses allow the taxpayer (and spouse, if married) to work or look for work and
- · The expenses are for a qualifying person's care, and to provide for that person's well-being and protection

For married taxpayers, generally both must work or be looking for work. Taxpayers' spouses are treated as working during any month the spouses were full-time students or were physically or mentally unable to take care of themselves.

There is a limit on the amount of work-related expenses that can be used to figure the credit. The limit is $3,000 for one qualifying person and $6,000 for two or more qualifying persons.

What are examples of work-related expenses?

The following expenses count as work-related:

- Cost of care outside the home for dependents under 13, for example, preschool or home day care, before- or after-school care for a child in kindergarten or higher grade
- Cost of care for any other qualifying person, for example, dependent care
- Household expenses that are at least partly for the well-being and protection of a qualifying person, for example, the services of a housekeeper or cook

If a taxpayer's qualifying child turned 13 during the tax year, their qualifying expenses include amounts incurred for the child while under age 13. For example, if the taxpayer's qualifying child turns 13 on September 16, count only those expenses through September 15.

example

Roger takes his 10-year-old child to a private school. In addition to paying for the cost of the education, Roger also pays an extra fee so that his child can attend a before- and after-school program while he is at work. Roger can count the cost of the before- and after-school program when figuring the credit, but not the cost of the education.

What expenses do not qualify as work-related?

Expenses that do not qualify as work-related include amounts paid for food, clothing, education, or entertainment. However, small amounts paid for these items can be included if they are incident to and cannot be separated from the cost of care. Examples of childcare expenses that do not qualify as work-related include:

- Education, for example, expenses to attend kindergarten or a higher grade
- The cost of sending a child to an overnight camp
- The cost of transportation not provided by a care provider

example

Krista takes her 3-year-old child to a nursery school that provides lunch and educational activities as part of its preschool childcare service. She can count the total cost when she figures the credit.

What about taxes paid for household employees?

Taxpayers who paid someone to come into their home to provide care for their dependent or spouse may be required to pay household employment taxes. These taxes may be considered a work-related expense. Refer to Publication 17, Employment Taxes for Household Employers section, for more information.

Generally, if the household employee earned less than a certain amount for the tax year, and the taxpayer did not withhold any income tax, the taxpayer is not required to pay employment taxes or provide the employee with Form W-2. Refer taxpayers who did not pay employment taxes for their household employees, and are unsure about these requirements, to Publication 926, Household Employer's Tax Guide, or to a professional tax preparer.

What if the taxpayer makes payments to a relative?

Payments to relatives may qualify as work-related expenses if the taxpayer does not claim the relative as a dependent. Do not count amounts paid to:

A dependent for whom the taxpayer (or spouse, if married) can claim an exemption

- The taxpayer's child who is under age 19 at the end of the year, even if the child is not the taxpayer's dependent
- · A person who was the taxpayer's spouse at any time during the year
- The other parent of the taxpayer's qualifying child who is under age 13

What questions should I ask?

Continue asking questions from the decision tree in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab, and the intake and interview sheet. Here is how a volunteer might interview a taxpayer about the work-related test.

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	DOROTHY RESPONDS
Did the caregivers assist your daughter only when you and your husband were at work? Do you pay your mother to care for your daughter?	That's right. We couldn't afford any more help than that. All last year, they arrived just before we left for work and they left when my mother came at 2 p.m. No, we don't. She just does it because bo you pay your mother to care for your daughter:	she loves her granddaughter.
That's wonderful. You're all very fortunate. So all your expenses were only to allow you to work – or in your husband's case to go to school or look for work prior to becoming employed.	Yes, exactly.

Dorothy passes the work-related expense test because the expenses are paid so that she and her husband can work and are not paid to a dependent relative.

What is the joint return test?

Generally, married couples who wish to take the child and dependent care credit must file a joint return. However, taxpayers can be considered unmarried if they file a separate return and:

- · Are legally separated on the last day of the tax year or
- Lived apart from their spouse for the last 6 months of the year and paid more than half of the cost of providing a home that was also the main home of the qualifying person for more than half the year

A taxpayer whose spouse died during the tax year, and who has not remarried, must generally file a joint return to claim the credit.

At this point, you will have already determined the filing status and can rely on that to determine if the taxpayer passes the joint return test.

Generally, married persons who are considered unmarried will use the filing status, Head of Household.

What is the provider identification test?

The provider identification test requires that taxpayers provide the name, address and Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) of the person or organization who provided the care for their child or dependent.

If the care provider is an individual, the TIN is the same as the provider's Social Security number. If the provider is an organization, then it is the Employer Identification Number (EIN). Certain tax-exempt organizations are not required to have an EIN. See Publication 17 for more details.

Taxpayers who cannot provide all of the provider's information or who have incorrect information may still be able to take the credit if they can show that they used due diligence in trying to obtain the correct information. Refer to the sections titled Due Diligence and Provider Refusal in Publication 17, Child and Dependent Care chapter, for more information. Returns that do not include the provider information cannot be filed electronically.

EXERCISES

Use the decision tree in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab, to answer the following questions. The answers appear at the end of the lesson.

Question 1: Audrey is a stay-at-home mom. Her husband works and had earned income for the tax year. They have a young son with autism who must be supervised at all times. Audrey volunteers at a local autism information hotline 12 hours a week. She and her husband pay a caregiver to stay with their son during those hours.

Do they qualify for the child and dependent care credit? \Box Yes \Box No

Question 2: Why don't Audrey and her husband qualify for the credit? (Select all answers that apply.)

- The caregiver expense is not work-related
- B. Their son is not a qualifying person
- C. The caregiver's duties qualify as work-related
- D. They do not pass the earned income test

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Bill, 61, and Helen, 62, are married and have lived together for twenty years. Earlier in the interview with Bill, you learned that Helen is too sick to work and needs 24-hour care. Bill is claiming his granddaughter as a dependent, as noted in the Marital Status and Household Information section of his intake and interview sheet. She is 18 and takes care of herself. You wonder whether Bill can take the child and dependent care credit.

Apply the questions from the credit for child and dependent care expenses decision tree in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab, to find out whether Bill can take the credit, as shown in the sample interview to follow.

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	BILL RESPONDS
For the credit for child and dependent care, I'd like to ask you some questions about the care provided for your wife, Helen. You may qualify for the credit.	Oh, okay.
Why don't you tell me about your wife's illness and care?	Well, she has chronic lung disease; she can't take care of herself at all. We need to have someone in the home 24 hours a day.
I'm sorry that she is so ill. That must be difficult for both	Yes, it is well, sometimes she has good

Did you pay someone to take care of your wife so that you could go to work?	Yes, I pay my granddaughter Lucy, who just graduated from high school, to take care of Helen.

the credit for your wife because you are claiming Lucy as a dependent.	for me.
You're welcome. Just trying to help! [On the intake and interview sheet, indicate that the taxpayer doesn't qualify for this credit, and why.]

Bill does not pass the work-related expenses test because his expenses were paid to a dependent relative.

How do I determine the amount of the credit?

To determine the amount of the credit, multiply the work-related expenses (after applying the earned income and dollar limits) by a percentage. The percentage depends on the taxpayer's adjusted gross income.

Tax Software Hint: The tax software performs much of the credit computation for you. To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab, Form 2441, Credit for Child and Dependent Care Expenses.

How do I complete Form 2441?

Form 2441 is divided into three parts:

- · Part I is for general information about the care provider
- Part II is where the child and dependent care credit is calculated
- · Part III is where information is entered if the taxpayer reports employer-provided dependent care benefits

All taxpayers complete Part I first. Taxpayers who did not receive dependent care benefits from their employers then complete Part II. Taxpayers who did receive these benefits complete Part III and then Part II.

What about employer-provided dependent care benefits?

Some taxpayers receive dependent care benefits from their employers. Taxpayers may be able to exclude these benefits from their income. Dependent care benefits include amounts the employer pays either directly to the taxpayer or to the care provider. Employer-provided dependent care benefits appear in the taxpayer's Form W-2, box 10.

The taxpayer may still be able to claim a child and dependent care credit, but the amount of excluded benefits is not included in work-related expenses and also reduces the dollar limit for the credit. Taxpayers who receive dependent care benefits must complete Part III of Form 2441, even if they are not eligible for a child and dependent care credit.

example

Paula has one dependent child, Jenny, who is 6 years old. She paid $2,900 in qualified expenses. Paula's Form W-2, box 10, shows she received $1,400 during the year from her employer's dependent care assistance program. Because she received dependent care benefits, Form 2441, Part III, must be completed before completing Part II.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab, Form 2441, Credit for Child and Dependent Care Expenses.

What limits apply to this credit?

The taxpayer's expenses are subject to an earned income limit. The amount of work-related expenses used to figure the credit cannot be more than:

- The taxpayer's earned income for the year or
- If Married Filing Jointly, the smaller of the taxpayer or spouse's earned income for the year

In addition to the earned income limit, there is a dollar limit on the amount of work-related expenses that can be used to figure the credit. This limit is $3,000 for one qualifying person or $6,000 for two or more qualifying persons. If the taxpayer received dependent care benefits from an employer, the amount of the benefits excluded from income must be subtracted from the dollar limit.

example

Mary has three qualifying children. She received $4,800 in dependent care benefits through her employer. When Mary figures her credit, her work-related expenses will be limited to $1,200 ($6,000 - $4,800).

Tax Software Hint: The tax software guides you through applying the limits and computing the credit. If the taxpayer received employer-paid benefits, be sure to complete Form 2441, Part III, before calculating any credit on Part II. The tax software calculates the credit by multiplying the work-related expenses by a percentage determined by the taxpayer's adjusted gross income.

How do I avoid common errors?

When Form 2441 is complete, double-check your entries for the provider's name, ID number, and amounts paid. If the taxpayer had an amount in any Form W-2, box 10, be sure that you have completed Form 2441, Part III.

On the intake and interview sheet, make sure the box is checked to indicate that the taxpayer was eligible for the dependent care credit. Note anything unusual that the quality reviewer may need to know when reviewing this part of the tax return.

Summary

The credit for child and dependent care expenses is a nonrefundable credit that allows taxpayers to reduce their tax liability by a portion of the expenses.

The maximum expense amounts are $3,000 for one qualifying person and $6,000 for two or more qualifying persons.

The maximum credit rate is 35% of the taxpayer's expenses. A taxpayer must satisfy the five eligibility tests to qualify for the credit. The tests are the:

- Qualifying person test
- · Earned income test
- · Work-related expense test
- Joint return test
- · Provider identification test

The credit is calculated on Form 2441.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following is out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

· Taxpayers who need assistance in determining if employment taxes are owed for household employees

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

To gain a better understanding of the tax law, complete the comprehensive problem or practice exercise(s) for your course of study in Publication 4491-W.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: No, they do not qualify.

Answer 2: A and D. Audrey is not using the caregiver's services to look for work or to perform work. In addition, both spouses must have earned income during the year to qualify. Only the husband had earned income for the tax year.

Education Credits

Introduction

This lesson covers tax credits available to help the taxpayer offset the costs of higher education by reducing the amount of income tax. This lesson suggests probing questions you can ask based on the intake and interview sheet, the Volunteer Resource Guide, Education Benefits tab, and on the rules for claiming education credits.

During the interview, ask taxpayers if they are aware of the education credits, and give a brief description. Next, gather information to determine if any credits can be claimed.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- · Determine who qualifies for an education credit
- · Determine which credit the taxpayer can claim

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 970
- □ Publication 4491-W
- □ Form 1098-T
- Form 8863 and Instructions
- Optional: Form 1040 Instructions

What are education credits?

Education credits are amounts that will reduce the amount of tax due. The amount is based on qualified education expenses that the taxpayer paid during the tax year.

There are two different education credits: the American opportunity credit and the lifetime learning credit. The American opportunity credit allows 40% of the credit to be refundable. There are general rules that apply to these credits, as well as specific rules for each credit.

For an overview of the various education tax benefits, review the Volunteer Resource Guide, Education Benefits tab, Highlights of Education Tax Benefits.

Who can take an education credit?

Taxpayers can take education credits for themselves, their spouse, and/or dependents (claimed on the tax return) who were enrolled at or attended an eligible postsecondary educational institution during the tax year.

What basic requirements must the taxpayer meet?

To claim an education credit, verify that the following are true for the taxpayers:

- They cannot be claimed as a dependent on someone else's tax return
- They are not filing as Married Filing Separately
- · Their adjusted gross income (AGI) is below the limitations for their filing status
- They were not nonresident aliens for any part of the tax year, or if they were, they elected to be treated as resident aliens

Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Education Benefits tab, for the Education Credits Tips.

How do I handle dependents?

The taxpayer must claim the student as a dependent to receive the credit for the student's qualified expenses. Refer to the Education Credits Tips in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Education Benefits tab, demonstrated by the following example:

example

Carol Marshall has a grandson named Gary. He is claimed as a dependent on his parent's joint return. Carol paid Gary's tuition directly to the university. For purposes of claiming an education credit, Gary is treated as receiving the money as a gift and paying for the qualified tuition and related expenses. Since his parents are claiming him on their return, they may be able to use the expenses to claim an education credit. Alternatively, if he is claiming himself on his return, he might be able to claim the expenses as if he paid them to the school.

What is an eligible institution?

An eligible institution is any college, university, vocational school, or other postsecondary educational institution eligible to participate in a student aid program administered by the U.S. Department of Education. The school should be able to tell the student if it is an eligible education institution. A searchable database of all accredited schools is available at http://ope.ed.gov/accreditation/.

What are qualifying expenses?

Qualified education expenses are tuition and certain related expenses required for enrollment or attendance at an eligible educational institution. However, for the American opportunity credit, the definition for "certain related expenses" is different from the lifetime learning credit. This will be discussed later in the lesson.

Ask to see documentation, such as receipts or Form 1098-T, Tuition Statement, issued by the school. Identify the expenses that qualify for education credits.

example

When Janice enrolled for her freshman year of college, she had to pay a separate student activity fee in addition to her tuition. This activity fee is required of all students and is used solely to fund on-campus organizations and activities run by students, such as the student newspaper and the student government. No portion of the fee covers personal expenses. Although labeled as a student activity fee, the fee is required for Janice's college enrollment and attendance; therefore, it is a qualified expense.

Which expenses do not qualify?

Do not include expenses such as:

- Room and board, insurance, medical expenses (including student health fees), transportation costs, or other similar personal, living, or family expenses
- Any course of instruction or other education involving sports, games, or hobbies, unless the course is part of the student's degree program or (for the lifetime learning credit) helps the student to acquire or improve job skills

example

Jackie paid $3,000 for tuition and $5,000 for room and board at an eligible university. The $5,000 paid for room and board is not a qualified expense for the education credits.

Are any amounts excluded from qualified expenses?

Certain tax-free funds used to pay tuition cannot be used to figure the credit. Once you have identified each person claiming a credit and their qualified expenses, ask if the student received any of these untaxed educational benefits during the year:

- Pell grants.
- · Employer-provided educational assistance.
- Veterans' educational assistance.
- · Tax-free portions of scholarships and fellowships.
- Any other nontaxable payments received as educational assistance (other than gifts or inheritances). For example, distributions from a 529 plan reported on Form 1099-Q, Payments From Qualified Education Programs (Under Sections 529 and 530).
- Refunds of the year's qualified expenses paid on behalf of a student (e.g., the student dropped a class and received a refund of tuition).

Do not reduce the qualified education expenses by any scholarship or fellowship reported as income on the student's tax return if the use of the scholarship is not restricted and used to pay education expenses that are not qualified (such as room and board). Some students may choose to pay non-qualifying expenses with scholarship/Pell grants funds, making the scholarship/Pell grants taxable. This is true even if the scholarship/grant was paid directly to the school.

Subtract the tax-free educational assistance, refunds, and benefits from the student's qualified expenses. These tax-free benefits are listed in the Education Credits Interview Tips in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Education Benefits tab. For additional information, see Publication 970, examples 1 and 2 in the American Opportunity Credit chapter, heading Adjustments to Qualified Education Expenses.

Most students will receive Form 1098-T from the educational institution. The form should show the amounts the student paid for tuition and related expenses, the amounts of scholarships and grants received, and whether the student was at least a half-time student or a graduate student. Verify with the taxpayer that the amount in Form 1098-T, box 1 or 2, is actually the amount paid in the current tax year for qualified expenses.

Form 1098-T may have incomplete information. Question the taxpayer to determine the amount of qualified expenses actually paid and adjust this amount by any non-taxable items, such as tax-free scholarships and tuition program distributions.

example

Joan Smith received Form 1098-T from the college she attends. It shows her tuition was $9,500 and that she received a $1,500 scholarship. She had no other scholarships or nontaxable payments. Her maximum qualifying expenses for the education credit would be $8,000 ($9,500 - $1,500).

example

Brandon had $5,000 of qualified education expenses and $4,000 of room and board. He received a $5,000 Pell grant and took out a $2,750 student loan to pay these expenses. His parents paid the remaining $1,250. By its terms, the Pell grant may be used for any of these expenses. Brandon and his parents opted to use $4,000 of the Pell grant to cover room and board, and the other $1,000 to cover the qualified education expenses. After reducing qualified education expenses by the tax-free scholar-ship, Brandon has $4,000 ($5,000 -$1,000) of adjusted qualified education expenses available to figure the education credit. Brandon used the student loan of $2,750 and his parents' payment of $1,250 to cover the qualified education expenses.

What about payments for the next academic year?

The taxpayers can claim payments prepaid for the academic period that begins in the first three months of the next calendar year. Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Education Benefits tab, Education Credits.

example

Thomas pays $1,500 in December for qualified tuition for the winter semester that begins in January. He can use the $1,500 paid in December to compute his credit for the current tax year. He cannot count it again next tax year.

What rules apply to each credit?

How do the credits compare?

There are several differences between the two credits.

The American opportunity credit:

- Can be claimed based on the same student's expenses for no more than four tax years, including any years the Hope credit was claimed
- Available only if the student has not completed the first four years of post-secondary education before the beginning of the tax year
- Qualified tuition and related expenses include expenses for course materials books, supplies, and equipment needed for a course of study, whether or not the materials are purchased from the educational institution as a condition of enrollment or attendance
- Generally, 40% of the credit is a refundable credit, which means taxpayers can receive up to $1,000 even if they owe no taxes

Lifetime learning credit:

- · There is no limit on the number of years the lifetime learning credit can be claimed for each student
- Available for all years of post-secondary education and for courses to acquire or improve job skills
- Course-related books, supplies, fees, and equipment are included in qualified education expenses only if they must be paid to the institution as a condition of enrollment or attendance
- · No portion of the credit is refundable

American Opportunity Tax Credit

Taxpayers can take the American opportunity credit for a student if they can answer all of these questions as indicated below:

- As of the beginning of the tax year, was the student still in the first four years (generally, the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior years) of postsecondary study? Yes
- Was the student enrolled in a program that leads to a degree, certificate, or other credential? Yes
- Was the student taking at least one-half the normal full-time workload for the course of study, for at least one academic period beginning in the current tax year? Yes
- Has the student been convicted of a felony for possessing or distributing a controlled substance? No

If the student does not meet all of the conditions for the American opportunity credit, the taxpayer may be able to take the lifetime learning credit for part or all of the student's qualified expenses.

example

Mindy's brother, Jim, started college in 2008. He claimed the Hope credit for his first year of college (2008). In 2009, Jim attended college and took less than half the normal requirements. Since the American opportunity expanded the education credit for the first four years of postsecondary education, he claimed the American opportunity tax credit for tax years 2010 through 2012 when he was considered a full-time student.

The American opportunity credit can be up to $2,500 per eligible student, depending on the amount of eligible expenses and the amount of tax on the return. The credit is 100% of the first $2,000 and 25% of the second $2,000 of eligible expenses per student, up to the amount of tax. Forty percent of the American opportunity credit is a refundable credit, which means the taxpayer can receive up to $1,000 even if no taxes are owed. Taxpayers under age 24 cannot claim the refundable portion of the credit if certain conditions are met. Refer to Volunteer Resource Guide, Education Benefits tab, Student Under Age 24 Claiming American Opportunity Credit, for details.

The American opportunity credit is available for the first four years of college per eligible student (generally, freshman through senior years of college).

example

Toby had receipts for books and supplies his first year at college. He spent $1,291 for required books, lab supplies, and rock-hunting equipment he needed for his introductory chemistry and geology courses. The school has no policy requiring that these books and equipment be purchased from the college in order to enroll. These are qualified expenses for the American opportunity credit.

Lifetime Learning Credit

The lifetime learning credit can be taken if the taxpayer and the expenses meet the requirements described under "What basic requirements must the taxpayer meet?" Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Education Benefits tab, for the Education Credits Tips. The student need not be enrolled half-time or in a degree program, and a felony drug conviction does not disqualify the student.

The lifetime learning credit can be up to $2,000 per tax return, depending on the amount of eligible expenses and the amount of tax on the return. The credit is 20% of the first $10,000 of eligible expenses paid for all students, up to the amount of tax on the return.

example

Jill attends Wanda's School of Beauty, an eligible institution. She pays $4,400 for the course of study, which includes tuition, equipment, and books required for the course. The school requires that students pay for the books and equipment when registering for the course. The entire $4,400 would be an eligible educational expense.

example

Jack attends a culinary school on Saturdays. He pays $4,400 for the course of study and qualifies for the Lifetime Learning credit. The school provides a list of equipment that he needs to bring to class. The $4,400 is an eligible educational expense, but the cost of the equipment and supplies is not.

EXERCISES
Use the Volunteer Resource Guide, Education Benefits tab, and Publication 17, Comparison of Education Credits, to answer the following questions. Answers are at the end of the lesson summary.
Question 1: Bob was a full-time student and a fifth-year senior. He has only claimed the American opportunity and Hope credit in three earlier years. Does he qualify for the American opportunity credit? ☐ Yes ☐ No Question 2: Janice works full time and takes one course a month at night school. Some of the courses are not for credit, but they are meant to advance her career. Which credit is appropriate for her? □ American opportunity □ Lifetime
Question 3: Clark is an older student who has gone back to college half time after serving 18 months in prison for felony drug possession. Which credit is appropriate for him? □ American opportunity □ Lifetime

Can a taxpayer take multiple education benefits?

Education expenses can be taken in any of several areas on the tax return. They can be used toward one of these credits, as a work-related deduction on Schedule A, as a business expense on Schedule C or C-EZ, or to reduce the taxable portion of scholarships, fellowships, grants and distributions from education savings accounts. The definition of a qualifying expense varies among these different benefits, but in general, each expense can be used only once. For example, do not:

- Figure the education credits based on expenses that have already been taken on Schedule A or Schedules C and C-EZ
- Take both an American opportunity credit and a lifetime learning credit for the same student in the same year

Refer to the Legislative Extender's lesson contained in this publication for information regarding tuition and fees deductions.

A taxpayer who has taken an early distribution from an IRA may take an exception to the 10% additional tax based on expenses that are also used toward another education benefit.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to software entries, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Education Benefits tab, Form 8863, Education Credits.

To determine the most beneficial way to claim education expenses, do not compare them until both federal and state tax returns have been otherwise completed.

How do I determine the amount of the credit?

Here are the general steps in figuring the amount of education credits:

- 1. Review the list of qualifying students and expenses and decide if the American opportunity credit or lifetime learning credit is more suitable (see the requirements discussed earlier).
- 2. Form 8863, Part III, page 2, requests information about the student, the student's eligibility for the credit, and the educational institution(s). Taxpayers must complete Part III for each eligible student for whom they are claiming an education credit before completing Parts I and II.

- 3. Enter each student's qualified expenses. Be sure that these:
 - Include only qualified expenses
 - Are reduced by untaxed benefits
 - Do not exceed the limit for the credit
- 4. Find the totals for each section and apply the limits, then transfer the amounts to Parts I and II to determine the refundable and nonrefundable credits. Apply the income test and do the calculations. (Tax software does this step for you.)

Tax Software Hint: When completing the worksheet for an education credit, the software helps you create an accurate return. The program detects if the taxpayer is entered as a student but can be claimed as a dependent by someone else (as shown on the main information sheet).

To determine the amount of qualified expenses, please review Form 1098-T and have a discussion with the taxpayer to determine the qualified education expenses paid.

The software will not catch other errors, such as taking more than one benefit for the same taxpayer.

If you find taxpayers claimed an education credit in a prior year and they were refunded part or all of the expenses they used to claim the American opportunity or lifetime learning credit, they may have to repay (recapture) all or part of the credit. Information can be found in Publication 970, but this is beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE programs. Advise the taxpayer to consult a professional tax preparer.

Which education benefit is better for the taxpayer?

Taxpayers have several options for using education expenses to reduce taxes. They are:

- American opportunity credit or lifetime learning credit
- Itemized deduction on Schedule A (employee-related expenses only)
- Business expenses on Schedules C and C-EZ

Generally, taxpayers will benefit the most from claiming the education credits. However, you should compute any of the other benefits for which taxpayers are eligible to determine which gives them the lowest tax. Do not claim multiple benefits for the same education expense; use the benefit most advantageous to the taxpayer.

Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Education Benefits tab, References – Highlights of Education Tax Benefits for a comparison chart of some of the tax benefits for education.

How can I avoid common errors?

If you complete Form 8863, make sure that you have entered the names, SSNs, and education expense amounts correctly. Check that you have not claimed more than one tax benefit for the same taxpayer or taken a credit or deduction for expenses paid with a tax-free benefit like a scholarship.

On the intake and interview sheet, make sure that the appropriate box is checked to indicate that the taxpayer had education expenses. Note anything unusual that the quality reviewer may need to know when reviewing this part of the tax return. For example, you could note if some expenses were paid with a nontaxable scholarship.

Summary

You are now ready to help taxpayers determine which education tax benefits are best for them. When you get to this section of the return, always check the intake and interview sheet and ask probing questions based on the taxpayer's information and on the rules for claiming education credits.

There are two education credits that may reduce a taxpayer's tax:

- · American opportunity credit
- · Lifetime learning credit

Education expenses can be applied to those credits, deducted on Schedules C and C-EZ, itemized on Schedule A, or used to reduce taxable portion of scholarships, grants, fellowships and distributions from education savings accounts. Choose the method that will give the taxpayer the lowest tax. The American opportunity credit can be claimed for students in their first four years of college and may be more beneficial than the lifetime learning credit. Remember, 40% of the American opportunity credit is a refundable credit, which means taxpayers can receive up to $1,000 even if they have no tax liability.

One of your roles as a volunteer is to help taxpayers maximize the benefits that they are entitled to under the tax law. Stay alert to ways they can use their education expenses to lower their tax.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following is out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

Taxpayers who must repay (recapture) part or all of an education credit claimed in a prior year.

Foreign Tax Credit

Introduction

This lesson will show you how to help taxpayers claim the foreign tax credit. This credit applies to those who have paid or accrued taxes to a foreign country on foreign-sourced income and who are subject to U.S. tax on the same income.

To help these taxpayers, you must determine which taxes and types of foreign income are eligible for the foreign tax credit and accurately compute the credit using Form 1116.

If the foreign tax paid is reported on a Form 1099-INT or a Form 1099-DIV, completion of the entire Form 1116 may not be required.

If the foreign tax paid is a result of living and working outside the U.S., then all the questions on Form 1116 need to be addressed.

Although the foreign tax credit is not specifically listed on the intake and interview sheet, ask taxpayers if they paid any tax to a foreign country.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Determine which taxes and types of foreign income are eligible for the foreign tax credit
- · Accurately compute the credit using Form 1116
- Calculate and report the foreign tax credit as a nonrefundable credit

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 514
- □ Publication 4491-W
- □ Form 1116
- ☐ Form 1116 Instructions

What is the foreign tax credit?

U.S. citizens and residents compute their U.S. taxes based on their worldwide income. This sometimes results in U.S. citizens having to pay tax twice on the same income — first to the government of the foreign country where the income was earned and again to the U.S. government.

The foreign tax credit was created to help taxpayers avoid this double taxation. Taxpayers who paid income, war profits, or excess profits taxes to a foreign country or U.S. possession may be entitled to a credit on their U.S. taxes. Like other nonrefundable credits, the foreign tax credit allows taxpayers to take a dollar-for-dollar reduction in the amount of U.S. tax owed. However, in some cases, not all taxes paid to a foreign government on foreign-sourced income can be used in the computation of the credit.

Four tests must be met to qualify for the credit:

- 1. The tax must be imposed on the taxpayer
- 2. The taxpayer must have paid or accrued the tax
- 3. The tax must be a legal and actual foreign tax liability, and
- 4. The tax must be an income tax

What if the foreign tax credit is reported on Form 1099-INT or Form 1099-DIV?

Taxpayers who receive Form 1099-INT or Form 1099-DIV may have amounts indicating that foreign taxes have been paid on their behalf by the issuer of the document.

Taxpayers can elect to report foreign tax on Form 1040, page 2 without filing Form 1116 as long as the following conditions are met:

- All of the gross foreign source income was from interest and dividends and all of that income and the foreign tax paid on it were reported on Form 1099-INT, Form 1099-DIV, or Schedule K-1 (or substitute statement).
- If you had dividend income from shares of stock, you must have held those shares for at least 16 days.
- You are not filing Form 4563 or excluding income from sources within Puerto Rico.
- The total of your foreign taxes was not more than $300 (not more than $600 if married filing jointly).
- All of your foreign taxes were:
 - Legally owed and not eligible for a refund, and
 - Paid to countries that are recognized by the United States and do not support terrorism.

Refer taxpayers who must complete Form 1116 because they cannot qualify for the election to a volunteer with an International certification or a professional tax preparer.

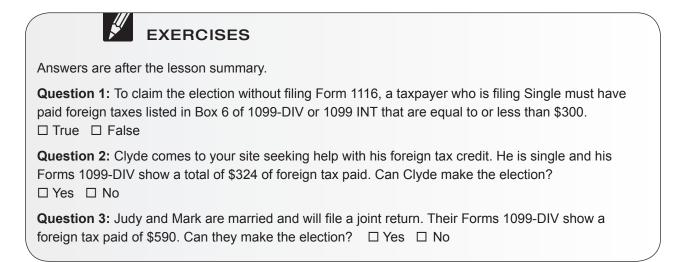

A credit for foreign taxes can be claimed only for foreign tax imposed by a foreign country or U.S. possession.

Additional information can be found in the Form 1040 Instructions, Form 1116 Instructions, Publication 17, and Publication 514.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab.

example

Ryan, who is single, received Form 1099-DIV showing $29 of foreign taxes paid. According to Ryan, he received no other foreign source of income and paid no other foreign taxes. The dividends were paid on shares of a mutual fund that he owned all year. He is eligible to claim the foreign tax credit on Form 1040, page 2, and does not have to complete Form 1116.

The remaining sections of this lesson are directed at volunteers seeking an International certification. All others may proceed to the next lesson.

What are the rules for claiming the foreign tax credit on Form 1116?

If the foreign tax paid is more than $300 ($600 for Married Filing Jointly) or they do not meet the other conditions to make the election, taxpayers must file Form 1116.

In most cases, it is to the taxpayer's advantage to take the foreign tax credit. In general, if the credit is chosen, you must take the credit for all qualified foreign taxes. However, if taxpayers paid foreign taxes that do not qualify for the credit, they may be able to take the itemized deduction on the nonqualifying items as "Other Taxes" on Schedule A. In this situation, refer taxpayers to a professional tax preparer. For more information, see the Form 1116 Instructions and Publication 514, Foreign Tax Credit for Individuals.

The foreign earned income exclusion differs from the foreign tax credit; try both methods for taxpayers and choose the approach that results in the lowest tax.

- · The exclusion allows a portion of the foreign earned income to be excluded from taxable income.
- The credit adds the foreign income to the taxable income and then reduces the U.S. tax due by some portion of taxes paid to the foreign government(s).

What qualifies taxpayers for the credit?

To qualify for the credit, the following requirements must be met. A taxpayer must:

- · Have income from a foreign country
- Have paid taxes on that income to the same foreign country
- Not have claimed the foreign earned income exclusion on the same income (see the foreign earned income exclusion section of the Income Other Income lesson)

In addition, the foreign tax must:

- · Be paid to a foreign country on income derived from that country
- Be similar to the U.S. income tax
- · Provide no economic benefit to the taxpayer paying the tax

Foreign taxes that qualify for the foreign tax credit generally include taxes on:

- Wages
- · Dividends
- Interest
- Royalties
- Annuities

Foreign taxes for which an individual may not take a credit include taxes:

- · On excluded income
- · On foreign mineral income
- On combined foreign oil and gas income

Taxpayers cannot take the foreign tax credit for foreign income taxes paid on income excluded under the foreign earned income exclusion.

- For which the taxpayer can take only an itemized deduction
- From international boycott operations
- Of U.S. persons controlling foreign corporations and partnerships
- Taxes paid to a foreign country that a taxpayer does not legally owe, including amounts eligible for refund by the foreign country

For more detailed information, see Publication 514, Foreign Tax Credit for Individuals and the Form 1116 Instructions.

example

Robb and his wife are U.S. citizens who reside in France. Their Form 1040, Schedule B, Interest and Ordinary Dividends, lists $2,000 interest from a U.S. bank and $600 interest from a French bank. They paid income taxes on both amounts to both countries. On their U.S. tax return, they can compute a foreign tax credit to offset the taxes they owe to the U.S. on the interest received from the French bank. They would need to check with the French taxing authorities to determine if they can claim a similar tax credit on their French tax return to offset the taxes paid to the U.S. on the interest income earned in the U.S.

example

Eva is a U.S. citizen who lives in Hong Kong. Eva owns her home in Hong Kong and paid $2,000 in real estate taxes and $1,000 in personal property taxes. She also paid $3,000 in income taxes to the government of Hong Kong. She cannot claim a foreign tax credit for either the real estate taxes or the personal property taxes because they are not income taxes. Eva can compute a foreign tax credit on the $3,000 in income taxes paid to Hong Kong.

However, Eva can deduct the real estate taxes that she paid as an itemized deduction on her U.S. tax return. She can itemize the foreign personal property tax only if it is based on the value of the personal property.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 4: Anne is a U.S. citizen living in Japan. She listed wages, interest income, and dividend income on her U.S. tax return. She paid taxes on each of these types of income to Japan. Anne can claim a foreign tax credit for taxes paid on which of the following sources of income?

- A. Wages from her job in the U.S.
- B. Interest income from a U.S. bank
- C. Interest income from a Japanese bank
- D. Dividend income from a U.S. corporation

Question 5: Jean, a U.S. citizen, received an inheritance upon the death of an uncle in Spain and paid an inheritance tax to the Spanish government. Can Jean claim a foreign tax credit to offset the inheritance tax she paid in Spain?

Yes
No

What is "economic benefit"?

As mentioned earlier, the foreign tax paid cannot provide a specific economic benefit for the taxpayer and be included in the foreign tax credit computation. This means that the tax cannot be a payment that results in an individual receiving:

- Goods
- Services
- Fees or other payments
- The right to use, acquire, or extract resources, patents, or other property that the foreign country owns or controls
- · Discharges of contractual obligations

Taxpayers are considered to receive a specific economic benefit if they conduct a business transaction with a person who receives an economic benefit from a foreign country, and under the terms and conditions of the transaction, the taxpayer directly or indirectly receives some part of the benefit.

example

Lawrence is a business owner who lives in China, which has a two-tier income tax system:

- Everyone is taxed according to their income
- Business owners pay additional tax on their profits

The second tier entitles business owners to certain reduced fees and other benefits, such as ability to rent space in a government building. Because of the specific economic benefits Lawrence receives, he cannot use the second-tier tax payments to compute a foreign tax credit on his U.S. tax return. However, the first-tier income taxes are similar to U.S. income taxes and can be used to figure his foreign tax credit.

What are Sanctioned Country Restrictions and Section 901(j) Income?

Taxes paid to or accrued by certain countries do not qualify for the foreign tax credit. These are countries:

- That have been designated by the Secretary of State as repeatedly providing support for acts of international terrorism,
- With which the U.S. has severed or does not conduct diplomatic relations, or
- Whose government the U.S. does not recognize, unless that government is eligible to purchase defense articles or services under the Arms Export Control Act

See Publication 514 or visit www.irs.gov for the current list of sanctioned countries.

Foreign income earned in sanctioned countries is subject to U.S. tax. A separate Form 1116 must be completed for foreign income from a sanctioned country, using the "Section 901(j) income" category. This is beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE programs; refer taxpayers to a professional tax preparer.

Question 6: Adele lived and worked in a sanctioned country until August of this tax year, when she was transferred to Italy. She paid taxes to each country on the income earned in that country. Can Adele take a foreign tax credit on her U.S. tax return for the taxes paid on income she earned in the sanctioned country? \square Yes \square No	;
Question 7: Write "Q" next to each tax that qualifies for the foreign tax credit or "NQ" next to those that do not. Assume the taxpayer is a U.S. citizen or resident living in a nonsanctioned foreign country and that the tax is being paid to a foreign government on foreign-sourced income.
Dividend taxes
Foreign oil related income tax
Interest income tax
Real estate taxes
Income tax on wages from a foreign country
Taxes paid on income earned in a sanctioned country

What categories of income qualify for the credit?

At the top of Form 1116, Part I, taxpayers are asked to indicate the type of foreign income they received. Two of these income categories fall within the scope of the VITA/TCE programs:

· General category income

TIP)

A separate Form 1116 must be completed for each type of income; each Form 1116 can include income earned in as many as three foreign countries.

Passive Category Income

This category includes passive income and specified passive category income. Passive income generally includes the following:

- Dividends
- Interest
- Royalties
- Rents
- Annuities
- Net gain from the sale of property that produces such income, or nonincome-producing investment property

For example, a taxpayer who lives in a foreign country and pays taxes on interest income could claim the foreign tax credit and check the Passive category income box on Form 1116.

For additional information on passive income and specified passive category income, see Publication 514, Foreign Tax Credit for Individuals.

Wages and salaries are considered to be general category income, which is discussed later in this topic. Passive category income may qualify as general category income if the foreign government taxes it at a rate higher than the highest U.S. tax rate; see "High-Taxed Income" later in this lesson.

General Category Income

General category income consists of wages earned in a foreign country that an individual does not exclude, or excludes only part of, under the foreign earned income exclusion. Additionally, foreign income that does not come under any of the other categories on Form 1116 can typically be included as general category income.

example

Robert paid taxes to Spain for earned income and did not claim the foreign earned income exclusion. He can claim a foreign tax credit for the taxes paid to Spain.

What is high-taxed income?

Some passive category income can be included in general category income if it is taxed by a foreign government at a rate higher than the highest U.S. income tax rate. Therefore, if taxpayers pay more than the highest U.S. income tax rate on the foreign-sourced passive income for which they claimed the credit, the credit is computed under general category income.

example

Brenda is a U.S. citizen who lives in a foreign country and pays 45% income tax on her interest income in that country. She lists this as "General Category Income" on Form 1116, since the tax rate paid on this passive income is higher than the highest U.S. income tax rate.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 8: Regina lives in a foreign country and is a U.S. citizen. She has both dividend income and interest income from foreign countries. Her foreign bank withholds 15% of her interest income for income taxes. She also pays foreign income taxes on her dividend income, at a rate of 45%. For the purposes of Form 1116, how should the following types of income be classified?

Interest Income: ____ Dividend Income: ____

- A. Passive category income
- B. General category income

Question 9: Bernard is a U.S. citizen who lives in Barbados. This year, he paid 17% income tax on interest income from his bank account in Barbados. For the purposes of Form 1116, Bernard's foreign interest income should be classified as:

- A. Passive category income
- B. General category income

Tax Law Application

There are several factors to consider when determining if taxes paid to a foreign government are eligible for the foreign tax credit. Ask the taxpayer:

- · Was the income foreign-sourced?
- What type of tax was paid to the foreign government?
- Will the taxpayer receive some kind of specific economic benefit from the payment of this tax?

How do I complete Form 1116?

If the taxpayer does not qualify for the election to report foreign tax directly on Form 1040, page 2, Form 1116 must be completed. The amount of the foreign tax credit is the portion of U.S. income tax liability based on gross taxable foreign income. Certain expenses can be deducted to reduce foreign gross income. Some of these situations are complicated and beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE programs, such as:

- Expenses directly related to the foreign income, such as employee business expenses
- Investment interest expense
- Foreign losses, such as those from selling foreign assets or a loss from a business or partnership

If the taxpayers have any of these types of deductions, refer them to a professional tax preparer.

For step-by-step instructions on completing Form 1116, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab.

Summary

Taxpayers who paid taxes to a foreign country or U.S. possession may be able to take a nonrefundable foreign tax credit. Generally, to claim the credit, taxpayers are required to file Form 1116, Foreign Tax Credit.

Taxpayers do not have to file Form 1116 if they meet certain requirements and can elect to claim the foreign tax credit directly on Form 1040, page 2. This election is in scope for the Advanced certification. VITA/TCE volunteers must have International certification to help taxpayers who are required to file Form 1116.

To qualify for the foreign tax credit, the taxpayer, income, and taxes must all meet specific requirements. The credit is computed and reported on Form 1116. A separate Form 1116 must be completed for each category of income.

The foreign tax credit is different from the foreign earned income exclusion. If the taxpayer uses the foreign earned income exclusion, foreign tax paid on the excluded income cannot be used to claim the foreign tax credit. Taxpayers can choose the approach that results in the lowest tax.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following are out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

- Taxpayers who must complete Form 1116 because they cannot elect to report foreign tax on Form 1040, unless your site has a volunteer with an International certification
- Taxpayers who paid foreign taxes that do not qualify for the credit, and wish to deduct the taxes on Schedule A
- Certain expenses deducted to reduce foreign gross income
- Taxpayers who must report a carryback or carryover on Form 1116
- Taxpayers who must file a separate Form 1116 required for foreign income from a sanctioned country, using the "Section 901(j) income" category

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

To gain a better understanding of the tax law, complete the comprehensive problem or practice exercise(s) for your course of study in Publication 4491-W.

For practice using the tax preparation software, complete the scenarios using the Practice Lab on L<.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: True. Form 1116 is not required if the total foreign taxes paid are less than or equal to $300 ($600 if Married Filing Jointly).

Answer 2: No. Clyde needs to complete Form 1116 because his foreign taxes exceed $300. Clyde will need to be referred to a volunteer with an International certification or seek the assistance of a professional tax preparer.

Answer 3: Yes. Judy and Mark do not have to complete Form 1116 because they file jointly and their foreign taxes are less than $600.

Answer 4: C. On Anne's tax return, she can claim a foreign tax credit to offset taxes she paid to Japan on interest received from the Japanese bank.

Answer 5: No. An inheritance does not qualify as income from a foreign country. Under U.S. tax law, inheritances are not taxable to the beneficiaries. Jean is not eligible to claim a foreign tax credit for the inheritance taxes she pays to the Spanish government.

Answer 6: No. Adele cannot take a foreign tax credit for the taxes paid on income she earned in the sanctioned country. However, this income is taxable in the U.S., since she is a U.S. citizen.

Answer 7:

Q – Dividend taxes

NQ - Foreign oil-related income tax

Q – Interest income tax

NQ – Real estate taxes

Q – Income tax on wages from a foreign country

NQ – Taxes paid on income earned in a sanctioned country

Answer 8: Interest Income – A; Dividend Income – B (High-taxed income is considered general category income.)

Answer 9: A. Since 17% (the tax rate Bernard paid) is not more than the highest U.S. income tax rate, Bernard's income falls under "Passive Category Income."

Child Tax Credit

Introduction

The child tax credit is unique because if a taxpayer cannot benefit from the nonrefundable credit, the taxpayer may be able to qualify for the refundable additional child tax credit on Schedule 8812. In this chapter, we will learn about both credits and their relationship to each other. Some taxpayers may not be aware of these credits. Your time, effort, and understanding of this credit may result in a lower tax for the taxpayer.

The child tax credit is entered in the Nonrefundable Credits section of the tax return; the additional child tax credit is entered in the Payments section. Form 1040EZ filers cannot take the credit.

The intake and interview sheet, along with the interview tips in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab are critical tools needed to determine eligibility for the credit.

TIP)

Don't confuse these credits with the child and dependent care credit!

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Determine the taxpayer's eligibility for the credit(s)
- Determine which taxpayer can claim the additional credits

What is the child tax credit?

The child tax credit is a nonrefundable credit that allows taxpayers to claim a tax credit of up to $1,000 per qualifying child, which reduces their tax liability.

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 972
- □ Publication 4491-W
- □ Schedule 8812
- □ Optional: Form 1040 Instructions

What is the additional child tax credit?

Taxpayers who are not able to claim the full amount of the child tax credit may be able to take the refundable additional child tax credit. Completing Schedule 8812, Child Tax Credit, may result in a refund even if the taxpayer doesn't owe any tax.

Who can claim the child tax credit?

To be eligible to claim the child tax credit, the taxpayer must have at least one qualifying child. Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab for the definition of a qualifying child for purposes of claiming the child tax credit.

example

Ed's son, Jeff, turned 17 on December 30, and has a valid SSN. He is a citizen of the United States. According to the Child Tax Credit rules, he is not a qualifying child for the child tax credit because he was not under the age of 17 at the end of the tax year.

Does the child have to be the taxpayer's dependent?

To be a qualifying child for the child tax credit, the child must be claimed as the taxpayer's dependent.

Are there special rules for children of divorced or separated parents or parents who live apart?

There are special rules for children of divorced or separated parents, as well as for children of parents who live apart. The custodial parent is the parent with whom the child lived for the greater number of nights during the year. The other parent is the noncustodial parent. In most cases the custodial parent may claim the dependency exemption for the qualifying child. The noncustodial parent, however, may be entitled to claim the dependency exemption for a child and thus the child tax credit and additional child tax credit. Review the Child Tax Credit Interview Tips in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab for additional information.

Remember, a custodial parent's release of the dependency exemption will also release the child tax credit and the additional child tax credit, if either applies, to the noncustodial parent. Noncustodial parents must attach Form 8332 or a similar statement to their return each year the exemption is claimed.

Taxpayers with divorce decrees or divorce agreements executed after 2008 must use Form 8332 or similar statement whose only purpose is to release the custodial parent's claim to the exemption; they cannot simply substitute pages from the divorce decree.

example

Mary and Ralph got a divorce in 2002. They have one child together, Amy, who lives with Mary. All are U.S. citizens and have SSNs. Mary and Ralph provide more than half of Amy's support. Mary's AGI is $31,000, and Ralph's AGI is $39,000. Amy is 12. The divorce decree does not state who can claim the child.

Ralph, the noncustodial parent, can claim the dependency exemption and child tax credit only if Mary signs Form 8332. Mary can still claim the earned income credit, Head of Household, and child and dependent care credit for Amy assuming she qualifies for them.

What is the amount of the credit?

The maximum amount taxpayers can claim for the child tax credit is $1,000 for each qualifying child. The amount actually claimed on Form 1040 depends on the taxpayer's tax liability, modified adjusted gross income (MAGI), and filing status. The amount of the credit may be reduced if the taxpayer's:

- Tax liability less the majority of the nonrefundable credits is less than the maximum child tax credit, or
- MAGI is above the limit for the taxpayer's filing status; review Publication 17, Child Tax Credit chapter for the limits on the credit or the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab.

Review the Child Tax Credit Interview Tips, steps 6 and 7, in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab to determine which worksheet must be used to figure the credit. If the taxpayer answers yes to steps 6 and 7, then the worksheet in Publication 972 must be used to figure the credit.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab.

example

Stan files as Head of Household and has three children who qualify for purposes of the child tax credit. Stan's MAGI is $54,000 and his tax liability is $4,680. Stan is eligible to take the full $1,000 per child ($3,000) because his MAGI is less than the ceiling limit and his tax liability is greater than $3,000.

example

May and Bob file as Married Filing Jointly and have two children who qualify for the child tax credit. Their MAGI is $86,000 and their tax liability is $954. Even though their AGI is less than the threshold limit, they can only claim $954, reducing their tax to zero. As they could not claim the maximum child tax credit, May and Bob may also be eligible for the additional child tax credit.

What is MAGI?

Typically, the taxpayers' MAGI (Modified Adjusted Gross Income) is the same as their AGI from Form 1040, page 2. For more information on MAGI as it applies to the child tax credit, refer to Publication 17.

If the taxpayers' tax liability is zero, they cannot take the credit because there is no tax to reduce. However, the taxpayers may be able to take the additional child tax credit, discussed later in this lesson.

EXERCISES

Use the Child Tax Credit interview tips from the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab and Publication 17 to complete the exercises. Answers are at the end of the lesson summary.

Question 1: Paul and Marie are married with two dependent children. They will file a joint Form 1040 for the year. The children are qualifying children for purposes of the child tax credit. Paul and Marie's MAGI is above the threshold limit, and their tax liability is $6,200. Based on this information, Paul and Marie:

- A. Are not eligible for the maximum credit and can use the Child Tax Credit Worksheet in the Form 1040 Instructions to figure their child tax credit
- B. Will have to use Publication 972 to figure their child tax credit
- C. Are eligible to claim a full child tax credit
- D. Are not eligible to claim any amount for the child tax credit

Question 2: Laura's adopted son Jack is 12. He is a citizen of the United States and lived with Laura for the entire tax year, during which time Laura provided full financial support. Is Jack a qualifying child for the child tax credit? ☐ Yes ☐ No Question 3: Which one of the following individuals (all of whom have two qualifying children for the purposes of the child tax credit) are eligible to claim the maximum $1,000 per child for the child tax credit on their tax return?

- A. Fiona, who is Married Filing Separately with a MAGI of $78,000
- B. Ken, a Qualifying Widower with a MAGI of $30,000 and tax liability of $490
- C. Nick, who is Single with a MAGI of $70,000 and a tax liability of $5,000
- D. Julie, who is Married Filing Jointly with a MAGI of $122,000

How do I determine taxpayer eligibility for the credit?

To determine whether a child meets the criteria of qualifying child for the child tax credit or additional child tax credit, use the interview techniques and tools discussed in earlier lessons. Begin by reviewing the Marital Status and Household Information section of the taxpayer's intake and interview sheet. Verify that the child:

- Is under 17 on December 31 of the tax year
- Lived with the taxpayer for more than six months of the year (remember the special rules for divorced or separated parents or parents who live apart)
- · Did not provide over half of his or her own support
- · Meets the relationship criteria
- · Is a U.S. citizen, U.S. national, or resident of the United States

If the Marital Status and Household Information section is incomplete or the taxpayer is unsure of how to respond, you may want to use the Child Tax Credit Interview Tips in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab. It provides helpful probing questions to ask the taxpayer.

Tax Software Hint: The entries for each qualifying child on the Main Information Sheet will help the software determine if the child is eligible for the child tax credit. To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab.

How do I calculate the child tax credit?

To calculate the credit, you must first determine which worksheet to use. Review the Child Tax Credit interview tips in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab to determine which worksheet the taxpayer must use.

Tax Software Hint: If you are using tax software, the system will automatically calculate the credit, provided you have correctly completed the:

- Dependent section of the Main Information Sheet
- Taxpayer's return through the retirement savings contribution credit line
- · Part I of Form 5695, and Schedule R

If you have a question about the amount that appears as the child tax credit, the taxpayer's completed Child Tax Credit Worksheet may help you understand the determination.

What is the additional child tax credit?

This credit is for certain individuals who get less than the full amount of the child tax credit. The additional child tax credit may give taxpayers a refund even if they do not owe any tax.

What is the amount of the credit?

Like the child tax credit, the additional child tax credit allows eligible taxpayers to claim up to $1,000 for each qualifying child after subtracting the allowable amount of child tax credit. For taxpayers with earned income over $3,000, the credit is based on the lesser of:

- 15% of the taxpayer's taxable earned income that is over $3,000 or
- · The amount of unused child tax credit (caused when tax liability is less than allowed credit)

Who can take the additional child tax credit?

Taxpayers who do not get the full $1,000 of the child tax credit may qualify for the additional child tax credit. Review the Additional Child Tax Credit Tip in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab to see the requirements to claim the credit.

example

Remember May and Bob who have two qualifying children, a MAGI of $86,000, and a tax liability of $954? Because their tax liability is less than the full amount of the credit (in their case $2,000), they may be able to take the additional child tax credit of up to $1,046 ($2,000 – $954).

There is another method to compute the additional child tax credit for taxpayers with three or more qualifying children. These taxpayers may benefit if they:

- Had Social Security or Medicare taxes withheld from their pay
- · Were self-employed and paid self-employment tax
- · Paid tax on tips not reported to their employer
- Did not receive the maximum available child tax credit

The child tax credit is not refundable for taxpayers electing to exclude foreign earned income from tax.

The amount of the taxpayer's earned income credit is a factor in this calculation on Schedule 8812.

How do I calculate the additional child tax credit?

Schedule 8812, Child Tax Credit, is used to calculate the credit, which is entered on the additional child tax credit line of the Payment section of Form 1040.

Tax Software Hint: If you are using the tax software, the system will automatically calculate the credit and place that entry on the appropriate line of the payment section.

Taxpayers must use Part I to document each child for whom an IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN) was entered on the return.

Question 4: Jose and Yolanda Alameda are Married Filing Jointly and have five dependent children under the age of 17. Jose and Yolanda both have valid SSNs. Their children have Individual Taxpayer Identification Numbers (ITINs). The children are qualifying children for purposes of the child tax credit but not the earned income credit. Jose and Yolanda's earned income is $8,850, and their tax liability is $0. Are they eligible to take the additional child tax credit? ☐ Yes ☐ No

How do I avoid common errors?

When considering the child tax credit, it is critical to interview the taxpayer thoroughly to correctly identify eligible children.

Tax Software Hint: Once the birth date and dependency information is entered on the Main Information Sheet for dependents, the CTC box will check automatically, and the software will compute the amount of the credit.

Summary

The child tax credit is a nonrefundable credit that allows qualifying taxpayers to reduce their tax liability to the lesser of the amount of the credit or their adjusted tax liability.

If a taxpayer is not able to benefit from the maximum $1,000 per qualifying child, the taxpayer may be eligible for the additional child tax credit, which is a refundable tax credit.

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

To gain a better understanding of the tax law, complete the comprehensive problem or practice exercise(s) for your course of study in Publication 4491-W.

For practice using the tax preparation software, complete the scenarios using the Practice Lab on L<.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: A. Paul and Marie's MAGI is over the threshold limit for their filing status. They are not eligible to claim a full child tax credit. They can use the Child Tax Credit Worksheet in the Form 1040 Instructions to calculate the credit.

Answer 2: Yes. Jack is a qualifying child for the child tax credit because he was under the age of 17 at the end of the current tax year; he meets the relationship requirement, lived with Laura for at least six months of the year; and he did not provide more than half of his support.

Answer 3: C. Nick may be able to take the full $1,000 credit for each of his qualifying children because his MAGI is not affected by the threshold limit for his single filing status. In addition, his tax liability of $5,000 is more than the amount of $1,000 per child for the credit.

Answer 4: Yes. Jose and Yolanda qualified for the initial child tax credit. However, they could not benefit from it because their tax liability (0) was less than their allowable child tax credit ($5,000). Since their earned income is more than $3,000, they are eligible for the additional child tax credit.

Miscellaneous Credits

Introduction

This lesson provides the information you need to be able to prepare a return with certain nonrefundable credits. The Basic Course includes retirement savings contribution credit and credit for the elderly or the disabled. The other miscellaneous credits covered in this lesson are part of the Advanced Course.

These credits are reported in the Tax and Credits section of Form 1040.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Determine if a taxpayer qualifies for the retirement savings contributions credit and accurately complete Form 8880, Credit for Qualified Retirement Savings Contributions
- Calculate the credit for the elderly or the disabled by completing Form 1040, Schedule R, Credit for the Elderly or the Disabled

Use the information from the intake and interview sheet, along with the documents provided by the taxpayer to determine eligibility for these credits.

What do I need?

- ☐ Intake and Interview Sheet
- ☐ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 4491-W
- □ Form 1040
- □ Schedule R
- □ Form 8880

Optional:

- ☐ Form 1040 Instructions
- ☐ Form W-2 Instructions

What is a nonrefundable credit?

In an earlier lesson, you learned the difference between a nonrefundable credit and a refundable credit. A nonrefundable credit can only reduce the tax liability to zero. All the credits discussed in this lesson are nonrefundable credits.

For information about the residential energy credits, see the Legislative Extenders lesson.

Generally, nonrefundable credits are applied against federal tax in the order they are listed on Form 1040, page 2, in the Tax and Credits section.

Tax Software Hint: The software will calculate these credits, but the correct information must be entered. The volunteer tax preparer must make the correct determinations by using the intake and interview sheet and resource materials.

What is the retirement savings contributions credit?

The retirement savings contributions credit is a nonrefundable credit eligible taxpayers may claim if they made a qualifying contribution to a retirement plan.

If the contribution is tax deductible (such as a traditional IRA), the taxpayer receives the benefit of the tax deduction and a tax credit. This is considered a double benefit and is rarely allowed. Contributions to non-tax-deductible accounts (such as Roth IRAs) can qualify the taxpayer for the credit as well. The credit is calculated on Form 8880, Credit for Qualified Retirement Savings Contributions, and reported in the Tax and Credits section of Form 1040.

Who is eligible for the retirement savings contributions credit?

Go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab, and review the Retirement Savings Contribution Credit – Decision Tree for the qualifications.

What are eligible contributions for the purpose of the retirement savings contributions credit?

To be eligible for the credit, taxpayers' contributions are elective or voluntary. Eligible contributions include:

- Traditional or Roth IRA (including a myRA) contributions (other than rollover contributions)
- Elective deferrals to a 401(k) or 403(b) plan (including designated Roth contributions), a governmental 457 plan, SEP, or SIMPLE plan
- Voluntary employee contributions to a qualified retirement plan as defined in section 4974(c) (including the federal Thrift Savings Plan), or
- Contributions to a 501(c)(18)(D) plan

Contributions designated under Internal Revenue Code Section 414(h)(2) are treated as employer contributions, not voluntary contributions made by the employee. They do not qualify for the credit and should not be included on Form 8880, line 2. This information is stated in the Form 8880 Instructions.

Some employers allow tax money to a Roth plan.

These after-tax contributions are listed on Form W-2, box 12 with code AA for a Roth 401(k) or BB for a Roth 403(b).

employees to contribute after-

How do I know if the taxpayer made an eligible contribution?

In most cases, eligible contributions will be listed on the taxpayer's Form W-2, box 12 and preceded by one of the following codes: D, E, F, G, H, S, AA, or BB. These are the codes most frequently seen. For a complete list of box 12 codes, refer to the Form W-2 Instructions.

Contributions to traditional or Roth IRAs may not appear on any tax document. When reviewing the Expenses section on page 2 of the intake and interview sheet, be sure to ask if the taxpayer made a contribution to an IRA or other retirement account.

Tax Software Hint: If Form W-2 is entered into the software correctly and completely, the program will carry the appropriate information to Form 8880. Review the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, Form W-2 Instructions, for the software entries.

Tax Software Hint: If the taxpayer contributed to a Roth or a traditional IRA, whether it is deductible or not, link to the IRA deduction worksheet and enter the information. The software will carry the appropriate contributions to Form 8880. Review the Volunteer Resource Guide, Adjustments tab, Form 1040 – Adjustments to Income, for the software entries.

What may reduce an eligible contribution for purposes of the credit?

Eligible contributions are reduced by the following distributions received during the testing period:

- Traditional or Roth IRAs (including myRAs)
- 401(k), 403(b), governmental 457, 501(c)(18)(D), SEP, or SIMPLE plans
- Qualified retirement plans as defined in section 4974(c) (including the federal Thrift Savings Plan)

The testing period includes:

- The two preceding tax years, and
- The period between the end of the tax year and the due date of the return, including extensions

Question the taxpayer to determine if they received any distributions in the testing period. Do not reduce eligible contributions by distributions received from military retirement plans. Also, do not include distributions that were not taxable because they were rolled over or transferred to another qualified plan. See Publication 4012, Credits tab, for additional exceptions that do not need to be included in total distributions.

Tax Software Hint: The software automatically reduces contributions by any distributions from current tax year Forms 1099-R with codes 1, S, J, Q, or T. Any other distributions that reduce the amount of contributions must be manually input on the appropriate line of Form 8880.

example

Jose and Lucy are married and will file a joint return. Their adjusted gross income was below the retirement savings contributions limit. They each contributed $3,000 to a 401(k) plan. They did not receive any distributions during the three-year period and cannot claim any other credits. Jose and Lucy are eligible for a credit based on the maximum eligible annual contribution amount of $2,000 each.

example

Joe and Mary have been married for five years and always file a joint return. In the previous tax year, Mary changed jobs and cashed in a small 401(k) from her former employer.

In the current tax year, both Joe and Mary made eligible contributions to their IRAs and otherwise qualify for the retirement savings credit. They both must reduce the amount of their eligible contributions by the amount of the distribution that Mary received last year. This calculation is completed on Form 8880.

What is the maximum contribution amount for married taxpayers?

For married taxpayers filing a joint return, both spouses may be eligible for a credit on a maximum annual contribution of $2,000 each. If either spouse has received a distribution during the testing period, both spouses must reduce their eligible contribution by that amount.

How do I determine the amount of the credit?

Form 8880 is used to figure the credit. The credit can be as low as 10% or as high as 50% of a maximum annual contribution of $2,000 per person depending on filing status and adjusted gross income.

Tax Software Hint: If the taxpayer meets the age and income requirements and a contribution was indicated on Form W-2 or the IRA worksheet, Form 8880 will display in the forms tree, highlighted in red. You will need to address a few fields before the return is completed. Review the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab, Retirement Savings Contributions Credit, for the software entries.

EXERCISES

Question 1: All of these taxpayers contributed to their employers' 401(k) plan. Who qualifies for the retirement savings credit based on adjusted gross income?

- A. Ed, who is single and has an AGI of $49,000
- B. Sybil, who is married, files jointly, and has an AGI of $52,500
- C. Megan, who is head of household and has an AGI of $65,400
- D. Carl, who is a qualifying widower with a dependent child, and has a modified AGI of $59,250

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Our volunteer is working with Ryan. She has already determined that Ryan's filing status is Single, no one can claim him as a dependent, his AGI is $25,000, and he is 28 years old. Using the Volunteer Resource Guide, Retirement Savings Contributions Credit – Decision Tree, follow along with our volunteer as she determines Ryan's eligibility for the credit.

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	RYAN RESPONDS
Ryan, I see from your Form W-2 that you contributed $1,500 to your employer's 401(k) plan. Did you make contributions to any other qualified plans, such as an IRA? That's a great benefit. Were you a full-time student during the tax year? Well, it looks like you qualify for the credit. I will complete Form 8880 to see how much the credit will be.	No, I put all my savings into the 401(k) because my employer matches it. No, I've been out of school for several years. Great!
Did you receive any distributions from your retirement plan at any time this tax year or the last two years, or do you plan to take any distributions before the tax filing deadline?	Well, last year I took out a loan against my 401(k) to use as a down payment on a car. I've already paid it back through payroll deductions. Does that count?
No, your loan isn't considered a distribution, so you'll get to use the full $1,500 contribution in the calculation of your credit. The credit will be a percentage of your contribution. It will reduce your amount of total tax, so you'll end up with a bigger refund.	I'll take every penny!

How do I handle the credit for the elderly or the disabled?

The credit for the elderly or the disabled is calculated on Schedule R and reported in the Tax and Credits section of Form 1040.

Who qualifies for the credit for the elderly or the disabled?

Individuals who qualify for the elderly or the disabled credit are:

- · Age 65 or older or
- Under age 65, retired on permanent and total disability, receiving taxable disability income, and under the mandatory retirement age their company has set

A taxpayer with a permanent and total disability is unable to engage in "substantial, gainful activity," or in other words, paid employment. Taxpayers who can do such work are not considered disabled. Working in a sheltered workshop setting, however, is not considered substantial, gainful activity.

Mandatory retirement age is the age set by a taxpayer's employer at which the taxpayer would have been required to retire, had the taxpayer not become disabled.

Generally, disability income comes from an employer's disability insurance, health plan, or pension plan. The payments replace wages for the time the taxpayer missed work because of the disability. The plan must provide for disability retirement for the payments to be considered disability income.

In addition to being a qualified individual, the taxpayer's total income must be within certain limits. The income limits can be found in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab, Credit for the Elderly or the Disabled, Figure B, Income Limits.

Few taxpayers qualify for this credit because the credit calculation includes the taxpayers' nontaxable Social Security, veterans' benefits, or other excludable pension, annuity, or disability benefits. Most taxpayers' Social Security benefits alone exceed the limit.

example

John is unmarried and filing a single return. He is 67 years old and received $12,000 in nontaxable Social Security benefits in the tax year. His AGI is $9,000. Even though John is a qualified individual, he is not eligible to claim the credit since his nontaxable Social Security benefits exceed $5,000.

How do I determine the amount of the credit?

Schedule R is used to calculate the credit, and has three parts:

- · Part I, Filing Status and Age
- Part II, Statement of Permanent and Total Disability which ensures that taxpayers who are under 65 have obtained a completed physician's statement that proves they are permanently and totally disabled
- · Part III, Figure Your Credit

All Social Security and railroad retirement benefits must be entered on the worksheet for the Social Security benefits line of Form 1040, even if no Social Security is taxable, so the tax software can correctly calculate this credit.

If the taxpayer is 65 or over, or under 65 and retired on permanent and total disability, complete Schedule R to determine the amount of the credit, if any.

Tax Software Hint: The tax software will complete most of Schedule R based on the data from the Main Information Sheet and income entries. It will determine whether the taxpayer is eligible for the credit and transfer the credit amount to the appropriate line on Form 1040. Go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Nonrefundable Credits tab, for software entries.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 2: Taxpayers may be able to take the credit for the elderly or disabled if they are:

- Under age 65 at the end of the tax year
- · Retired on permanent and total disability
- Under the mandatory retirement age on January 1, of the tax year, and
- · Receiving taxable disability income

☐ True ☐ False

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Determining Albert's Eligibility

Albert arrives at the tax center with his Form 1040 nearly complete, but he wants to know if he can claim the credit for the elderly or the disabled. Follow along in the conversation.

SAMPLE INTERV	/IEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	ALBERT RESPONDS
Are you either a U.S. citizen or a resident alien?	Yes, I'm a U.S. citizen.
Are you over 65?	No, I'm only 54, not even old enough for retirement. But I had to stop working last year because of my disability.
Are you retired on permanent and total disability?	Yes. In fact, I started receiving disability retirement benefits last August.
Sounds like you may qualify. What is your adjusted gross income?	$15,430.
How much did you receive in Social Security?	I got $4,430 in Social Security benefits.
Did you receive any other pension benefits that might not be taxable?	No, I just get my Social Security and disability checks from the place I retired.
And your filing status is Single, so it looks like you might be able to claim the credit. If you would like for me to do your return, I will go back through it step-by-step to make sure.

What is the mortgage interest credit?

This topic is out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs and is included for informational purposes only. Taxpayers who hold mortgage credit certificates (MCCs) under a qualified state or local government program may claim a nonrefundable credit for mortgage interest paid. The taxpayer must have a document titled, "Mortgage Credit Certificate (MCC)." The amount of the credit is listed on the certificate. Refer taxpayers who choose to claim this credit to a professional tax preparer.

How are the total nonrefundable credits reported?

The total of all nonrefundable credits is reported on the applicable line in the Tax and Credits section of Form 1040.

Tax Software Hint: Based on your entries for all the credits, the software calculates the total of the taxpayer's credits and enters the amount on the Total Credits line. Remember, the nonrefundable credits cannot exceed the taxpayer's federal income tax.

Retirement Savings Contributions Credit

Taxpayers who contributed to certain retirement plans or IRAs may be eligible for a nonrefundable qualified retirement savings contributions credit.

Be sure to ask the taxpayer if IRA contributions were made. Carefully review the taxpayer's Form(s) W-2 for pretax retirement plan contributions and accurately input the amounts into the tax software. The software calculates the retirement savings credit based on the information entered.

The amount of the credit is determined by the taxpayer's filing status, adjusted gross income, and the taxpayer's qualified retirement contributions.

Form 8880 is used to calculate the credit.

Taxpayers' IRA contributions are often overlooked. Ask taxpayers if they made traditional or Roth IRA contributions that may qualify for the retirement savings contributions credit.

Credit for the Elderly or the Disabled

Taxpayers age 65 or older, or under age 65 who retired on permanent and total disability, may be able to claim a special nonrefundable credit if they are U.S. citizens or resident aliens. Few qualify for this credit because most taxpayers' Social Security benefits exceed the income limits.

The Volunteer Resource Guide provides a flowchart for determining basic eligibility and a quick reference table of income and Social Security limits. Schedule R, Credit for the Elderly or the Disabled, is used to calculate the credit.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following is out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

· Mortgage interest credit

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

To gain a better understanding of the tax law, complete the comprehensive problem or practice exercise(s) for your course of study in Publication 4491-W.

For practice using the tax preparation software, complete the scenarios using the Practice Lab on L<.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: B. Sybil qualifies for the credit because her adjusted gross income is under the threshold limit for Married Filing Jointly.

Answer 2: True. A taxpayer who is under age 65 at the end of the tax year, retired on permanent and total disability, had not reached mandatory retirement age by January 1 of the tax year, and who receives taxable disability income, may be able to take the credit for elderly or disabled.

All these items must first be met before a taxpayer who is under age 65 can be considered for the credit for the elderly or disabled.

Other Taxes

Introduction

This lesson covers the Other Taxes section of the return. You will determine if taxpayers owe additional taxes, and determine their total tax.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Identify the different types of other taxes on a return
- Determine if a taxpayer is liable for other taxes that are within scope of the volunteer program
- Determine how to report these additional taxes on the tax return and complete the applicable forms or schedules

What are other taxes?

"Other taxes" are different from the income tax from the tax tables or figured using the Tax Computation Worksheet. They include:

- Self-employment tax
- · Social security and Medicare taxes on tip income
- Additional taxes on IRAs and other qualified retirement plans
- Repayment of first-time homebuyer credit

These amounts are usually calculated on their own form or schedule. The taxes are added after the nonrefundable credits are calculated; the nonrefundable credits do not reduce the other taxes.

Household employment taxes are also included in the Other Taxes section. However, this topic is beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE programs. Taxpayers who must file household employment taxes should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

Tax Software Hint: The software makes most of the calculations and displays the resulting tax on Form 1040.

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 4491-W

Optional:

- □ Publication 1244
- ☐ Form 1040 Instructions
- □ Form 4137
- ☐ Form 5329 and Instructions
- ☐ Form 5405 and Instructions
- □ Form W-2
- □ Schedule SE

Social security and Medicare taxes on tip income is covered under the Advanced course. Self-employment tax, additional tax on IRAs and other qualified retirement plans, and repayment of first-time homebuyer credit are Advanced-level topics. If an issue related to an Advanced-level topic arises at a volunteer site, be sure that a volunteer with required certification provides assistance.

Refer to the Affordable Care Act (ACA) lesson contained in this publication for information on the advanced premium tax credit, the premium tax credit, and the shared responsibility payment.

What is self-employment tax?

Self-employment (SE) tax is Social Security and Medicare taxes collected primarily from individuals who work for themselves, similar to the Social Security and Medicare taxes withheld from the pay of most wage earners. Payments of SE tax contribute to the taxpayer's coverage under the Social Security system. Social security coverage provides the taxpayer with retirement, disability, survivor, and hospital insurance (Medicare) benefits.

Who must pay self-employment tax?

SE tax must be paid if either of the following applies:

- The taxpayer had income as a church employee of $108.28 or more.
- The taxpayer receives net earnings from self-employment income in the amount of $400 or more (excluding church employee income).

Generally, taxpayers who are independent contractors and receive Form 1099-MISC must file Schedule C/C-EZ and Schedule SE. Since taxes are not withheld from independent contractors' pay, it is the taxpayer's responsibility to pay income and SE tax.

Schedule SE contains two ways to compute the tax: the long version and the short version. The instructions on the form guide you in deciding which version the taxpayer needs. The short version is used more often in the VITA/TCE programs, but you should understand both versions.

The VITA/TCE programs' scope includes Schedule C, with limits. The Schedule C criteria is the same as Schedule C-EZ.

Self-employed taxpayers who receive tips should include the tips in gross receipts on Schedule C/C-EZ.

How do I figure and report this tax?

As a volunteer, you may be qualified to assist self-employed taxpayers who need to complete Schedule C (with limits) or Schedule C-EZ, Net Profit from Business (covered in an earlier lesson). When assisting a taxpayer with self-employment income, first complete Schedule C or C-EZ. Schedule SE is used to calculate the self-employment tax. The deductible part of the self-employment tax is reflected as an adjustment to income on Form 1040, page 1. This amount is from line 6 of Schedule SE, the deduction for employer-equivalent portion of self-employment tax. The adjustment to income is similar to the benefit that employees receive because their employers pay a portion of the Social Security and Medicare taxes.

Tax Software Hint: The software automatically transfers the appropriate information from Schedule C or C-EZ to Schedule SE and calculates the self-employment tax and the adjustment of the deductible part of the self-employment tax.

What about taxes on unreported tip income?

All tip income is subject to federal income tax. However, tips of less than $20 per month that are not reported to the employer are not subject to Social Security and Medicare taxes.

Individuals who receive $20 or more per month in tips from any one job must report their tip income to their employer. The employer reports these tips as part of the wages on Form W-2, box 1. The employer withholds Social Security and Medicare taxes and federal income tax on that income.

What about allocated tips?

An employer may "allocate" tips to an employee if the employee worked in a restaurant, cocktail lounge, or similar business and reported tips that were less than the employee's share of 8% of food and drink sales. If the employer allocates tips to employees, the amount is reported on Form W-2, box 8, and included in income on Form 1040. Social security and Medicare taxes are not withheld on allocated tips. The employee pays the Social Security and Medicare taxes by completing Form 4137, Social Security and Medicare Tax on Unreported Tip Income.

If the employee can show, using Publication 1244, Employee's Daily Record of Tips and Report to Employer, or some similar daily tip record, that the actual tips received are different from the allocated amount, then the actual amount is reported on Form 1040. The actual tips received are also reported on Form 4137 to calculate Social Security and Medicare taxes.

What about tips that the employee did not report to the employer?

If the employee received $20 or more in unreported cash and charge tips in any month from any job, the employee must report that income on Form 1040 and pay the Social Security and Medicare taxes on that income. But, if the employee received less than $20 in tips in any month from any job, they are not required to report them to the employer. However, these amounts do need to be included on Form 1040. They will not be subject to Social Security or Medicare taxes.

Tax Software Hint: All tips are reported on Form 4137 because the software calculates social security and Medicare taxes only on the applicable tips. The software will then add unreported tips to Form 1040, line 7.

example

Carla waits tables at a café. Her employer reports all tips that customers add to their credit card tabs, but she leaves it up to Carla to keep track of her cash tips. Carla receives more than $20 per month in cash tips. Carla keeps a record but, because she doesn't report her cash tips to her employer, they are not included on her Form W-2. Carla includes the unreported tips as income on Form 1040, line 7. Carla also uses Form 4137 to calculate and pay the Social Security and Medicare taxes on those tips.

How do I figure and report these taxes?

To figure the tax, determine if during any month the taxpayer received $20 or more in cash and charge tips that were not reported to the employer. Enter this amount on Form 4137 to figure the Social Security and Medicare taxes.

Report the tax amount on the applicable line on Form 1040.

Tax Software Hint: The tax software will compute the correct tax on allocated and unreported tip income. Go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, How to Enter Tip Income, for software entries.

As part of your interview, explain to taxpayers that sometimes people do not realize they owe taxes on tips they do not report to their employer. Also explain the taxes paid on those tips actually boost the taxpayer's future Social Security benefits.

Answers follow the lesson summary.

Question 1: Nancy had a summer job at a coffee hut. She made $18 in tips in May, $755 in June, $600 in July, and $45 in August. Until a co-worker told her, she didn't realize she had to report her tips to their employer. She then reported $1,000 in tips to her boss.

What amount of tips will Nancy have to add to her Form 1040, line 7?

- A. $1,418
- B. $1,000
- C. $418
- D. $18

Question 2: What amount of unreported tips does Nancy have to pay Social Security and Medicare taxes on when she files her tax return?

- A. $1,418
- B. $400
- C. $45
- D. $18

What about taxes on IRAs and other qualified retirement plans?

Traditional IRAs and other qualified plans allow individuals to defer paying taxes on contributions and earnings until the funds are distributed.

If the rules for contributions and distributions are not followed, additional penalty taxes may be due. For example, the taxpayer must pay income tax plus an additional tax if any of the following apply:

- A distribution is taken before the individual reaches the age of 59½ and is not rolled over into another qualified plan or IRA and no other exception applies (in scope)
- Minimum distributions are not withdrawn when required (out of scope)
- Excess contributions are not removed by the due date of the return including extensions (out of scope)

If the taxpayer is under the age of 59½, earnings on excess contributions withdrawn by the due date of the return are early distributions and subject to the 10% additional tax. Refer to the Adjustments to Income lesson for more information.

The additional tax for each situation is outlined on Form 5329, Additional Taxes on Qualified Plans (Including IRAs) and Other Tax-Favored Accounts.

Only Part I of Form 5329 is in scope. This part provides for the exceptions to the additional tax on part or all of the early distributions from IRAs or qualified pension plans. The other parts of Form 5329 are out of scope; refer taxpayers with these issues to a professional tax preparer.

Refer to the intake and interview sheet, Part III – Income, for the question regarding pension or IRA distributions. If the answer is "yes," ask for any Form 1099-R that reports these payments to determine if the taxpayer is subject to the additional tax or qualifies for an exception.

If Form 1099-R correctly shows code 1 in box 7 indicating an early distribution, the additional tax applies unless the taxpayer qualifies for an exception. Guidelines permit entering 10% of the taxable amount directly on Form 1040, on the applicable line for additional tax on IRAs or other qualified retirement plans. "No" is entered to the left of this line to indicate Form 5329 is not required. Tax software does this automatically based on entries on Form 1099-R.

Frequently, taxpayers who receive Form 1099-R with code 1 in box 7 are subject to the 10% additional tax for early distribution because the money was spent for items that are not on the list of exceptions, for example, household expenses or bills. This situation does not require completion of Form 5329.

Some exceptions apply only to IRA distributions, some apply only to distributions from a qualified retirement plan, and some exceptions apply to both IRA and retirement plan distributions. Refer to Publication 17 chapters Retirement Plans, Pensions, and Annuities or Individual Retirement Arrangements for the list of exceptions

example

John is 39 years old and received Form 1099-R with code 1 in box 7. He used the money to pay for car repairs. For the additional tax, enter 10% of the taxable amount on the applicable line of Form 1040. The word "no" appears to the left of this line to indicate that Form 5329 is not required.

How do you complete Form 5329, Part I?

If an exception to the additional tax on early distributions applies, Form 5329, Part I, must be completed.

- Form 5329, line 1, is the amount of the distribution included in income.
- Line 2 is the amount that qualifies for the exception. The applicable code is also entered. Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Other Taxes and Payments tab, for a screen shot of Form 5329, Part I, and the exceptions. For additional information, see Form 5329 Instructions.
- For line 3 the amount from line 2 is subtracted from line 1. This is the amount subject to the additional tax.
- Line 4 is the additional tax that is carried over to the Other Taxes section of the return.

example

Laura is 41 years old and received an early distribution from her 401(k) account. The volunteer determines that Laura used the money for unreimbursed qualified medical expenses, and she meets the requirements for exception code 05. In this case Form 5329, Part I, would be completed. Laura would not have to pay the additional tax on this distribution.

IRA distributions, pensions, and annuities are covered in the Retirement Income lesson. Tax preparers certified at the Basic level may prepare returns having retirement income with taxable amount determined. If the taxable amount has not been determined or if one of the exceptions to the additional tax on early distributions applies, refer the taxpayer to a volunteer with Advanced certification.

What about repayment of the first-time homebuyer credit?

Certain situations may require the credit to be repaid and reported in the Other Taxes section of Form 1040.

Review the Life Events section of the intake and interview sheet to determine if the taxpayer claimed the 2008 homebuyer credit and must pay back a portion of the credit each year.

If the taxpayer received the first-time homebuyer credit in 2010 and the home ceases to be their main home within the 36-month period beginning on the purchase date, the taxpayer generally must repay the credit.

If the taxpayer received the first-time homebuyer credit for a home purchased in 2008, generally they must repay the credit over a 15-year period in 15 equal installments. The repayment period began in 2010. However, if the home ceases to be the taxpayer's main home before the 15-year period is up, the taxpayer must repay all remaining annual installments.

The home ceases to be the main home if the taxpayer sells the home; converts the entire home to business or rental property; the home is destroyed, condemned, or disposed of under threat of condemnation; or the lender forecloses on the mortgage. There are certain exceptions to the repayment rule. See the general instructions for Form 5405, First-Time Homebuyer Credit and Repayment of the Credit, for details.

The credit is repaid by including it as additional tax on the return for the year the home ceases to be the taxpayer's main home. If the taxpayer is required to repay the credit, it is calculated on Form 5405 and reported on the applicable line in the Other Taxes section of Form 1040. Certain taxpayers who are repaying an installment of the credit claimed for homes purchased in 2008 are not required to file Form 5405. See Form 5405 Instructions for more information.

How do I figure total tax?

The Other Taxes section provides a total of income tax and other taxes that may apply to the taxpayer. Adding the amounts on these lines gives the total tax. This amount reflects the tax on all income, adjustments to income, deductions, nonrefundable tax credits, and other taxes. The next step is entering tax payments and refundable credits. Then calculate the taxes owed or the amount overpaid that will result in a refund.

Tax Software Hint: The tax software will calculate the total tax automatically. Go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Other Taxes and Payments tab, Form 1040, Page 2 – Other Taxes and Payments, for software entries.

The 2008 homebuyer credit had different rules. The credit functions like a no-interest loan and must be paid back. Taxpayers who received the credit in 2008 continue to repay the credit over a 15-year period that began with the 2010 tax return.

Summary

This lesson explained how to complete the Other Taxes section of the return. Other taxes are not calculated using the income tax tables or the Tax Computation Worksheet. They include:

- Self-employment tax
- Social security and Medicare taxes on unreported tip income
- · Additional taxes on IRAs and other qualified retirement plans
- · Repayment of first-time homebuyer credit

Tax Software Hint: These amounts are calculated on separate forms or schedules. The tax software provides all of the forms and performs most of the calculations.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following are out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

- Household employment taxes
- IRA minimum distributions not withdrawn when required
- Excess contributions to an IRA that are not removed by the due date of the return including extensions
- Parts II through VIII of Form 5329 (only Part I is in scope)
- · Distribution from an ABLE account that exceeds the qualified disability expenses

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

To gain a better understanding of the tax law, complete the comprehensive problem or practice exercise(s) for your course of study in Publication 4491-W.

For practice using the tax preparation software, complete the scenarios using the Practice Lab on L<.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: C. Nancy's combined tips for May, June, July, and August were $1,418, and she reported only $1,000 to her employer. She needs to add $418 to line 7 of her tax return.

Answer 2: B. Nancy does not have to pay Social Security and Medicare taxes on the tips she received in May, because they amounted to less than $20 for the month.

Payments

Introduction

This is one of several lessons that cover the Payments section of the return, which includes payments, additional child tax credit, the refundable education credit, and earned income credit. After finishing these lessons, you will be able to complete the Payments section of the taxpayer's return. This lesson covers income tax withholding, estimated tax payments, certain refundable credits, and other payments made by the taxpayer.

Additional child tax credit and the refundable education credit have already been covered. Earned income credit will be covered in the next lesson.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Identify the following types of payments and credits that are applicable for most low- and moderateincome taxpayers:
 - Federal income tax withheld from Forms W-2, Wage and Tax Statement
 - Federal income tax withheld from Forms 1099
 - Estimated tax payments and amounts applied from the prior year's return
 - Amount paid with a request for an extension to file
 - Excess Social Security and tier 1 RRTA tax withheld
- Report these payments and credits correctly on the taxpayer's return

The information you obtain from the taxpayer's intake and interview sheet will help you determine the payments and credits that should be reported. Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Other Taxes and Payments section, to identify and review the Payments section of the return.

How do I report federal income tax withheld?

The federal income tax system is a "pay as you go" system. That means tax is paid as income is earned or received during the year and is referred to as withholding credit.

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 4491-W
- □ Form W-2
- □ Form 1040

Optional:

- □ Publication 505
- □ Form 1040 Instructions
- ☐ Form 1040-ES
- □ Forms 1099
- □ Form 4868
- □ Form 5405

Income tax is generally withheld from the following types of income:

- · Salaries and wages
- Tips
- · Taxable fringe benefits
- Sick pay
- Pensions and annuities
- · 401(k) and IRA distributions
- Gambling winnings
- · Unemployment compensation
- · Certain federal payments such as Social Security benefits

If taxpayers have income tax withheld during the tax year, they will receive one of the following forms showing the amount withheld:

- · Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement
- · Form W-2G, Certain Gambling Winnings
- · One of several different types of Forms 1099

The total amount withheld is entered on Form 1040, Payments section, on the line for federal income tax withheld.

The total amount withheld from income is included on the return. If a paper return must be filed, attach all Forms W-2 and any Forms W-2G and Forms 1099 if tax was withheld.

example

Freda worked as a clerk and received a Form W-2 that reported federal income tax withholding of $1,000. She also received Form 1099-INT from her bank, which reflected federal income tax withholding of $50. The correct total withholding reported on her return would be $1,050 ($1,000 + $50).

Tax Software Hint: By the time you reach the Payments section, you have already entered information from the taxpayer's Form(s) W-2 and Form(s) 1099, including the federal income tax withheld. The tax software calculates the total and displays it on the Payments section of the return.

Refer to the Affordable Care Act (ACA) lesson in this publication for information on the advanced premium tax credit, the premium tax credit, and the shared responsibility payment.

What about estimated taxes and amounts applied from the prior year's return?

What are estimated tax payments?

Many taxpayers have income from self-employment, dividends, interest, capital gains, rent, and royalties. The "pay as you go" system also applies to this income. If the tax due on this income exceeds certain limits, estimated tax must be paid quarterly by the taxpayer. If estimated tax payments are not paid when they are required, a penalty could be imposed. This also applies if taxpayers do not have enough income tax withheld from their salary or wages. See the Refund and Amount of Tax Owed lesson for more information on estimated taxes.

Estimated tax includes the taxpayer's income tax and self-employment tax, which is equivalent to the Social Security and Medicare taxes withheld from employee's pay.

Where do I get this information?

Review the taxpayer's intake and interview sheet to determine if they had income from sources such as self-employment or investments for which taxes may not have been withheld. If so, ask, "Did you pay estimated taxes to the IRS?" If the answer is "yes," ask to see the taxpayer's record of payments, such as Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals.

If taxpayers need more information about estimated taxes, refer them to Form 1040-ES, which includes instructions and a worksheet for computing the amount of estimated taxes they should pay. Forms can be obtained on www.irs.gov or by calling toll-free, 1-800-829-3676.

If a taxpayer paid substantially more or less than required in estimated tax, encourage them to recalculate it. They can adjust their estimated tax payments by following the instructions and worksheet on Form 1040-ES.

What about tax payments applied from a previous year?

Taxpayers who overpay their income taxes in one year can apply all or part of their overpayment to the next year's estimated tax by indicating the amount they want to apply.

Where do I get this information?

This information should be included in the intake and interview sheet, but confirm by asking the taxpayer:

- · Did last year's return show an overpayment?
- Did you apply any part of the overpayment to this tax year?

If the answer is "yes" to both questions, ask to see last year's tax return to document the amount of tax applied to this year's tax return. Add this amount to the estimated tax payments and enter the total on the applicable line.

Tax Software Hint: For software entries to record current year estimated tax payments, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Preparing the Return tab, Form ACH 1040/ES, and refer to the hint in the margin.

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Let's see how our volunteer helped a taxpayer, Ernie, with this part of the Payments section.

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	ERNIE RESPONDS
Let's complete the Payments section of your return. The tax software added up all the income tax withheld from your Forms W-2 we entered earlier. I know you had a little self-employment income and I see you	Yes, I did.
responded "yes" to the question on estimated tax payments on the intake and interview sheet. Is that correct?
Do you have a record of your payments, perhaps on a Form 1040-ES?	Yeah, here it is.
Good, you paid each quarter. We'll enter those payments. While we're here, did last year's return show an overpayment?	Yes, here it is: $150.
Did you apply any of that overpayment to this year's tax return?	Yes, all of it.
Okay, we'll enter that too. Now we show the total of the withholding from your Forms W-2, your estimated tax paid and the refund amount from last year's return applied to this year.	Good!

What about amounts paid with an extension to file?

Taxpayers can get an automatic six-month extension of time to file by submitting Form 4868, Application for Automatic Extension of Time To File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return. This form extends the time to file until October 15. This is only an extension to file, not an extension to pay. If taxpayers do not pay their taxes by April 15, they will owe interest and may be charged penalties.

Later, when taxpayers file their return, they report the payment made with Form 4868 on the applicable line on Form 1040, Payments section.

If the April 15 deadline falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the deadline is the next business day.

example

One of Bernice's Forms W-2 was lost in the mail. She requested a copy from her former employer, but it did not arrive by April 15. She filed for an extension, calculated the amount of taxes owed based on her final pay stub from that employer, and paid the $243 that was due. When she finally received her Form W-2, she filed her return and reported the $243 on the applicable line on Form 1040, Payments section.

How can taxpayers file the extension?

Taxpayers may file the extension electronically or on paper. The extension must be transmitted or mailed by the due date of the return. You can help taxpayers file for an extension using the tax software.

Tax Software Hint: Go to the Volunteer Resource Guide to review the step-by-step procedures for filling for an extension using the tax software.

What is excess Social Security and tier 1 RRTA tax withholding?

A taxpayer may have more than one employer and a combined income over the amount for the Social Security wage base. This means the taxpayer may have paid more in Social Security tax than is required. This excess amount is entered on the applicable line on Form 1040, Payment section, and is a refundable credit.

Tax Software Hint: The software will calculate this automatically based on the amount entered for each Form W-2. Therefore, be sure the information from each Form W-2 is accurately entered.

How do I find the total payments?

Figuring the total tax payments is easy. Add the lines in the Payments section, and enter the total on Form 1040, total payments line.

Tax Software Hint: The software totals all payments automatically.

Summary

Completion of the Payments section is critical to an accurate tax return. It lists all the payments the taxpayer made during the year, and the taxpayer's refundable credits. You must be able to identify the types of payments and credits that apply to individuals who qualify for volunteer return preparation assistance.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following is out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

- Taxpayers who choose to claim any of the following credits:
 - Form 4136, Credit for Federal Tax Paid on Fuels
 - Form 2439, Notice to Shareholder of Undistributed Long-Term Capital Gains
 - Form 8839, Qualified Adoption Expenses
 - Form 8885, Health Coverage Tax Credit

Earned Income Credit (EIC)

Introduction

This lesson covers the earned income credit (EIC). There are several common errors associated with claiming this credit on the return. Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide, and the intake and interview sheet are critical tools in avoiding these mistakes.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- · Determine if a taxpayer is eligible for the earned income credit
- · Calculate the earned income credit

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 4491-W
- ☐ Form 1040 and Instructions

Optional:

- □ Publication 596
- □ Schedule EIC

What is the EIC?

The earned income credit (EIC) is a refundable tax credit for most people who work but do not earn high incomes. The purpose of the EIC is to reduce their tax burden and to supplement the wages of working families whose earnings are less than the maximums for their filing status. Eligible taxpayers can receive a refund with this credit, even if they have no filing requirement, owe no tax, and had no income tax withheld.

The EIC can be a very valuable credit. The EIC was expanded to allow families to claim credit for three or more children. The EIC amounts are adjusted for inflation every year.

The EIC is reported in the Payments section of the tax return.

How does a taxpayer qualify for the EIC?

There are general sets of rules for claiming the earned income credit:

- Rules for everyone
- · Rules for taxpayers with a qualifying child
- · Rules for taxpayers who do not have a qualifying child

What rules apply to everyone?

The taxpayer must meet all the rules to qualify for the earned income credit. Turn to the chart titled Summary of EIC Eligibility Requirements in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab. Review Part A, Rules for Everyone, and Part D, Earned Income and AGI Limitations.

Both earned income and adjusted gross income must be below the limits in order for the taxpayer to qualify for the EIC. These amounts are adjusted for inflation every year.

Individual Taxpayer Identification Numbers (ITINs) and Adoption Taxpayer Identification Numbers (ATINs) cannot be used when claiming the EIC. If a couple is filing a joint return, both spouses and all qualifying children must have a valid SSN for work. However, if a valid number is obtained later and the taxpayer meets all the qualifications, an amended return may be filed claiming the EIC.

What is "earned" income for EIC purposes?

Earned income is wages, salaries, tips, and other taxable employee pay. Turn to the Earned Income Table in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab, for examples of earned income.

One type of payment considered earned income is "taxable long-term disability benefits received prior to minimum retirement age." Disabled taxpayers can sometimes receive a disability pension from their employer even though they are younger than the minimum retirement age. Minimum retirement age is generally the age at which taxpayers can first receive a pension or annuity from their employer if they are not disabled. Taxpayers usually receive Form 1099-R reporting the pension.

Turn to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, 1099-R Pension and Annuity Income. Find the page showing Form 1099-R. A distribution code

There is a limit to the amount of investment income a person can receive and still qualify for the EIC. See Publication 4012, Earned Income Credit tab, Summary of EIC Eligibility Requirements for the investment income limit. Investment income includes such items as taxable interest and dividends, tax-exempt interest, capital gain net income, and income from residential rental property.

of "3" in box 7 indicates this is a disability pension. If the taxpayer is under the plan's minimum retirement age, this income is reported on line 7 of Form 1040. If the taxpayer is at or above the company's minimum retirement age, this would be reported as a regular pension. Sometimes the employer does not change the code in box 7 to indicate it is now regular pension income. If this is the case, the taxpayer should request a corrected Form 1099-R from the employer.

Tax Software Hint: Volunteers using software must check the "Check if disability and the taxpayer is disabled" box below box 7, if applicable. To review information on reporting disability income for a person under retirement age, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, 1099-R Pension and Annuity Income.

What about combat pay?

Combat pay is never taxable to most soldiers. Members of the U.S. Armed Forces who served in a combat zone may elect to include their nontaxable combat pay in their earned income for the purposes of computing this credit only. Doing this may increase or decrease the taxpayer's EIC. Figure the EIC amount with and without the pay before making the election. If the election is made, all of the nontaxable combat pay must be included. If both spouses filing a joint return have combat pay, they can individually choose to make the election on the tax return.

Tax Software Hint: If a taxpayer has combat pay listed in box 12 of Form W-2 marked with code Q, the software will determine if the combat pay should or should not be added to your taxpayer's income.

For information on the nontaxable combat pay election, refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Other Taxes and Payments tab, Form 1040 – Other Taxes and Payments.

What about self-employment income?

Net earnings from self-employment are considered earned income. For most taxpayers within the scope of the VITA/TCE programs, "net earnings" for EIC purposes will be the amount reported on line 12 of Form 1040, minus the deductible portion of the self-employment tax that is reported in the Adjusted Gross Income section of the tax return.

example

Jeff's self-employment income reported on Form 1040, line 12 is $2,000. The deductible portion of his self-employment tax, which is recorded in the adjustments section of Form 1040, is $142.

His income for EIC purposes is $2,000 - $142 = $1,858.

Reminder: Nonwage income received for doing work (such as for side jobs or contract labor) is self-employment income, even for taxpayers who do not think of themselves as "self-employed." All self-employment income and expenses are required to be reported on Schedule C-EZ, Net Profit from Business, or Schedule C, Profit or Loss from Business. Taxpayers not meeting the VITA/TCE programs requirements for filing Schedules C and C-EZ will need to seek the assistance of a professional tax preparer.

An IRS certified volunteer tax preparer must exercise due diligence when preparing or assisting in the preparation of, approving, and filing tax returns. Although a volunteer tax preparer may rely in good faith without requiring certain documents from the taxpayer, the tax preparer must ask questions if the information furnished appears to be incorrect, inconsistent, or incomplete.

What about household employee income?

Domestic employees such as housekeepers are only issued Form W-2 if their earnings are more than $1,800 for 2013. Refer to Publication 926, Household Employer's Guide, for other tax year amounts. The income should be added to line 7 on Form 1040. This income should also be included when calculating the EIC.

Earned income not qualifying for the EIC

One income item that is reported on Form W-2, but does not qualify as earned income for EIC purposes, is income received for work while an inmate in a penal institution (including work performed while in a work release program or while in a halfway house). Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab, to find this listed in the Earned Income Table.

Tax Software Hint: If you indicate on the EIC worksheet that the income was earned while an inmate in a penal institution, "PRI" and the amount will be printed next to Form 1040 line 7. To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab, Schedule EIC Worksheet.

Tax Software Hint: Use this same line to deduct Medicaid waiver payments that were reported on Form W-2 and subtracted on Form 1040, line 21.

EXERCISES
Use the Summary of EIC Eligibility Requirements Chart in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab, to answer the following questions. Answers follow the lesson summary.
Question 1: A taxpayer is filing as Married Filing Separately. Does this taxpayer qualify for the EIC? ☐ Yes ☐ No Question 2: A taxpayer has interest income of $4,500. His earned income is only $7,000. He is single, has a valid Social Security number and is not the qualifying child of anyone else. Does he qualify for the FIC2 Type Type

What are the rules for taxpayers with qualifying children?

The taxpayer can file Form 1040 to claim the EIC with a qualifying child. The taxpayer has a qualifying child for EIC purposes if the child meets all the tests outlined in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab. A short version of the rules is shown in Part B, Rules If You Have a Qualifying Child. A detailed version is on the next page of the Volunteer Resource Guide.

example

Jane, 31, and Todd, 33, have an 8-year-old daughter, Amanda. All are U.S. citizens and have valid SSNs. Jane and Todd have never been married. Jane and Amanda lived together all year in an apartment. Todd lived alone. Jane earned $15,000 working as a clerk in a clothing store. Todd is an assistant manager of a hardware store and earned $48,000. He paid over half Jane's rent and utilities, and also gave Jane extra money for groceries.

Todd does not pay any expenses or support for any other family member. Although Todd provided over half the cost of a home for Jane and Amanda, he cannot file Head of Household and he cannot claim the child for EIC, since Amanda did not live with him more than half the year. Jane cannot file as Head of Household either. Review the Filing Status for Head of Household rules in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Filing Status tab.

Jane is the only one who can claim Amanda as a qualifying child for EIC. Review the Earned Income Credit rules in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab.

For EIC purposes, a qualifying child does not have to be the taxpayer's dependent (unless the child is married). In the case of divorced or separated parents, the custodial parent (with whom the child lived for more than half the year) can qualify for the EIC regardless of whether or not they claim the dependency exemption for the child. The noncustodial parent cannot qualify for EIC because the child did not live with them for more than half the year.

What are the rules for a qualifying child of more than one person?

A child who meets the conditions to be a qualifying child of more than one person can only be claimed by one taxpayer for the EIC.

example

Robyn is 25 years old. She and her 2-year-old son, Aiden, lived with Robyn's mother all year. Aiden has a valid Social Security number.

Using the Interview Tips (EIC with a Qualifying Child) from the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab, based on what we have learned so far about Robyn and her family:

Step 1 is YES

Step 2 is YES

Step 3 is YES

Step 4 is NO

Step 5 is YES

Subject to the tiebreaker rules, taxpayers have the option to choose which taxpayer will claim the child.

For step 6, check to see if Aiden can be anyone else's qualifying child, for EIC purposes.

Who else lived in the house that is related to Aiden? Robyn's mother also lives with them. Go through the steps to see if Aiden can be a qualifying child for Robyn's mother.

Review the Qualifying Child of More than One Person rules in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab.

Tax Software Hint: List children from youngest to oldest in the software and check the EIC box. For more information, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, Main Information Screen.

What are the rules for taxpayers without qualifying children?

Taxpayers can claim the EIC without a qualifying child. Confirm that the taxpayer and spouse cannot be claimed as dependents by their parents or anyone else. Review the rules in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab, under Part C, Rules If You Do Not Have a Qualifying Child.

Taxpayers turning 25 on January 1 are considered to be of age as of December 31. Taxpayers reaching the age of 65 on January 1 are still considered 64 as of December 31. Taxpayers in either of these situations whose return is rejected may need to file a paper return.

example

Tom and Martha are a married couple. Tom is 66 and Martha is 58 years old. If all other rules are met, they would qualify for the EIC.

For a couple filing a joint return, only one taxpayer has to meet the age requirement.

EXERCISES (continued)
Using the interview tips in the Volunteer Resource Guide, determine if each of these taxpayers has a qualifying child or can claim the EIC. Each child has a valid Social Security number.
Question 3: Maureen's 20-year-old daughter, Angie, lived with her for eight months of the year. Angie is not married and is a full-time college student. Is Angie a qualifying child for the EIC? ☐ Yes ☐ No Question 4: Starting in February of the tax year, Sam has cared for Lisa, the 10-year-old daughter of his stepson. Does Lisa meet the EIC requirements for a qualifying child? ☐ Yes ☐ No Question 5: Three children live with Mira, who cares for them as her own: Twila, the 3-year-old daughter of Mira's cousin; Chez, Mira's newly adopted 2-year-old son from Europe, who has lived with Mira since November of the tax year; and Dwight, Mira's 20-year-old son, who attends community college part time. Which of them are qualifying children? □ Twila □ Chez □ Dwight □ None
Question 6: Margie's daughter, Aimee, turned 23 early in the tax year while attending college full time. Margie is filing as Head of Household. Margie has an AGI of $31,000. Assuming that she and her daughter pass all other tests, can Margie claim the EIC? ☐ Yes ☐ No Question 7: Rob and Laura are divorced. Laura is the custodial parent for Dawn, who lived with her all year. Laura signed Form 8332, allowing Rob to claim the dependency exemption for Dawn until she turns 18. Can Rob claim Dawn for the EIC? ☐ Yes ☐ No Question 8: Jewel and her daughter lived with Jewel's brother, Emmitt all year. Jewel earns $20,000 and claims her daughter as the qualifying child for the EIC. Emmitt is 25 years old and earned $8,500. Is Emmitt able to claim the EIC for a taxpayer without a qualifying child? ☐ Yes ☐ No

How should I handle a taxpayer whose EIC was disallowed in a prior year?

The intake and interview sheet asks if the taxpayer was previously disallowed EIC in a prior year because special rules apply. If the taxpayer answers "yes" to this question, refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credits tab, Disallowance of the Earned Income Credit.

How is the correct EIC amount calculated?

The credit is determined using worksheets and the Earned Income Credit tables. The EIC worksheets can be found in Publication 596 or Form 1040 Instructions. The software will determine the amount of EIC.

Class Exercise

A taxpayer is filing Head of Household and has one qualifying child. The earned income and AGI is $19,000. How much EIC is the taxpayer entitled to?

Double-check that the heading on your page says "Earned Income Credit (EIC) Table." It is common to mistake the Tax Tables for the EIC tables.

Turn to the first page of the EIC tables. Find the amount in the "At least - But less than" column. Find the correct filing status column: Single, head of household and qualifying widow(er), or in a separate column, married filing jointly. There are subcolumns for the number of qualifying children.

The EIC amount is entered on the Earned Income Credit line in the Payments section of the return.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, Main Information Screen "Dependents/Nondependents" entries and Earned Income Credit tab, Schedule EIC Worksheet. The software will calculate the EIC if the rest of the return is entered correctly.

Summary

The earned income credit computation is based on filing status, number of qualifying children, earned income, and adjusted gross income. Certain individuals with no children may also qualify.

By using the intake and interview sheet, the interview tips in the Volunteer Resource Guide and correctly filling out the EIC worksheets, most of the errors that arrive from incorrectly computing the EIC can be avoided.

The EIC is entered in the Payments section of the return.

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

EXERCISE ANSWERS

- Answer 1: No. Married Filing Separately does not qualify for the EIC.
- Answer 2: No. His investment income exceeds the limit.
- Answer 3: Yes. Daughter Angie meets all the eligibility tests to be a qualifying child.
- Answer 4: Yes. Lisa is a descendent of Sam's stepson and meets the other eligibility requirements.
- Answer 5: None of the children under Mira's care are qualifying children for the EIC. Twila does not meet the relationship test, Chez does not meet the residency test, and Dwight does not meet the age test.
- Answer 6: Yes. Margie meets the general eligibility requirements and Aimee meets the Qualifying Child rules.
- Answer 7: No. While Rob can claim his daughter as a dependent, the daughter did not live with him for more than half the year, so she fails the residency test. Dawn is the qualifying child of Laura.
- Answer 8: Yes. Jewel's daughter is not the qualifying child of Emmitt, but he can claim the EIC for a taxpayer without a qualifying child.

Refund and Amount of Tax Owed

Introduction

This lesson covers the Refund and Amount You Owe sections of the taxpayer's return. After completing this lesson, you will determine if taxpayers have overpaid (a refund is due) or have underpaid (balance is due to the government) their tax. This part of the return is a summary of the tax, credits, and payments.

Taxpayers may be entitled to a refund or owe tax. In either case, they have several choices on how to get their refund or pay the amount they owe. It is important that volunteers are familiar with those choices to better help taxpayers understand their refund and payment options. This is especially true because of the increase in the number of taxpayers coming in to VITA/TCE sites who owe tax for the first time and need guidance.

Feedback results indicate volunteers are less familiar with the procedures for payment options than the procedures for refund options. Be sure to identify the payment options available to taxpayers that are outlined in this lesson and in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Preparing the Return tab.

To complete these sections of the taxpayer's return, you will need to confirm answers provided on the intake and interview sheet, regarding direct deposit and direct debit. Also, review the Volunteer Resource Guide, Preparing the Return tab, which provides guidance on refunds and balance due returns.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Identify the applicable section and lines of Form 1040 for the refund or amount owed
- · Report the correct amount of refund or amount owed
- Identify the refund options available, including the purchase of savings bonds
- · Describe the different payment options for the amount owed
- Revise the amount of tax withheld or make estimated tax payments to avoid underpayment of taxes
- Identify the purpose of and determine how to complete the Third Party Designee portion of the tax return

What do I need?

- ☐ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 4491-W
- □ Form 1040
- ☐ Form 1040-ES
- □ Form 8888
- ☐ Form W-4
- □ Form W-4P

Optional:

- □ Publication 505
- □ Publication 594
- □ Publication 4541
- ☐ Form 2210 and Instructions
- □ Form 9465

How do I know if the taxpayer is due a refund?

If the amount of the tax liability exceeds the payments made, the amount owed appears in the Amount You Owe section of the Form 1040. This is the amount the taxpayer must pay to the IRS. The taxpayer's total tax appears on the applicable line in Form 1040, Other Taxes section.

The taxpayer's total tax payments already made, which includes refundable credits, appears on the applicable line in Form 1040, Payments section.

If the payments made exceed the amount of tax liability, the amount of the overpayment is shown on the applicable line in the Refund section of the Form 1040. This is the amount the taxpayer has overpaid.

For taxpayers who are due a refund:

- Advise taxpayers to check Where's My Refund? on www.irs.gov
- Inform taxpayers of the split refund and saving bond options

What are the options for an overpayment?

Taxpayers can choose to:

- Apply any portion of their overpayment to the following tax year
- · Receive all or part of their refund using direct deposit
- · Receive all or part of their refund as a check
- · Purchase Series I Savings Bonds

RALs, RACs, and Other Financial Products: You may be asked about Refund Anticipation Loans (RALs). A RAL is money borrowed by a taxpayer from a lender based on the taxpayer's anticipated income tax refund. A variation of a RAL is a Refund Anticipation Check (RAC). Financial Institutions also offer a variety of other financial products to taxpayers based on their refunds. Providers that assist taxpayers in applying for a RAL or other financial products have additional responsibilities and may be sanctioned by the IRS if they fail to adhere to the requirements.

How do I apply part of the overpayment to the following year?

For taxpayers who want to apply a portion of the overpayment to next year's taxes, enter the amount to be applied to the following year on the applicable line. By entering an amount on this line, the taxpayer is electing to apply all or a portion of the current year's overpayment to next year's estimated tax.

Tax Software Hint: The software shows the remaining amount to be refunded to the taxpayer on the amount to be refunded line.

How do I indicate that the entire refund should be sent to the taxpayer?

For taxpayers who want the entire refund sent to them, leave the line for amount applied to estimated tax blank or enter 0.

A field in the signature section at the bottom of Form 1040 labeled Identity Protection PIN is designed to help prevent refunds from being issued to an identity thief. See Form 1040 Instructions for more information.

Tax Software Hint: The tax software shows the entire refund amount on the amount to be refunded line.

What are a taxpayer's refund options?

Taxpayers may choose to have their refund deposited directly into their account at a bank, credit union, or other financial institution, or to a My Retirement Account (myRA). For details about myRA, see Form 8888, Allocation of Refund, the General Instructions and the instructions under Part I. Direct deposits are usually received within three weeks of return acceptance. Taxpayers may choose to have a refund check mailed to them. Refund checks are usually mailed within 6 to 8 weeks after the return is filed. In addition, taxpayers can request that their refund be deposited directly into a TreasuryDirect online account to buy U.S. Treasury marketable securities and savings bonds. Details can be found at www.treasurydirect.gov.

Taxpayers who do not have a TreasuryDirect online account also have the option to purchase savings bonds with their federal income tax refunds. Additional details will be covered later in the lesson.

What are the benefits of direct deposit?

Encourage taxpayers to use direct deposit; direct deposit refunds are received faster than checks (usually within 10 to 21 days) and eliminate the possibility of a check being lost or stolen. Direct deposit is more convenient for the taxpayer.

Direct deposit saves tax dollars because it costs the government less.

How do I enter the information for direct deposit?

Make sure taxpayers show you proof of their bank account and routing information, such as a voided check. Bank deposit slips are not a reliable source for routing and account numbers for direct deposit. Enter the account number from left to right, but omit spaces and symbols. The Volunteer Resource Guide, Preparing the Return tab, Pointers for Direct Deposit of Refunds, includes a diagram showing where to find the Routing Transit Number (RTN) and Depositor Account Number (DAN) information on a check.

Tax Software Hint: For software entries, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemption/Dependent tab, Main Information Screen (continued) page. Enter the RTN and DAN on the Main Information Screen and Form 1040, page 2. For direct deposit into one account, the software makes sure the information was entered properly. If the information does not match, the program will give you a warning during diagnostics in the completion phase of the return.

Can the refund be deposited into more than one account?

Taxpayers may choose to have their refund deposited in up to three accounts. For example, a person expecting a refund of $600 could choose to deposit $200 into a checking account, $300 into a savings account, and $100 into an IRA account.

Tax Software Hint: Use Form 8888, Allocation of Refund (Including Savings Bond Purchases), to list the RTN and account number for each deposit. Form 8888 is not required if the refund is to be deposited into a single account. Go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Split Refund Option page, for the software entries.

Direct deposit of a taxpayer's refund is to be made to an account (or accounts) only in the taxpayer's name. Advise taxpayers their refunds may only be deposited directly into their own accounts.

If the routing and account numbers are not valid, the refund will be delayed 4–6 weeks. If the direct deposit is rejected, a check will automatically be mailed to the address on the return.

Publication 4541, available for download on www.irs.gov, provides information about split refunds.

For information about My Retirement Account (myRA), refer to Form 8888 and its instructions, available for download on www.irs.gov. Taxpayers can now use the form to allocate refunds to a retirement account.

What if the taxpayer makes a mistake on the return that increases the amount of the refund?

The IRS recommends using electronic filing to avoid math errors and other common problems that can require adjustments to a return after it is filed. If an adjustment results in a larger refund than expected, the IRS adds the difference to the last account designated for direct deposit.

When an adjustment is made to a tax refund, the IRS sends a letter explaining any errors that resulted in the adjustment, as well as any changes made to the refund amount and the amount of each direct deposit.

What if the taxpayer makes a mistake on the return that decreases the amount of the refund?

If an adjustment results in a smaller than expected refund, the IRS uses a bottom-up rule and deducts the difference from the direct deposit amount designated for the last account shown on Form 8888. If the difference exceeds the amount designated for the last account, the IRS deducts the remainder from the amount designated to the next account, until the amount due is paid.

example

Joan's return shows a refund of $300 and she asks the IRS to split her refund among three accounts with $100 to each account. Due to an error, her refund is decreased by $150. The IRS will adjust her direct deposits as follows:

	Requested Direct Deposits	Actual Direct Deposits
Account 1	$100	$100
Account 2	$100	$50
Account 3	$100	0

The IRS will apply this same bottom-up rule to adjust direct deposits for refund offsets for unpaid federal taxes or if the Earned Income Credit (EIC) portion of the taxpayer's refund is withheld pending further review. After the EIC review, if a refund is allowed, it will be direct-deposited in the account listed first on Form 8888.

example

Bill asks that his refund of $780 be deposited into three different accounts: $300 into Account 1, $300 into Account 2, and $180 into Account 3. However, Bill owes federal taxes of $290 on an earlier tax year, and after this is offset, only $490 remains to be direct deposited. Account 3 will receive $0, Account 2 will receive $190, and Account 1 will receive $300.

example

Melanie is due a refund of $1,000; $700 of the refund is an Earned Income Credit (EIC). She asks that her refund be split into three different accounts: $500 into Account 1, $300 into Account 2, and $200 into Account 3. Melanie's EIC amount of $700 was held pending a review. So, $300 went to Account 1 and $0 went to Accounts 2 and 3. Later, when the IRS allowed her EIC refund amount, it was deposited into Account 1.

What happens if the taxpayer owes other debts like student loans or child support?

If the refund is decreased due to an offset to pay state income tax, child support, or certain federal nontax debts, such as student loans, then the decrease will be taken first from the account that appears first on the payment file received from the IRS. The IRS payment file orders accounts from the lowest to the highest routing number. If the debt exceeds the payment designated for the account that appears first on the payment file, the Treasury Department's Financial Management Service (FMS) will reduce the payment designated for the account that appears next.

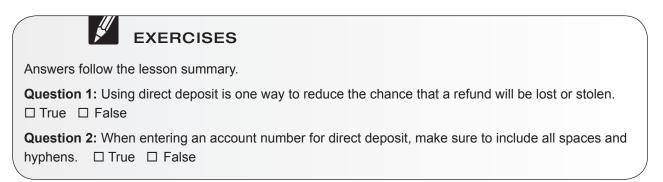

What should I watch out for?

Double-check the RTN of the financial institution before the return is transmitted if:

- · You are unfamiliar with the financial institution.
- The RTN is for a credit union that is payable through another financial institution. Taxpayers should contact their credit union for the correct RTN.
- If more than one account is selected for direct deposit, be sure that the amounts on Form 8888 equal the refund amount on Form 1040.

Financial institutions generally do not allow a joint refund to be deposited into an individual account. The IRS is not responsible if a financial institution refuses a direct deposit.

What do I need to know about the option to buy U.S. savings bonds with a federal tax refund?

IRS will provide taxpayers with an opportunity to purchase U.S. savings bonds with their tax refunds. Volunteers should review these guidelines to promote this asset-building opportunity as part of the filing season.

Taxpayers now have more choices, including the purchase of bonds for co-owners, such as children or grandchildren.

What are U.S. savings bonds?

U.S. savings bonds are savings instruments for individual savers issued by the U.S. Department of the Treasury. For purposes of this program, only Series I Savings Bonds will be offered.

Series I Savings Bonds are sold at face value (a $50 bond costs $50), and grow in value for up to 30 years. The bonds can be purchased in denominations of $50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000. In any single calendar year, taxpayers can purchase up to $5,000 of savings bonds of any denominations.

Series I Savings Bonds pay interest based on a combination of a fixed rate (which remains the same throughout the life of the savings bond) and a semiannual inflation rate, which is updated each May and November. Savings bonds accrue interest until redeemed or until they reach their final maturity in 30 years.

Savings bonds can be redeemed for principal and accrued earnings anytime after the first 12 months after date of purchase (unless the taxpayer lives in an area affected by natural disaster.) Also, if a savings bond is redeemed within the first five years, the three most recent months' interest will be forfeited. After five years, no penalty will apply.

How can purchases be made at VITA/TCE sites?

Taxpayers can choose to save part or all of their refunds by requesting savings bonds on Form 8888. The specific details on how to purchase savings bonds with a federal tax refund are included in the Form 8888 Instructions.

In addition to the three direct deposits, taxpayers can allocate their refund to request up to three different savings bond registrations and receive a check. Form 8888 is divided into separate parts to reflect this.

- Part I: Complete this part for direct deposit of a portion of a refund to one or more accounts.
- Part II: Complete this part to buy paper bonds with part of a refund. In addition to making bond purchases for themselves, taxpayers can make bond purchases and add beneficiaries or co-owners, and make bond purchases for someone other than themselves.
- Part III: Complete this part if taxpayers wish to receive part of their refund by check.
- Part IV: Total allocation of refund. Add the amounts for each part together; they must equal the total refund amount.

The Form 8888 Instructions provide directions for the specific information to include on the form for the purchase of savings bonds.

example

Mary's tax return shows she is due a refund of $548.00. She wants to buy a $500 savings bond. Using Form 8888, Mary can purchase the savings bond and elect to deposit the remaining $48 into her checking account.

How does the taxpayer receive the savings bonds?

Taxpayers will receive the amount they designated by mail in the form of U.S. Series I Savings Bonds. However, if taxpayers make an error in figuring their refund, the bond request is not a multiple of $50, or the refund is offset for any reason, this option will not apply and the entire amount of the refund will be sent to taxpayers in the form of a check.

When will requested bonds not be issued?

Bonds will not be issued if any of the following apply:

- The bond request is not a multiple of $50.
- More than one name is entered on line 5b, 5c, 6b, or 6c.
- · The refund is decreased because of a math error.
- The refund is offset for any reason.

Instead, the entire refund will be sent to the taxpayer in the form of a check.

If an error is made on the return and the amount of the refund is increased, the additional amount will be sent to the taxpayer in the form of a check.

Whom does the taxpayer contact if the savings bonds are not received?

The first step is to check the status of the refund by going to the "Where's My Refund" feature on www.irs. gov, or calling 1-800-829-1954. Taxpayers can generally get information about their refund 72 hours after the IRS acknowledges receipt of their e-filed return, or three to four weeks after mailing a paper return. If the IRS has processed the refund and placed the order for their savings bonds, taxpayers will need to contact the Treasury Retail Securities office at 1-800-245-2804 to inquire about the status of the savings bonds.

For additional information refer to Form 8888 or go to www.irs.gov.

How do I know if an amount is owed?

Taxpayers who owe money on their returns are often afraid and do not know what to do next. This is a good opportunity to advise the taxpayers of the various options for payment.

Tax Software Hint: The software automatically calculates the amount that is owed when the payment total is less than the amount of tax. Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Other Taxes and Payments tab, Form 1040, page 2 – Other Taxes and Payments section. Review the line for Amount You Owe.

Explain to taxpayers that the tax return will be filed now and that they should submit their payment of taxes due no later than April 15 (or the next business day if April 15 falls on Saturday, Sunday, or a legal holiday). Remind taxpayers that filing an extension of time to file does not extend the time for payment.

What forms of payment are acceptable?

The payment options are:

- · Check or money order submitted with Form 1040-V, Payment Voucher
- Electronic funds withdrawal
- · Credit card (fees may apply)
- Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS)

Guide for electronic funds withdrawal software entries.

IRS Direct Pay

Tax Software Hint: Go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Preparing the Return, to review the information on balance due returns. Be sure to the Return, to review the information on balance due returns. Be sure to read this reference and refer to it when preparing a return that has an amount owed; it provides more information on EFTPS. If using Electronic Funds Withdrawal, located at the bottom of Form 1040, page 2, indicate that the taxpayer wants to pay all or part of the taxes electronically. Refer to the Volunteer Resource

To avoid a penalty, taxpayers with an amount owed must file their return by the due date even if they cannot pay the full amount with the return.

Taxpayers who pay their income tax (including estimated tax) by credit or debit card can deduct the convenience fee charged by the card processor as a miscellaneous itemized deduction (subject to the 2% AGI floor).

Taxpayers should not mail cash with their returns.

Form 1040-V includes instructions and a table of IRS addresses.

What if the taxpayer cannot pay?

If taxpayers state that they cannot pay, first advise them to file the return and pay as much as they can with the return. This will reduce penalty and interest charges. Once they receive a notice, they can pay the remaining amount in full or choose another payment option if more time is needed.

Taxpayers who cannot pay the full amount owed, shown on Form 1040 in the Amount You Owe section, may request one of the following agreements:

- Pay in full within 120 days using the Online Payment Agreement Application (OPA) or calling. No fee is charged, but interest and penalties are charged on payments after the April due date.
- Monthly installment payments (established online using OPA or file Form 9465, Installment Agreement Request). A fee is charged for this option, in addition to interest and penalties.

Any amount of tax owed that is not paid by the April due date is subject to penalties and interest. Taxpayers who cannot pay should choose the option that is the least costly. For example, the 120-day pay-in-full option has no user fee.

Taxpayers who can show they will have a substantial financial difficulty if they pay their tax on the due date are considered to have an undue hardship. Such taxpayers can request an extension of time to pay by filing Form 1127, Application for Extension of Time for Payment of Tax Due to Undue Hardship, by the due date of the return. Remember, undue hardship is more than an inconvenience.

How do I handle Form 9465, Installment Agreement Request?

The following outlines key information related to an installment agreement.

- Taxpayers who owe can immediately establish an installment agreement online, using the Online Payment Agreement Application (OPA) on irs.gov. Taxpayers can also use OPA to agree to pay in full in up to 120 days. With OPA, there is no need to complete Form 9465. For more information, go to www.irs.
 gov and search for the term "OPA" or, on the "I need to" list, select "Set Up a Payment Agreement."
- If the return is being filed electronically, Form 9465 can also be included with the e-filed return.
- When filing a paper return, Form 9465 should be completed and attached to the front of the return before mailing.
- If the request is granted, the taxpayers must also pay a fee of $120, or $52 if payments are made by electronic funds withdrawal. If the taxpayers' income is below certain limits, they may qualify for a reduced fee of $43. Taxpayers can also request a reduced user fee of $43 by completing Form 13844, Application for Reduced User Fee for Installment Agreement. Taxpayers can obtain Form 13844 at www.
 irs.gov or by calling the IRS forms number at 1-800-829-3676.
- If the IRS approves the agreement, a notice is issued that provides details of the agreement and requests the user fee at that time.

Tax Software Hint: If the taxpayer chooses to apply for an installment agreement using Form 9465, the form can be e-filed. Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Preparing the Return tab, Balance Due Returns (amount owed on return) page.

Question 3: For which of the following will the taxpayer be charged a convenience fee?

- A. Direct deposit of a refund
- B. Electronic funds withdrawal of a tax payment
- C. Using a credit card to make a tax payment
- D. Using a personal check to make a tax payment

Taxpayer Interview and Tax Law Application

Seymour's Form 1040 shows his total tax is $450. His tax payments come to just $200. Therefore, Seymour owes $250.

SAMPLE INTERVIEW
VOLUNTEER SAYS	SEYMOUR RESPONDS
The amount of tax you owe is $250. You can either mail in a check or money order with the payment voucher, use electronic funds withdrawal, IRS Direct Pay, or call in a credit card payment. You'll have to pay an additional convenience fee for using a credit card.	Hmm. How does electronic funds withdrawal work? Does it come out of my account right away?
No, we can designate the date that the debit will occur, any time up to April 15. I would just need to see proof of account to verify your bank account information so I can include the routing and account numbers in your electronic return.	And there's no charge?
Right. And it saves you the trouble of mailing in the voucher with your payment.	Sounds good to me. But I don't have my checking account information with me. Maybe I should just mail in my payment.
You can do that too. Here's Form 1040-V, which has been completed for you. Make your check or money order payable to "United States Treasury." If it's not already printed on the check, make sure it shows your name, address and daytime phone number. Also, print your Social Security number and "Form 1040" with the applicable tax year on the front of your check. Then mail the payment with the voucher. I'll get the mailing address for you.	That doesn't seem too hard.
Just make sure it gets postmarked by the due date. I can e-file your tax return right now, but it's up to you to make sure you send in your payment on time.	Thank you for your help. I will make sure the payment is made on time.

How is the estimated tax penalty calculated?

The estimated tax penalty is calculated on Form 2210, Underpayment of Estimated Tax by Individuals, Estates, and Trusts, and reported on the applicable line in Form 1040, Amount You Owe section. While completion of Form 2210 is out of the scope of the VITA/TCE programs, it is important for volunteers to have an awareness of the estimated tax penalty provisions.

What is the Estimated Tax Penalty?

In most cases, taxpayers must make estimated tax payments if they expect to owe at least $1,000 in tax (after subtracting withholding and credits) and their withholding and credits will be less than the smaller of:

- 90% of the tax shown on the current tax return or
- 100% of the tax shown on the prior year's tax return (110% for certain higher-income taxpayers; see Form 1040-ES)

An estimated tax penalty may apply if the taxpayer does not make estimated tax payments as required.

There are special situations when a taxpayer will not have to pay a penalty. See Form 2210 Instructions or Publication 17 for more information.

example

Mark's total tax is $1,657 for the current tax year. His withholding is $417. He owes $1,240. His prior year's tax was $2,000. Mark will probably be charged an estimated tax penalty because the amount he owes is over $1,000 and his withholding and credits are less than 90% of his current year tax or 100% of his prior year tax.

Do I have to calculate the estimated tax penalty?

Because Form 2210 is complicated, leave the estimated tax penalty line blank on Form 1040. This will not prevent the IRS from calculating the penalty if it is due. Let the taxpayer know that a penalty may be owed, and if so, the IRS will send a notice.

Tax Software Hint: Form 2210, line 9 should default to $0, to prevent volunteer preparers from calculating the estimated tax penalty. The desktop software defaults are preset when the software is issued, but they are sometimes changed. If necessary, volunteers can reset this default back to $0.

Form 2210 is no longer included with the estimated tax penalty notice. Refer taxpayers who need assistance with Form 2210 to a professional tax preparer.

For the online tax program, the default is set on the Master Template. However, not all sites use the Master Template. Volunteers in sites that do not use the Master Template will need to set this default manually.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 4: Dion's total tax liability is $1,044. After withholding, she owes $640. This means Dion might have to pay a penalty for underpayment of estimated tax. □ True □ False

How can taxpayers make sure the correct amount of tax is withheld?

There are several ways to pay taxes during the year to avoid having a balance due when the return is filed. Depending on the taxpayer's situation, here are some suggestions:

- Taxpayers whose income is mostly from wages or pensions can adjust their withholding
- Taxpayers whose income is mostly from self-employment or investments can make or increase their estimated tax payments
- · A combination of increased withholding and estimated tax payments may work best for some taxpayers

Recipients of annuity, pension, or certain other deferred compensation payments use these forms to tell payers the correct amount of federal income tax to withhold: Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate, and if applicable, Form W-4P, Withholding Certificate for Pension or Annuity Payments, and Form W-4V, Voluntary Withholding Request. Each form includes the following types of information the employer uses to figure the taxpayer's correct withholding:

- Marital status (married taxpayers may request the employer to withhold at the higher single rate)
- Withholding allowances the taxpayer claims
- · Any additional amount to be withheld
- · Qualification of exempt status

The amount of tax the employer withholds from the taxpayer's wages depends on:

- · The amount of pay the taxpayer earns
- · How often the taxpayer is paid
- · The taxpayer's information entered on Form W-4

When should taxpayers submit a revised Form W-4 to their employer?

The taxpayers may submit a new Form W-4 whenever they want to increase or decrease the withholding amount.

Life events such as a change in marital status, birth of a child, or purchase of a home will change exemptions, adjustments, deductions, and credits on the tax return. These taxpayers should submit a revised Form W-4 to their employer.

In some situations, getting the right amount withheld is difficult if:

- The taxpayers are married and both work
- The taxpayers have more than one job
- The tax law regarding deductions or credits changes

Refer to Form W-4 instructions to see the applicable lines a taxpayer must complete to revise Form W-4.

TIP

Publication 17, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax chapter, has more information on this topic. Taxpayers can go to the withholding calculator on www.irs.gov to help calculate the correct withholding.

example

Mary was claiming an allowance for her son on her Form W-4. Mary will not be able to claim her son as a dependent on next year's return. Mary will change her Form W-4 to reduce the number of allowances and submit it to her employer.

example

John works two full-time jobs. He reviews his withholding and realizes he will not have enough tax withheld. He gives his employer a revised Form W-4 to increase his withholding so he will not owe money when he files his return.

How do taxpayers request an increase or decrease in withholding for other income payments?

Taxpayers can use the following withholding forms to request a change in their withholding on other types of income.

- Form W-4P, Withholding Certificate for Pension or Annuity Payments
- Form W-4S, Request for Federal Income Tax Withholding from Sick Pay
- Form W-4V, Voluntary Withholding Request (generally used for certain government payments)

Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Balance Due Returns, for guidance on helping taxpayers avoid a balance due. Advise taxpayers to use the withholding calculator on www.irs.gov to check their withholding for next year. If they need to adjust the amount withheld, suggest they submit a revised Form W-4, and if appropriate, help them complete the revised Form W-4.

When should the taxpayer make estimated tax payments?

Estimated tax is the amount a taxpayer expects to owe for the tax year after deducting any tax credits or federal withholding. Taxpayers with significant income that is not subject to withholding (such as interest, dividends, capital gains, or self-employment income) will often find they need to make estimated tax payments.

The decision tree in Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax for Individuals, and Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Taxes, can help determine if the taxpayer should make estimated tax payments. See the Payments lesson for more information.

example

Maria is retired, and her only income is from a pension and some investments. She had no withholding and is not eligible for any tax credits. When you complete her return this year, she has a balance due of $1,300. Maria should begin making estimated payments, since her balance due next year will be more than $1,000, and she has no withholding. If Maria does not want to make estimated payments, she could submit Form W-4P to request withholding from her pension instead.

How is estimated tax figured?

Use Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals, to compute the amount of estimated tax that should be paid over the year. This form includes worksheets to help taxpayers estimate their income and tax liability for the year. The current year's tax return can be used as a starting point, but any anticipated changes should also be taken into account. Taxpayers may also have to adjust their payments during the tax year if a change in income or the tax law will affect their tax liability.

For additional information on estimated tax payments, refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Preparing the Return tab.

What is the Third Party Designee?

For taxpayers who want to allow a friend, a family member, or another person to discuss their tax return with the IRS, the "Yes" box of the Third Party Designee area of the return can be checked. You may see this situation in the case of an individual going overseas, a personal representative (executor) filing a return for a deceased taxpayer, or elderly parents who wish to have their adult child handle their affairs. You will also need to enter the name, phone number, and any five numbers the designees choose as their Personal Identification Number (PIN).

Volunteer preparers must never be designated as a third party designee.

See Publication 17 for information on what the taxpayer is authorizing when designating a third party designee.

How can I avoid common errors?

Double- and triple-check the routing number and account number for direct deposit and electronic funds withdrawal. Have the taxpayers compare the numbers entered on the return to their checks or other account information. If an error is made in the bank information, taxpayers must work with the bank to resolve any misdirected funds.

Summary

Refunds

If the payments made exceed the amount of tax, then the amount of the overpayment is entered on the overpaid line in the Refund section of Form 1040.

Taxpayers can choose to apply any portion of their overpayment to the following tax year or receive their refund as a check or direct deposit. Direct deposits can be split among as many as three different accounts by using Form 8888.

For direct deposit of the refund, enter the Routing Transit Number (RTN) and Depositor Account Number (DAN) on the Main Information Sheet and Form 1040, page 2. Use a check as proof of account. When the return is printed, this information will appear on the applicable lines in Form 1040, Refund section.

Taxpayers can use their federal tax refund to buy U.S. savings bonds for themselves or others, such as children or grandchildren. They do not need to have a bank account or an existing account with Treasury.

Review Form 8888 for more information about splitting a refund and the purchase of savings bonds. Form 8888 can be downloaded from www.irs.gov.

Amount Owed

If the payment total is less than the amount of tax owed, then tax software shows the balance due amount on the applicable line in the Amount You Owe section of Form 1040 and generates a copy of Form 1040-V, which is used for mail-in tax payments.

Taxpayers are often very anxious if they owe tax on their return. Take the time to provide the various payment options to taxpayers in this situation.

Explain to taxpayers that the tax return can be electronically filed now but that they should submit their payment of taxes by the due date of the return. They can pay with a check or money order, with Form 1040-V, electronic funds withdrawal, credit card, or Direct Pay.

Taxpayers who are unable to pay may request an additional 120 days to pay, or complete Form 9465 for an installment agreement. This request can be made with an e-filed return, or by using the Online Payment Agreement feature on www.irs.gov.

Interest and penalties are charged on amounts not paid by the due date. There are fees associated with certain payment options.

Estimated Tax Penalty

Form 2210, line 9 should default to $0 to prevent volunteers from calculating the estimated tax penalty. The desktop software defaults are preset when the software is issued. For the online tax program, the default is set on the master template.

If it appears taxpayers may owe an estimated tax penalty, let them know the IRS will calculate the penalty and send a bill. Completion of Form 2210 is out of scope. Refer taxpayers who need assistance with Form 2210 to a professional tax preparer.

Adjusting Tax Withholding

Advise taxpayers who did not have enough tax withheld to submit a revised Form W-4 (to their employer) or Form W-4P (to a pension payer). Use the withholding calculator on www.irs.gov to calculate the correct withholding amount.

Taxpayers with significant income that is not subject to withholding (such as interest, dividends, capital gains, or self-employment income) may find they need to make estimated tax payments. Use Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals, to compute the amount of estimated tax that should be paid over the year.

Third Party Designee

Taxpayers can authorize a friend, a family member, or another person to discuss their return with the IRS. Volunteers should never designate themselves as a Third Party Designee.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following is out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

· Form 2210, Underpayment of Estimated Tax by Individuals, Estates, and Trusts

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

To gain a better understanding of the tax law, complete the comprehensive problem or practice exercise(s) for your course of study in Publication 4491-W.

For practice using the tax preparation software, complete the scenarios using the Practice Lab on L<.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: True. Direct deposit is safer since there is no check to be lost or stolen.

Answer 2: False. Enter the account number from left to right, leaving out all spaces and special characters.

Answer 3: C. The credit card processor covers its costs by assessing a "convenience fee" to taxpayers using this system. Taxpayers will be advised of the amount of this fee when they call the interactive voice response system.

Answer 4: False. The tax Dion owes is less than $1,000, so she does not have to pay a penalty.

Concluding the Interview

Introduction

In this lesson, you will receive insights and information for concluding your interview with the taxpayer.

Using the tools discussed in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Preparing the Return tab, share the following with the taxpayers:

- · Which records/documents they should keep and why
- What documentation is maintained at the site why, how long, etc.
- What they need to know and do if they overpaid their taxes (e.g., refund cycle dates, increasing the number of exemptions on Form W-4 to avoid overpayments). See the Refund and Amount of Tax Owed lesson for additional information.
- What they need to know and do if they owe additional taxes (e.g., payment due date, estimated tax payments, and reducing the number of exemptions on Form W-4 to increase withholding). See the Payments lesson for additional information.

These are important tasks to accomplish after the tax return is completed, quality reviewed, and ready to be filed. The way that you conclude the interview can impact taxpayers' attitudes toward the taxpaying experience and their satisfaction with the volunteer tax return assistance program. It can also make next year's tax preparation easier for taxpayers and the volunteer who assists them.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Assemble the taxpayer's copy of the tax return
- Identify the records the site maintains
- Explain to taxpayers which records they should maintain
- · End the interview

What do I need?

- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 4491-W
- □ Publication 730
- □ Form 1040-V

Optional:

- □ Form 8332
- □ Form 8879
- □ Form 9465

How do I prepare the e-filing packet?

Volunteer tax assistance sites use tax software to create and e-file tax returns. Even so, taxpayers must retain paper copies of their returns. Follow the steps in Publication 4012, Preparing the Return, to prepare the packet. In general:

- 1. Use tax software to print the entire return, including all forms, schedules, and attachments
- 2. Make sure the taxpayer names and Social Security numbers are correct
- 3. Assemble the packet:
 - Start with Form 1040 on top
 - Place each form, schedule, and attachment in the proper sequence, based on the sequence number shown in the upper right corner of the form

4. Show the taxpayers the printed copy of the tax return, verifying once more the name, SSN, ITIN, address, filing status, dependents, income, expenses, deductions, credits, payments, and tax refund or balance due.

Who keeps the records?

What forms should taxpayers keep?

Taxpayers must keep records to prove their income and expenses. If they own a home or investments, their records should contain information needed to calculate the basis of the property.

Advise taxpayers to keep a copy of the following documents for at least three years:

- Form 1040 with all forms, schedules, and attachments.
- All other tax-related documents, including Forms W-2 and 1099.
- · If applicable:
 - Form 8332, Release/Revocation of Release of Claim to Exemption for Child by Custodial Parent
 - Power of Attorney
- For e-file returns, taxpayers must also keep a copy of the signed Form 8879, IRS e-file Signature Authorization. This form is not needed if the self-select personal identification number (PIN) method is used.

If Publication 730, Important Tax Records Envelope, or an alternative is available, place the return and supporting documents into that envelope.

Advise taxpayers to bring the envelope to the site next year.

What tax return data will the site keep?

The site will keep the following data confidential and in a secure location until December 31 of the current year, except as noted:

- A master backup disk containing all electronically transmitted returns unless the site is using an internet-based software.
- Signed copies of IRC 7216, Consent to Disclose and Consent to Use Notices, are recommended to be retained for three years.

The site is no longer required by IRS to retain signed copies of Form 8879.

How do I close the contact?

Before seeing taxpayers off:

- Ask taxpayers, "Do you have any questions before you leave?"
- If the taxpayer is expecting a refund, provide instructions about how to check on the refund status at irs.gov "Where's my Refund?"
- If the taxpayer has a balance due on the current or prior year return, provide information about various payment options.
- Advise taxpayers how to get answers to questions that may come up later.
- Encourage taxpayers to consider volunteering if they seem interested in learning more about tax preparation. Provide them with contact information or take their contact information, depending on your site's procedures.

- Ensure that you have the contact information needed to reach taxpayers in case there are any problems with e-filing the return.
- · Thank taxpayers for using the service.

Does the taxpayer have to do anything else?

Give taxpayers a brief explanation of how the e-file process works:

- The Site Coordinator or designee transmits all the e-file returns.
- The Site Coordinator or designee receives an acknowledgment for each successful e-file, or a reject notice if there was a problem with the electronic file. The most common problem is a name or Social Security number that does not match IRS records.
- If the e-file is rejected, the Site Coordinator or designee will contact the taxpayer to resolve the problem, if necessary.
- If the return is not being e-filed, taxpayers must mail the signed copy of the tax return, along with copy B of all Forms W-2 and any Forms 1099 with withholding. Taxpayers who are filing a state return may need another copy of the return and Forms W-2. Make sure taxpayers know the correct address for mailing the return(s). Advise taxpayers that the return must be postmarked by the April filing due date.

Summary

Concluding the interview properly ensures that taxpayers have a complete record of the return, understand what will happen next, and know how to get answers to questions that come up later. If you handle the interview well, it can help taxpayers develop a more positive attitude toward the tax experience, which can foster greater accuracy in returns and timeliness in filing.

You should know how to assemble the tax packet and how to end the interview. The taxpayers should leave with instructions on:

- Which records the site is maintaining
- · Which tax records they should maintain

Military Finishing and Filing the Return

Introduction

This lesson will help you address special filing concerns of United States service members. To do this you need to determine where and when to file a federal tax return, who qualifies for a deadline extension, and who qualifies for special tax benefits.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Identify the special tax filing concerns of members of the Armed Forces
- Describe the extensions to file that are available for members of the Armed Forces
- · Determine the effect on taxes of being in a combat zone
- Identify the tax forgiveness provisions related to military or terrorist actions

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- ☐ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 3
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 4491-W
- □ Form 1040
- □ Form 2848
- □ Form 4868
- □ Form 8822

Optional:

□ Form 1040 Instructions

Where and when should members of the Armed Forces file their returns?

Where should the taxpayer file the return?

Members of the Armed Forces should send their federal returns to the service center for where they currently live. Refer to the Form 1040 Instructions for the appropriate address.

The address may be different depending on if the taxpayer encloses a payment or if the military member is stationed overseas with an APO or FPO address.

Many military facilities have a Volunteer Income Tax Assistance center that will e-file tax returns.

example

Sergeant Kane, who is stationed in Maine but whose permanent home address is in California, should send her federal return to the service center for Maine.

When should the taxpayer file the return?

Most individual tax returns cover a calendar year, January through December.

Calendar-year taxpayers who live in the United States or Puerto Rico should file their individual tax returns by the April due date of the following year.

Taxpayers who have a balance due can pay by check, money order, electronic funds withdrawal, or credit card.

If April 15 falls on a weekend or holiday, then the due date is the next business day. For tax year 2015, the due date is April 18, 2016.

What action should be taken when a member of the Armed Forces moves?

Taxpayers who changed their mailing address during the year should notify the IRS of the change on Form 8822, Change of Address.

Taxpayers who move after filing a tax return should fill out and mail Form 8822 to the IRS service center for the state where their returns were previously filed. The service centers' addresses are listed on page 2 of the form.

If the postal service does not deliver to the taxpayer's street address and the taxpayer has a post office box, enter the post office box number on the line for the present home address.

EXERCISE

Answers are after the lesson summary.

Question 1: Tony, who is due a refund, filed his tax return from his home address in Florida on March 12. On March 30 he was transferred to Puerto Rico. Where should Tony submit his Form 8822, Change of Address?

- A. To the IRS service center for Florida
- B. To the IRS service center for Puerto Rico
- C. Either of the above

What do members of the Armed Forces need to know about getting a refund or having an amount of tax owed on their returns?

Members of the Armed Forces who you assist may be entitled to a refund or owe tax. In either case they have several choices on how to get their refund or pay the amount they owe. It is important that volunteers are familiar with those choices to better help taxpayers understand their refund and payment options. This information was covered in the Refund and Amount of Tax Owed lesson. Refer to this lesson to review these options.

What are the extension requirements for taxpayers within the U. S.?

Taxpayers can receive extensions of time to file their returns. Different rules apply to taxpayers who live in the U.S. and those who live outside the U.S.

The IRS will charge interest on taxes not paid by the due date, even if an extension of time to file is granted. The only exception is when the combat zone extension applies.

See Publication 3, Armed Forces Tax Guide which is a helpful resource for those assisting members of the Armed Forces.

How does a taxpayer get an automatic extension?

Taxpayers living in the United States can receive an automatic six-month extension of time to file their federal tax returns.

To get the automatic extension, taxpayers must file Form 4868, Application for Automatic Extension of Time To File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, by the due date for their tax return (usually April 15). Calendar-year taxpayers who take the extension will have until October 15 to file their tax return.

Taxpayers cannot use the automatic six-month extension if they:

- · Choose to have the IRS figure their tax or
- · Are under a court order to file their returns by the regular due date

There are three ways to request an automatic extension of time to file a U.S. individual income tax return:

- e-File Form 4868.
- Pay all or part of the estimated income tax due using a credit or debit card. See "How to Make a Payment" on page 3 of Form 4868.
- · File a paper Form 4868.

See Form 4868 for details.

Will the taxpayer owe interest and/or penalties?

Although taxpayers are not required to pay the amount they estimate as due, Form 4868 does not extend the time to pay their taxes. If taxpayers do not pay the amount due by the regular due date, they will owe interest.

In addition, taxpayers may be charged a late-payment penalty if the amount of tax paid before the due date (from withheld taxes or estimated tax payments) is less than 90% of the actual tax owed.

For more details on penalties, refer to filing information in Publication 17.

If Form 4868 is filed late, the IRS will inform the taxpayer that the request was denied.

Question 2: True or False? Interest is charged on the balance remaining after the due date of the return. □ True □ False Question 3: Which of the following calendar-year taxpayers can receive an automatic six-month extension?

- A. Avery, who filed Form 4868 in February and chose to have the IRS figure his taxes
- B. Benton, who filed Form 4868 on April 15 and did not include any tax payments
- C. Calvin, who filed Form 4868 on April 20 and included a tax payment that was over 90% of what he owed
- D. None of the above

How does the taxpayer file the return after obtaining a filing extension?

When the tax return is actually filed, any payment that was submitted with Form 4868 should be entered on the applicable line for amounts paid with extension on Form 1040. This line is located on Form 1040, Payments section.

Tax Software Hint: For instructions on filing an extension using the tax software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Other Returns tab, Filing for an Extension.

What are the extension requirements for taxpayers outside the U.S. and Puerto Rico?

Extension requirements for taxpayers who live outside the United States and Puerto Rico differ from those who live inside the U.S.

Who qualifies for an automatic two-month extension?

U.S. citizens and resident aliens are allowed an automatic two-month extension to file their return if they are:

- Living outside the U.S. and Puerto Rico on the due date of the return, and their main place of business or assigned post of duty is outside the U.S. and Puerto Rico
- Members of the Armed Forces on duty outside of the U.S. and Puerto Rico on the due date of the tax return

Although calendar-year taxpayers in this situation don't have to file or pay until June 15, they will owe interest charged from the April due date to the date the tax is paid. Form 4868 is not required to obtain this automatic two-month extension to file.

What must taxpayers attach to their return?

Taxpayers using the automatic two-month extension must attach a statement to their return stating that they meet the requirements previously discussed in the section "Who qualifies for an automatic two-month extension" above.

Traveling outside the United States and Puerto Rico on the due date does not qualify the taxpayer for an automatic two-month extension.

What is the extension rule for married taxpayers?

For married taxpayers who file jointly, only one spouse needs to meet the requirements to take advantage of the automatic extension to June 15.

For married taxpayers who file separately, only the spouse who meets the requirements qualifies for the automatic extension. If both spouses meet the requirements, each may take advantage of the extension.

How can a taxpayer request an additional extension?

Taxpayers who live outside the U.S. and Puerto Rico and whose main place of business or assigned tour of duty is outside the U.S. and Puerto Rico can also request an additional extension by filing Form 4868 by the automatic extension date of June 15 and checking the "out of the country" and a U.S. citizen or resident box.

The due date will then be extended to October 15.

Question 4: Which of the following calendar-year taxpayers has until June 15 to file a tax return? (Select all that apply.)

- A. Weston, who files a joint return with his wife, Sheila. She was stationed in the Philippines from January through May, and they paid their taxes by credit card on April 2.
- B. Lilly, who lives in Mexico from January through April working for a company, returning to her main business in Texas on May 1.
- C. Dwayne, who was stationed in South Korea from July 1 through January 31.
- D. None of the above.

Question 5: Pvt. Franklin, a U.S. citizen, is a calendar-year taxpayer. What would the due date be for him to file a return if his assigned tour is in Puerto Rico?

A. April 15

B. June 15

C. June 16

How should the IRS be notified about combat zone service?

The IRS works with the Department of Defense to identify taxpayers who are serving in a combat zone, so the IRS may suspend compliance actions, such as audits or enforced collections, until 180 days after the taxpayer has left the zone.

Taxpayers qualifying for such combat zone relief may also notify the IRS directly of their status through a special e-mail address: combatzone@irs.gov. They should provide name, stateside address, date of birth, and date of deployment to the combat zone. They should not include any Social Security numbers in an e-mail. This notification may be made by the taxpayer, spouse, or authorized agent or representative.

The IRS cannot provide tax account information by e-mail. The IRS will send responses to any questions about the taxpayer's account by regular mail to the address on record for the person, within two business days. The IRS may provide general answers to questions regarding the status of individual combat zone updates via e-mail.

What are the tax options for combat zone participants?

For members of the Armed Forces serving in a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area, the deadline for filing tax returns, paying taxes, filing claims for refunds, and taking other actions with the IRS is automatically extended.

The deadline for taking action with the IRS is extended 180 days after the later of:

- · The last day in a combat zone/qualified hazardous duty area
- The last day of any continuous hospitalization for injury from service in a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area

In addition to the 180-day extension, the deadline is also extended by the number of days that were left to take the action with the IRS when the taxpayer entered a combat zone (or began performing qualifying service outside the combat zone). If a taxpayer entered the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area before the period of time to take action began, the deadline is extended by the entire period of the time to take action.

Generally, spouses of individuals who served in a combat zone are entitled to the same deadline extension. There are two exceptions:

- Any tax year beginning more than two years after the date the area ceases to be a combat zone
- · Any period the qualifying individual is hospitalized in the U.S. for injuries incurred in a combat zone

In these instances, the extension does not apply to a spouse.

example

Captain Kristina Jones entered a combat zone on December 1, 2012. She remained there through March 31, 2014, when she departed for the U.S. She was not injured and did not return to the combat zone. Her deadlines for filing 2012, 2013, and 2014 returns are:

- 2012 tax return deadline is January 10, 2015. This deadline is extended by 285 days (180 plus 105) after the Captain's last day in the combat zone. The 105 additional days are the number of days in the 3½ month filing period that were left when she entered the combat zone (January 1–April 15, 2013).
- 2013 tax return deadline is January 10, 2015; the deadline is extended by 285 days (180 plus 105).
- 2014 tax return deadline is not extended because the 180-day extension period after March 31, 2014, ends on September 27, 2014 (which is before the start of the next filing period, January 1– April 15, 2015).

Publication 3 will provide additional information for combat zone extension of deadlines.

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 6: If a member of the Armed Forces served in a combat zone from December 30, 2012 through May 31, 2014 and was not injured, the deadline for filing a 2012 tax return would be extended by how many days?

Request Publication 3 if you prepare returns at a military site. There are many special provisions that apply to service personnel and this publication is a valuable reference.

What are other tax options for combat zone participants?

Other situations that count as time served in a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area are:

- · Missing status such as missing in action or prisoner of war time counts as time served
- Support personnel including Red Cross, accredited correspondents, and civilian personnel acting under the direction of the Armed Forces
- Hospitalization outside the U.S. and up to five years of hospitalization in the U.S. as a result of an injury while serving in a combat zone or a contingency operation

When can taxes be deferred?

Reservists called to active duty and enlistees in the Armed Forces might qualify for a deferral of taxes owed if they can show that their ability to pay taxes was affected by their military service. The Service Members Civil Relief Act provides this benefit. The act covers active duty members of the military services and commissioned officers of the uniformed services.

What are rules for deferment?

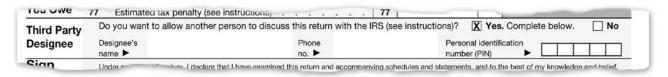

The deferral is not automatic; a taxpayer must apply for it. A taxpayer must have received a notice of tax due, or have an installment agreement with the IRS, before applying for the deferral. When applying, the taxpayer must:

- · Be performing military service, and
- · Show how the member's ability to pay the income tax has been materially affected by military service

The IRS will review each request and advise the taxpayer in writing of its decision. The service member will then be allowed up to 180 days after termination or release from military service to pay the tax. If the tax is paid in full by the end of the deferral period, no interest or penalty will be charged for that period.

Can other parties assist with a tax return?

If a taxpayer wants a third party designee to discuss a tax return with the IRS, the "Yes" box in the Third Party Designee area of the return must be checked. Also, the taxpayer must provide the designee's name, phone number, and any five numbers the designee chooses as a personal identification number. Volunteers may not be named as a "Third Party Designee."

Form 2848, Power of Attorney and Declaration of Representative, may also be used to grant authority to an individual to represent the taxpayer before the IRS and to receive tax information. If the return is e-filed, a copy of Form 2848 must be attached to Form 8453, U.S. Individual Income Tax Transmittal Form for an IRS e-file Return, and mailed to the IRS.

Use caution when allowing a representative to sign for someone. See Signatures in the Filing Information chapter in Publication 17 for more information.

If it is not possible to obtain a signature for a joint return from a spouse serving in a combat zone, a signed authorization to act on the taxpayer's behalf can be accepted. The IRS also accepts a written statement explaining that the spouse is serving in a combat zone. The statement must be signed by the spouse who is not serving in a combat zone and attached to the return.

What are the tax forgiveness provisions for decedents?

Special tax-forgiveness provisions apply to individuals who die:

- While serving in a combat zone, or from wounds, disease, or other injury incurred while serving in a combat zone
- As a result of wounds or injuries incurred in a terrorist or military action while working for the U.S. government

The forgiveness applies to:

- The tax year death occurred and
- Any earlier tax year in the period beginning with the year before the year in which the wounds or injury occurred forgiveness.

Only the decedent's part of the joint income tax liability is eligible for the refund or tax

Any forgiven tax liability that has already been paid, will be refunded.

In addition, any unpaid taxes for years ending before the member began service in a combat zone will be forgiven, and any of those taxes that are paid after the date of death will be refunded.

The tax forgiveness provision also applies to those taxpayers serving outside the combat zone if the service:

- Was in direct support of military operations in the zone and
- Qualified the member for special military pay for duty subject to hostile fire, imminent danger, and/or terrorist actions

EXERCISES (continued)

Question 7: Mr. Morris, a civilian employee of the United States, died in 2013 as a result of injuries he suffered during a terrorist attack in 2011. What years are Mr. Morris' income liabilities forgiven?

- A. 2012 through 2013
- B. 2012 through 2014
- C. 2011 through 2014

What are the rules for filing a return for decedents?

The personal representative must file the final income tax return for the year of death and any returns not filed for preceding years. A surviving spouse may have to file the returns for the decedent.

To make a claim, the decedent's representative must file:

- · A tax return for each year a tax return has not yet been filed
- Form 1040X for each year an income tax return has already been filed

If an individual died after the tax year, but before the return for that year was filed, the return for the tax year is not the final return; it is a regular return. The return for the year the taxpayer died will be the final tax return.

example

Bob died in February 2014. His 2013 tax return – due on April 15, 2014 – is not the final tax return. The final tax return would be the 2014 Form 1040, filed in 2015.

The final tax return is due at the same time the decedent's return would have been due had the death not occurred.

Tax Software Hint: For software entries related to filing a decedent's return, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Exemptions/Dependency tab, Main Information Sheet (first 2 pages).

For information on signing a joint return if one spouse has died or cannot sign the return, see Publication 17 Index, keyword: Signatures.

Summary

This lesson will help you determine special filing concerns for members of the U.S. Armed Forces.

- Members of the Armed Forces should send their federal returns to the service center for where they currently live.
- Most taxpayers who live in the U.S. or Puerto Rico should file their individual tax returns by April 15, unless that date falls on a weekend or holiday.
- Taxpayers who changed their mailing address should notify the IRS of the change on Form 8822, Change of Address.
- Taxpayers have options for receiving their refund or for paying a balance due. Be sure to review the Refund or Amount of Tax Owed lesson.
- The extension rules vary depending on whether the taxpayer lives in the U.S. or outside the U.S.
- The taxpayer, spouse, authorized agent, or representative can notify the IRS about combat zone service by sending an email to combatzone@irs.gov. Social security numbers should not be included in the email.
- For members of the Armed Forces serving in a combat zone or Qualified Hazardous Duty Area, deadlines for taking action with the IRS are automatically extended until 180 days (plus any time remaining to take action) from the time the member leaves the combat zone/qualified hazardous duty area.
- The income tax liability of a member of the Armed Forces is forgiven if a member dies as a result of service in a combat zone or from a terrorist or military action outside the U.S.
- The terrorist or military action forgiveness also applies to an individual who is a U.S. employee at death and dies from wounds or injuries incurred in a terrorist or military action regardless of where the action occurred.

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

To gain a better understanding of the tax law, complete the comprehensive problem or practice exercise(s) for your course of study in Publication 4491-W.

For practice using the tax preparation software, complete the scenarios using the Practice Lab on L<.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: A. Because he already filed his return from his previous address, Tony should submit Form 8822 to the service center for his previous address.

Answer 2: True. If the tax is paid after the regular due date, interest is charged from the regular due date to the date the tax is paid.

Answer 3: B. To get the extension, taxpayers must file Form 4868 by the return's due date. They do not have to pay their tax when submitting Form 4868, but they will owe interest on any tax not paid by the due date.

Answer 4: A. For Weston and Sheila, who file jointly, only one spouse needs to meet the requirements to take advantage of the automatic extension. In scenario B, Lilly does not qualify for the two-month automatic extension since her main place of business is Texas. In scenario C, Dwayne does not qualify for the automatic two-month extension because he was back in the U.S. on the due date.

Answer 5: A. April 15. Taxpayers who live and/or assigned in the U.S. or Puerto Rico should file their individual tax returns by April 15, unless that date falls on a weekend or holiday.

Answer 6: The deadline for filing the 2012 tax return is 180 days plus the number of days remaining for the Armed Forces member to take action after entering the combat zone. The deadline for 2012 is extended 285 days (180 plus 105) after leaving the combat zone, to March 12, 2014. The 105 additional days are the number of days in the 3½ month filing period that were left when the taxpayer entered the combat zone on December 30 (January–April 15, 2013).

Answer 7: C. 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014.

Amended and Prior Year Returns

Introduction

This lesson will help you determine how to amend a federal income tax return regardless of where the original return was prepared. In addition, this lesson provides guidance on preparing prior year returns for the previous three years provided the taxpayer has the applicable required materials. The site may prepare returns beyond the three previous years if taxpayers have the required materials for those years.

If a taxpayer requests your help in filing an amended return, first confirm the original return is within the scope of the VITA/TCE programs regarding amendments. Ask the taxpayer what errors or omissions they wish to correct, and examine the return carefully to determine if the original return is, in fact, incorrect.

To amend a return, use the latest revision of Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

- Identify when it is appropriate to prepare an amended return, Form 1040X
- Determine the time limits for filing Form 1040X
- Identify how to assemble and submit Form 1040X
- Provide guidance when preparing prior year returns
- · Identify when it is appropriate to a file prior year return

What do I need?

- □ Intake and Interview Sheet
- □ Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- □ Publication 17
- □ Publication 4491-W
- ☐ Form 1040X
- ☐ Form 1040X Instructions

Optional:

- □ Form 1040 Instructions
- □ Form 8379

When is an amended return required?

Taxpayers should file amended returns using Form 1040X to correct any errors or omissions on a return they have already filed.

An amended return is not always required when the original return has an error. For example, the IRS will usually correct a math error on a return, or they will write the taxpayer and request a missing schedule or form. In these cases, do not amend the return. If taxpayers receive a notice from the IRS, refer them to the contact person and telephone number on the notice.

File an amended return if taxpayers:

- Received another Form W-2, a corrected Form W-2, or another income statement that was not reported on the original return
- Received an additional Form 1099 (such as unemployment compensation) or a corrected Form 1099 that was not reported on the original return
- Claimed their own personal exemption on the return when someone else was entitled to claim it
- Claimed deductions or credits they should not have claimed
- · Did not claim deductions or credits they could have claimed, or
- Should have used a different filing status

If the federal return has to be amended, often the state return must also be amended.

Taxpayers in a same-sex marriage may choose to be treated as married for federal tax purposes and file original or amended returns for one or more prior tax years still open under the statute of limitations.

Additionally, if an employer provided health coverage for an employee's same-sex spouse, the employee may claim a refund of income taxes paid on the value of coverage that would have been excluded from income had the employee's spouse been recognized as the employee's legal spouse for tax purposes.

example

Two weeks after Bernard's current-year tax return was filed, he received another Form W-2 in the mail. The volunteer tax preparer reviews Bernard's file to be sure the Form W-2 wasn't included on the original return. The volunteer then helps Bernard prepare Form 1040X to include the additional Form W-2 on the current-year return.

After the due date of the original return, a taxpayer can change from Married Filing Separately to Married Filing Jointly, but cannot change from Married Filing Jointly to Married Filing Separately. However, an executor may be able to make this change for a deceased spouse. Refer to Publication 17 for more information.

Is an amended return needed for injured spouse situations?

When a joint return is filed and only one spouse owes a past due amount such as child support, an education loan, or prior year's taxes, the spouse who is not obligated for the debt can be considered an "injured spouse." The couple should have filed Form 8379, Injured Spouse Allocation, with their original return. If they did not file Form 8379, and one of them qualifies as an injured spouse, file Form 8379 by itself. Do not attach the form to Form 1040X.

However, if the couple is filing Form 1040X for an additional refund not associated with the original injured spouse claim, and they do not want the injured spouse's portion of the overpayment to be applied to the offset against the spouse, then complete and attach another Form 8379 to Form 1040X. See Publication 17, Form 8379, and Form 1040X Instructions for further information.

How do I start?

To file an amended return, you need a copy of the original return and the information that needs to be changed.

- Begin by researching and verifying the change requested by the taxpayer. Review the intake and interview sheet with the taxpayer and use the Volunteer Resource Guide and Publication 17 to make sure that what the taxpayer wants to change is correct.
- Ask probing questions, using the interview techniques and tools discussed in the Volunteer Resource Guide, to get all the facts before preparing Form 1040X. Ask taxpayers if they have received any correspondence from the IRS making changes to the original return, or if they want to amend the return for another reason. For example, the parents of a college student correctly claimed their child as a dependent. However, their child also filed a return and incorrectly claimed the personal exemption. The child's return was processed first. In this situation, the IRS would adjust the parents' return by removing the exemption for the child. You will need this information to correctly amend the parents' and child's returns.

What is Form 1040X?

Look at the format of Form 1040X, page 1; there are three columns:

- Column A is used to show the original or IRS adjusted figures from the original return or previous amendment
- Column C is used to show the entries that would have been made on the original return if it had been done correctly
- The differences between the figures in columns A and C are shown in column B (Net change)

Amended returns can be prepared using tax software. However, they cannot be filed electronically. They must be mailed to the IRS.

Part I, Exemptions (on page 2), is used only if the taxpayer is increasing or decreasing the number of exemptions (personal and dependents) claimed on line 6d of the return being amended.

Part II, Presidential Election Campaign Fund, is used to make a $3 donation to the fund for you (or your spouse) if you did not do so on your original return.

Part III, Explanation of Changes, is used to explain specific changes being made on the return and the reasons for each change.

Explanations should be easily understood and clearly point out that the taxpayer qualifies for the change. For example, "taxpayer received another W-2 after they filed original return," or "taxpayer qualifies to claim child care expenses of $600 for their 10-year-old dependent child, Form 2441 attached," or "taxpayer meets the qualifications to file as Head of Household instead of Married Filing Separately."

Taxpayers can easily find out the status of a Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, using the Where's My Amended Return? tool on IRS.gov. It's available in English and Spanish, and tracks the status of the amended return for the current year and up to three prior years.

Taxpayers can obtain a free transcript of their original or amended return from the last three years using the IRS2Go phone app or completing Form 4506T or Form 4506T-EZ, Request for Transcript of Tax Return. For a free copy of the original return, complete and mail Form 4506, Request for a Copy of Tax Return, to the appropriate IRS office listed on the form.

What are the time limits to file amended returns for refunds?

There is a statute of limitations on refunds being claimed on amended returns. In general, if a refund is expected on an amended return, taxpayers must file the return within three years of the due date of the original return, or within two years after the date they paid the tax, whichever is later. Returns filed before the due date (without regard to extensions) are considered filed on the due date.

example

Robert's 2012 tax return was due April 15, 2013. He filed it on March 20, 2013. He amends the 2012 return, expecting the correction to result in a refund. If he gets it postmarked on or before April 15, 2016, it will be within the three-year limit, and the return will be accepted. But if the amended 2012 return is postmarked after April 15, 2016, it will fall outside the three-year period and he will not receive the refund.

Time periods for claiming a refund are suspended for a period when a taxpayer is financially disabled due to a medically determined physical or mental impairment. It is, however, very rare that a taxpayer qualifies for that status. Read the definition of financial disability in Publication 17, Filing Information chapter.

There are a few exceptions to the three-year limit. For example, a taxpayer has a longer period of time to claim a loss on a bad debt or worthless security, or for a foreign tax credit or deduction. The exceptions are explained in more detail in Publication 17 and the Form 1040X Instructions. If you think the taxpayer may qualify for an exception to the three-year time limit, refer them to a professional tax preparer.

What if taxpayers are due a refund on their amended return?

If the amended return indicates the taxpayer is due a refund, be sure to advise that:

- · The taxpayer must wait until the original return is processed.
- The taxpayer can cash the original refund check, if any, while waiting for any additional refund.
- Interest will be paid for a refund on an amended return from the due date or filing date of the original return, whichever is later, to the date the amended return is filed. (This interest will be taxable in the year it is received.)
- Generally, it takes 8-16 weeks to process an amended tax return.

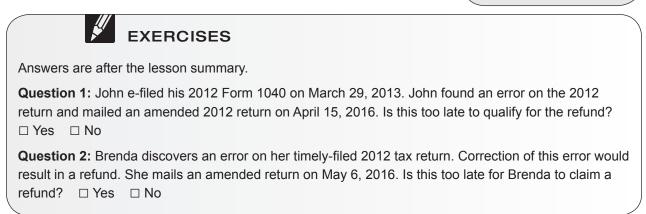

What if the taxpayer owes money on the amended return?

If the amended current year return indicates the taxpayer owes money, file Form 1040X and instruct the taxpayer to pay the amount by the April due date to avoid interest and penalties.

Taxpayers who cannot pay the balance in full by the April due date should file the return on time anyway. Encourage taxpayers to pay as much as they can on time, because the IRS will calculate and bill for interest on the amount of tax owed. Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Preparing the Return tab, for more information on payment options.

Refer taxpayers to the Form 1040X Instructions for information they must include on their check or money order.

How do I complete the amended return using tax software?

Volunteer tax preparers can amend returns regardless of where the original return was prepared, using tax software. Remember to follow the interview process and use the research tools to prepare an accurate return.

Tax Software Hint: For software entries, go to Volunteer Resource Guide, Other Returns tab, Amended Returns, to review the step-by-step procedures for preparing Form 1040X.

A refund on an amended return cannot be direct deposited. A paper check will be mailed to the taxpayer.

How do I assemble and submit Form 1040X?

What should be attached?

Remember, Form 1040X can be prepared using tax software but it cannot be e-filed. Once the amended return is complete, follow these steps to assemble the return for mailing and for the taxpayers' records:

- 1. Print two copies of the federal amended return from the tax software, and if there is a state return, two copies of that form: one for the taxpayers' records and one to mail.
- 2. Have the taxpayer (and spouse if Married Filing Jointly) sign and date Form 1040X and the state return.
- 3. Attach all additional or corrected Form(s) W-2 or Form(s) 1099 that the taxpayers received after filing their original return. Be sure you have included any additional federal income tax withheld in the Payments section of Form 1040X.
- Attach any forms or schedules needed to explain the changes. Make sure the reason for amending the return is explained on Form 1040X, Part III.

Explain that normal processing time for an amended return is generally 8-16 weeks. Also tell the taxpayers that, if they owe money and are not paying the balance due by the original due date of the return, the IRS will send a bill that will include any interest or penalty amounts.

Attach all affected forms and schedules when amending a return, otherwise IRS will send the amended return back to the taxpayer unprocessed.

Who can prepare prior year returns?

Volunteers may only prepare returns within the scope defined for their level of training. Prior year returns may only be prepared by volunteers when the tax issues fall within the scope of their current level of training and certification. Taxpayers seeking assistance outside the scope of the volunteers' certification should be referred to a professional tax preparer.

SPEC may be able to support sites that have the resources, motivation and ability to go back as many years as needed, while maintaining quality standards.

VITA/TCE sites are encouraged, but not required to prepare prior year returns.

If a taxpayer requests return preparation assistance for returns older than three years or if the site is unable to prepare prior year returns, refer the taxpayer to a paid preparer to complete the prior year returns.

What technical resources are required?

If your site chooses to prepare prior year returns, the Site Coordinator should be aware of the requirements. The SPEC Relationship Managers and www.irs.gov (keyword search: prior year returns) are critical resources for administrative and technical resources.

At a minimum, the following tools are required:

- Prior year tax preparation software
- Reference material, including Publications 17 and 4012 (available in the tax software) and volunteer quality alerts/volunteer tax alerts (available on www.irs.gov)
- A current year Form 13614-C must be completed for each prior year return and will be used to determine the scope and certification level of each return.

The Partner and Volunteer Resource Page on www. irs.gov (keyword search: Partner and Volunteer Resource Center) includes hot topics for partners and volunteers.

Prior year tax form instructions and publications are also available on www.irs.gov for reference. If your site does not have the necessary tools to prepare prior year returns, seek guidance from your Site Coordinator.

The Interactive Tax Assistant (ITA) is an online tool that provides consistent answers to a limited number of current and prior year tax law questions using a probe and response process. ITA is available on www.irs.gov.

How do I file a prior year return?

Prior year returns for 2012 and subsequent tax years can be e-filed. Other prior year returns cannot be electronically filed. Refer taxpayers to the Form 1040 Instructions for the appropriate address to mail their tax return. Also see the information about balance due returns in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Preparing the Return tab.

Summary

In the VITA/TCE programs, you can help taxpayers prepare an amended tax return. Use the interview process and research tools to prepare an accurate amended return.

Amended returns should be filed to correct any error or omission that is within scope.

Additional notes:

- Amended returns and prior year returns before 2012 cannot be e-filed.
- A refund on an amended return cannot be direct deposited; a check is mailed to the taxpayer.
- · If you are amending the federal return, you usually have to amend the state return.
- Volunteers may only prepare returns within the scope defined for their level of training. Prior year returns may only be prepared when the tax issues come within the scope of the volunteer's current level of training and certification.
- If a taxpayer requests return preparation assistance for returns older than three years or if the site is unable to prepare prior year returns, refer the taxpayer to a paid preparer to complete the prior year returns.

What situations are out of scope for the VITA/TCE programs?

The following is out of scope for this lesson. While this list may not be all inclusive, it is provided for your awareness only.

 Taxpayers who may qualify for an exception to the three-year time limit for filing an amended return for a refund

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

To gain a better understanding of the tax law, complete the comprehensive problem or practice exercise(s) for your course of study in Publication 4491-W.

For practice using the tax preparation software, complete the scenarios using the Practice Lab on L<.

EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: No, it is not too late. Returns filed before the due date are considered filed on the due date of the return. Therefore, John's amended return was filed within the three-year period allowed for refunds.

Answer 2: Yes, it is too late. The postmark must be three years from the due date of the return. The IRS will disallow Brenda's amended return requesting a refund because it was filed more than three years after the due date of the original return.

Appendix: Affordable Care Act (ACA) Exercises

Instructions

The purpose of the following examples is to give volunteers an opportunity to practice completing forms and worksheets associated with the Affordable Care Act (ACA) tax provisions. Adequate information is provided to prepare simple tax returns with various health insurance coverage scenarios that you may encounter. Following each scenario are screen shots from the tax preparation software that will allow you to check your work. Note: All TaxWise screen shots in the results section are from tax year 2014, but are updated with 2015 amounts.

Reminders

- All taxpayer names, addresses and Social Security numbers provided in the scenarios are fictitious.
- When entering Social Security numbers (SSNs), replace the Xs with your unique User ID (in Practice Lab) or, if using other forms of the software, replace the Xs as directed.
- Complete tax return information is not provided. For the purposes of these exercises, you can ignore the red marks in the practice tax returns.
- Use your city, state, and ZIP code when completing any forms, unless the notes state otherwise.
- For the purposes of the premium tax credit calculations on Form 8962, use "Other 48 states and DC" so your calculations will match the provided answers.
- For all scenarios, assume that the identity and Social Security cards were checked for all individuals on the intake sheet.

Susan had coverage all year so you do not need to determine if it was affordable. Next, determine if the coverage available to Lee, Elizabeth and Emilee is considered unaffordable.

For purposes of determining whether this coverage exemption applies, increase household income by the amount that Susan's wages were reduced to pay the premiums for employer-sponsored coverage (a salary reduction arrangement). ($53,880 + $3,120 = $57,000)

The required contribution for Lee, Elizabeth, and Emilee is Susan's share of the cost for family coverage ($13,140), which is more than 8.05% of their household income ($57,000 x .0805 =$4,589). As a result, Lee, Elizabeth, and Emilee are eligible for the exemption for unaffordable coverage for the tax year. Their Affordability Worksheet is completed below:

(A) Affordability Threshold

Enter 8.05% of your household income (see Household income). For this purpose, increase household income by the amount of any premium that is paid through a salary reduction arrangement and excluded from gross income.

nt of any premium that is paid through a salary reduction arrangement and excluded from gross income.

(B) Required Contribution Amount

For each member of your tax household, enter in the columns provided the annual premium for the first option below that applies to that person. If the premium is the same for the whole year, enter the same value for each month. If the premiums covers only part of the year, use the Annualized Premium Worksheet to determine what the annualized premium would be for each month.

$4589

Options (use the first that applies to each member of your tax household, including you, for each month):

- 1. The lowest cost self-only policy offered to each member of your tax household by his or her employer.
- 2. The lowest cost family policy* offered by your employer or your spouse's employer (if you are filing a joint return).
- 3. The amount from the Marketplace Coverage Affordability Worksheet.

For each individual, coverage is unaffordable and the individual is exempt if (B), the Required Contribution Amount, is greater than (A), the Affordability Threshold.

- who does not qualify for another coverage exemption.

Results – TaxWise ACA Worksheet

Susan and Lee's completed Affordable Care Act Worksheet (1040 ACA Wkt) is shown below. Because Susan had minimum essential coverage all year, check the "Full" box. Because Lee, Elizabeth and Emilee are able to claim a coverage exemption, check only the "Exm" box. The boxes that indicate Elizabeth and Emilee are under age 18 are a calculated entry in Practice Lab and populate automatically.

Edward and Julia's completed 1040 ACA Wkt is shown below. Neither spouse had minimum essential coverage for any month, so you must check the "None" box for both taxpayer and spouse. Sam had full coverage all year, so you must check the "Full" box for him. The boxes that indicate Sam is under age 18 are a calculated entry and populate automatically.

Because Sam's income exceeded the filing threshold, his MAGI is included on line 7.

Because Edward and Julia did not have MEC and did not have a coverage exemption, they must make an individual shared responsibility payment (SRP). This amount will decrease their refund or increase their balance due.

As you discuss the SRP with Edward and Julia, they mention that they looked into purchasing coverage through the Marketplace but felt that the premiums were too expensive. You explain that if their out-of-pocket costs for Marketplace coverage is more than a certain percentage of their income, they would be eligible for an exemption from the SRP. You'll need to complete a worksheet to see if they are eligible. This will be covered in the next example.

Example 4 – Affordability Exemptions – Marketplace Coverage

For this scenario, use the return you prepared in Example 3.

As you discuss the SRP with Edward and Julia, they mention that they looked into purchasing coverage through the Marketplace but felt that the premiums were too expensive. You explain that if their out-of-pocket costs for Marketplace coverage is more than a certain percentage of their income, they would be eligible for an exemption from the SRP.

Directions

Complete the worksheets in the Form 8965 Instructions to see if Edward and Julia would qualify for the affordability exemption. Edward and Julia were not offered insurance coverage through their employers, so you'll need to complete two, the Affordability Worksheet and the Marketplace Coverage Affordability Worksheet.

Results - Insurance is Unaffordable

Complete the top of the Affordability Worksheet to determine the Affordability Threshold of the Household Income (including the MAGI for a dependent, such as Sam, whose income was exceeds the filing threshold). The calculation is: $$63,900 \times .0805$ (affordability threshold for 2015) = \$5,144.

Affordability Worksheet

Use this worksheet to determine whether coverage for each individual in your tax household is unaffordable. If you or another member of your tax household is not eligible for employer-sponsored coverage, use the Marketplace Coverage Affordability Worksheet to figure the required contribution for that individual. An individual is exempt for any month in which (B), the Required Contribution, is more than (A), the Affordability Threshold.

(A) Affordability Threshold

Enter 8.05% of your household income (see Household income). For this purpose, increase household income by the amount of any premium that is paid through a salary reduction arrangement and excluded from gross income.

Visit www.healthcare.gov

- Remember to use their ages at the start of the tax year, since the first month they did not have coverage was January.
- Assume they live in zip code 31405 (Chatham County, GA) and do not use tobacco.
- Look up the lowest cost bronze plan for Edward, Julia and Sam. For this example, Sam is included in the calculation for the lowest cost bronze plan since he does not have an offer of employer coverage. Enter this amount on line 1 of the worksheet.
- Then look up the second lowest cost silver plan (SCLSP) for Edward and Julia. Do not include Sam in this quote because he has government-sponsored coverage. Enter this figure on line 10.

Marketplace Coverage Affordability Worksheet

Use this worksheet to figure an individual's required contribution for any month in which the individual is not eligible for employer-sponsored coverage. Complete a separate worksheet for each part of the year in which either the individual resided in different geographic rating areas served by the Marketplace or for which the number of people in your tax household who are neither exempt nor eligible for employer-sponsored coverage was different.

6410	Do not complete this worksheet unless you were instructed to do so in the Affordability Worksheet.
1.	Enter the monthly premium for the lowest cost bronze plan that covers everyone in your tax household for whom a personal exemption deduction is claimed, who is not eligible for employer coverage, and who does not qualify for another coverage exemption for the month. To find the lowest cost bronze plan go to the Marketplace for your area	468
2.	Enter your household income (see Household income)	63900
3.	Enter the total of all nontaxable social security benefits received by you, your spouse, and each claimed dependent who must file a tax return*	0
١.	Add lines 2 and 3	63900
5.	Enter the federal poverty line for the number of individuals in your tax household less any dependents not claimed. See the instructions for Form 8962, line 4	19790
i	Divide line 4 by line 5. If the result (without rounding) is less than 1.0 or more than 4.0, skip lines 7 though 10 and enter -0-on line 11.	3.23
	Multiply line 6 by 100 and round to the nearest whole number. Enter the applicable figure for the result from the table in the instructions for Form 8962, line 7	.0956
	Multiply line 4 by line 7	6109
	Divide line 8 by 12.0	509
10.	Enter the monthly premium for the second lowest cost silver plan premium that covers everyone in your tax household for whom a personal exemption deduction is claimed, who is not eligible for minimum essential coverage (other than coverage in the individual market), and who does not qualify for another coverage exemption for the month. To find the second lowest cost silver plan go the Marketplace for your area	457
1.	Subtract line 9 from line 10	0
2.	Subtract line 11 from line 1. If zero or less, enter -0 This is the individual's required contribution for the month	468
3.	Is the individual eligible for this coverage for every month of the year?
	Yes. Multiply line 12 by 12.0. This is the annualized premium. Enter this amount in the space for every month on the Affordability Worksheet	5616
	No. Use the Annualized Premium Worksheet to determine what the annualized premium would be for each month the individual was eligible for the coverage being tested. Enter the annualized premium in the space for the appropriate months on the Affordability Worksheet

Compare the annualized premium from line 13 of the Marketplace Coverage Affordability Worksheet to the Affordability Threshold. Because the annualized premium is higher than the 8.05% threshold, both Edward and Julia can claim the Code A exemption for affordability for all 12 months of the year.

On the Fulton's TaxWise ACA Worksheet, check "Exm" for Edward and Julia. Check "Full" for Sam, as he was enrolled in government-sponsored coverage all year. No SRP should be calculated on the lower part of the ACA Worksheet.

Complete Part III of Form 8965 to show that both Edward and Julia are eligible for exemption type A for the full year.

In this case, Edward and Julia are able to claim exemption code A because marketplace coverage is considered unaffordable. They are not required to pay the $866 SRP as calculated in example 3. A thorough interview with the taxpayer resulted in this outcome for the taxpayer.

Example 5 – Premium Tax Credit with Advance Credit Payments

Interview Notes

- Sheryl Graves has two children she claims as dependents, Trina and Travis, who live with her all year. She divorced in 2010. Sheryl pays all the costs of keeping up the home. Their SSNs are:
 - Sheryl 605-XX-XXXX
 - Trina 606-XX-XXXX
 - Travis 607-XX-XXXX
- Sheryl's mother, Monique Floyd, also lives with her. Sheryl provides over half of Monique's support and claims her as a dependent. Monique's SSN is 608-XX-XXXX. Her only income for the tax year is $4,500 received from Social Security and she was covered by Medicare.
- Sheryl's Form W-2 shows:
 - Box 1 = $36,429
 - Box 2 = $1,026
- · Sheryl had no other income or deductions.
- Sheryl's employer does not offer health insurance coverage. She purchased minimum essential coverage for herself and her children through the Marketplace. They were covered for the entire year. Sheryl received the benefit of advance payments of the premium tax credit to help with the cost of her insurance premiums.

Sheryl's completed Affordable Care Act Worksheet (1040 ACA Wkt) is shown below. Because Sheryl, Trina, Travis all had minimum essential coverage all year purchased through the Marketplace, check both the "Full" and the "Mkt" box for each of them. Monique had minimum essential coverage that was not purchased through the Marketplace, so only the "Full" box is checked for her. The boxes that indicate Trina and Travis are under age 18 are a calculated entry in Practice Lab and populate automatically.

Because Charles, Shay, Nathaniel and Karly all had minimum essential coverage purchased through the Marketplace from April through December, and they qualify for an exemption for January, February and March, check both the "Mkt" and "Exm" boxes for each of them. Since there is no shared responsibility to calculate, do not check any other boxes. The boxes that indicate Nathaniel and Karly are under age 18 are a calculated entry in Practice Lab and populate automatically.

Link & Learn Taxes

Link & Learn Taxes is web-based training designed specifically for VITA/TCE volunteers. Each volunteer's ability to prepare complete and accurate returns is vital to the credibility and integrity of the program. Link & Learn Taxes, as part of the complete volunteer training kit, provides the path to achieving this high level of quality service.

Link & Learn Taxes and the printed technical training kit, Publication 4480, work together to help volunteers learn and practice.

Link & Learn Taxes for 2015 includes:

- Access to all VITA/TCE courses
- Easy identification of the VITA/TCE courses with the course icons
 - As you progress through a lesson, the content for Basic, Advanced, Military, or International will display, depending on the level of certification you selected
- PowerPoint presentations that can be customized to fit your classroom needs
- VITA/TCE Central to provide centralized access for training materials and reference links
- The Practice Lab
 - Gives volunteers practice with an early version of the IRS-provided tax preparation software
 - Lets volunteers complete workbook problems from Publication 4491W
 - Lets volunteers prepare test scenario returns for the test/retest

Go to www.irs.gov, type "Link & Learn" in the Keyword field and click Search. You'll find a detailed overview and links to the courses.

FSA (Facilitated Self Assistance) empowers taxpayers to prepare their own returns with the assistance of a certified volunteer. Taxpayers complete their own returns using interview-based software supplied by leaders in the tax preparation industry. Volunteers assist taxpayers with tax law and software questions.

Virtual VITA allows partners to initiate the intake process for taxpayers in one location, while utilizing a certified volunteer to prepare the return in an entirely different location. By incorporating this flexibility, partners can provide taxpayers with more convenient locations to file their taxes.

For more information contact your SPEC Relationship Manager to see if you should start a FSA or Virtual VITA site in your community.
